WAR FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

Office of Distribution.

WICHITA, KANS., MARKETING AREA

HANDLING OF MILK

Notice of report and opportunity to file written exceptions with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and to a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area:

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1-900.17; 7 F.R. 3350; 8 F.R. 2815), notice is hereby given of the filing with the hearing clerk of this report of the Director of Food Distribution, with respect to a marketing agreement and to an order regulating the handling of milk in the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area to be made effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.) Interested parties may file exceptions to this report with the hearing clerk, Office of the Solicitor, Room 1331, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 10th day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The hearing which was initiated by the Office of Distribution, following receipt of a petition by the Wichita Milk Producers' Association, was held at Wichita, Kansas, on January 12 and 13, 1944, after the issuance of notice on December 22, 1943 (8 F.R. 17313).

The major issues developed at the hearing were: (1) whether there is interstate commerce in milk in the Wichita market; (2) whether an order should be issued; (3) the extent of the marketing area; (4) the classification of milk and milk products; (5) the level of class prices and the method for determining such prices; (6) whether a base-rating plan should be included in the order; (7) the amount of the assessment for the costs of administration; and (8) the administrative provisions common to all orders.

With respect to these issues it is concluded from the record that:

1. There is interstate commerce in milk in the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area.

2. An order should be issued to regulate the handling of milk in the marketing area.

3. The marketing area should include the city of Wichita, Kansas, and the metropolitan area adjacent thereto.

4. The classification of milk as set out in the notice of hearing should be adopted, with the exception that flavored skim milk drinks containing not more than 1 percent butterfat should be classified as Class II.

5. The basic formula price proposed in the notice of hearing should be retained in the order, and Class I and Class II milk should be priced 75 cents and 50 cents respectively over the basic price. The Class III price should be as proposed in the notice of hearing.

6. A base-rating plan should be incorporated in the order.

7. The amount of the administrative assessment should not exceed 4 cents per hundredweight.

8. The administrative provisions should be essentially as set forth in the notice of hearing subject only to minor changes for purposes of clarity.

The following proposed order is recommended as the detailed means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not included in this report because its provisions are identical with those set forth in the proposed order.

PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN THE WICHITA, KANSAS, MARKETING AREA

It is found upon the evidence introduced at the public hearing held in Wichita, Kansas, on January 12 and 13, 1944:

1. That this order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to handlers defined in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held; and

2. That the issuance of this order and all of the terms and conditions of the order tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk and skim milk disposed of in the form of milk and buttermilk or in the form of flavored milk drinks containing more than 1 percent butterfat and all milk not specifically accounted for as Class II milk or Class III milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk used to produce cream (for consumption as cream, including any cream product in fluid form which contains 6 percent or more butterfat), creamed cottage cheese, aerated cream, eggnog, and flavored milk drinks containing not more than 1 percent butterfat.

(3) Class III milk shall be all milk specifically accounted for (i) as used to produce a milk product other than those specified in Class II milk and (ii) as actual plant shrinkage but not to exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers in establishing the classification of milk. In establishing the classification as required in (b) of this section, of any milk received by a handler from producers, the burden rests upon the handler who receives the milk from producers to account for the milk and to prove to the market administrator that such milk should not be classified as Class I milk.

(d) Computation of milk in each class. For each delivery period each handler shall compute, in the manner and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, the amount of milk in each class as defined in (b) of this section, as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk received as follows: add together the total pounds of milk received from (i) producers, (ii) own farm production, (iii) other handlers, and (iv) other sources.

(2) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: (i) multiply by its average butterfat test the weight of the milk received from (a) producers, (b) own farm production, (c) other handlers, and (d) other sources, and (ii) add together the resulting amounts.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I as follows: (i) convert to pounds the quantity of Class I milk on the basis of 2.15 pounds per quart, (ii) multiply the result by the average butterfat test of such milk, and (iii) if the quantity of butterfat so computed when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II milk and Class III milk, computed pursuant to (4) (ii) and (5) (iv) of this paragraph is less than the total pounds of butterfat received computed in accordance with (2) of this paragraph, an amount equal to the difference shall be divided by 3.8 percent and added to the quantity of milk determined pursuant to (i) of this subparagraph.

(4) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class II milk by its average butterfat test, (ii) add together the resulting amounts, and (iii) divide the result obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph by 3.8 percent.

(5) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class III as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class III by its average butterfat test, (ii) add together the resulting amounts, (iii) subtract from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk, computed pursuant to (3) (ii) of this paragraph, the total pounds of butterfat in Class II milk, computed pursuant to (4) (ii) of this paragraph and the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (ii) of this subparagraph which resulting quantity shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purposes of this paragraph (but in no event shall such plant shrinkage allowance exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers by the handler, (iv) add together the results obtained in (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph, and (v) divide the results obtained in (iv) of this subparagraph by 3.8 percent.

(6) Determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows:

(i) Subtract from the total pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk which were received from other handlers and used in such class.

(ii) Subtract from the remaining pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk which were received from sources other than producers, own farm production, and other handlers in series beginning with the lowest class.

(iii) Subtract pro rata from the remaining pounds of milk in each class the total pounds of milk which were received from the handler's own farm production.

(e) Reconciliation of utilization of milk by classes with receipts of milk from producers. In the event of a difference between the total quantity of milk used in the several classes as computed pursuant to (d) (6) of this section and the quantity of milk received from producers, except for excess milk or milk equivalent of butterfat pursuant to section 6 (d), such difference shall be reconciled as follows:

(1) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to (d) (6) of this section, is less than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall increase the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts of milk from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

(2) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to (d) (6) of this section, is greater than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall decrease the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

SEC. 4 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Subject to the differentials set forth in (c) and (d) of this section each handler shall pay producers, at the time and in the manner set forth in section 8 for milk purchased or received from them, not less than the following prices:

(1) Class I milk. The price per hundredweight of Class I milk during each delivery period shall be the price determined pursuant to (b) of this section plus 75 cents.

(2) Class II milk. The price per hundredweight of Class II milk during each delivery period shall be the price determined pursuant to (b) of this section plus 50 cents.

(3) Class III milk. The price per hundredweight of Class III milk during each delivery period shall be the highest price paid for ungraded milk containing 3.8 percent butterfat during the delivery period by any of the following: DeCoursey Cream Company at its plants at Wichita or Anthony, Kansas; the Central Kansas Cooperative Creamery Association at its plant at Hillsboro, Kansas; or the Arkansas City Cooperative Milk Association at its plant at Arkansas City, Kansas.

(b) Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I and Class II prices. The basic formula price to be used in determining the Class I and Class II prices, set forth in this section, per hundredweight of milk as computed and announced by the market administrator on or before the 5th day of the delivery period, shall be the arithmetical average of the prices per hundredweight reported to the United States Department of Agriculture as being paid all farmers for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content during the immediately preceding delivery period at the following plants and places:

Borden Company, Mt. Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Company, Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Company, Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Company, Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Company, Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Company, Greenville, Wis.
Borden Company, Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Company, New London, Wis.
Borden Company, Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Company, Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Company, Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Company, Richland Center, Wis.

White House Milk Company, Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Company, West Bend, Wis.

divided by 3.5 and multiplied by 3.8, but in no event shall such basic formula price to be used be less than the Class III price computed pursuant to (a) (3) of this paragraph.

(c) Emergency price provisions. (1) Whenever the War Food Administrator finds and announces that the Class I price computed for any delivery period pursuant to (a) of this section is not in the pubic interest, the Class I price for such delivery period shall be the same as the Class I price for the preceding delivery period: Provided, That if the War Food Administrator for two consecutive delivery periods finds and announces that the Class I price computed pursuant to (a) of this section is not in the public interest, he shall, upon request of interested parties, and pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act, issue notice of and opportunity for a hearing upon a proposed amendment to this section of the order.

(2) Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy, or other similar payment being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk, or product, associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price, or if the specified price is not reported or published and the War Food Administrator determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the War Food Administrator to be equivalent to or comparable with the prices specified.

SEC. 5. Reports of handlers—(a) Periodic reports. On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period each handler who purchased or received milk from sources other than his own production or other handlers shall, with respect to milk or dairy products which were purchased, received, or produced by such handler during such delivery period, report to the market administrator in the detail and form prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(1) The receipts at each plant of milk from each producer, the butterfat content, and the number of days on which milk was received from each producer;

(2) The receipts from such handler's own farm production and the butterfat content;

(3) The receipts of milk, cream, and milk products from handlers who purchase or receive milk from producers and the butterfat content;

(4) The receipts of milk, cream, and milk products from any other source and the butterfat content;

(5) The respective quantities of milk and milk products and the butterfat content which were sold, distributed, or used, including sales to other handlers for the purpose of classification pursuant to section 3; and

(6) Such other information with respect to the use of the milk as the market administrator may request.

(b) Reports of payments to producers. On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, upon the request of the market administrator, each handler who purchased or received milk from producers shall submit to the market administrator his producer pay roll for such delivery period which shall show for each producer: (1) his total deliveries of base milk and total deliveries of milk in excess of base milk, (2) the average butterfat content of his milk, and (3) the net amount of such handler's payments to such producer with the prices, deductions, and charges involved.

(c) Reports of handlers whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers. Handlers whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require.

(d) Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of such handler by audit of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or persons upon whose disposition of milk the classification depends. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of milk and milk products and shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

(1) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk and milk products, and in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(2) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk purchased or received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(3) Verify the payments to producers prescribed in section 8.

SEC. 6. Application of provisions. (a) The provisions of sections 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11 shall not apply to a handler whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers.

(b) If a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers, purchases or receives milk or cream in bulk from another handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers and sells or disposes of such milk or cream for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to section 7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk or cream according to its utilization by the handler and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(c) If a handler has sold or disposed of milk or cream which was received from sources other than producers, his own farm production, or other handlers as Class I or Class II milk within the marketing area to persons other than a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to section 7, shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk according to its utilization by the handler and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(d) If a handler has purchased or received milk or butterfat from sources determined as other than producer, own farm production, or other handlers, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler pursuant to section 7, shall consider such milk or the milk equivalent of such butterfat as Class III milk. If the receiving handler sells or disposes of such milk or butterfat for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk or butterfat according to its utilization by the handler and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(e) The provisions of (b) (c) and (d) above shall not apply if the handler can prove to the market administrator that such milk or butterfat was used only to the extent that milk of producers was not available.

(f) If a handler, after subtracting receipts from his own farm production, receipts from other handlers, and receipts from sources determined as other than producers, own farm production, or other handlers, has disposed of milk and/or butterfat in excess of the milk and/or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to section 7, shall add an amount equal to the value of such milk and/or butterfat according to its utilization by the handler.

SEC. 7. Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Net pool obligations of handlers. The net pool obligation of each handler for milk received from producers during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed for such delivery period by the market administrator as follows: multiply the pounds of milk in each class computed pursuant to section 3 (d) by the class price pursuant to section 4 (a), add together the resulting values, and add the value of any payments required to be made pursuant to section 6.

(b) Computation and announcement of the uniform price. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute and announce the uniform price per hundredweight of milk as follows:

(1) Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers computed pursuant to (a) of this section who made the reports prescribed by section 5 and who made the payments prescribed by section 8;

(2) Add an amount equal to one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the amount due handlers pursuant to section 8 (g);

(3) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining in the producer-settlement fund a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and payments or delinquencies in payments by handlers.

(4) Compute the total quantity of milk which represents the delivered bases of producers and which is included in the computation made pursuant to (a) of this section.

(5) Compute the total value of the milk which is in excess of the delivered bases of producers determined pursuant to (4) of this paragraph and which is included in the computation pursuant to (a) of this section, by multiplying such quantity of milk by the Class III price.

(6) Compute the total value of the milk represented by the delivered bases of producers by subtracting the value obtained in (5) of this paragraph from the value obtained in (1) of this paragraph.

(7) Divide the result obtained in (6) of this paragraph by the quantity of milk represented by the delivered bases of producers as determined in (4) of this paragraph. This result shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight for such delivery period for base milk of producers containing a 3.8 percent butterfat.

(8) On or before the 8th day after the end of each delivery period notify all handlers and make public announcement of these computations, of the uniform price per hundredweight of base milk, computed pursuant to this paragraph, and of the Class I, Class II, and Class III prices computed pursuant to section 4.

SEC. 8. Payments for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make payment, after deducting the amount of the payment made pursuant to (b) of this section, subject to the butterfat differential set forth in (c) of this section, for milk purchased or received from producers by such handler during each delivery period as follows:

(1) To each producer, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, not less than the uniform price per hundredweight computed pursuant to section 7 (b) for that quantity of milk received from such producer not in excess of such producer's base;

(2) To each producer, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, not less than the Class III price for that quantity of milk received from to (d) (6) of this section and the quantity

Carnation Company, Canton, Wis.

such producer in excess of such producer's base; and

(3) To a cooperative association for milk which it caused to be delivered to a handler from producers and for which such cooperative association collects payments, a total amount equal to not less than the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(b) Half delivery period payments. On or before the 25th day of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to each producer for the approximate value of the milk of such producer which, during the first 15 days of such delivery period, was received by such handler.

(c) Butterfat differential. If, during the delivery period, any handler has purchased or received from any producer milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.8 percent, such handler in making the payments prescribed in (a) of this section, shall add to the prices per hundredweight for such producers for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk above 3.8 percent not less than, or shall subtract from such prices for such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk below 3.8 percent not more than, an amount computed as follows: to the average price of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may hereafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent and divide the resulting sum by 10.

(d) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to (e) and (g) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to (f) and (g) of this section: Provided, That the market administrator shall offset any such payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler. Immediately after computing the uniform price for each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the amount by which each handler's net pool obligation, including the payments to producers which are required to be made pursuant to section 6 is greater or less than the sum obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of milk of producers by the appropriate prices required to be paid producers by handlers pursuant to (a) of this section and adding together the resulting amounts, and shall enter such amount on each handler's account as such handler's pool debit or credit, as the case may be, and render such handler a transcript of his account.

(e) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer-settlement fund, the amount by which the net pool obligation of such handler including the payments required to be made pursuant to section 6 is greater than the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) (1) and (2) of this section.

(f) Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. (1) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers the amount by which the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) (1) and (2) of this section is greater than the net pool obligation of such handler, including the payments required to be made pursuant to section 6.

(2) If the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 10th day after the end of the delivery period, has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator, shall be deemed to be in violation of (a) of this section if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

(g) Adjustment of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors in payments to the producer-settlement fund made pursuant to (d) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days of such billing, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to (f) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer discloses payment to such producer of an amount which is less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following the disclosure.

SEC. 9. Base rating—(a) Determination of base. The base of each producer, who is not also a handler, shall be a quantity of milk for each delivery period calculated by the market administrator in the following manner: multiply the applicable figure computed pursuant to (b) of this section by the number of days for which such producer's milk was delivered during the delivery period: Provided, That, if during any delivery period the total milk not in excess of base, delivered by all producers does not equal 105 percent of Class I and Class II sales for the delivery period, the market administrator shall add thereto as emergency base, in the case of each producer who delivered milk in excess of his base the percent of his excess milk which is the percent of his total excess milk needed to bring total base deliveries up to approximately 110 percent of Class I and Class II sales.

(b) Determination of daily base. (1) Effective for the calendar quarter ending (end of first quarter under order) the daily base of each producer shall be the daily base of such producer on record in the office of the market administrator under the Amended License for Milk No. 44, Wichita, Kansas, Sales Area, issued by the Secretary of Agriculture August 14, 1935. If no such base is on record for any producer who is not also a handler, the market administrator shall determine a base for such producer in the manner provided in (3) of this paragraph.

(2) For each calendar quarter subsequent to (and of first quarter under order) the daily base of each producer shall be an amount calculated by the market administrator as follows: (i) divide the total milk, not in excess of his base, delivered by each producer during the next preceding calendar quarter by the number of days in that quarter and (ii) if the total of the figures so calculated for all producers is not equal to 110 percent of the total sales of Class I and Class II milk by all handlers during that quarter, add to the figure for each producer an equal amount sufficient to bring the total to 110 percent of the total sales of Class I and Class II milk.

(3) In the case of a producer who resumes delivery after not having marketed milk to a handler for a period of more than 30 consecutive days or for whom there is no base on record in the office of the market administrator, a base shall be allotted in the following manner: for each delivery period from the date upon which such producer first markets milk to a handler until the conclusion of one full calendar quarter, the market administrator shall multiply such producer's daily average deliveries of milk by the percentage that base deliveries were to total deliveries to the market during the delivery period by all base holding producers on the market. After the conclusion of one full calendar quarter, the market administrator shall determine a base for such producer in accordance with (2) of this paragraph.

(4) In the case of a producer who is also a handler and who disposes of all of his delivery routes to another handler who is not a producer, the market administrator shall determine the daily average of the total sales of Class I milk and Class II milk by such producer during the preceding 8 months. The figure thus determined shall be such producer's base from the date of such determination until the end of the calendar quarter next following. Thereafter the base of such producer shall be determined in accordance with (2) of this paragraph.

(c) Base rules. (1) Any producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for a period of more than 30 consecutive days shall forfeit his base. In the event such producer thereafter commences to deliver milk to a handler he shall be allotted a daily base computed in the manner provided in (b) (3) of this section.

(2) A landlord who rents on a share basis shall be entitled to the entire daily base to the exclusion of the tenant if the landlord owns the entire herd. A tenant who rents on a share basis shall be entitled to the entire daily base to the exclusion of the landlord if the tenant owns the entire herd. If the cattle are jointly owned by the tenant and landlord, the daily base shall be divided between the joint owners according to ownership of the cattle when such share basis is terminated.

(3) A producer, whether landlord or tenant, may retain his base when moving his entire herd of cows from one farm to another: Provided, That at the beginning of a tenant and landlord relationship the base of each landlord and tenant may be combined and may be divided when such relationship is terminated.

(4) Base may be transferred only under the following conditions: (i) in case of the death of a producer, his base may be transferred to a surviving member or members of his family who carry on the dairy operations, and (ii) on the retirement of a producer, his base may be transferred to an immediate member of his family who carries on the dairy operations.

(5) Any producer desiring to earn a new base may do so by notifying the market administrator that he is relinquishing his base at the beginning of the delivery period next following. In such case all milk delivered by such producer during the next 2 full calendar months shall be considered as milk in excess of base. At the end of 2 months a new base shall be allotted by the market administrator computed in the manner provided in (b) (3) of this section.

SEC. 10. Marketing service—(a) Deduction for marketing service. Except as set forth in (b) of this section each handler shall deduct 4 cents per hundredweight from the payments made to each producer pursuant to section 8 (a) (1) and (a) (2) with respect to all milk of such producer purchased or received by such handler during the delivery period, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator for market information to, and for the verification of weights, sampling, and testing of milk received from said producers. The market administrator may contract with a cooperative association or cooperative associations for the furnishing of the whole or any part of such services.

(b) Producers' cooperative associations. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the War Food Administrator determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, is performing the services set forth in (a) of this section, each handler shall make the deductions from the payments to be made pursuant to sections 8 (a) (1) and (a) (2), which are authorized by such producers, and, on or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the associations of which such producers are members.

SEC. 11. Expenses of administration. As his prorata share of the expenses of the administration hereof, each handler who purchased or received milk from producers, with respect to all milk received from producers during the delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period, an amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight, which amount shall be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the War Food Administrator.

SEC. 12. Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the War Food Administrator may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. Any or all of the provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, may be suspended or terminated as to any or all handlers after such reasonable notice as the War Food Administrator shall give and shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. (1) If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof there are any obligations arising hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the War Food Administrator so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the War Food Administrator may designate.

(2) The market administrator, or such other person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shal (i) continue in such capacity until removed, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and when so directed by the War Food Administrator deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the War Food Administrator shall direct, and (iii) if so directed by the War Food Administrator execute assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof the market administrator, or such person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shall, if so directed by the War Food Administrator, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

SEC. 13. Agents. The War Food Administrator may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

This report filed at Washington, D. C., this 18th day of March 1944.

C. W. KITCHEN,
Acting Director of Food Distribution.

GREATER BOSTON, MASS., MARKETING AREA

HANDLING OF MILK

Notice of report and opportunity to file written exceptions with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and to a proposed amendment to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, Marketing Area.

Pursuant to § 900.12 (a) of the rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1-900.17; 7 F.R. 3350; 8 F.R. 2815), Food Distribution Administration, War Food Administration, notice is hereby given of the filing with the hearing clerk of this report of the Director of Food Distribution, with respect to a marketing agreement and to amendment of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area. Interested parties may file exceptions to this report with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1331, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 10th day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proceeding was initiated by the Food Distribution Administration (now Office of Distribution) as a result of petitions filed by 12 producers' cooperatives for a public hearing to receive evidence on a proposal to increase the price for Class I milk. The proposals of two of the 12 cooperatives also included a request for an increase in Class II price. The hearing notice also included suggested amendments of several Boston milk handlers and of the Dairy and Poultry Branch, Office of Distribution. It was concluded from consideration of the various proposals submitted that a hearing should be held and a hearing was held at Boston, Massachusetts, on September 23 and 24, following issuance of notice on September 15, 1943.

The issues developed at the hearing concerned: (1) an increase in the Class I price; (2) elimination of price quotations for casein and animal feed skim milk powder from the Class II price formula; (3) revision of the order from a market-wide to an individual-handler type of pool, either continuously or for the months of October, November, and December only; (4) pooling of transportation and plant handling costs; (5) a ceiling for the butterfat differential; (6) revision of the so-called transfer provisions, including elimination of the present optional features; (7) revision from 33.48 to 33.0 of the factor in the Class II formula for converting the price per 40-quart can of cream of 40 percent butterfat content to milk equivalent; (8) provision in the case of a plant from which shipment of milk to the market is discontinued, that the order shall apply to handling operations at such plants for 90 days after shipments have been discontinued; and (9) the adoption of minor changes of an administrative nature.

With respect to these issues, it is concluded that the following changes should be made:

1. In the Class II price formula, skim milk manufactured into casein during April, May, and June should be priced separately at the present casein formula in the order.

A separate price on skim milk made into casein during April, May, and June recognizes the fact, as pointed out at the hearing by industry witnesses, that some casein manufacture is needed during the flush production season when volume of Class II skim milk exceeds the capacity of available facilities for making other products. The proposed change will protect handlers who are unable to avoid making casein from sustaining a loss on the operation, and it will also prevent the price for the remaining Class II milk from being depressed by low casein values.

This amendment would raise the Class II regular price 8.3¢ per hundredweight during April, May, and June, on the basis of price relationships existing in September, 1943.

The record also shows that animal feed powder, which is given a weight of 50 percent in the formula, has become an insignificant factor in the milk powder industry in this region, with production at such a low level that the Market News Division of the Department has found no carlot sales to report since September, 1941. The price equivalent of animal feed powder is less than other powder prices in an amount greater than normal. On the basis of this information it might seem that the animal feed powder price should be given a lesser weight or eliminated from the formula, as proposed by various parties, and thereby increase the Class II skim milk value. However, the area in which milk powder is manufactured in this milkshed is adjacent to and overlaps a part of the New York supply area in which is located powder facilities which in past years have absorbed a substantial proportion of the Class II skim milk in the Boston pool. At present, the price formulas for manufactured skim milk under both the Boston and New York Orders are the same. Any upward adjustment in the Boston value without a similar adjustment in the New York value would discourage New York handlers with powder-making facilities from absorbing the Boston milk. In addition, several companies engaged in manufacturing cottage, pot, bakers', Italian, and Greek chesses, who now purchase larger quantities of surplus skim milk from Boston handlers would be encouraged to shift to the New York supply for their raw products. Until it can be shown that other manufacturing facilities are available to handle such displaced milk it seems inadvisable to disturb the present relationship between New York and Boston fluid skim values.

2. Provision should be made for temporarily pricing to handlers all butterfat which may be manufactured into butter or Cheddar cheese, American Cheddar cheese, Colby cheese, washed curd cheese or part-skim Cheddar cheese at the cream value now provided in § 904.6 (b) (3 of the order. For butter manufactured from milk of a butterfat content in excess of 3.7%, the order now requires a handler to pay 69¢ per pound for the butterfat in excess of 3.7% compared to a value of 50.1¢ reflected by the regular butter price formula. In addition, a handler must pay the regular Class II price for milk manufactured into Cheddar cheese. For September, 1943, this was $2.886 per hundredweight compared to $2.295 for the Cheddar cheese class under the New York Order. The higher rate is clearly prohibitory.

The large difference between the butterfat value in the butter price formula and the butterfat differential value is caused by an abnormally high price for cream in the wholesale market at Boston, relative to butter prices. Adjustment of the latter value as it applies to butterfat made into butter is needed to prevent inequity between handlers. While a ceiling on the butterfat differential generally which was proposed is not recommended, an adjustment in its application to milk made into butter is needed.

A price adjustment to give handlers an opportunity to manufacture Cheddar cheese is needed to provide an additional outlet for skim milk solids, particularly in a product of which more production is needed for the war effort, which may be desirable in this milkshed to offset the limitations on skim milk outlets imposed by Food Distribution Orders Numbered 79 and 92. The record shows, in connection with proposed changes in the Class II skim value, a general uncertainty among handlers as to the manufacturing opportunities in 1944 due to Government restriction and limitation orders. One witness representing producers recommended that, in light of such limitations, a survey be conducted to determine remaining available facilities as a basis for providing price formulas which will enable handlers to utilize such facilities without incurring substantial losses. The recommended amendment with respect to price on milk manufactured into Cheddar cheese is based on such a survey which shows, among other things, that a few plants in the Boston milkshed have facilities for making Cheddar cheese. The price provision provided for Cheddar cheese represents a value comparable to the price of a similar class of milk under the New York Order, but it is drafted in such a way that it causes no inconsistency with the basic price structure under the Boston Order which provides for only a single butterfat differential.

3. Minor revisions should be made for administrative purposes.

The following conclusions are with respect to issues, concerning which no changes are proposed:

1. No increase is proposed for the Class I price as changes in production costs are now reflected, within the framework of the "hold the line" program announced in March, 1943, by the Director of Economic Stabilization, by the dairy feed payment program. Revision of Class I prices named in the order must await resolution by appropriate authorities of the method to be used to reflect returns to producers which will be adequate to encourage them to maintain the desired level of milk production during 1944.

2. Evidence supporting a change from the present market-wide pool to the individual-handler type of pool is inconclusive. One group of handlers proposed this type of pool as a continuous proposition, two other handlers proposed it on a seasonal basis, one other handler, a cooperative, maintained that the change would be detrimental to its producers. Such a change would be a fundamental revision in this regulation, introducing new incentives in marketing practices of major degree. The impact of such incentives were sketched in no more than a fragmentary manner by the proponents of the change. In the absence of more detailed analysis of the probable effects of such a change which indicates distinct advantages over the present system, or conclusive evidence of fundamental defects in the present system, adoption of the individual-handler type of pool seems inadvisable.

3. Pooling of transportation and plant handling costs would allow handlers with relatively inefficient milk assembly operations to deduct more from the producer's price, to reflect the added cost to handlers and service to producers of milk-receiving plants located at country points, than would be allowed in the case of other handlers with relatively efficient milk assembly operations. This would lessen any incentive to improve efficiency of plant operations which, in the long run, would be disadvantageous to producers, handlers, and the general public. This does not mean that there is no place for small volume plants in the milkshed; on the contrary they offer a real economic advantage in some situations, such as providing the one outlet for milk in an isolated area. This situation is now recognized in the order through permissive deductions, from producers who deliver milk to small plants, to reflect the added cost of shipping milk in quantities smaller than railroad or truck tank loads. This problem is well stated in the brief filed jointly by five of the principal cooperatives in this market in connection with a hearing on a similar proposal made at a hearing held in January 1942, as follows: "If competitive conditions do not allow the handler in certain cases to take this deduction, it is evidence that the small volume operation has no economic justification."

The proponents of the pooling of transportation and plant handling costs also proposed that sales of fluid milk by a handler who had already purchased it from another handler be allowed as Class II for manufacturing purposes. In other words, to permit a handler the privilege of having a given lot of milk traced from the first to the second to the third person who handled it to establish the disposition of the milk. In verifying the utilization of milk by handlers it is usually impossible to trace a given lot of milk to its ultimate use if it passes through the plants of several handlers. It is common for a handler to intermingle milk of several sources; thus identity is lost if the same milk is handled by more than one handler. Administrative experience has shown that in this market limiting the tracing of milk to the second of the various handlers who may have possession of the same milk before it is ultimately disposed of is necessary to prevent endless administrative detail in verifying use of milk for classification purposes, and provides equity among handlers. A case for exception to this rule must show that it has caused a handler to suffer unreasonable hardship. The proponents of a change have shown only two cases for the record to demonstrate the disadvantages of the present provision, neither of which shows real hardship. In one case, the handler is the second handler of the milk only by virtue of his marketing practices in which a separate corporation is maintained for operating a milk-receiving station in the milk-producing area, as an exclusive supply for another corporation distributing milk in the marketing area. The plan is typical of several similar plans. In such a situation the present provision is needed to prevent mushrooming of the corporate structure of milk distribution systems from hampering efficient administration of the order.

The other case involves the possibility of gaining a lower transportation rate by having a tank truck filled to capacity rather than being partially filled, if the handler is able to use this extra milk to participate in the Class II market in the marketing area. The order is designed to encourage the manufacture of surplus milk as near the source of production as possible to economize on transportation, and thereby provides a transportation allowance on Class II milk of the cost of shipping cream. Any handler who ships fluid milk to Boston from country plants for Class II purposes must himself bear the added transportation cost which is the difference between the tariff on cream and that of the milk equivalent of the cream. Thus the case cited is not a hardship in such a marketing system.

4. A ceiling on the butterfat differential as applied to producers would be inconsistent with the principle upon which it is based, in this order, which is the competitive value of butterfat in cream on the open market. Under this system, the differential has at times been relatively low, and at other times, as at present, relatively high. Both extremes are necessary to reflect full value to producers in the long run. Adoption of the requested ceiling of 5 cents per point of butterfat would therefore be incomplete without adoption of a floor also. This would result in a complete change in the basis of the differential, and no such complete change was requested.

5. Revision of the requested transfer provisions, and adoption of the requested 90-day rule, which are related aspects of the order, should not be changed at present for lack of conclusive evidence as to the changes which are needed. Involved is the question of the obligations, or privilege of various types of handlers to share the market-wide pool and the degree of such sharing required in various circumstances. From time to time various plants have been withdrawn or added to the pool with wide difference of opinion among handlers and producer groups as to the ethics or justification for such action. Further analysis and more evidence on this problem is needed.

6. With respect to the requested revision from 33.48 to 33.0 in the factor in the Class II formula for converting the price per 40-quart can of cream of 40 percent butterfat content to milk equivalent, the evidence in favor of the change is inconclusive. It is clear that a factor of 33 is in common use in the cream market for determining the price of cream on the open market, but it is not clear that the same factor is the closest approximation to the pounds of butterfat in a 40-quart can of cream of 40 percent butterfat content, the purpose for which it is generally understood that the factor is used. For this purpose, the evidence fails to show a more equitable factor than the present one of 33.48.

In addition to the proposed amendments heard at the hearing held on September 23 and 24, 1943, this report covers two points considered at hearings held September 24, 1942, at Burlington, Vermont, and September 28, 1942, at Boston, Massachusetts, with respect to which no conclusions were drawn in the report covering other proposals considered at that hearing which was issued December 28, 1942. The previous report stated "On . . . revison of . . . payments to cooperatives . . . and receiving plant handling allowances on both Class I and Class II milk, the record has not yet been completely analyzed. The evidence indicates that these points in the order are interrelated. In the present war emergency, maintenance of an adequate level of milk production and conservation of manpower, gasoline, rubber, and strategic materials needs to be accomplished by improving efficiency in the assembly and transportation of milk to market. Some revision of these points to increase returns to producers should be made as an aid to maintaining production and accomplishment of more efficient use of existing handling and transportation facilities, either through this order itself or in conjunction with other wartime conservation programs that may be developed. In order to avoid undue delay of other needed changes, recommendation of further revision of these points is reserved until after a thorough examination of the evidence has been made."

It is now concluded that no changes concerning these points should be made on the basis of the evidence at the hearing of September, 1942. That hearing includes testimony designed to show that plant handling allowances should be increased and other testimony designed to show that such allowances should be decreased. With respect to payments to cooperatives from the market-wide pool the proposed change was an elimination of this feature from the order. There is much testimony both for and against such a change.

The present plan of payments to cooperatives, which became effective August 1, 1941, was based on the consideration that to achieve the benefits to all producers which the order is designed to provide two types of activity by producers' cooperative marketing organizations are desirable: (1) presentation of evidence at hearings concerning the needs of producers with respect to prices for milk and differentials to reflect handling costs to furnish an adequate basis for constructive amendments to the order, and (2) assumption of responsibility for a reserve of milk to meet the irregular needs of distributors which is essential in a market which provides market-wide equalization among all producers of the total value of the milk. Further, it is recognized that allowances for costs associated with providing services to the market should be separated from the allowance which reflects the additional cost of receiving milk at country plants compared to receiving it directly at city plants. From these considerations it was concluded that provision for payments to cooperative associations is considered necessary to equitably apportion the total value of milk among producers. The testimony in support of the proposal to completely eliminate this feature of the order does not show that these considerations were substantially erroneous.

With respect to the need for revision of these features of the order to increase return to producers, as indicated in the previous report referred to herein, examination of the evidence in the record of the hearing of September, 1942, does not indicate clearly the nature of the changes that should be made to accomplish the desired result. In addition, abnormal marketing conditions, caused by limited facilities for handling milk resulting from shortages of strategic materials and a supply of milk which was sufficiently less than demand during the low point in the seasonal pattern of production in 1943, to occasion a program of allocation of the short supply to avoid an unevenness of supply among handlers, have resulted in changes in the structure of the assembly phase of this milk market which are sufficient to require examination of further evidence before the nature of constructive revisions to the order can be determined.

The following operating provisions of a proposed order amending the order, as amended, are recommended as the detailed means by which these conclusions may be carried out. A proposed marketing agreement is not included in this report because the proposed amendments applicable to it would be the same as those set forth below with respect to the order, as amended.

1. Revise § 904.3 (a) (9) to read as follows:

The "delivery period" means the current marketing period from the first to and including the last day of each month.

2. In § 904.6 (a) (3) revise the last clause to read as follows:

* * * and then that milk, including skim milk and buttermilk, which was shipped from the nearest plant located more than 40 miles from the State House in Boston, including milk received at such plant pursuant to § 904.8 (b).

3. In § 904.6 (b) (2) (iii) delete the words "* * * except April, May, and June," and delete § 904.6 (b) (2) (iv).

4. Add two new paragraphs to § 904.6 as follows:

(e) Butter and cheese adjustment. For the duration of effect of Food Distribution Orders Numbered 8, 13, 79, and 92, including amendments thereto or other similar orders supplementing or superseding such orders, in lieu of application of § 904.6 (b) (3), in the case of butterfat made into butter, Cheddar cheese, American Cheddar cheese, Colby cheese, washed curd cheese, or part skim Cheddar cheese, during April to September, inclusive, of each year, the value of a handlers milk computed pursuant to § 904.9 (a) shall be adjusted by a value computed for such delivery period as follows:

(1) From the average price reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for 92 score butter at wholesale in the New York market, deduct 5 cents and add 20 percent;

(2) Divide the value determined pursuant to § 904.6 (b) (2) (i) or (ii), whichever applies, by 3.7, and subtract therefrom the value determined in (1) hereof; and

(3) Multiply the value determined pursuant to § 904.10 (d) by 10, and subtract therefrom the value determined in (1) hereof.

(4) Multiply the quantity of butterfat by the value determined in (2) hereof, except that for butter or cheese manufactured from milk of more than 3.7 percent butterfat content, the quantity of butterfat represented in the excess over 3.7 percent butterfat content of such milk, shall be multiplied by the value determined in (3) hereof.

(f) Casein differential. In the case of skim milk manufactured into casein during April, May, and June, the value of a handler's milk computed pursuant to § 904.9 (a) shall be adjusted by a value determined by multiplying the skim milk equivalent of such casein by a differential computed for each delivery period as follows:

(1) Divide the value determined pursuant to § 904.6 (b) (2) (iii) by .9075;

(2) Compute the average of all quotations (using midpoint of any range as one quotation) published during the delivery period in the "Oil, Paint, and Drug Reporter," for domestic 20–30 mesh casein in bags in carlots at New York, subtract 6.6¢ and multiply this result by 2.42; and

(3) Subtract the value determined in (2) from the value determined in (1) hereof.

5. In § 904.6 (c) add 10 zones to the table as follows:

A	B	C

7. In § 904.9 (a) add a third subparagraph as follows:

(3) Adjust the value determined in (2) hereof as provided in §§ 904.6 (a) and (f).

8. Revise § 904.10 (l) to read:

(l) Adjustment of overdue accounts. Any balance due pursuant to this section for any delivery period to or from the market administrator on the 10th day of any month, for which remittance has not been received in, or paid from, his office by the close of business on that day, shall be increased one-half of 1 percent, effective the 11th day of such month.

It is, therefore, ordered, That, effective as of 12:01 a. m., May 1, 1944, and continuing during the months of May and June 1944, the following provisions of § 941.5 (a) (2) of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, are hereby suspended: "except the delivery periods of May and June," and "and during the delivery periods of May and June the price per hundredweight for Class I milk shall be the price determined pursuant to paragraph (b), plus 50 cents:"

The purpose of this general order is to set forth the private housing to which occupancy standards apply, the persons who are eligible war workers for such housing, the length of time such housing must be held for their use, the conditions under which such housing may be transferred or sold, and the conditions under which occupancy standards applicable to such housing may be modified or removed.

(c) For the purposes of this general order, the date of "completion" of any private war housing shall be the date upon which such housing is offered for initial rental or sale, or the date upon which such housing is first ready for immediate occupancy, whichever is later.

(b) For private war housing begun prior to February 10, 1943, an eligible war worker shall be only a person who qualifies under the provision of the application (and other instruments related thereto) for priority assistance or authority to begin construction, FHA insurance, or exemption from Federal Reserve Board Regulation W submitted in connection with such housing; or, at the option of the owner of such housing, a person who qualifies under the provisions of NHA General Order No. 60–1. Private war housing for which applications for priority assistance were filed with the Federal Housing Administration before February 10, 1943, but for which quotas did not become available until on or after that date, shall not be approved after July 15, 1943, except subject to the rules applicable to private war housing so "begun" on or after February 10, 1943.

§ 702.3 Length of time private war housing must be reserved for occupancy by eligible war workers. (a) Private war housing begun on or after February 10, 1943, shall be made available for initial occupancy, and for re-occupancy, only by eligible war workers: Provided, however, That at any time subsequent to 60 days after completion of such housing, the owner of such housing may petition the National Housing Agency to permit initial occupancy, or re-occupancy, as the case may be, by a person other than an eligible war worker, in accordance with NHA General Order No. 60–3.

(b) Private war housing begun prior to February 10, 1943, shall be made available for initial occupancy, and for re-occupancy, by eligible war workers for at least the period of time after completion specified in the application (and other instruments related thereto) for priority assistance or authority to begin construction, FHA insurance, or exemption from Federal Reserve Board Regulation W submitted in connection with such housing. Whenever any such application (or other instruments related thereto) provided for an exclusive preference to eligible war workers for a specified time, such exclusive preference shall be so given for at least such specified time; and whenever any such application (or other instruments related thereto) provided for merely a general preference to eligible war workers, at least such general preference shall be so given for at least such specified time.

§ 702.4 Disposition of private war housing. (a) Private war housing begun on or after February 10, 1943, shall be held for rental only to eligible war workers for the duration of the national emergency declared by the President on September 8, 1939, and, except for involuntary transfers, shall be disposed of only as follows:

(1) (i) An occupant, after two months' occupancy, may purchase the private war housing unit occupied by him subject to NHA General Order No. 60–3.

(ii) Without conforming to (i) which precludes selling except at the option of the eligible war worker exercised after at least two months' rental occupancy, a dwelling unit in a private war housing project may be held for sale or sold to an eligible war worker as provided in NHA General Order No. 60–3: Provided, That any sale so made shall take place not later than 15 days after the Federal Housing Administration makes its final Priority Compliance Inspection Report ("Completion Report") with respect to the unit (after which time the unit if not sold shall be held for rental as indicated in (i)): And provided further, That no owner shall sell more than one-third of the units in all projects (begun on or after February 10, 1943) which he has placed under actual construction in any war housing area except such sales as are made in conformity with the requirement of holding for rental as indicated in (i): And provided further, That any sale made pursuant to (ii) shall be within a price range for the general types of units intended to be sold which is acceptable to the National Housing Agency. The proposed price range shall be submitted to the Federal Housing Administration in advance of sale by letter or other appropriate method, and in the case of all PD–105 applications filed on or after August 1, 1943, shall be submitted with the application.

(2) A person who will not himself occupy such housing may purchase or otherwise acquire such housing at any time, in accordance with NHA General Order No. 60–3: Provided, The occupancy and disposition limitations applicable to such housing prior to such purchase or acquisition shall continue to be applicable to such housing after such purchase or acquisition.

(3) An eligible war worker under NHA General Order No. 60–1 may himself build, own and occupy a private war housing unit suitable to his needs, without complying with the rental requirements, as provided in and subject to the provisions of § 702.11 (a) of NHA General Order No. 60–3. Or,

(4) At any time subsequent to 60 days after completion of any such housing, the owner of such housing may petition the National Housing Agency, in accordance with NHA General Order No. 60–3 to permit such housing to be disposed of otherwise than as provided above in this paragraph (a).

(b) Private war housing begun prior to February 10, 1943, shall be rented, sold, or transferred only in accordance with the provisions of the application (or other instruments related thereto) for priority assistance, authority to begin construction, or exemption from Federal Reserve Board Regulation W submitted in connection with such housing, except that whenever any such application for priority assistance or authority to begin construction provided that such housing could be disposed of, with the prior approval of the War Production Board, otherwise than as stated in such application, a prior approval by the National Housing Agency (instead of by the War Production Board) shall be required in order to dispose of such housing otherwise than as stated in such application. NHA General Order No. 60–3 sets forth the provisions regarding the disposition of such housing.

This order shall become effective July 14, 1943.

Pursuant to authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend paragraph (a) of § 627.13 to read as follows:

§ 627.13 Local board to prepare and forward file and DSS Form 66. (a) The local board shall determine the principal place of employment, if any, of the registrant and the address thereof immediately upon an appeal being taken to the board of appeal by a person entitled to appeal, or the classification of the registrant in Class II–A or Class II–B whose principal place of employment is located outside the appeal board area in which the local board having jurisdiction over the registrant is located and in an area where boards of appeal are organized. The local board shall record the principal place of employment, if any, of the registrant and the address thereof on and otherwise complete the Individual Appeal Record (Form 66). The determination of the local board of the principal place of employment of the registrant and the address thereof as recorded on the Individual Appeal Record (Form 66) shall be final except as provided in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) below.

(1) Prior to the decision of the case by the board of appeal, the local board may, on its own motion, and shall, upon request of the Director of Selective Service or the State Director of Selective Service of the State in which it is located, reconsider such determination. Upon such reconsideration, the local board shall determine the principal place of employment, if any, of the registrant and the address thereof and shall record such determination on the Individual Appeal Record (Form 66). Such determination, unless again reconsidered or an appeal is taken therefrom as provided in subparagraph (2) below, shall be final.

(2) Either the Director of Selective Service or the State Director of Selective Service, as to local boards in his State, may appeal from a determination of the local board of the principal place of employment of the registrant and the address thereof. Upon such an appeal being taken, the board of appeal whose area includes the address of the principal place of employment of the registrant as shown on the Individual Appeal Record (Form 66) shall have jurisdiction to determine the principal place of employment of the registrant and the address thereof and such determination, unless an appeal is taken therefrom to the President as provided in subparagraph (3) below, shall be final.

(3) Either the Director of Selective Service or the State Director of Selective Service in whose State is located the local board from whose determination an appeal was taken under subparagraph (2) above or the State Director of Selective Service in whose State is located the board of appeal which made a determination of the registrant's principal place of employment and the address thereof, may appeal to the President from such determination of the board of appeal. Upon such an appeal being taken, the President shall determine the principal place of employment of the registrant and the address thereof and such determination shall be final.

2. Amend paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 627.14 to read as follows:

§ 627.14 Time when record to be forwarded on appeal. (a) When an appeal is taken from the classification of a registrant in Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class IV–E (except a registrant who, because of being in excess of 38 years of age, is identified with the letter "H" as provided in § 622.81) the file of the registrant shall be held by the local board and shall not be forwarded to the board of appeal or the State Director of Selective Service, as the case may be, until (1) the registrant has been ordered to report for his preinduction physical examination in the usual manner when his order number is reached and (2) the results of the preinduction physical examination have been received by the local board or the registrant has failed to appear for his preinduction physical examination at the time he is ordered to do so. If as a result of the preinduction physical examination such registrant is found to be disqualified for service, his classification shall be reopened and he shall be classified in Class IV–F. In such cases the appeal will not be forwarded.

(b) The registrant's file shall be forwarded to the board of appeal or the State Director of Selective Service, as the case may be, immediately after the local board has complied with the provisions of § 627.13 when (1) an appeal is taken from the classification of a registrant in a class other than Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class IV–E, or (2) the classification of a registrant in Class II–A or Class II–B is submitted for review and decision to a board of appeal under § 627.3, or (3) an appeal is taken from the classification of a registrant in Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class IV–E and such registrant, because of being in excess of 38 years of age is identified with the letter "H" as provided in § 622.81.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3690; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 18, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 7A, as Amended Mar. 21, 1944]

TRANSFERS OF QUOTAS, PREFERENCE RATINGS: TRANSFERS OF A BUSINESS AS A GOING CONCERN

§ 944.28 Priorities Regulation 7A—(a) What this regulation does. This regulation explains when quotas, preference ratings and other rights under the priorities system may be transferred from one person to another and states the rules governing transfer of a business as a going concern.

(b) Specific provisions in orders or regulations govern. This regulation does not apply in any case where an applicable order or regulation provides a different rule.

(c) What is meant by "quota". As used in this regulation "quota" means a quantitative limit which is placed on the production or delivery of items, or on the acquisition or use of material, by an order or regulation of the WPB. Most quotas are in the form of a specified percentage of production or use during a previous base period or in the form of a specified number of items which may be produced. The term also includes authorized production schedules under the Controlled Materials Plan, as defined in CMP Regulation 1.

(d) Quota applies to actual manufacturer. Where a manufacturer does not sell his product in his own name, but makes it for another person under whose name it is sold, and an order of the WPB imposes a quota on manufacturers of the product, that quota applies to the person who actually makes the product rather than to the one under whose name it is sold.

(e) Distribution of quota where quota holder has several establishments. Where the holder of a quota has several establishments, he may distribute his quota among them, and change the distribution in any way he wishes unless the quota was acquired on a transfer of a going business as explained in paragraph (h) (1) below.

(f) Transfer of quotas forbidden in most cases. No quota may be transferred from one person to another under any circumstances, except in connection with the transfer of a business as a going concern as explained in paragraph (h) (1) below or with the express permission of the WPB, and except that authorized production schedules may be transferred in connection with the transfer of allotments to the extent permitted by paragraph (j) of CMP Regulation 1. Permission to transfer quotas may be expressly given in an order or regulation or on appeal as explained in paragraph (i) below.

(g) Transfers of preference ratings and specific authorizations forbidden. No person may transfer to another a preference rating or any right granted by specific authorization except where this is part of a transfer of a going business as explained in paragraph (h) (1) below. However, as more fully explained in Interpretation 5 to Priorities Regulation 1, when a rated contract is assigned, the rating remains applicable to the contract as assigned if, but only if, the assignee uses the material covered by the contract for substantially the same purpose for which the rated contract was placed. The transfer of a rating must be distinguished from the application or extension of a rating under Priorities Regulation 3. For example, a person has a preference rating to buy a certain machine and decides that he does not want it but wishes to transfer to another person his rating to buy the machine, the second person may not use the rating. On the other hand, if someone who has a rating wishes to buy an article from a supplier, the supplier may, under certain conditions, extend the same rating to get the article for delivery to the customer or to replenish his inventory. This is explained in detail in Priorities Regulation 3.

(h) Transfer of business as a going concern. (1) Whenever an entire business is transferred as a going concern to a new owner who continues to operate substantially the same business in the same establishment, using substantially the same trade-mark or trade-name, if any, all rights and obligations under WPB orders and regulations which applied to the business before the transfer continue applicable after the transfer, and the old owner no longer has them. The business under the new ownership has the same quotas, preference ratings, allotments, authorized production schedules, specific authorizations and other rights and duties created by WPB orders and regulations as it had under the old ownership. However, the new owner may not continue to exercise any such rights if he discontinues operation of the business he acquired or operates it as a substantially different business or in another establishment, or if he uses a substantially different trade-mark or trade-name. He may not, at any time, use any quota of the transferred business for any other part of his business.

(2) If, on dissolution of a firm, the entire business is not transferred as a going concern to a single successor, but is divided up in any way, application must be made to the WPB for a determination of quotas and other rights and duties under WPB orders and regulations.

(3) An order or regulation of the WPB which places any restriction on the transfer of any particular material or product does not apply to a transfer which is part of a transfer of the ownership of an entire business as a going concern, and WPB approval need not be obtained for any such transfer.

(i) Permission in exceptional cases on appeal. In any case where the above rules work an exceptional hardship, specific permission may be given on appeal for the transfer of a quota, a preference rating or a specific authorization or for other exceptions from the rules. An appeal for the transfer of a quota should be filed as an appeal from the order imposing the quota by the person who wishes it transferred to him. If the person from whom it is to be transferred agrees to the transfer, he should join in the appeal. It is not expected that permission will be granted for the purchase or sale of a quota for any consideration in any case where the principal purpose of the transaction is merely to transfer the quota.

Issued this 21st day of March 1944.

(3) Quota adjustments. For the purpose of the Class B, C and D quotas, referred to in the above schedule:

(i) Use by producer. Amounts of dyestuffs which are or have been used by a producer in any calendar quarter or in 1941, shall be considered as having been delivered to such person in such quarter or in 1941, as the case may be.

(c) Restrictions on exports—(1) General restrictions. No producer shall export or deliver for export from the United States to any place other than Canada any dyestuffs produced by him, except either upon orders accompanied by individual export licenses issued by the Office of Economic Warfare (the applications for which show thereon the corresponding current domestic sales price of such dyestuffs) or upon orders from an agency of the United States for delivery pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, as amended, entitled "An Act to promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act). The total value, exclusive of the exceptions provided in paragraph (d), of dyestuffs so exported or delivered in any quarter shall not exceed:

(i) ¾ of 1% of the total value of all dyestuffs delivered by him in 1941 plus

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS

[Limitation Order L–140–b, as Amended Mar. 21, 1944]

FLATWARE AND HOLLOW WARE

Section 3291.176 Limitation Order L–140–b is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3291.176 Limitation Order L–140–b—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Restricted flatware" means knives, forks, spoons and similar implements used for eating or serving food at the table, which have metal blades, tines or bowls as well as handles made of metal. It does not include gold or sterling silver flatware, knives with sterling silver or gold handles and steel blades, carving sets, or articles of cutlery covered by Order L–140–a, or any order in the L–30 series.

(2) "Restricted hollow ware" means all articles commonly known as hollow ware in the trade. It does not include gold or sterling silver hollow ware or flatware or any articles covered by any order in the L–30 series, or electrical appliances covered by Order L–65.

(3) "Preferred order" means any purchase order, contract or subcontract for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration, and orders authorized by the Maritime Commission on Form WPB–646. A purchase order placed with a manufacturer by a distributor or dealer to replace in inventory flatware or hollow ware sold on a preferred order, is also a preferred order. Orders from Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Stores, Officers' and Enlisted Men's Service Clubs on military or naval reservations are not preferred orders.

(4) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of making, assembling or plating any restricted flatware or restricted hollow ware or any parts for such ware.

(5) "Distributor" means any person or firm other than a retail dealer engaged in the business of selling restricted flatware or restricted hollow ware not manufactured by that firm.

(b) Restriction on the production of restricted flatware. (1) No person shall manufacture any restricted flatware for any orders except according to a quota approved by the War Production Board on Form WPB–2719, which must be filed with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–140–b, on or before the 15th day of November, February, May and August. When one person makes restricted flatware and another person plates it, this restriction applies only to the first person.

(2) The War Production Board will assign production quotas to meet approved requirements. Total production which would exceed such requirements will not be authorized. No person will be authorized to produce flatware if that production would interfere with his or other war production. Production will be authorized so as to avoid increased labor requirements in labor shortage areas. The War Production Board will give notice to each manufacturer of the total and individual authorizations.

(c) Production of restricted hollow ware. No person shall use any metals in the manufacture of restricted hollow ware except to fill preferred orders.

(d) No specifications for restricted flatware for preferred orders. Restricted flatware made to fill preferred orders may be made from any material and according to any specifications called for in the preferred order.

(e) Metal restrictions and specifications for restricted flatware for other than preferred orders. (1) No person shall use any metal in the manufacture of restricted flatware made for other than preferred orders, except metals listed in Schedule A.

(2) No manufacturer shall make any restricted flatware for other than preferred orders except knives, dessert size forks, dessert spoons and teaspoons.

(3) All carbon steel silver plated restricted flatware made for other than preferred orders shall be plated with an undercoating of nickel of an average thickness of 0.0002 inch and the whole metal coating of nickel and silver shall be of an average thickness of not less than 0.0005 inch.

(4) Restricted flatware made for other than preferred orders shall not be made of any metal of a lighter gauge than 0.050 inch for teaspoons, 0.055 inch for dessert spoons and 0.065 inch for dessert forks.

(f) Distribution of stainless steel restricted flatware. (1) No manufacturer or distributor shall sell any stainless steel restricted flatware except to fill preferred orders, or to manufacturers, distributors, hospitals, institutions for the aged, sick or poor, prisons, educational institutions, orphanages, hotels, restaurants, canteens, clubs, cafeterias, lunch rooms, lunch counters, and public eating places (including those operated by common carriers), Officers, and Enlisted Men's Service Clubs; and the following Post Exchanges and Ship's Service Departments for use on the premises in eating places operated by them: U. S. Army or Marine Corps Post Exchanges, U. S. Navy or Coast Guard Ship's Service Departments, and War Shipping Administration Training Organization Ship's Service activities.

(2) No manufacturer or distributor shall sell stainless steel restricted flatware for export, except to Officers' and Enlisted Men's Service Clubs and to the Post Exchanges and Ship's Service Departments listed in paragraph (f) (1) for use on the premises in eating places operated by them.

(g) Reports. Each manufacturer shall file Form WPB–2719 (formerly PD–880) showing the amount of restricted flatware manufactured according to the instructions accompanying that form.

(h) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order and all transactions affected by this order are subject to the applicable regulations of the War Production Board. PART 1312—LUMBER AND LUMBER PRODUCTS

[RMPR 109,[1] Amdt. 8]

AIRCRAFT LUMBER

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 109 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1312.358, in paragraph (b) (4) the heading over the vertical column of figures is amended by adding the words "board measure", and a new subparagraph (b) (6) is added, to read as follows:

(6) Averaging inbound transportation charges. An aircraft lumber remanufacturing plant may make an average inbound transportation addition on all sales f. o. b. the remanufacturing plant. The average inbound addition may also be used in selling on a delivered basis as provided in this section, except that where milling-in-transit rates are available, the entire addition (including inbound) must be figured on the through rate from the original shipping point indicated on the freight bills surrendered in connection with the outbound shipment. The transit charge may be added.

This average addition must be calculated for each quarter by averaging the total inbound charges paid during the preceding three months, under the following formula:

(i) Multiply the estimated weight of the material received from each original shipping point by the freight rate from that point to the remanufacturing plant.

(ii) Add the transportation charges thus computed and divide by the total footage of all aircraft lumber (except in-transit shipments) received during the quarter, whether the shipment of lumber involved inbound transportation charges or not.

2. Section 1312.361, in the section heading the phrase "per MBM" is deleted.

3. Section 1312.361, Table 1, in the table heading, the phrase "Maximum prices f. o. b." is changed to read "Maximum prices per MBM f. o. b.".

4. In § 1312.361, immediately after Table 1, and preceding the "Notes" applying thereto, a new Table 1A is inserted, to read as follows:

[MPR 522]

MERCHANTS' PRICES FOR FINE PAPERS AND CERTAIN PAPERBOARDS IN SEVEN WESTERN STATES

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish, by a separate maximum price regulation, maximum prices for merchants' sales of fine papers and certain paperboards in seven western states (California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Arizona, and Utah). The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to merchants' prices for these sales prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practical, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industries which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

AUTHORITY: § 1347.806 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E. O. 9250, 7 F. R. 7871; E. O. 9328, 8 F. R. 4681.

(i) The manufacturer is directly involved in the determination of the final price to the purchaser, and

(ii) The merchant's sole compensation for the service rendered is in the form of a selling discount, commission or fee.

Such sales are considered sales by the manufacturer and are subject to the appropriate regulation governing manufacturers' sales. This exception, however, does not apply to sales of paperboard.

(3) Sales or deliveries in cases where the total sales price computed under this regulation is in an amount equal to or less than the minimum charge established by the merchant during March 1942, for the sale of any particular fine paper or paperboard. Such sales are subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(4) Sales or deliveries of "specialty papers" as defined in section 18. Such sales are subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

SEC. 2. Maximum prices. (a) The maximum price at which a merchant may sell any of the fine papers or paperboards subject to this regulation shall be the total of the manufacturer's base price as defined in section 3 of this regulation, plus the highest percentage mark-up applied by the merchant during March 1942 to total cost (also computed in accordance with section 3) for the same commodity in the same quantity bracket.

(b) If the merchant did not have a mark-up during March 1942, for a particular fine paper or paperboard or for a particular quantity of fine paper or paperboard, then he shall use the percentage mark-up which he applied during March 1942, to a similar fine paper or paperboard.

For sales of less than 2,000 lbs. prices may be computed to the nearest 25¢ per cwt. For sales of 2,000 lbs. and over, prices may be computed to the nearest 5¢ per cwt. In each case 2½¢ or more may be considered as 5¢.

SEC. 3. Manufacturer's base price. The manufacturer's base price is his standard price to merchants, per base unit of sale for standard weights, colors, and finishes. The base unit of sale for each type is set forth in section 27. Standard Price means the price quoted in the manufacturer's merchant price list in effect at the date of the merchant's sale, or if the manufacturer had no price list, the price which he regularly quoted at that date in any other manner, before cash discount. Transportation charges paid by the merchant, less all freight allowances, and exclusive of any delivery charges (for which, see section 5) may be included within manufacturer's base price for the purposes of this regulation.

SEC. 4. Differentials and discounts. All differentials and discounts shall be computed in the relative order in which they are set forth below.

(a) Discount for quantity shipments. In any direct or indirect sale by the merchant to the customer or by the manufacturer to the customer for the account of the merchant, where because of the quantity of the order a deduction would be required under any price regulation from the manufacturer's base price on a similar sale to the merchant, the merchant must make a deduction in the same amount before the application of his percentage mark-up.

(b) Colors, special finishes, watermarks and light weights. The merchant may add to the manufacturer's base price before the application of the merchant's percentage mark-up, any charges actually paid to the manufacturer for colors, special finishes, watermarks and light weights.

Exceptions: (1) The merchant shall add any charges paid to the manufacturer for colors, special finishes, watermarks and light weights, after the application of the merchant's percentage mark-up if this was his customary practice during March 1942. (2) The merchant may continue to add, before the application of his percentage mark-up, a flat charge for colors, special finishes, watermarks and light weights if it was his customary practice during March 1942 to make such flat charge irrespective of the quantity of the sale.

(c) Irregular basis weights and sizes. The merchant may add to his selling price after the application of the merchant's percentage mark-up, the percentage differential represented by any charges made by the manufacturer to the merchant for irregular basis weights and sizes.

(d) Packing differentials. In any shipment by the merchant to the customer or by the manufacturer to the customer for the account of the merchant, where an additional charge would be permitted for packing when sold to the merchant, the merchant may add the amount of this charge to his selling price after the application of his percentage mark-up. If the manufacturer's differential for packing takes the form of a deduction from his base price, a deduction in the same amount must be made by the merchant and this may be done after the application of his percentage mark-up.

(e) Cash discounts. The merchant shall give the same cash discounts for each type of paper which he customarily gave in March 1942 to a purchaser of the same class, unless a change will result in the same or a lower price.

(f) Manufacturing variations. Variations by the manufacturer in quantity, weight, thickness, etc., from that ordered which would be permissible under trade tolerances, will also be permitted to the merchant on the resale of such paper or paperboard, and no differential will be permitted to, or discount required by, the merchant by reason of such variations.

SEC. 5. Charges for delivery. (a) Maximum prices established in accordance with section 2 are prices delivered to the purchaser except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) below. When any addition for delivery charges is permitted, such addition shall be made after the application of the merchant's percentage mark-up.

(b) Free delivery area. The merchant shall deliver the fine papers and paperboards subject to this regulation without charge in the same area within which he delivered or would have delivered without charge in March 1942. If, however, his customary practice in that month was to make a charge for the delivery in that area of certain quantities, or of certain grades, he may now charge an amount computed at the lowest of the available common or contract carrier rates for the same haul.

(c) Outside free delivery area—(1) Warehouse or indirect sales. (i) If the merchant had a practice in March 1942 of adding a fixed differential for delivery within a certain locality outside his free delivery area, he may add the same amount which he charged or would have charged for such delivery in that month. If he did not have such a practice, then he may add a delivery charge determined as follows:

(ii) On deliveries in the merchant's own truck, he may add a charge computed at the lowest of the available common or contract carrier rates in effect for the same haul.

(iii) On shipments by the merchant by common or contract carrier, his maximum prices established in accordance with section 2 are f. o. b. the carrier's loading point within the merchant's free delivery area, and he may add any subsequent transportation charges, including local cartage expense.

(2) Direct sales. On sales involving shipment from the manufacturer directly to the merchant's customer located outside of the merchant's free delivery area, the merchant may add to the maximum price established in accordance with section 2 the difference between the total actual delivery costs involved and the delivery costs borne by the manufacturer.

SEC. 6. Sales by agent distributors—(a) Sales to merchants. The agent distributor's maximum price to a merchant is the maximum price to such merchant chargeable by the manufacturer from whom the agent distributor has purchased.

(b) Sales to consumers. The agent distributor's maximum price to a consumer is the maximum price which a merchant may charge for the commodity.

(c) Delivery charges. The differential for transportation costs and the charges for delivery specified in section 5 shall be applicable to sales by agent distributors.

SEC. 7. Resale price on sales by merchants who purchase from other merchants. The maximum price at which a merchant may sell any fine papers or paperboards subject to this regulation which he purchased from another merchant is the maximum price which would be applicable if he had purchased the commodity directly from the same manufacturer as the first merchant. A merchant selling to another merchant shall supply the latter with all the information necessary to enable him to determine his maximum price upon the resale of such paper or paperboard, such as the manufacturer's base price and all applicable differentials and discounts.

SEC. 8. Assortments and amalgamations. The merchant shall grant the same privileges with respect to assortments and amalgamations which he customarily granted to a purchaser of the same class during March 1942.

SEC. 9. Job lots. The maximum prices established in section 2 are not applicable to sales of job lots or second qualities of paper or paperboard. The maximum prices for such job lots and second qualities are the total maximum prices for which a merchant may sell the first quality of the same commodity.

SEC. 10. Charges for conversion—(a) Charges for conversion operations performed by the merchant. A merchant performing a conversion operation such as cutting, sealing, banding, punching, round cornering, corner clipping, wrapping, slitting, packaging, rewinding or a related operation in connection with any fine papers or paperboards subject to this regulation may add a charge therefor which shall not exceed the maximum amount charged by the merchant for such operation in March 1942 to a purchaser of the same class.

If the merchant performs a conversion operation for which a charge was not made in March 1942, he shall compute the charge by using such cost factors, wage rates, charges for machine hours, overhead, etc., as he would have used to compute such charge during said period, even though the cost factors may have increased since that date.

(b) Charges for conversion operations performed by another. If the merchant secures the performance of any conversion operation by any other person, he may add to his maximum selling price for the fine paper or paperboard the total of:

(1) The actual charge made to him by such other person for such operation;

(2) Transportation costs necessarily incurred in such operation at the lowest of the available common or contract carrier rates, if such costs are not included in (1) above; and

(3) The percentage margin for profit which he charged or would have charged in March 1942 to a purchaser of the same class on the same conversion operation performed by another person on the same or a comparable type of paper or paperboard.

(c) Operations not covered by this regulation. If a conversion operation results in the creation of a converted paper product, the sale of which is subject to any specific maximum price regulation (other than the General Maximum Price Regulation), such operation is not subject to this regulation.

SEC. 11. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this Maximum Price Regulation 522 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 12. Imports. The provisions of this regulation do not apply to the purchases, sales or deliveries of the commodities named in this regulation if they originate outside of and are imported into the continental United States. Sales, purchases and deliveries of such imported commodities are governed by the provisions of the Maximum Import Price Regulation.[1]

SEC. 13. Export sales and sales for export. The maximum prices at which a merchant may sell for export or may export fine papers or paperboards subject to this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 14. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order or letter.

SEC. 15. Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of a commodity, or the supplying of a service, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity or service and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

If, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased: Provided, however, That the tax on the transportation of property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service subject to this regulation, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

SEC. 16. Records and reports—(a) Records. Every merchant shall keep for inspection by the office of Price Administration for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, complete and accurate records, including invoices, applicable to all sales of fine papers and paperboards subject to this regulation made by the merchant in March 1942 and subsequent to the issuance of this regulation, showing the following:

(1) Manufacturer's base price.
(2) Differentials or discounts applied.
(3) Merchant's mark-up.
(4) Charges for delivery.
(5) Charges for conversion.

(b) Reports. (1) Every person making a sale after March 26, 1944, of the fine papers and paperboards subject to this regulation shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of those specified in paragraph (a) as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require with the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act 1942.

(2) On and after May 11, 1944, no person may determine prices under this regulation unless he shall have submitted on Form No. 695–576 (copies of which may be obtained from the appropriate Field Office of the Office of Price Administration) the percentage mark-ups as provided for in section 2 of this regulation. Two copies must be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Paper and Paper Products Branch, Washington, D. C.; and one copy must be retained by the merchant.

SEC. 17. Invoice and labelling requirements—(a) Grade description. The merchant shall set forth on his invoice the basis weight or nominal weight and the brand name or grade description of the paper or paperboard.

(b) Conversion charges. The merchant shall set forth separately on his invoice any charges made by him for conversion.

(c) Job lots and seconds. On a sale of job lots or second qualities the merchant shall specify in his invoice or on the wrapping of the paper that it consists of such quality.

SEC. 18. Definitions. When used in this Maximum Price Regulation 522 the term:

"Seven Western States" means the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Arizona and Utah.

[1] 8 F.R. 11681, 12237.
[2] 8 F.R. 4132.

"Agent distributor" means a class of merchant who purchases fine papers and paperboards from a manufacturer (other than a manufacturer affiliated with such person through any community of ownership) at a special discount under an agreement that all sales which he makes to merchants shall be at a price not exceeding the manufacturer's price.

"Specialty paper" means a paper which fulfills all three of the following requirements: (1) When it is made by a manufacturer expressly and solely to fulfill an unusual requirement of a particular user or class of users; (2) When it is neither comparable with, nor a variation of, a standard mill grade which is regularly offered by the manufacturer; (3) When it possesses one or more physical or chemical qualities not attainable in the manufacturer's standard grades.

"Amalgamation" is a single order consisting of a combination of more than one grade, brand, or watermark.

"Assortment" is a single order consisting of a combination of different colors, finishes and basis weights within a grade, brand or watermark.

"Fine papers" and "paperboards" mean those certain papers and paperboards listed in section 27 of this regulation.

"Job lots" and "seconds" mean substandard qualities of fine paper or paperboard resulting from faulty manufacture customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture first quality of fine paper or paperboard.

"Manufacturer" means any person who manufactures fine papers and paperboards and includes an agent and a person affiliated with a manufacturer through any community of ownership, who distributes or sells such manufacturer's fine papers or paperboards, excluding, however, any person who comes within the definition of a merchant set forth in this section.

"Merchant" means any person who buys and resells any of the fine papers or paperboards listed in section 27 of this regulation, except (a) retailers and (b) manufacturers buying fine papers or paperboards from another manufacturer and reselling them.

"Merchant" also includes a manufacturer selling fine papers or paperboards of his own manufacture, and a person affiliated with such manufacturer through any community of ownership if, and only if, the Office of Price Administration shall find that he operates as a bona fide merchant. For the purposes of this regulation, (including the reporting provision contained in section 16 (b)) each branch house or branch office operated by a merchant shall be considered as a separate merchant.

"Nominal weight" means the ream or 1000 sheet weight ordered by the merchant for a quantity of paper in sheets.

"Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, and any other organized group of persons, or the legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agency of the foregoing.

"Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for commodities for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, retailer, jobber, converter, consumer, government agency) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale.

"Records" mean books of account, sales lists, sales slips, orders, vouchers, contracts, receipts, invoices, bills of lading and other documents, letters and correspondence.

"Retailer" means any person, the major portion of whose sales are to ultimate consumers other than industrial, commercial or institutional users or government agencies.

"Similar commodities." One commodity shall be deemed "similar" to another commodity, if the first has the same use as the second, affords the purchaser fairly equivalent serviceability, and belongs to a type which would ordinarily be sold in the same price line. In determining the similarity of such commodities, differences merely in style or design which do not substantially affect use, or serviceability, or the price line in which such commodities would ordinarily have been sold, shall not be taken into account.

"Standard weights, colors, and finishes" mean the weights, colors and finishes supplied by the manufacturer without any charges for differentials.

SEC. 19. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 20. Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade of any business are sold or otherwise transferred after March 26, 1944, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of commodities or services in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee with respect to those sales and services for which prices are based on the seller's charging practice in March 1942 shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records in accordance with section 16 shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 522.

SEC. 21. Application for determination of maximum price. A merchant who did not deal in fine papers or paperboards in March 1942, and who is unable to determine a maximum price for any sales or services covered by this regulation because he had no charging practice with respect thereto in that month, shall apply to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., for the determination of the maximum price which he may charge for such sales and services. Any charge made prior to his receipt of such ruling shall be subject to adjustment in accordance with the determination made.

SEC. 22. Evasion. (a) The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation 522 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to fine papers and paperboards, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or service or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

(b) Specifically, but not exclusively, the following practices are prohibited if used as a means of evading the price limitations imposed by this Maximum Price Regulation 522: modifying, discontinuing, or altering any customary trade practice of the seller, increasing the terms of sale, or splitting orders.

SEC. 23. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation 522 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 25. Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation.[5] The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 522 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation in respect to sales and deliveries of fine papers and paperboards for which maximum prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation 522.

PART 1390—MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

[MPR 136, as Amended,[1] Amdt. 112]

MACHINES AND PARTS, AND MACHINERY SERVICES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1390.10 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Certain cases where seller's price is based on lower cost—(1) Applicability of this paragraph. This paragraph is applicable to the sale by a seller other than a manufacturer of a machine or part for which the seller had a list or established price in effect on the base date which was based on a cost lower than the price which his base date supplier had in effect to him on that date. When used in this paragraph the term "base date supplier" means the last person from whom the seller purchased the machine or part before the base date. This paragraph is also applicable to the sale by a seller other than a manufacturer of a machine or part whose cost has been increased to him in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph.

(2) Price—(i) Where seller's base date price was based on price sheets published by another. Where the seller's list price in effect on the base date was based on price sheets published by another person, the maximum price shall be determined as follows: The seller shall deduct from the published price list, which such other person had in effect on the base date, or which was revised by such other person in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, all discounts, allowances and any other deductions from the list price which the seller had in effect to a purchaser of the same class on the base date.

(ii) Where price not based on price sheets published by another. Where the seller's list or established price in effect on the base date was not based on price sheets published by another person, the seller shall determine the maximum price as follows: The seller shall multiply his selling price in effect on the base date to each class of purchasers by the percentage increase in cost to him either occurring on or before October 1, 1941, or due to an increase in price permitted by this paragraph. This percentage shall be determined as follows: The seller shall divide either the price his supplier had in effect to him on the base date, had he made a purchase, or the increased price this paragraph permits his supplier to charge, by the cost on which his base date selling price was calculated.

(3) Report and approval of price. No adjustment may be made under subparagraph (2) until the price which the seller wishes to charge is approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration. A seller, other than a manufacturer, who desires to increase his price for a machine or part in accordance with subparagraph (2) shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. This report shall contain the following information:

(i) Where the seller's base date price was based on price sheets published by another. Where the seller's base date price was based on price sheets published by another person, the report shall contain the following information:

(a) The name and address of the immediate supplier, as well as the manufacturer, of the item. If the manufacturer is also the supplier, include a statement to that effect.

(b) A description of the machine or part.

(c) A copy of the published price sheet which the seller used in determining his base date price, together with all discounts, allowances and any other deductions from that list price which he had in effect on the base date.

(d) A copy of the published price sheet which was put in effect either on or before the base date, or in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph.

(e) The list price which the seller desires to have approved for his use, together with all applicable discounts, allowances and any other deductions from that list price.

(ii) Where the seller's base date price was not based on price sheets published by another. Where the seller's base date price was not based on price sheets published by another person, the report shall contain the following information:

(a) The name and address of the immediate supplier, as well as the manufacturer, of the item. If the manufacturer is also the supplier, include a statement to that effect.

(b) A description of the machine or part.

(c) Where the price to the seller was increased on or before the base date, the price that the seller's supplier would have charged him on the base date, had he made a purchase, and the date that price became effective. Where the price to the seller was increased in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, the price which has been approved by the Office of Price Administration and the date that approval was given.

(d) The cost upon which the seller's base date selling price was calculated, and the period during which such cost was effective.

(e) The seller's net price in effect to each class of purchasers on the base date, and the date such price or prices became effective.

(f) The maximum price or prices determined in accordance with subparagraph (2) and the class of purchasers to which each price applies.

This amendment shall become effective March 27, 1944.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE AND PROHIBITIONS OF THE REGULATIONS

SECTION 1. Coverage—(a) Commodities and persons. Except as provided in section 2, this regulation establishes maximum prices for sales of plastics products by a manufacturer who molds, fabricates or processes plastics materials. This regulation also applies to sales by such manufacturers of any dies, molds, or special tools which are sold in connection with the sale of a plastics product. When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Plastics product" means any product made in whole or in part of plastics materials that is produced by molding, laminating, casting, extruding, machining, grinding, forming, punching, stamping, or otherwise fabricating plastics materials, plastics objects or plastics parts.

(2) "Plastics materials" means any of the natural or synthetic organic materials made from cellulose, proteins, hydrocarbons, or resins, which can be molded under heat and/or pressure, extruded, cast, or fabricated into various shapes. This term includes vulcanized fibre but does not include synthetic rubber.

(3) "Synthetic rubber" means a material obtained by chemical synthesis, possessing the approximate physical properties of natural rubber, when compared in either the vulcanized or unvulcanized condition, which can be vulcanized with sulphur or other chemicals with the application of heat, and which, when vulcanized, is capable of rapid elastic recovery after being stretched to at least twice its length at temperatures ranging from 0° F. to 150° F. at any humidity.

(b) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies in the forty-eight states of the United States and in the District of Columbia, but not in the territories and possessions of the United States.

SEC. 2. Exclusions—(a) Commodities. This regulation does not apply to the following commodities:

(1) Cellophane products (regenerated cellulose).

(2) Completed consumers' articles when sold by a person who is not engaged in molding or fabricating plastics materials.

(3) Electrical transcription and direct writing records.

(4) Fabricated parts under .002" thickness made from sheets of ethyl cellulose, regenerated cellulose, and cellulose acetate.

(5) Fabricated pieces under .010" thickness for use in window envelopes.

(6) Impregnated and coated fabrics, paper or leather, and products produced therefrom. This exclusion does not apply to laminated parts.

(7) Motion picture, photographic and X-ray film.

(8) Plastic-plywood products.

(9) Powders, granules, liquids, preforms and scrap material.

(10) Protective or decorative coatings.

(11) Safety glass.

(12) Sheets, rods and tubes, prior to fabrication, when produced by a manufacturer who sells molding compounds produced by him.

(13) Synthetic rubber products.

(14) Vulcanized fibre sheets, rods and tubes, prior to fabrication.

(b) Secret contracts. This regulation does not apply to sales or deliveries of any plastics product made or supplied under a contract or subcontract that is officially classified as "secret" and certified in writing as such to the Office of Price Administration by the United States, the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, or any agency of any of the foregoing. Such certification shall set forth the date of the secret contract or subcontract and its number or other designation. The certifying government agency shall notify the manufacturer and the Office of Price Administration whenever such contract or subcontract ceases to be secret. This exemption shall not apply after the manufacturer receives such notification from the certifying government agency.

(c) Developmental contracts—(1) Exclusion. This regulation shall not apply to sales and deliveries of any plastics product manufactured pursuant to a contract or subcontract certified in writing to the Office of Price Administration by the United States, the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, or any agency of any of the foregoing, as being developmental. For the purposes of this subparagraph, a contract is deemed to be "developmental" during the period required for the selection of a product by the purchaser or for the accumulation of sufficient production experience by the manufacturer to permit a fair estimate of the manufacturing costs, or both. If the Office of Price Administration determines after consultation with the appropriate government agency that the period necessary for development has expired, and in writing so notifies such agency and the seller, this regulation shall apply to all subsequent sales and deliveries of such plastics product.

(2) Report for developmental contracts. Within ten days after entering into any such developmental contract or subcontract the manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing a description of the plastics products which are the subject of the contract, a summary of the terms of the contract or subcontract, including all pricing provisions, and an estimate of the expected duration of such developmental work. For any such contract or subcontract in effect on March 27, 1944, such report shall be filed prior to April 27, 1944. The report required by this subparagraph need not be filed if the developmental contract or subcontract is also certified as "confidential" or "restricted" by the United States, the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

SEC. 3. Relationship to other regulations—(a) Regulations superseded. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this regulation, this regulation supersedes the General Maximum Price Regulation,[1] including Order 229[2] under § 1499.3 (b) Maximum Price Regulation 136, as amended[3] (Machines and Parts, and Machinery Services), Maximum Price Regulation 188[4] (Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers' Goods Other Than Apparel), Maximum Price Regulation 406[5] (Synthetic Resins and Plastic Materials and Substitute Rubber), and any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration with respect to sales, deliveries or transfers covered by this regulation.

(b) Applicability of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[6] The maximum price at which a person may make any export sales or sales to exporters of any plastics product shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation or any revisions thereto. When used in this section the terms "export sale" and "exporter" have the meaning given to them by section 11 of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

(c) Applicability of the Maximum Import Price Regulation.[7] The provisions of this regulation do not apply to purchases, sales or deliveries of plastic products if they originate outside of and are imported into the continental United States. Sales, purchases and deliveries of such imported plastics products are governed by the provisions of the Maximum Import Price Regulation.

SEC. 4. Prohibitions. (a) On and after March 27, 1944, regardless of the terms of any contract or other obligation (except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section):

(1) No manufacturer shall sell, deliver or negotiate the sale of any plastics product at a price higher than the maximum fixed by this regulation.

(2) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any plastics product from a manufacturer at a price higher than the maximum price fixed by this regulation. If the purchaser receives from the manufacturer a written statement, that the price does not exceed the maximum price, and if the purchaser has no reason to doubt the validity of the statement, the purchaser shall be deemed to have complied with this subparagraph.

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited by subparagraphs (1) and (2).

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this section shall not be applicable to:

(1) The United States or any agency thereof;

(2) The government, or any agency thereof, of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act; or

(3) Any contracting officer of any of the foregoing, and, with respect to purchases made in his official capacity, any such contracting officer or any paying finance officer shall be relieved of any and every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(c) Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to prohibit the fulfilment of any contract entered into before March 27, 1944, if the maximum price regulation or price schedule which was applicable to the transaction at the time the contract was made permitted deliveries at such price.

SEC. 5. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

ARTICLE II—MAXIMUM PRICES AND TERMS OF SALE

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for plastics products sold or offered for sale by the manufacturer during the period January 1 to March 31, 1942. This section is applicable to any plastics product which the manufacturer sold or offered for sale during the period January 1 to March 31, 1942, inclusive. The maximum price of any plastics product covered by this section shall be the first applicable of the following prices:

(a) The price stated in the published price list of the manufacturer in effect on March 31, 1942, less all discounts, allowances and any other deductions from the list price that the manufacturer had in effect to a purchaser of the same class on that date.

(b) The last price at which the manufacturer sold or offered to sell the plastics product during the period January 1 to March 31, 1942, adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's March 31, 1942, differential between the class of purchasers to which that sale or offer was made, and the class of purchasers to which the present sale or offer is being made.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for plastics products not sold or offered for sale by the manufacturer during the period January 1 to March 31, 1942—(a) Maximum prices. This section is applicable to any plastics product which was not sold or offered for sale by the manufacturer during the period January 1 to March 31, 1942, inclusive. The manufacturer must determine the maximum price of any such plastics product, in accordance with the provisions of this section, before he first offers it for sale, sells it or delivers it after March 26, 1944. This maximum price shall be calculated by using the price determining method for plastics products which the manufacturer had in effect on March 31, 1942. The application of this price determining method is subject to the limitations set forth in the next section 8. If the manufacturer did not have a price determining method for plastics products in effect on March 31, 1942 he shall use the price determining method approved by the Office of Price Administration in accordance with the provisions of section 9.

(b) Recomputation of maximum prices—(1) Recomputation. After the manufacturer has acquired actual experience in the production of a plastics product covered by this section, he shall recompute the maximum price thereof in accordance with the provisions of this section and section 8. This recomputation shall make use of the manufacturer's production experience. The completion after March 26, 1944, of one production order for such a plastics product shall be deemed to provide actual production experience. However, if the manufacturer's production experience in this initial production order is inadequate to determine a maximum price, he may request and receive approval from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a further period for recomputation.

(2) Report and approval of recomputed maximum prices. If the recomputation required by this paragraph (b) results in the same maximum price or a lower maximum price, the price resulting from the recomputation shall become the maximum price for all subsequent orders, and no report shall be required. If this recomputation results in a higher maximum price, and the manufacturer elects to charge this price on any subsequent order, he must file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within ten days after entering into a contract at such increased price. This report shall set forth:

(i) A description of the plastics product.

(ii) The price on the last sale, the date of such sale and the name and description of the purchaser.

(iii) The new price.

(iv) An explanation of the reason for the increase, including a comparison of the new and original cost estimates and the production experience on which the new price is based.

The manufacturer may not deliver the plastics product at the higher price so reported until the Office of Price Administration approves that price in writing or until thirty days have elapsed after the mailing of the report without the Office of Price Administration disapproving of the new price. If the Office of Price Administration disapproves of the new price, it will designate a different maximum price in writing. This price will be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

(c) Maximum prices where the manufacturer does not comply with the provisions of paragraphs (a) or (b). This paragraph is applicable to any plastics product covered by this section which after March 26, 1944, is sold, offered for sale, delivered or transferred without computing the maximum price as required by paragraphs (a) or (b), or delivered without receiving approval of the maximum price as required by paragraph (b). The maximum price for any such sales, deliveries or transfers shall be a price established by written order of the Price Administrator. This price will be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

SEC. 8. Pricing formula. In calculating maximum prices under the preceding section 7, the manufacturer shall use the following:

(a) Price determining method. The manufacturer shall use the price determining method for plastics products which was in use in his plant on March 31, 1942. This means that he must use the overhead rates, machine hour rates, if any, rates for general administrative and selling expense, profit margin, discounts and any other bases of computation which were in use in his plant for plastics products on that date. If the manufacturer had no price determining method for plastics products in use in his plant on March 31, 1942, a price determining method shall be established under the next section 9.

(b) Direct labor costs—(1) Method of determining direct labor costs. The manufacturer shall determine direct labor costs by using the straight time rate, determined in accordance with subparagraph (2), for each classification of labor.

(2) Labor rates. The rates used in determining direct labor costs shall be the labor rates in effect in the manufacturer's plant on March 31, 1942, for each classification of labor. If the manufacturer did not employ a particular classification of labor in his plant on that date, he shall apply the rate prevailing on March 31, 1942, for each such classification in the locality in which the manufacturing is to be performed. If labor of that classification was not employed in that locality on March 31, 1942, the manufacturer shall use the rate prevailing on that date for the nearest skill in the most comparable locality, as accurately as he is able to determine that rate by the use of reasonable diligence.

(3) Overtime. The amount of overtime estimated to be required in excess of that provided for in the overhead or machine hour rate may be added to the maximum price. This overtime shall be calculated by using the rates required by the preceding subparagraph (2). However, no markup, overhead or profit shall be applied to that overtime.

(c) Direct material costs. In determining the cost of the raw material and processed and fabricated materials required to produce the plastics product, the manufacturer shall use the lower of the following:

(1) The price that the manufacturer paid or would have paid for the material on January 1, 1941, in the case of thermosetting fabricated laminated materials and on March 31, 1942, in the case of any other material; or

(2) The actual price paid for the material, not in excess of the applicable maximum price.

If the manufacturer is unable to determine the price that he would have paid for the material on January 1, 1941, or March 31, 1942, as the case may be, he shall use the actual price paid by him for the material, not in excess of the applicable maximum price. If there was a published price list in effect on March 31, 1942, for the material; if the manufacturer purchased the material on or about March 31, 1942, or if one of the manufacturer's suppliers of the material was selling the material on or about March 31, 1942, the manufacturer must determine a price for the material under (1) above.

(d) Subcontracted services. To the extent that the manufacturer's price determining method includes or is based on prices paid for subcontracted services, the manufacturer shall use the actual prices he pays therefor, not to exceed the applicable maximum price.

(e) Transportation costs. In determining transportation costs the manufacturer shall use freight rates in effect on March 31, 1942, or current freight rates, whichever are the lower for the mode of transportation actually used.

(f) Discounts and extra charges. The manufacturer shall apply all applicable discounts or other allowances he used on March 31, 1942, and may apply all applicable extra charges he used on that date.

(g) Certification by supplier where manufacturer is unable to determine the maximum price of purchased materials or services. For the purposes of this section, if the manufacturer received a certification from his supplier that the price charged him for materials or services does not exceed the maximum price, and if the manufacturer has no reason to doubt the validity of this certification, the price certified by the supplier shall be deemed not to be in excess of the maximum price.

SEC. 9. Establishment of price determining method. Every manufacturer of plastics products who had no price determining method in use on March 31, 1942, for plastics products must establish a price determining method before he offers to sell plastics products that must be priced under section 7. This price determining method shall be reasonable in the light of the operations being or to be performed. Immediately upon the determination of such a price determining method, the manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. This report shall set forth (a) a detailed description of the proposed price determining method, and (b) a representative sample of prices determined in accordance with the proposed price determining method, showing in detail how they were computed. Prices determined in accordance with the method so filed may be quoted and charged until and unless the method is disapproved by the Office of Price Administration. If the Office of Price Administration disapproves of the proposed method a revised method shall be filed in accordance with this section. If the Office of Price Administration disapproves of the proposed method within thirty days after it is filed by the manufacturer, it may, by order, require that refunds be made on all sales executed at the prices determined in accordance with the disapproved method.

SEC. 10. Maximum prices for dies, molds and special tools—(a) Applicability of this section. This section is applicable to dies, molds and special tools which are sold by the manufacturer in connection with the sale of a plastics product.

(b) Purchased dies, molds and special tools. Where the plastics manufacturer purchases the die, mold or special tool, the maximum price therefor shall be the price paid by the manufacturer, not to exceed the applicable maximum price.

(c) Manufactured dies, molds and special tools. Where the plastics manufacturer produces the die, mold or special tool, the maximum price therefor shall be the current total unit costs of the plastics manufacturer.

SEC. 11. Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of a product covered by this regulation imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the maximum price and in preparing records with respect thereto: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the manufacturer from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the manufacturer does separately state it, the manufacturer may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor from whom he purchased.

SEC. 12. Transportation costs. No manufacturer shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery or supply of any product covered by this regulation than the manufacturer required purchasers of the same class to pay on March 31, 1942, on deliveries or supplies of the same or similar types of products.

SEC. 13. Emergency service charge. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, the manufacturer may add to the maximum price the amount of the extra direct labor costs incurred because of the temporary use of a multiple cavity, mold or die, some of whose cavities have been damaged or broken while in operation. These extra labor costs shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of section 8. No mark up, overhead, or profit may be applied to such extra costs. The extra charge permitted by this section shall be billed or invoiced separately.

SEC. 14. Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade are sold or otherwise transferred after March 31, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of plastics products in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the provisions of this regulation.

ARTICLE III—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 15. Applications for adjustment—(a) Application by a manufacturer that is not based upon an appropriate decrease of other prices—(1) Who may receive an adjustment. The maximum price established by this regulation for a plastics product may be adjusted in the case of an essential manufacturer of an essential plastics products. An "essential plastics product" is one which contributes to the effective prosecution of the war. An "essential manufacturer" is one whose output of a plastics product cannot be reasonably expected to be replaced at prices lower than the proposed adjusted maximum price. In addition, any person who has entered into, or proposes to enter into, a war contract (as defined in subparagraph (5)), or a subcontract thereunder, is an essential manufacturer of an essential plastics product.

(2) When adjustment may be granted—(i) In general. The Office of Price Administartion, any regional office, or such other offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate regional office, may adjust the maximum price in the case of an essential manufacturer of an essential plastics product upon the basis of information submitted by the manufacturer or of other information. It may make that adjustment whenever it finds that the maximum price of a plastics product is at such a level that (taking into account the cost thereof, the profits position of the manufacturer and the nature of his business) production or supply of the plastics product is impeded or threatened. In the case of an adjustment which would effect an increase in the cost of living, such adjustment will be granted only where it is approved by the Office of Economic Stabilization.

(ii) Factors which may be considered. (a) The following factors are relevant to the consideration of whether production or supply of the plastics product is impeded or threatened.

(1) Whether, and by what amount, the maximum price is below or above the total unit costs, less selling and administrative expenses properly allocable to the internal management of the business.

(2) Whether, and by what amount, the maximum price is below or above total unit costs.

(3) Whether, and by what amount, the manufacturer's current over-all profits, before income and excess profits taxes, are greater or less than his average over-all profits during the normal base period, increased by 7% of the additional capital investment contributed entirely by the manufacturer, or its stockholders, since the normal base period.

(4) Whether the proposed price is higher than the price prevailing in the industry.

(5) Whether the manufacturer's sales of the plastics product represent only a very small part of his total sales.

(6) Whether the manufacturer previously sold the plastics product at a price which was below its total unit costs.

(b) The following factors are relevant to the consideration of whether the adjustment would cause an increase in the cost of living:

(1) Whether the plastics product or a commodity in the production of which it is used is of a type sold to civilian consumers other than industrial consumers.

(2) If such is the case, whether the increase in price allowed by the adjustment would be absorbed prior to sale to a non-industrial-consumer.

(3) Whether, if the manufacturer did not produce the plastics product, his output would be replaced by the same or a substitute commodity only at prices equal to or higher than the proposed adjusted maximum price.

(3) How the manufacturer proceeds in applying for an adjustment—(i) In general. An application for adjustment under this paragraph (a) shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 [8] and shall be made on a copy of Form OPA 694–774, set out in Appendix A. If the manufacturer's total sales of all plastics products in the calendar year 1943, or in the fiscal year ending in 1943, exceeded $200,000, the application shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. If the manufacturer's total sales of all plastics products during that period did not exceed $200,000, the application shall be filed with the regional office of the Office of Price Administration located in the same region in which the manufacturer's business is located.

(ii) Application based on proposed wage or salary increase to be authorized by the National War Labor Board. A manufacturer who believes that the conditions for an adjustment set forth in this paragraph (a) would exist if the National War Labor Board should grant a pending application for wage or salary increase may file an application for adjustment under this paragraph. Applications for adjustment of maximum prices based on wage or salary increases requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board must also comply with Supplementary Order No. 28,[9] which requires, among other things, that an application for adjustment in such case be filed within fifteen days after the employer receives notification that the National War Labor Board has taken jurisdiction of the dispute.

(4) Prices for deliveries made pending disposition of the application. A manufacturer who has filed an application under this paragraph (a) may contract or agree that deliveries made during the pendency of the application shall be at a specific price which is higher than the existing maximum price which the manufacturer wants to have adjusted. However, no payment in excess of that existing maximum price may be received until final disposition is made of the application. Where the application is disposed of by an order issued under the section, the price received for deliveries made subsequent to the filing of the application may not exceed the maximum price as determined by the Office of Price Administration. Where the application is disposed of by an amendment of general applicability, payment in excess of the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery may be made for deliveries made pending disposition of the application, only as expressly authorized by order of the Price Administrator.

A manufacturer who wishes to enter into such an arrangement must specifically state to the buyer the following:

(i) The maximum price for the plastics product;

(ii) The fact that an appropriate application for an adjustment of that maximum price has been filed with the Office of Price Administration; and

(iii) The fact that the specific price quoted by the manufacturer is subject to the approval of the Office of Price Administration.

(5) Definitions—(i) Normal base period. The term "normal base period" means the period 1936–1939. If the manufacturer shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Office of Price Administration either

(a) That his entire industry was operating during the greater part of such period at an unusually depressed level, or

(b) That because of unusual conditions prevailing during that period, the manufacturer was operating during that period at an unusually depressed level in comparison to other manufacturers in the industry and in addition that some other period prior to January 1, 1941, represents a proper "normal base period", such other period may be considered. The mere fact that the rate of production has increased since 1936-1939 will not be deemed evidence that the manufacturer was operating at an "unusually depressed level" during that period. If the manufacturer was not in business prior to January 1, 1941, he shall state that fact in his application.

(ii) Over-all profits. The term "over-all profits" means net profits resulting from the operation of all divisions of the manufacturer, before the creation of any reserves, except ordinary reserves for depreciation and bad debts, and before income and excess profits taxes. In the case of a subsidiary wholly owned by a parent corporation, the term "over-all profits" means the consolidated net profit before the creation of any reserves, except ordinary reserves for depreciation and bad debts, and before income and excess profits taxes.

(iii) Subcontract. The term "subcontract" means any purchase order or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any commodity, required for the performance of another contract or subcontract.

(iv) Total unit costs. The term "total unit costs" means the direct unit cost of labor, materials, and subcontracted services, plus a proportion of factory overhead, administrative and other expenses, based on actual operating experience, properly allocable to the production of the plastics product, but does not include provisions for income or excess profits taxes. In evaluating total unit costs, the Office of Price Administration will determine whether the allocation of factory overhead, administrative and other expenses is based on a representative period of continuous, normal production.

(v) War contract. The term "war contract" means any contract with the United States, or any agency thereof, or with the government, or any agency thereof, of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, for the sale of a plastics product purchased (a) for the ultimate use of the armed forces of the United States or for lend-lease purposes, or (b) by any government (or agency thereof) of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, or (c) for use in the production or manufacture of any commodity described in (a) or (b).

(b) Application by a manufacturer based upon an appropriate decrease of other prices—(1) Who may receive an adjustment under this paragraph. Adjustments under this paragraph will be granted only in the case of an essential manufacturer of an essential plastics product. The meaning of these terms is explained in paragraph (a) (1) of this section.

(2) When adjustment may be granted. The Office of Price Administration, any regional office, or such other offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate regional office, may make an adjustment of the maximum price in any case in which:

[8] 7 F.R. 8961; 8 F.R. 3313, 3533, 6173, 11806; 9 F.R. 1594.

[9] 7 F.R. 9619; 8 F.R. 7256.

(i) The manufacturer agrees to make and (simultaneously with any increase in the maximum price that may be authorized under this paragraph (b)) makes a reduction in the selling price of other plastics products which will equal or exceed the total dollar amount of the adjustment granted under this paragraph; and

(ii) One of the following conditions is met:

(a) The increases in price are made for the purpose of restoring normal price relationships;

(b) The increases and decreases in price are effected by changes in the prices charged different classes of purchasers for the same plastics product; or

(c) The increases and decreases in price are made for the purpose of changing the manufacturer's price list-discount structure.

(3) What an application under this paragraph must show. An application for price adjustment under this paragraph (b) shall contain information indicating that the applicant is an essential manufacturer of an essential plastics product and that if the proposed adjustment is granted, the gross dollar amount of sales of the plastics products affected by the adjustment will not be greater than it would have been in the absence of the adjustment. In any case where such an adjustment is granted, the Office of Price Administration will require appropriate reports relating to the plastics products affected.

(4) How the manufacturer proceeds in applying for an adjustment. An application for adjustment under this paragraph (b) shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1. If the manufacturer's total sale of all plastics products for the calendar year 1943, or for the fiscal year ending in 1943, exceeded $200,000, the application shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. If the manufacturer's total sales of all plastics products during that period did not exceed $200,000, the application shall be filed with the regional office of the Office of Price Administration located in the same region in which the manufacturer's business is located.

(c) Application by a manufacturer under a combination of both paragraphs (a) and (b). A manufacturer who desires to apply for an adjustment under paragraph (b), may, at the time he applies under that paragraph, also apply under paragraph (a), if the facts of his case entitle him to do so. In such case, the Office considering his application will give the adjustment available under paragraph (a) before applying paragraph (b).

(d) Procedural Regulation No. 6[20] superseded. No application for adjustment filed under Procedural Regulation No. 6 after March 26, 1944, with respect to plastics products covered by this regulation will be granted.

(e) Amendment of general applicability. Where the Price Administrator deems it appropriate, he may grant the relief, which he deems necessary, by issuing an amendment of general applicability.

SEC. 16. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking a modification of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

SEC. 17. Adjustable pricing. If the manufacturer wishes, he may agree with the buyer to charge a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Where the manufacturer has filed an application for adjustment under section 15, he may, in accordance with the provisions of that section, deliver at a price to be adjusted upward in accordance with the action taken by the Office of Price Administration on his application. In all other cases, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer must not deliver at a price which is to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. This authorization may be given only where: (a) a request for a change in the applicable price is pending; (b) authorization is necessary to promote production; and (c) it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price.

SEC. 18. Records. To aid in the enforcement of this regulation every manufacturer subject to this regulation is required to keep certain records for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect. These records are described in two paragraphs as follows:

(a) Records of sales. Every manufacturer shall keep complete and accurate records of every sale of a product covered by this regulation. These records shall include:

(1) The date thereof.
(2) The name and address of the buyer.
(3) The quantity of each class, kind, type, condition and grade of product sold.
(4) The price per unit received.

(b) Records of the bases on which maximum prices are determined. Every manufacturer shall keep, in addition to the records required by paragraph (a) of this section, complete and accurate records of the following:

(1) Published price lists and discount sheets for plastics products in effect on March 31, 1942.

(2) The prices charged by the manufacturer during the period January 1 to March 31, 1942, inclusive, for each plastics product covered by this regulation.

(3) Labor rates in effect to him on March 31, 1942.

(4) Materials prices and waste and factory overhead rates in effect to him on March 31, 1942.

(5) Detailed cost estimate sheets and other data showing the calculation of prices for all plastics products for which the maximum price must be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 7 of this regulation.

SEC. 19. Reports. Every manufacturer who had a price determining method or methods for plastics products in use on March 31, 1942, shall file a detailed description of such method or methods with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on or before April 27, 1944, unless he has already done so.

SEC. 20. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[21] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all persons subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 21. Evasion—(a) In general. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or lease of or relating to plastics products, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or service, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Paying a purchase commission if the sum of the commission and the purchase price exceeds the maximum price.

(2) Entering into a joint venture with any other person subject to this regulation for cross-selling or cross-purchasing.

SEC. 22. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 23. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Purchaser of the same class" and "class of purchaser" refers to the practice adopted by the manufacturer in setting different prices for plastics products for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, public institutions) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or grades or under different conditions of sale.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE USE OF ADJUSTMENT APPLICATION FORM FOR PLASTICS PRODUCTS

In preparing this application, please consider that the form is intended to cover a wide variety of products. Therefore, you will find that some of the questions do not apply to your product. Moreover, you may find that some point that is important in your case is not covered in the form. Adapt the form if this can be done or state the information on a separate sheet if that will be clearer. If any difficulty is experienced in completing this form it may be taken to the nearest OPA district accountant who will give his assistance in its preparation.

Schedule C entitled "Unit Price and Cost Information" is subject to the following explanation:

1. Price data. (a) 1. (List) (Gross) Price: Please indicate whether the price is a list price or a gross price by crossing out the term that does not apply.

(a) 2. Dealers' commissions. Where all dealers receive the same commission, use the full commission rate even if some sales are not subject to any commission. If several different rates affect the product covered by the application, use the rate that applies to the largest amount of sales.

(a) 3. Trade discounts. Deduct trade discounts at the average rate of discounts prevailing in your company for the product covered by the application.

(b) Use a sufficient number of months prior to the date of the application to give an adequate understanding of the situation. Name the period in the allotted space and fill in commission rates or discounts.

2. Unit cost data. In presenting unit cost data be sure to include only actual cost. Material cost must represent actual cost. State separately any charges added to costs of materials. Where standard costs are used, adjust costs for over- or under-absorption during the period to which the costs apply. The cost data for the ceiling date may be recomputed if the product covered by the application was not manufactured on or about that date. In the recomputation apply the wage rates prevailing in your plant on the ceiling date and material costs of the same date. Under items (f), (g) and (h) include only costs borne by the manufacturer and not billed separately to the buyer.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective March 27, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 21st day of March 1944.

Administrator.

PART 1432—RATIONING OF CONSUMERS' DURABLE GOODS

[RO 9A,[1] Amdt. 7 to Supp. 1[2]]

STOVES

Supplement 1 to Ration Order 9A is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1432.69 (b) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) New method for determining current allowable inventories for heating and cooking stoves—(i) General. A dealer or distributor located in the area covered by Table III (set forth in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph) may apply to his Board for an increase in his allowable inventory so that his current allowable inventory will be equal to the amount found by multiplying his allowable inventory for each type of stove determined from Table I (set forth in paragraph (a)) by the percentage for that type of stove shown in Table III. However, he may not obtain the increase authorized by this subparagraph (1) for any type of stove of which his sales in 1941 or 1942 totaled less than three stoves, or for which his allowable inventory was previously increased as a result of an application for adjustment or relief, under section 3.8 unless:

(a) That previous increase was less than the increase authorized by this subparagraph (1), in that event he shall receive the difference between the previous increase and the increase authorized by this subparagraph (1), or

(b) At the time the previous increase was granted, the Washington Office directed that he should not, because of the increase given him, be precluded from receiving the benefit of any subsequent general increase in allowable inventory for such types.

(ii) Table III. Table III referred to in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph (1) is as follows:

(iii) Where sales in base period totaled less than 3 stoves. A dealer or distributor whose sales of any type of stove in 1941 or 1942 totalled less than 3 stoves may apply under subparagraph (b) (4) of this section.

(iv) Applicants whose allowable inventory was determined by the Washington or District Office must apply to the District Office. Application for an increase in allowable inventory by a dealer or distributor whose allowable inventory was determined by the Washington Office or District Office under section 3.7 (b) or 9.3 (b) must be made to the District Office. The amount of the increase will be determined by the Washington Office or the District Office, if the Washington Office so directs.

(v) When application may be made. Dealers and distributors located in Region 7 or 8 may apply under this subparagraph (1) on or after March 25, 1944; dealers and distributors located elsewhere may apply on or after April 4, 1944.

2. Section 1432.69 (b) (2) and (3) is deleted.

3. Section 1432.69 (b) (4) is added to read as follows:

(4) Alternative method for determining current allowable inventories for coal and wood or gas heating stoves. (i) A dealer or distributor whose sales of coal and wood or gas heating stoves in 1941 or 1942 were within the range for such types of stoves, as shown in table IV (set forth in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph (4)) may, instead of applying for an increase in his allowable inventory for those types of stoves under paragraph (b) (1) of this section, apply to his Board for an increase equal to the amount by which the allowable inventory for those types of stoves shown in table IV exceeds his present allowable inventory for those types.

(ii) Table IV. Table IV referred to in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph is as follows:

CURRENT ALLOWABLE INVENTORIES FOR COAL AND WOOD OR GAS HEATING STOVE WHEN ALTERNATIVE METHOD IS USED

Allowable inventory (To be assigned on basis of figures in applicable sales column)	Reported sales (1941 or 1942)
	Heating stoves
	Coal or wood	Gas
1	(1)	1–2
2	1–2	3–4
3	3–4	5–6
4	5	7–8
5	6–7	9 and over.
10	13 and over

[1] This line applies only to gas heating stoves.

(iii) When application may be made. Dealers and distributors located in Region 7 or 8 may apply under this subparagraph (4) on or after March 25, 1944; dealers and distributors located elsewhere may apply on or after April 4, 1944.

4. Section 1432.69 (c) is added as follows:

(c) Loan of certificates for inventory in Regions 7 and 8—(1) Amount of loan. A dealer or distributor located in Region 7 or 8 may, during the period March 25, 1944, through April 30, 1944, borrow from the Board with which his establishment is registered, certificates for the purpose of acquiring for inventory: coal or wood heating stoves up to fifty (50%) percent of his allowable inventory for that type of stove determined from Table I (set forth in paragraph (a)), and gas heating stoves up to one hundred (100%) percent of his allowable inventory for that type of stove determined from Table I. However, the Board shall deduct from the certificates to be loaned the number of certificates for each of those types which are currently due to the Board from the applicant for excess inventory or for any other reason.

(2) Application. Application shall be made to the Board in writing, signed by the applicant, and shall state the date, the name and address of the applicant's registered establishment, the number of stoves of each type for which the applicant wishes to borrow certificates, and a statement substantially as follows:

I will on or before October 1, 1944, turn over to you certificates for each type of stove, equal to the number I have borrowed under this application. If, by October 1, 1944, I have not paid this loan in full with respect to certificates for any type of stove, I will not use any certificate for the purpose of acquiring that type of stove for inventory, but will promptly turn over all such certificates to you until the loan as to that type of stove is paid in full.

(3) Payment of loan. A dealer or distributor to whom certificates are loaned under subparagraph (1) must on or before October 1, 1944, surrender to the Board certificates for each type of stove equal to the number loaned to him. If, by October 1, 1944, he has not paid the loan in full with respect to certificates for any type of stove he must thereafter promptly surrender to the Board each such certificate received by him from sales out of stock; until he has done so, he may not use any such certificate for the purpose of acquiring that type of stove for inventory.

(4) Dealers and distributors whose allowable inventory was determined by the Washington or District Office must apply to the District Office. A dealer or distributor located in Region 7 or 8, whose allowable inventory was determined by the Washington Office or District Office under section 3.7 (b) or 9.3 (b) may during the period March 25, 1944, through April 30, 1944, apply to the District Office for a loan of certificates for the purpose of acquiring coal or wood heating stoves and gas heating stoves for inventory. The amount of the loan will be determined by the Washington Office or the District Office, if the Washington Office so directs. The application must contain the same statements as those set forth in paragraph (a) and the loan shall be payable at the time and in the manner set forth in subparagraph (3).

This amendment shall become effective on March 25, 1944.

PART 1436—PLASTICS AND SYNTHETIC RESINS

[MPR 345,[1] Amdt. 1]

THERMOPLASTIC SCRAP

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 345 is amended in the following respects:

1. The first sentence of § 1436.13 (a) (2) is amended to form two sentences to read as follows:

(2) "Thermoplastic" includes all plastic materials which can be formed and reformed by the application of heat and pressure without material change in physical properties, and includes non-plastic materials laminated or impregnated with vinyl compounds and containing at least 10 per cent by weight of such vinyl compounds. It does not include synthetic rubber, shellac, or natural gums.

2. Section 1436.13 (a) (3) (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) "Sheet scrap," which consists of plastic sheets, rods or tubes, or cuttings from any of these, including all forms of scrap nitrocellulose of plastic grade except motion picture, X-ray, or photographic film. It may be in unground or ground form. The following are not included: cellulose acetate X-ray or photographic film scrap; sheets laminated to non-plastic materials such as wire mesh, paper, or glass, except sheets composed of non-plastic materials laminated or impregnated with vinyl compounds and containing at least 10 per cent by weight of such vinyl compounds; gummed tapes; second grade sheets, rods or tubes in their original form.

3. Appendix A (a) (3) is amended by adding the following paragraph below the prices there listed:

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 8 F.R. 3320, 3785.

Where scrap is composed of non-plastic materials laminated or impregnated with vinyl compounds and contains at least 10 per cent by weight of such vinyl compounds, the maximum price per pound for sales of the scrap shall be the maximum price per pound established in this subparagraph (3) for the vinyl compound or mixture of vinyl compounds contained in the scrap, multiplied by a figure equal to 90 per cent of the weight (expressed in pounds) of the vinyl compounds or mixture of vinyl compounds contained in each one pound of the scrap.

Example. Maximum price per pound of polyvinyl chloride is 21 cents.

One pound of scrap contains .9 pound polyvinyl chloride.

90 per cent of .9 pound equals .81 pound polyvinyl chloride.

21 cents multiplied by .81 equals 17.01 cents per pound, which is the maximum price per pound of scrap.

When scrap is processed to extract the polyvinyl chloride, maximum price for latter is 21 cents per pound, as stated above.

4. Appendix A (a) (4) is corrected by deleting the word "that" appearing between the words "current" and "net."

This amendment shall become effective March 27, 1944.

Plus transportation charges from the farm where grown to the buyer's receiving point by a usual route and method of transportation.

(2) The maximum prices in column 1 above shall be reduced by the expenses borne by the purchaser (which were not borne by him during the base period) in connection with the growing, harvesting or loading for transportation of the sweet corn seeds in question.

(3) The maximum prices in columns 2 and 3 above shall be reduced by the expenses borne by the purchaser in connection with the growing, harvesting or loading for transportation of the sweet corn seeds in question.

(4) For varieties of sweet corn seeds, other than the varieties mentioned in this paragraph (f) the farmer-producer shall determine his maximum price by adding to or subtracting from the maximum price for the variety most nearly similar thereto for which a maximum price is established under this paragraph (f), the premium or discount, as the case may be, in dollars and cents normal to the trade during the base period, for the variety to be priced in relation to said most nearly similar variety; and the resultant figure shall be his maximum price for the variety in question.

Chapter XIII—Petroleum Administration for War

TRANSPORTATION OF PETROLEUM IN DESIGNATED WESTERN AND SOUTHERN STATES[2]

The shortage of facilities for the transportation of petroleum has created in certain areas shortages in the supply of petroleum and has made it imperative that all such facilities be used with maximum efficiency, that all back hauling, cross hauling, and unnecessary movement of petroleum be eliminated, and the following operating directive is deemed necessary for the prosecution of the war.

§ 1545.5 Petroleum Directive 65—(a) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Original supplier" means any person who, at the date of the issuance of this directive, refines petroleum in the United States and sells petroleum for delivery in District Two, or who distributes petroleum through a terminal in District Two.

(3) "Petroleum products" means motor fuel, kerosene, range oil, tractor fuel, distillate fuel oils, and residual fuel oils.

(4) "District Two" means the States of Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

(5) "Manager" means the person designated and appointed as such, to act for and on behalf of the Supply and Transportation Committee for District Two, in connection with the operation and administration of this directive.

(6) "Terminal" means any storage plant supplied with petroleum products by pipe line or by river barge or lake tanker, as distinguished from bulk distributing stations or refineries.

(b) Surveys and studies. Subject to the supervision of the Director of Supply and Transportation, or such District Director as he may designate, the Manager and the Supply and Transportation Committee for District Two shall obtain, analyze, and keep current such pertinent and available facts, figures, and other data with respect to the available supplies of petroleum products and petroleum transportation in, to, and from District Two as may be necessary or appropriate in connection with the performance of the functions and duties with which the Supply and Transportation Committee for District Two is charged hereunder: Provided, That whenever available, such facts, figures, and other data shall be obtained from other appropriate committees or subcommittees rather than by new surveys or investigations.

(c) District Two petroleum supply operations. Subject to the approval of the Director of Supply and Transportation, or such District Director as he may designate, prior to the consumation of any such arrangement, the manager shall arrange for purchases, sales, exchanges, and loans of petroleum products among, and for the common use of facilities by, original suppliers in District Two only when any such transaction will:

(1) Eliminate or shorten the movement of petroleum products by pipe line, lake tanker, barge, tank car, or transport truck facilities within the confines of District Two: Provided, That such transaction does not result in a wasteful use of any such transportation facility within or outside of District Two; or

(2) Eliminate a movement or movements of petroleum products from District One to District Two; or

(3) Eliminate a movement or movements of petroleum products in a generally southerly or westerly direction and substitute therefor a movement or movements in a generally northerly or easterly direction; or

(4) Result in a substitution of a pipe line movement, or movements, of petroleum products for a movement, or movements, by lake tanker, barge, tank car, or transport truck; or

(5) Eliminate any cross hauling or back hauling of petroleum products; or

(6) Result in furnishing petroleum products to original suppliers from refineries or terminals within each respective area described in Exhibits A and B hereof.

(d) Elimination of unnecessary movements within District Two. In order to balance and coordinate available supplies of petroleum products in District Two with requirements to conserve the use of the transportation facilities, including pipe lines, lake tankers, barges, tank cars, and transport trucks, to increase the movement of petroleum products in a northerly and easterly direction, and to accomplish the other objectives of this directive, the manager shall, subject to the approval of the Director of Supply and Transportation, or such District Director as he may designate, prior to the consumation of any such arrangement, arrange for exchanges, loans, sales, and purchases of petroleum products between and among original suppliers in District Two which will tend to eliminate to the maximum extent practicable the movement of petroleum products, except residual fuel oil, between the areas described in Exhibit A hereof, and the movement of residual fuel oil between the areas described in Exhibit B hereof. Original suppliers in District Two shall eliminate to the greatest extent practicable interarea shipments between such areas and shall obtain necessary supplies and dispose of surpluses of petroleum products by means of exchanges, loans, sales, and purchases as provided in the foregoing sentence: Provided, That there shall be no tank car shipments of motor fuel, kerosene or distillate fuel oil to meet the requirements of any individual area except as approved by the Director of Supply and Transportation, or such District Director as he may designate. Each original supplier in District Two shall file with the manager on or before Friday of the succeeding week a complete weekly report of all inter-area shipments made by such supplier, together with a statement of the reasons for each such shipment. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prohibit or to require the reporting of the shipment from any area into any county adjacent thereto in any adjoining area.

(e) Sales, loans, and exchanges. (1) The terms and conditions of any exchange, loan, sale, or purchase made pursuant to this directive shall be subject to negotiation between the parties to any such transaction: Provided, That no price agreed upon shall exceed any applicable ceiling price established by the Office of Price Administration, and, Provided, further, That if the parties to any such transaction are unable to agree upon the price or other terms and conditions for furnishing any of the petroleum required to be sold, exchanged or loaned under this directive, or for the use of any facilities, any such dispute shall be referred to the Director of Supply and Transportation, or such District Director as he may designate, for such action as he may direct;

(2) All exchanges, loans, sales, and purchases pursuant to this directive shall be effected in such a manner as to provide to customers, including intermediate suppliers, of original suppliers in each of the areas an equitable share of the supplies of petroleum products available in each such area.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[2] See War Production Board Certificate 46, Amendment 2, infra.

(f) Determination of requirements. The Supply and Transportation Committee for District Two, in collaboration with the Refining Committee for District Two, and a staff representative of the Petroleum Administration for War designated for the purpose, shall analyze and determine the amounts of petroleum products and petroleum transportation facilities available to any area to meet the needs of such area and shall make recommendations to the Director of Refining and the Director of Supply and Transportation with respect to such refinery yields of petroleum products as may be necessary to balance available supplies with requirements without interfering with the maximum production of critical war products.

(g) Movement of surpluses to District One. The Supply and Transportation Committee for District Two shall arrange with the appropriate committee for District One and with the Petroleum Administration for War for transportation facilities to move to District One such surpluses of petroleum as may be created in any area of District Two by the operation of this Directive. Such arrangements shall be in accordance with the provisions of Petroleum Directive 59, as amended (8 F.R. 15792) or as hereafter amended.

(h) Coordination of product pipe lines. The Supply and Transportation Committee for District Two and all persons affected by such arrangements shall coordinate the movement of petroleum products through product pipe lines in District Two in such manner and as directed by the Petroleum Administration for War, so as to adjust such movements to supply requirements and to minimize the use of lake tanker, barge, tank car, or transport truck facilities.

(i) Administration. In carrying out the duties, responsibilities, and functions imposed upon him by this directive, the manager shall consult with appropriate committees and subcommittees to the extent that activities hereunder may affect such committees and subcommittees. Meetings of the Supply and Transportation Committee for District Two, the manager, and other persons who may be affected by this directive, may be held from time to time for the purpose of doing all things necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this directive. The Supply and Transportation Committee for District Two shall maintain such staff and appoint such persons as it finds necessary to carry out its responsibility, duties, and functions under this directive. Operating expenses of the Committee and the manager shall not be met as provided in § 1500.7 of this chapter.

(j) Appeals. Any person affected by this directive or any action taken hereunder who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may appeal to the District Director in Charge of the Office of Petroleum Administration for War for District Two, setting forth the pertinent facts and reasons why he considers himself entitled to relief, which Director shall act promptly upon such appeal and render a decision thereon within a period of fifteen days. If dissatisfied with the decision of the District Director in Charge, such person may appeal within fifteen days after receipt of notice of the District Director's decision to the Deputy Petroleum Administrator, or such representative as he may designate.

Issued this 15th day of March 1944.

RALPH H. DAVIES,
Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War.

[Docket No. 5137]

MARINE PRODUCTS COMPANY

ISSUANCE OF COMPLAINT AND NOTICE OF HEARING

Complaint

The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the party respondent named in the caption hereof and hereinafter more particularly designated and described, since June 19, 1936, has violated and is now violating the provisions of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Clayton Act (U.S.C. Title 15, sec. 13) as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act, approved June 19, 1936, hereby issues its complaint, stating its charges with respect thereto as follows:

PARAGRAPH ONE: Respondent Marine Products Company is a corporation, organized and existing under the laws of the State of California, with its principal office and place of business located at 3370 Harasthy Street, San Diego, California.

PAR. TWO: Respondent Marine Products Company is now engaged and for many years prior hereto has engaged in the business of distributing and selling canned tuna, canned abalone, and canned skip jack and other sea food products (all of which are hereinafter called sea food products) in its own name and for its own account.

The respondent sells and distributes its sea food products through two separate and distinct methods. First, through intermediaries who act as its agents in negotiating the sale of its sea food products and for which services such intermediaries customarily are paid, directly or indirectly, commissions or brokerage fees. Second, through the sale of its sea food products directly to buyers who are paid, directly or indirectly, commission or brokerage fees on their own purchases of such sea food products.

The respondent, to distinguish its sea food products from the sea food products sold by competitors and to facilitate sales, utilizes registered and unregistered trade marks and brands for various sea food products it sells, which brands are generally known as packers' or sellers' brands.

The respondent also sells its sea food products unlabeled or unbranded, and also under the labels or brands of its buyers, which brands or labels are generally known to the trade as private or buyers' brands. Some of such buyers who incorrectly designate themselves as brokers also utilize registered and unregistered labels and brands, which labels and brands are utilized in selling such respective buyers' merchandise. Such buyers are primarily engaged in the purchase and sale of sea food products in their own name and for their own account.

PAR. THREE: The respondent in the course and conduct of its said business, since June 19, 1936, has sold and distributed a substantial portion of its sea food products directly to buyers located in States other than the State in which the respondent is established, and as a result of said sales and the respondent's instructions, such sea food products are shipped and transported across State lines to such buyers who are located in various States of the United States.

PAR. FOUR: The respondent, since June 19, 1936, in connection with the interstate sale and distribution of sea food products in its own name and for its own account for resale, has sold such sea food products to buyers located in the various States of the United States other than the State where respondents is established, and has been and is now paying or granting or has paid or granted, directly or indirectly, commissions, brokerage or other compensation or allowances or discounts in lieu thereof to buyers of said sea food products sold under its own labels, unlabeled and under buyers' labels.

PAR. FIVE: The paying and granting by respondent, directly or indirectly, of commission, brokerage or other compensation and allowances or discounts in lieu thereof to the buyers of said sea food products, on their own purchases which are resold unlabeled or under either the buyers' or sellers' labels, and the acts and practices of the respondent in promoting sales of sea food products by paying to buyers, directly or indirectly, commissions, brokerage or other compensation and allowances or discounts in lieu thereof, as set forth above, are in violation of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Clayton Act, as amended.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 14th day of March, A. D., 1944, issues its complaint against said respondent.

Notice

Notice is hereby given you, Marine Products Company, a corporation, respondent herein, that the 21st day of April, A. D. 1944, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The rules of practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.

Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer the respondent may give notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 14th day of March, A. D., 1944.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

(a) Who may take the increases provided by this order. Any dealer, whose receipts of higher priced anthracite, specified in paragraph (c) hereof, during the previous calendar month equalled or exceeded 15% of all anthracite received by him during that month, may increase the maximum prices for sales of anthracite subject to the area dollars-and-cents orders specified in paragraph (d), by the amount provided in paragraph (b) hereof. There shall be a monthly recalculation.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 20th day of March, A. D., 1944.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission pursuant to section 5 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") by the Public Service Company of Oklahoma ("P. S. O."), a registered holding company, a direct subsidiary of Central and South West Utilities Company and an indirect subsidiary of The Middle West Corporation, for an order that it has ceased to be a holding company. The application states that on January 31, 1944, P. S. O. acquired all the properties of its only public utility subsidiary, Southwestern Light & Power Company ("Southwestern"), pursuant to an order of this Commission entered on January 10, 1944 (File No. 70–178), Holding Company Act Release No. 4822 and thereupon cancelled and surrendered to Southwestern all shares of the capital stock of that company which it owned. Said application further states that on January 31, 1944, Southwestern ceased to be a public utility company and was dissolved.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matter and that said application shall not be granted except pursuant to further order of this Commission.

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter under the applicable provisions of said act and the rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder be held on April 3, 1944 at 10:00 a. m., E. W. T., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., in such room as the hearing room clerk at that time shall advise. At such hearing cause will be shown why such application shall be granted. Notice of said hearing shall be given to the applicant by registered mail and to all other interested persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER;

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing in such matter. It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of issues presented by said application otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the requested declaration of status is consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder.

2. Whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to impose any terms and conditions and, if so, what terms and conditions should be imposed.

ATLANTIC CITY ELECTRIC CO. AND AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 20th day of March, A. D. 1944.

Notice is hereby given that a joint application and declaration has been filed with this Commission under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by American Gas and Electric Company ("American Gas"), a registered holding company, and its utility subsidiary, Atlantic City Electric Company ("Atlantic City"); and

All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of the Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

The aforesaid companies propose that:

(1) Atlantic City issue and sell at public sale, pursuant to the competitive bidding provisions of Rule U-50, 55,000 shares of $160 par value cumulative preferred stock, the bid or bids for such stock to fix a dividend rate of not more than 4½% and a price of not less than $100 per share.

(2) The proceeds of the sale of such preferred stock, together with treasury cash of Atlantic City, to the extent necessary, are to be applied to the redemption of Atlantic City's present publicly-held 26,283 shares of no par $6 Cumulative Preferred Stock at the redemption price of $120 per share and the purchase for cancellation from American Gas of its holdings of 30,592 shares of no par $6 cumulative preferred stock at its stated cost of $3,059,200.

Accrued dividends on the shares to be redeemed and purchased will be paid from the general funds of Atlantic City.

(3) Atlantic City will change its charter to eliminate the authorization for the preferred stock to be redeemed or purchased, and to authorize the issuance of 100,000 shares of new $100 par value cumulative preferred stock. The net result of the retirement of the outstanding preferred stock and the issuance of 55,000 shares of new preferred stock now proposed to be issued will be to reduce the capital of the company by $187,500.

(4) In connection with the redemption and purchase of the outstanding preferred stock, Atlantic City may obtain a temporary loan of not to exceed $5,500,000. The note representing such temporary loan, if made, will be made to a commercial bank or similar institution and not for resale to the public, and will be both issued and discharged on the same day on which the preferred stock proposed to be issued shall be issued.

(5) No fees, commissions or other remunerations will be paid upon the issue of said note, if made, or on the acquisition of the shares of preferred stock held by American Gas.

(6) The preferred stock to be authorized will have the right to elect a majority of the Board of Directors in the event of accumulation of arrearages equal to four quarterly dividends and will have special voting rights in connection with the authorization of any new stock ranking prior to or on a parity with it, the issuance, subject to certain exceptions, of debt in excess of a certain amount; and the merger or consolidation of the company.

The issue and sale of said preferred stock will, according to the filing, be expressly authorized by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey, the State in which Atlantic City is organized and doing business.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said declaration or application (or both), and that said declaration or application (or both), shall not become effective or be granted except pursuant to further order of the Commission:

It is ordered, That a hearing on said declaration or application (or both) under the applicable provisions of the act and the rules of the Commission thereunder be held on March 31, 1944 at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On such day, the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Allen McCullen or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the aforesaid hearing by mailing a copy of this order to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey and on the applicants or declarants herein; and that notice of said hearing be given to all other persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings, or proposing to intervene herein, shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before March 29, 1944, his request or application therefor, as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said application-declaration, particular attention will be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the proposed issue and sale of preferred stock by Atlantic City is solely for the purpose of financing the business of said company and has been expressly authorized by the State Commission of the State in which it is organized and doing business.

(2) Whether the proposed purchase of the 30,592 shares of Atlantic City's preferred stock held by American Gas is in compliance with statutory standards and whether it is necessary or appropriate to impose any terms or conditions with respect thereto.

(3) What terms and conditions, if any, are necessary or appropriate in the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers to insure compliance with the requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, or any rules, regulations, or orders promulgated thereunder.

By the Commission.

(f) Reinstatement. A bona fide reinstatement with restoration of seniority privileges, with or without pay for time lost, made for the purpose of and in contemplation of return to actual service (irrespective of whether actual service is resumed) operates to maintain the employment relation throughout the breach in service, provided that the reinstatement is not a violation of the rights of other employees. Participation in the reinstatement by representatives of the other employees, or acquiescence on their part in an actual return to service, shall be conclusive evidence that the reinstatement was not a violation of the rights of such other employees. In any case in which there is no purpose and contemplation of return to actual service but there is a claim that a wrongful discharge has been rectified by an award of (1) an adjustment or arbitration board established under the Railway Labor Act, as amended, or (2) a court of competent jurisdiction, the Board shall determine whether, on all the facts, the purported rectification operates to maintain the employment relation throughout the breach in service.

Dated: March 20, 1944.

PART 130—ORDER FIXING OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

FORT BELKNAP INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONT.

FEBRUARY 26, 1944.

Sections 130.30 to 130.31, inclusive, of Part 130 of Title 25, CFR, Indians, as approved by the First Assistant Secretary of the Interior on March 14, 1936 (25 CFR 130.30–130.31), are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 130.30 Charges. Pursuant to the provisions of the Acts of August 1, 1914, and March 7, 1928 (38 Stat. 583, 45 Stat. 210; 25 U.S.C. 385, 387), the basic charge for operation and maintenance against the irrigable lands to which water can be delivered under the constructed project works of the Fort Belknap Indian Irrigation Project in Montana is hereby fixed at $1.25 per acre per annum until further notice.

The owners of Indian lands not under lease to non-Indians, who are financially unable to pay the total basic charge, may receive water during the calendar years 1944, 1945, 1946 and 1947 upon payment of the following proportionate share of said charge against the lands for said years as hereinafter stated, viz: $.25 per acre for the year 1944; $.50 per acre for the year 1945; $.75 per acre for the year 1946; $1.00 per acre for the year 1947, and thereafter the full rate shall be collected. All unpaid charges or portions thereof shall remain a lien on the lands as provided in § 130.31.

§ 130.31 Payment. The annual charges fixed in § 130.30 shall become due on April 1 of each year, are payable on or before that date, and any assessment remaining unpaid after the due date shall stand as a first lien against the land. Any delinquent charges against land in non-Indian ownership and Indian lands under lease to non-Indians shall be subject to a penalty of one-half of 1% per month or fraction thereof from the due date until paid.

The delivery of water shall be refused to all tracts of land for which the charges have not been paid when due, except where the lands are in Indian ownership, not under lease to non-Indians, and the Indian owners shall have made the necessary arrangements with the Superintendent as hereafter provided. When any Indian owner of land not under lease to a non-Indian is financially unable to pay the operation and maintenance charges on the due date from cash on hand, the Superintendent may make the necessary arrangements with such Indian owner as will permit him to perform labor on the irrigation project works, the proceeds derived therefrom to be applied in partial payment of such charges. The Superintendent may also make necessary arrangements for such Indian owner to pay the operation and maintenance charges from the proceeds of the crops grown on the land when harvested and marketed within that calendar year, provided written statements to that effect are furnished the Superintendent by the Indian owner on or before the due date.

In any instance where the Superintendent is convinced that an Indian landowner, whose land is not under lease to a non-Indian, is financially unable to pay his operation and maintenance charges from proceeds of labor performed on the project works, or from the proceeds of the crops being grown on the land, or from any other source, the delivery of water may be continued if a written certificate is issued by the Superintendent stating that such Indian is not financially able to pay such charges and copies thereof forwarded to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for approval or rejection. In such cases the unpaid charges shall be entered on the accounts and will stand as a first lien against the land until paid but without penalty for delinquency.

§ 130.31a Water users responsible for water after delivery. It is the duty of the Indian Irrigation Service to furnish available water for beneficial irrigation use only. It is the duty of all water users of the project to aid in the prevention of the waste of water and of damage to adjacent lands. The water users are responsible for the water after it has been delivered to their lands, and are required to have their field ditches of proper capacity and in suitable condition for the use of economical heads of water.

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

LIMITATIONS BASED ON BITUMINOUS COAL STOCKS OF INDUSTRIAL CONSUMERS

Pursuant to the powers conferred by Executive Order No. 9332, Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 10 (8 F.R. 15773) as amended, is hereby amended as follows:

§ 602.172 Limitations based on bituminous coal stocks of industrial consumers. * * *

(d) Paragraph (a) of this section is not applicable to shipments of coal by commercial dock operators located on Lake Superior or on the west bank of Lake Michigan north of, and including, Waukegan, Illinois. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, or in directions which may hereafter be issued by the Solid Fuels Administration for War, no industrial consumer, or railroad system, that receives coal from any such commercial dock operator, shall place an order for delivery or receive, from all sources combined, during the period beginning March 21, 1944 and ending May 15, 1945, bituminous coal in excess of the amount representing the difference between its inventory as of March 21, 1944 and the amount of its consumption requirements for the period from March 21, 1944 to May 15, 1945. No commercial dock operator shall ship, except upon specific direction of the Solid Fuels Administration for War, any surplus tonnage which results from the restrictions imposed by this paragraph with respect to the amount of coal permitted to be received by an industrial consumer or railroad system from commercial dock operators. Commercial dock operators are required to spread the coal on their docks as of March 21, 1944 among their customers equitably so as to permit all of them to commence to build reasonable stock piles.

This amendment shall become effective immediately.

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Produce" and "manufacture" mean and include all making and finishing operations prior to packing or packaging.

(3) "Finished production" means paper or paperboard ready for packing or packaging.

(4) "Grade" as used in paragraph (d) means any kind of paper or paperboard for which a caption is provided in Form WPB–514, except containerboard 211000 to 219000 inclusive, as currently revised, or any particular grade even though not specifically mentioned within such kind. (c) Restrictions on production of paper and paperboard. Unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board, no person shall produce paper or paperboard on any paper machine (Yankee, Harper, Fourdrinier, Cylinder or Wet Machine), which did not produce paper or paperboard in the period May 1, 1943 to July 15, 1943 inclusive.

(d) Reserve production. (1) Each manufacturer of paper or paperboard shall reserve in the production for each of his mills for the month of March 1944 and for each calendar month thereafter time and supplies sufficient to produce and deliver within such month the following reserve production percentages:

NOTE: The following table amended Mar. 22, 1944.

The War Production Board may direct, on or before the 15th day of any month, any such manufacturer to employ such reserve, subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) (2) to produce any grades of paper or paperboard which such manufacturer is qualified to produce at such mill and in any quantity not exceeding the tonnage of such reserve production represented by the percentages designated for such month by the War Production Board, and may require such manufacturer to sell and deliver such tonnage to any person named by the War Production Board. Any order taken by a mill at the direction of the War Production Board shall reduce the reserve production for which such mill is obligated by the amount of finished production represented by such order. The manufacturer may refuse so to produce and deliver such reserve production only for the reasons specified for the refusal of rated orders in § 944.2 paragraph (b) of Priorities Regulation No. 1. If the manufacturer does not on or before the 15th day of the month in which such production is reserved receive from the War Production Board directions as to the disposition of all such production, he may employ the production for which no directions have been received as he may desire consistent with the provisions of this and other orders of the War Production Board.

(2) Any manufacturer who has accepted, directly or through another person, an order or orders for paper or paperboard to be produced for the account of any government department or agency, or for any other activity or use, listed in paragraph (d) (3) shall immediately report such acceptance in triplicate on Form WPB–3270, including other information provided for therein, and thereafter shall immediately report to the War Production Board on such form any change requested by the purchaser in any previously reported order or orders, if such change involves cancellation, a change in quantity or in the month of manufacture. When the order or orders or requested changes reported on Form WPB–3270 have been approved or disapproved by the War Production Board, the mill will be notified accordingly and if approved proper credit against the mill's reserve production will be recorded by mill and by company. Thereafter the mill shall produce such orders according to its schedule as reported to and approved by the War Production Board. PART 3285—LUMBER AND LUMBER PRODUCTS

LUMBER CONSUMERS' REQUIREMENTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of lumber for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3285.121 Order L-335—(a) What this order does. This order requires large consumers of lumber to file application with the War Production Board stating their requirements for the second and third quarters of 1944 and prohibits them from receiving lumber after April 25, 1944, unless they file their applications. These applications will be used by the War Production Board as a basis for authorizing the applicants to receive lumber, during part of the second and all of the third quarters, under procedures which will replace existing procedures under other orders. These procedures will be described in a later revision of this order.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Lumber" means any sawed or hewed railway cross ties and switch ties, and any sawed lumber of any species, size or grade including round edge, rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, except:

(i) Dogwood, rattan, and aircraft grade of sitka spruce;

(ii) Shingles, lath, and slabs;

(iii) Edging, trim, and off-fall less than three inches wide or less than four feet long, unless produced for the purpose of evading this order;

(iv) Hardwood flooring;

(v) Items produced from lumber but not classified in the trade as "lumber" such as box shook, last blocks, and mill work;

(vi) Used lumber.

(2) "Class I Consumer" means any person, who either received more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during the last quarter of 1943 or expects that he will need to receive more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during either the second or third quarters of 1944, for all purposes, except: (i) operations for which producers have been assigned serial numbers under Order P-56 (regarding mines and smelters); (ii) operations directly incident to the discovery, development, or depletion of a petroleum pool as authorized by Petroleum Administrative Order 11; (iii) resale by a sawmill or distributor; (iv) use outside the 48 states and the District of Columbia; and (v) construction jobs which have been expressly authorized by the War Production Board or by any other Federal agency whose authorization makes it unnecessary to get permission from the War Production Board for construction. This exception does not include those construction jobs which do not require the permission of the War Production Board or any Federal agency under Order L-41.

(3) "Sawmill" means:

(i) Any mill or plant, stationary or portable, which produces any lumber; and,

(ii) Any concentration yard or plant other than a mill if the yard or plant is located in a producing area and processes by drying, sawing, edging, planing, or some other comparable method, 25 percent or more of the total volume of logs and lumber which it receives.

(iii) The term "sawmill" does not include any establishment known in the trade as a distribution yard engaged in either retail or wholesale business, even though such a yard may process more than 25 percent of the volume of lumber it receives for the servicing of special orders from customers.

(4) "Sawmill stock" means any lumber in the possession of a "sawmill."

(5) "Distributor" means any person who buys lumber from a "sawmill" or from another distributor for resale either at wholesale or retail.

(6) "Distributor stock" means any lumber which a distributor has in his possession for resale, or for his own use.

(7) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(c) Acceptance of lumber in second quarter without filing application forbidden. No "Class I consumer" may receive any lumber from any source after April 25, 1944 unless on or before April 25, he has filed with the War Production Board form WPB-3640. This means that if a "Class I consumer" does not file application he is forbidden to receive any lumber even though he has a preference rating for it or has been authorized to receive lumber under another order, regulation, or certificate of the War Production Board. The only exceptions are:

(1) A "Class I consumer" may receive the amount of lumber necessary for a construction job which has been authorized in writing by the War Production Board or by any other Federal agency whose authorization makes it unnecessary to get permission for construction from the War Production Board. He may not, under this exception, receive lumber for those construction jobs which do not require the permission of the War Production Board, or any other Federal agency under Order L-41.

(2) A "Class I consumer" who is also in the mining or smelting business may receive lumber for an operation which has been assigned a serial number under Order P-56.

(3) A "Class I consumer" who is also in the petroleum industry may receive lumber for operations directly incident to the discovery, development, or depletion of a petroleum pool as authorized by Petroleum Administrative Order 11.

(4) A "Class I consumer" who also has a sawmill or a distribution yard may receive lumber for resale.

(5) A "Class I consumer" may receive lumber if authorized in writing by the War Production Board and if the written authorization expressly refers to this order and grants an exception from it.

(d) Receipt of lumber by Class I consumers who have filed applications. Until otherwise notified by the War Production Board either through an amendment of this order or by action on his application, a "Class I consumer" who has filed his application may receive lumber to the extent he is authorized by other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board, and he may procure lumber under the procedures provided in such orders for delivery at any time in the future until otherwise provided.

(e) Receipts from own sawmill stock or distribution stock included. Under the definitions provided for in this order a person may find that his operations make him both a "sawmill" and a "Class I consumer" or both a "distributor" and a "Class I consumer", or he may be all three. Any person who finds that he is a "Class I consumer" as well as a "distributor" or a "sawmill" must file an application for permission to receive lumber for that part of his operation which makes him a "Class I consumer." For example, if a person has his own sawmill or distribution yard and also maintains his own cut-up plant, box factory or other plant where fabricated products are made from lumber or he uses lumber for purposes other than resale, he must apply for permission to use his "sawmill stock" or "distribution stock" in another piece of machinery, department, or plant which turns out products other than lumber, such as fabricated products or parts for fabricated products either for his own use or resale. The term "fabricated products" includes hardwood flooring but does not include softwood flooring which is included in the definition of lumber.

(f) Existing lumber orders and procedures. This order for the present in no way affects the manner in which lumber is controlled under other lumber orders and particularly orders L-218, L-290, M-361, and M-364. In other words, except for "Class I consumers" all transactions in lumber will continue to be handled as if this order did not exist. Even "Class I consumers" can make purchases and arrange for delivery of lumber in compliance with other applicable orders provided their applications on Form WPB-3640 are filed with the War Production Board by April 25, 1944. Before the end of the second quarter this order will be amended and new procedures will be established under which all consumers will be authorized to receive lumber.

(g) Restrictions on delivery. No person shall sell, ship, or deliver, or cause to be sold, shipped or delivered, any lumber which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of the provisions of this order, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(h) Reports. Any person shall execute and file with the War Production Board such other reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may, from time to time, require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by mailing a letter to the War Production Board referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

PINE OIL

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of pine oil for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.576 Allocation Order M–365—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Pine oil" means any mixture of secondary or tertiary terpene alcohol and terpene hydrocarbons produced by steam and solvent distillation by wood Naval stores producers, or by destructive distillation by wood Naval stores producers, or by chemical synthesis.

(2) "Producer" means a person who produces pine oil or has it produced for him under toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means a person who buys or stocks pine oil for the purpose of resale or distribution in the form in which it was received.

(4) "Consumer" means a person who uses pine oil or incorporates pine oil with any other material.

(5) "Supplier" means a producer or a distributor.

(b) Restrictions on suppliers.[1] On and after April 1, 1944:

(1) No supplier shall use pine oil except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB–2947.

(2) No supplier shall deliver pine oil except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB–2947. If the person accepting delivery is a consumer of pine oil, the supplier shall not make the delivery (even though authorized on Form WPB–2947) unless the consumer has furnished the supplier with the end use certificate set forth in Appendix A.

(c) Restrictions on consumers. On and after April 1, 1944, no consumer shall accept delivery of pine oil in excess of 54 gallons from all sources in any calendar month, unless he shall have furnished his supplier with the end use certificate set forth in Appendix A. Each consumer accepting delivery of pine oil pursuant to the end use certificate shall use the pine oil only for the purposes certified.

(d) Exemption for small deliveries. On and after April 1, 1944, any consumer may accept delivery of and use for any purpose, not more than 54 gallons of pine oil from all sources in any calendar month, provided he furnishes the supplier with the "Small Order Certificate" set forth in Appendix A. No supplier shall make small deliveries of pine oil in excess of the aggregate quantity authorized by the War Production Board for small deliveries in such calendar month.

(e) Exemption for mines serialized under Order P–56. All deliveries of pine oil to persons holding serial numbers under Preference Rating Order P–56 are exempt from the provisions of this order, Provided, however, That:

(1) Such persons shall place on their purchase orders the endorsement appearing in paragraph (g) of Preference Rating Order P–56; and

(2) Producers and distributors shall report each month on Form WPB–2947 the total quantity of proposed monthly deliveries of pine oil to such persons and list the serial numbers of such persons. No break-down of deliveries by name of customer or by serial number is necessary.

(f) Authorizations to deliver pine oil.[1] Each supplier requiring authorization to deliver or use pine oil, shall file with the Chemicals Bureau, War Production Board, three copies of Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) on or before the 20th of the month preceding the month in which delivery is to be made. However, applications for April deliveries may be made as soon as possible after March 20, 1944. Instructions for filling out this form are set forth in Appendix B. One copy of Form WPB–2947 will be returned to the applicant on which the War Production Board will indicate the quantity of pine oil which may be delivered.

(g) Consumer's report of disposition and stocks of pine oil.[1] Each person (including persons engaged in the mining or smelting of non-ferrous metals, whether serialized or non-serialized) who expects to consume more than 54 gallons of pine oil in any calendar month shall, on or before April 1, 1944, file with the Chemicals Bureau, War Production Board, Form WPB–3442, setting forth a report of 1943 consumption of pine oil, and stocks of pine oil on hand March 1, 1944. Consumption or use figures in Section I of that report shall be broken down according to calendar quarters of 1943. In Section II of that report, fill in only Columns (a) and (b). In Column (b) give actual stocks as of March 1, 1944. Unless such report shall have been filed with the War Production Board on or before April 1, 1944, War Production Board may defer issuance of authorization to deliver pine oil to any person failing to file such report.

(h) Duration of specific authorization. If it is not practicable for a supplier to make all deliveries of pine oil in the allocation period for which specifically authorized, he may complete them as early as practicable in the next allocation period, but the purchaser must place his order before the end of the allocation period and may not require postponement of delivery beyond ten days after the allocation period. Specific authorization to use pine oil shall be valid for forty-five days after receipt of the specific authorization or of the material allocated for the use, whichever is later. What pine oil is not used in this period may not be used for any purpose until further authorized or directed.

(i) Special directives. The War Production Board may from time to time issue special directives to any person with respect to the delivery of pine oil, notwithstanding the other provisions of this order.

(j) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(l) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M–365.

The "End Use" column in the certificate should be filled out in detail. For example, disinfectant manufacturers should state the percentage of the total gallonage requested which will be used in disinfectants sold directly to the Army and Navy, to Ordnance plants or for use in public buildings or on transportation equipment (such as railroads, bus lines, etc.) or for civilian use. Persons engaged in the textile industry or serving the textile industry with products containing pine oil should state under "Primary Product" whether the pine oil is to be used for "textiles" or "textile soaps." If "textile soaps" is the "Primary Product," specify under "End Use" whether the soap is to be used for fulling, scouring, kier boiling, or whatever other use is to be made of the soap.

PART 4600—RUBBER, SYNTHETIC RUBBER, BALATA AND PRODUCTS THEREOF

[Rubber Order R–1, Appendix III as Amended Mar. 22, 1944]

Introductory. Appendix III to Rubber Order R–1 as amended is a compilation of supplementary orders and directives of general applicability which affect rubber and rubber products. In the past, these orders and directives have involved principally the conversion of products from crude rubber to synthetics and have been issued individually to the manufacturers of the particular products. The purpose of Appendix III is to issue these directives and miscellaneous supplementary orders in printed form.

The material in Appendix III is arranged in accordance with the following product classifications:

Mechanical goods: Wire and cable; Tires and tubes; Footwear; Heels and soles; Proofing and combining of fabrics; Medical, surgical, dental, drug sundries; and Miscellaneous.

Each of these product classifications has been assigned a section number commencing with § 4600.51. Supplementary orders and directives in each group are designated by letter.

§ 4600.50 Applicability of Rubber Order R–1. Supplementary orders and directives which appear in Appendix III shall govern in case of inconsistency with other provisions of Rubber Order R–1. These orders and directives may be incorporated in the Rubber Order from time to time, at the discretion of the War Production Board.

§ 4600.51 Mechanical goods. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to mechanical goods:

(a) Vibration mount and shock absorber. No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of compression type mountings or insulations of Shore Durometer hardness of 40 and above. Crude rubber may, however, be used for bonding cements and for use in tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed after March 1, 1944, in the manufacture of compression types of mountings or insulators having a Shore Durometer hardness of less than 40. Crude rubber may, however, be used for bonding cements and for use in tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed after March 1, 1944, in the manufacture of plate, sandwich, tubular, or other types of shear mountings or insulations. This restriction covers mountings or insulations where the temperatures of applications are minus 40° F. and above. Aircraft engine and instrument mounts may be considered as falling in the applications functioning below minus 40° F. Crude rubber may be used for bonding cements and tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

Torsional vibration dampers may be manufactured from crude rubber until further notice.

(b) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(c) Pipe rings. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of pipe rings.

(d) Milking machine inflations. After April 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of milking machine inflations. During the month of March, 1944, no person shall manufacture milking machine inflations using crude rubber or natural latex in more than 50% of his production during the month.

(e) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(f) Street car sandwich wheels. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber may be consumed in the manufacture of street car sandwich wheels, except that crude rubber may be used for bonding cements and tie-gum not to exceed 1/32" in thickness.

(g) Hard rubber products. Rubber Order R–1 as amended permits crude rubber to be consumed in the manufacture of the following blown hard rubber products: Bottles, fittings, pistons, valves, and valve parts for use with corrosive chemicals and explosives. It also permits crude rubber and natural latex to be consumed in the manufacture of hand made component hard rubber parts of machinery for the manufacture of rayon, explosives and corrosive chemicals. (See List 19, Appendix II).

After February 15, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of the above mentioned blown hard rubber products.

After February 15, 1944, the maximum percentage of crude rubber or natural latex by volume in any compound for hand made component parts of machinery for the manufacture of rayon, explosives and corrosive chemicals shall not exceed 10% by volume of the compound.

§ 4600.52 Wire and cable. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to wire and cable:

(a) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(b) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(c) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(d) X-ray cable. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of X-ray cable, high voltage, as shown in List 27, Appendix II, under "Commercial Types".

§ 4600.53 Tires and tubes. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to tires and tubes:

(a) Fighter type and ice grip airplane tires. Rubber Order R–1, List 29, requires that all airplane tires (except beaching gear tires) be manufactured in the S–5 or S–7 synthetic construction. These provisions shall not apply to fighter type and ice grip airplane tires. All fighter type and ice grip airplane tires shall be manufactured using natural rubber compounds throughout the tire until further notice; the compound grades to be used shall be B friction and B tread on all sizes except the following which shall be A friction and A tread.

§ 4600.55 Heels and soles. All outstanding supplementary orders and directives relating to heels and soles have been superseded by Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

§ 4600.56 Proofing and combining of fabrics. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to the proofing and combining of fabrics:

(a) Industrial protective clothing. Rubber Order R–1 as amended prohibits the consumption of crude rubber, natural latex or general purpose synthetics in the following item (Code 17, Schedule A): "Compounds for proofing fabrics designed for the manufacture of industrial occupational protective clothing, including cements for seaming, limited to aprons, leggings, sleeves, pants, coats, jackets, hats, and fireman's and policeman's clothing other than footwear and gloves".

Manufacturers are hereby authorized to consume GR–S in addition to reclaimed rubber in compounds for proofing and seaming under this item.

§ 4600.57 Medical, surgical, dental, drug sundries. All outstanding supplementary orders and directives relating to medical, surgical, dental and drug sundries have been superseded by Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

§ 4600.58 Miscellaneous. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to miscellaneous rubber products or materials:

(a) Pressure sensitive tape. Rubber Order R–1 permits the consumption of general purpose synthetics, reclaimed or scrap rubber in the manufacture of pressure sensitive tape for industrial purposes to fill Government and civilian orders. Schedule A of the order requires certification by the purchaser as to his end use.

(1) Uses which are classified as "industrial" are set forth in the certification.

(2) Certification. With respect to civilian orders no person shall deliver or accept delivery of pressure sensitive tape (except high heat resistant and non-corrosive electric tape) unless the person acquiring the same shall certify to the seller and to the War Production Board in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

The undersigned hereby certifies to_____ (insert name of seller) and to the War Production Board that the pressure sensitive tape specified in the accompanying purchase order and future purchase orders will not be sold or used by him except for one or more of the following purposes:

1. Repair of transportation facilities.

The foregoing certification requirement does not apply to Government orders.

Certification in substantially the above form constitutes the approved form of certification required for deliveries of pressure sensitive tape.

The foregoing certification shall not be required for deliveries of pressure sensitive tape to a person who has already filed the certification with his supplier.

Certification of the purchaser may be relied upon by the seller unless the seller knows or has reason to believe that the certification is false.

(b) Inflatable or pneumatic mattresses, cushions and pillows. Rubber Order R–1 as amended does not permit the consumption of rubber or synthetic rubber in the manufacture of inflatable or pneumatic mattresses, cushions or pillows, to fill civilian orders.

In addition, the consumption of rubber or synthetic rubber in the manufacture of the foregoing products to fill Government orders is hereby prohibited except upon special authorization in writing by the War Production Board. (This supersedes SA–142.)

(c) Shoe cements. Notwithstanding the provisions of any quota directive 4–A or 4–B, no crude rubber or natural latex shall be consumed in the manufacture of shoe cements after December 31, 1943 without special authorization.

In order to receive adjustments of quota directives for this purpose, manufacturers should address a letter to the Manager of Allocations, Office of Rubber Director, Washington 25, D. C.

In this connection, it should be noted that Rubber Order R–1 as amended permits shoe cements containing crude rubber or natural latex only for shoe repairing.

(d) Shoe cement inventories in hands of shoe manufacturers on January 1, 1944. Shoe manufacturers who hold inventories of shoe cements which contain crude rubber or natural latex on January 1, 1944 are hereby authorized to use the same for the following permitted shoe manufacturing operations until April 1, 1944:

(1) Cutting and fitting room operations limited to: Folding uppers including French cord binding.

(2) Lasting room operations limited to: Bed, side and semi-automatic toe lasting; stitchdown construction lasting linings to insoles and uppers to midsoles or outsoles.

(5) Special operations limited to: Joining leather welting.

Shoe manufacturers are hereby granted permission to purchase and sell such cements for use in the foregoing operations prior to April 1, 1944.

Inventories of shoe cements containing crude rubber or natural latex which remain in the hands of any shoe manufacturer on April 1, 1944 shall be reported to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, by letter indicating the amounts of cement by type of operation.

(e) Cements containing Neoprene for wood heels. After February 1, 1944, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of cement containing Neoprene if he knows or has reason to believe that it will be used for covering wood heels. After February 15, 1944, no person shall use any cement containing Neoprene for the covering of wood heels except to fill Government orders.

(f) Cements for non-leather shoes. Cements containing general purpose synthetics may be used in the manufacture of shoes made from materials other than leather except that cements containing Neoprene shall be used only in the shoe manufacturing operations for which Neoprene is permitted in the manufacture of leather shoes by Amendment No. 1 to Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

(g) Definition of light colored carcass scrap. Rubber Order R–1 as amended refers to No. 1 and No. 2 light colored carcass. For the purposes of the order, No. 1 light colored carcass means all-white zinc carcass, and No. 2 light colored carcass means and includes light colored types such as white, pink, light grey, pure gum and light brown carcass.

(h) Neoprene quota restrictions. No person shall consume General Purpose Synthetic Neoprene types GR–M, GN or Latex without a quota assigned by quota directive or other authorization specifying the amounts which he may consume, and no person shall exceed the quantities which he is specifically authorized to consume in any designated period.

(i) Temporary loans of general purpose synthetics. A manufacturer may make a short term "loan" of general purpose synthetics to another manufacturer for permitted uses under Rubber Order R–1 as amended. A loan must not be made unless the person lending the material is reasonably certain that an equivalent amount of the material will be returned to him when he needs it. Full records of the loan transactions must be kept by both persons lending and persons borrowing, and the transactions must be reported as shipments or receipts on Form WPB–3410 for the calendar month in which the transactions occur. Each transaction shall be identified separately on the form under "remarks". Deliveries of material under this paragraph may be made without special authorization.

(j) Elastic webbing. Rubber Order R–1 includes the item, "elastic webbing not exceeding 4" in width" in Code 22, Schedule A. This item refers to combined knitted fabric cut to widths not exceeding 4".

Introductory. Appendix III to Rubber Order R–1 as amended is a compilation of supplementary orders and directives of general applicability which affect rubber and rubber products. In the past, these orders and directives have involved principally the conversion of products from crude rubber to synthetics and have been issued individually to the manufacturers of the particular products. The purpose of Appendix III is to issue these directives are applicable to mechanical goods:

(a) Vibration mount and shock absorber. No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of compression type mountings or insulations of Shore Durometer hardness of 40 and above. Crude rubber may, however, be used for bonding cements and for use in tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed after March 1, 1944, in the manufacture of compression types of mountings or insulators having a Shore Durometer hardness of less than 40. Crude rubber may, however, be used for bonding cements and for use in tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed after March 1, 1944, in the manufacture of plate, sandwich, tubular, or other types of shear mountings or insulations. This restriction covers mountings or insulations where the temperatures of applications are minus 40° F. and above. Aircraft engine and instrument mounts may be considered as falling in the applications functioning below minus 40° F. Crude rubber may be used for bonding cements and tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

Torsional vibration dampers may be manufactured from crude rubber until further notice.

(b) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(c) Pipe rings. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of pipe rings.

(d) Milking machine inflations. After April 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of milking machine inflations. During the month of March, 1944, no person shall manufacture milking machine inflations using crude rubber or natural latex in more than 50% of his production during the month.

(e) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

hand made component parts of machinery for the manufacture of rayon, explosives and corrosive chemicals shall not exceed 10% by volume of the compound.

(a) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(b) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(c) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(d) X-ray cable. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of X-ray cable, high voltage, as shown in List 27, Appendix II, under "Commercial Types".

(e) Long range field wire. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of W–143 long range field wire.

§ 4600.53 Tires and tubes. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to tires and tubes:

(a) Fighter type and ice grip airplane tires. Rubber Order R–1, List 29, requires that all airplane tires (except beaching gear tires) be manufactured in the S–5 or S–7 synthetic construction. These provisions shall not apply to fighter type and ice grip airplane tires. All fighter type and ice grip airplane tires shall be manufactured using natural rubber compounds throughout the tire until further notice; the compound grades to be used shall be B friction and B tread on all sizes except the following which shall be A friction and A tread.

Sec. 3.7 Dates on which this article shall apply. This article shall apply to all sales or offers to sell of items of packaged domestic distilled spirits by a processor on and after January 6, 1944, Provided, That with respect to sales of any item for which the processor is required or permitted to establish a special maximum price by authorization under Appendix F, if the processor files an application in accordance with Appendix F on or before January 21, 1944, the maximum price established for the item in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 193 or other appropriate regulations or orders shall remain in force and effect until a special maximum price by authorization is established pursuant to Appendix F, or until May 21, 1944; notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (e) (1) of Appendix F of Article III, in the case of applications for the establishment of special maximum prices by authorization filed prior to March 21, 1944, the maximum prices proposed in such applications shall not be deemed authorized until May 21, 1944, unless an order establishing such maximum prices shall have been issued by the Price Administrator prior to March 21, 1944, or prior to May 21, 1944: And provided further, That this article shall not apply to any sale which the processor is required by statute, ordinance or regulation to make at a price posted or listed prior to the appropriate date referred to above, with a state or other public authority (if the price so posted or listed is greater or less than that established by this article for such sale) until on and after the first effective date for prices so posted or listed at the first opportunity following the fourth day after that date.

NOTE: The maximum prices so figured include applicable Federal, state or local excise taxes through November 2, 1942. The increases effective April 1, 1944 in Federal excise taxes, or new or increased state or local excise taxes not otherwise included in the prescribed uniform maximum price, may be added to that price in accordance with section 7.3.

(c) Treatment of increase effective April 1, 1944, in United States excise taxes. (1) On and after April 1, 1944, every seller must state upon each invoice to any class of customers (except monopoly states and consumers) that the prices stated in the invoice include the increase effective April 1, 1944, in United States excise taxes or the 1944 floor stocks tax and that no markup may be applied to the amount thereof. A statement in substantially the following language upon the face of the invoice shall be deemed compliance with this section:

"Our invoice prices include the increase effective April 1, 1944, in United States excise taxes or the 1944 floor stocks tax. OPA regulations prohibit a markup on the amount thereof.

Reference to floor stocks tax may be eliminated from the invoice after the seller has disposed of all merchandise upon which floor stocks tax was paid by him or by a prior vendor.

(2) For sales to monopoly states sellers of distilled spirits or wines who were heretofore required to separately state the amount of any tax which became effective after March 31, 1942, on the invoice issued in connection with each sale, or on a statement made in connection with any offer to sell, shall continue to do so notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1) hereof.

13. An illustration is added following section 7.3 (c) to read as follows:

Illustration. As a guide to sellers in computing their maximum prices, the following tables are added. These tables show the amount of the increase effective April 1, 1944, in United States excise taxes for representative types, proofs and container sizes of distilled spirits and wines, but is not intended to be all-inclusive. For types, proofs, and container sizes not shown on the tables, every seller must compute the actual amount of the tax increase. No seller is permitted to apply a markup on the amount of the tax increase. In figuring maximum prices, sellers such as wholesalers or retailers who are required to price by use of a percentage markup applied to "net cost", shall figure maximum prices by (1) deduct the exact amount of the tax increase with respect to each item, (2) apply markup to "net cost" exclusive of tax increase, and (3) add the exact amount of the tax increase to that figure.

(e) Premiums allowed wholesalers—(1) Sales of cut lengths. A premium not in excess of 10% of the applicable maximum price may be charged on the sale of cut lengths less than 20 yards when such lengths are cut from a larger piece by the wholesaler to fill a specific order.

NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD.

NOTE: The following is a restatement of certain directives and related orders with regard to industry commissions and panels, issued by the National War Labor Board during the period September 11, 1942 through February 15, 1944, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register on March 21, 1944.

[Directive Order, Sept. 11, 1942]

ORDER ESTABLISHING METROPOLITAN MILK DISTRIBUTORS COMMISSION

Under the provisions of Paragraph 3 of the Executive Order of January 12, 1942, the National War Labor Board finally determines the above entitled case[1] and hereby directs:

1. That there be created immediately a Metropolitan Milk Distributors Commission (hereinafter referred to as the Commission), which shall function under the direction of the War Labor Board.

2. That the Commission shall consist of three members appointed by the National War Labor Board: a Chairman, one representative of the New York and New Jersey Metropolitan Milk Distributors War Conservation Committee (hereinafter referred to as the Committee), and one representative of the Milk Wagon Drivers Union of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen & Helpers Union, AFL.

The Chairman may also designate at any time from lists submitted by the respective parties alternates for the representative of the Committee or for the representative of the Union.

If the Commission is not able to reach a unanimous decision on any question the Chairman shall decide.

3. The Commission shall have the power to promulgate such rules and regulations and issue such orders relating to labor relations, including orders directed to particular companies, as may be necessary to the carrying out by each and every company of the provisions of General Order #6 as supplemented by General Order #17 of the Office of Defense Transportation, including any subsequent applicable order or amendment. In so doing the Commission shall be guided by the following principles:

a. All conservation plans must comply fully with the terms of the applicable Order.

b. As between feasible alternative plans, either of which will result in compliance, that plan should be adopted which will result in the least burden on employees.

c. Savings directly resulting from the application of an Order should be used to afford employees reasonable protection against losses of earnings and jobs.

d. Savings remaining after such provision has been made for employees should be passed on to consumers in the form of lower prices.

e. Conservation plans instituted to comply with ODT orders should be limited to the duration of the emergency.

4. The Chairman of the Commission, in addition to his duties as described above, shall act as the Impartial Chairman of the contract between the industry in the metropolitan area and the Union, and the Commission shall have the power in carrying out its duties to set aside any part of the collective bargaining agreement between the parties if the Board determines such action to be necessary for the proper fulfillment of its duties as outlined in Paragraph 3 above.

[Supp. Order, Aug. 19, 1943]

FUNCTIONS OF SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE FOR METROPOLITAN MILK AREA, N. Y.-N. J.

By virtue of and pursuant to the power vested in it by Executive Order 9017 of January 12, 1942, the Executive Orders and Regulations issued under the Act of Congress of October 2, 1942, and the War Labor Disputes Act of June 25, 1943, the National War Labor Board hereby orders:

1. The powers, duties and functions of the Metropolitan Milk Distributors Commission, hereafter called the Commission, are hereby vested in a special Representative to be designated by the National War Labor Board.

2. The milk distributors in the area subject to the jurisdiction of the former Commission who may desire to reorganize their present manner and method of distribution to accomplish the objectives of Amendment No. 3 to ODT General Order No. 17, and who are prepared to show that such reorganization is now prevented by the War Labor Board's telegram of June 4, 1943, pertaining to lay-offs, may present their plans for such reorganization, commencing immediately to said Special Representative.

3. The Special Representative shall examine each proposed plan with a view to determining (1) whether or not such plan is designed to accomplish the objectives of said Amendment No. 3 to ODT General Order No. 17, and (2) if found to be so designed, the means by which the plan may be put into effect, with due regard to the equities of the employers and employees involved, and to equality of treatment among employers affected by this Supplemental Order.

4. In making his determination, the Special Representative shall have, in addition to the powers previously conferred upon the Commission by the Board, the power to decide at what date and under what conditions any proposed plan of reorganization may be put into effect: Provided, however, That the Special Representative shall have no power to determine the nature of any such plan.

5. The conditions that the Special Representative may impose may include the payment of severance pay, the obtaining of other employment within or outside the industry by employees whose jobs may be affected by the proposed plan, special seniority rights with reference to jobs within the industry to which such employees may be transferred, and such other conditions as in the judgment of the Special Representative are fair and reasonable under the circumstances. The orders of the Special Representative issued under this Supplemental Directive Order shall be final and binding upon both parties.

6. The Board's telegram of June 4 is hereby modified to permit lay-offs resulting from reorganization of routes after approval of plans for such reorganization by the Special Representative and in accordance with the terms and conditions of such approval.

In the event of a change in the status of Amendment No. 3 to ODT General Order No. 17, or the issuance by the Government of any order which affects the purpose of this Supplemental Order, either party, or the Special Representative may request the Board for such modification of this Supplemental Order as they may deem necessary or desirable.

8. The Special Representative shall file a written report as to his actions under the Supplemental Order 30 days after the date of this Supplemental Order, and shall submit copies to the parties for their comments.

9. Nothing in this Supplemental Order, nor in the Board's telegram of June 4, 1943, shall be construed as limiting the right of the distributors under Paragraph "8" of the industry contract to make the necessary changes in routes, in the same manner as heretofore, for summer delivery.

10. Except as otherwise specifically provided, nothing herein shall affect the powers, duties and functions of the Impartial Chairman of the industry contract, the terms of such contract, or the status of orders heretofore issued by the Commission.

ORDER ESTABLISHING WEST COAST LUMBER COMMISSION

By virtue of and pursuant to the powers vested in it by Executive Order No. 9017 of January 12, 1942, the Executive Orders and Regulations issued under the Act of Congress of October 2, 1942, and the War Labor Disputes Act of June 25, 1943, the National War Labor Board hereby supplements and amends its Directive Order of September 17, 1942, as amended by Directive Orders of October 14, 1942, and January 5, 1943, to read as follows:

1. The West Coast Lumber Commission, hereinafter called the Commission, shall consist of six members appointed by the National War Labor Board. Of the persons so appointed, two shall represent Labor, two shall represent Industry and two shall represent the Public. The two Industry members of the Commission shall be appointed upon recommendation of the Industry Members of the National War Labor Board. One of the two Labor Members of the Commission shall be appointed upon recommendation of the A. F. of L. Members of the National War Labor Board; the other, upon recommendation of the C. I. O. Members of the National War Labor Board. The National War Labor Board shall designate one Public Member of the Commission to act as Chairman. Four alternate Industry Members of the Commission shall be appointed by the National War Labor Board upon recommendation by the Industry Members of the National War Labor Board. Four alternate Labor Members of the Commission shall be appointed by the National War Labor Board, two of whom shall be recommended by the A. F. of L. Members of the National War Labor Board and two by the C. I. O. Members of the National War Labor Board. The Labor and Industry Members of the Commission, both regular and alternate, may be chosen from either within or outside of the lumber industry. Not more than two Industry Members and not more than two Labor Members of the Commission shall be permitted to sit and transact business of the Commission at any one time. Three Members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum, providing Labor, Industry and the Public are represented in such quorum. The vote of a majority of the quorum shall be deemed sufficient to render a binding decision by the Commission.

2. The Commission shall have jurisdiction over labor disputes, voluntary wage adjustments, and salary adjustments (where the rate at which the salary, exclusive of bonuses and additional compensation and without regard to the contemplated adjustment, computed on an annual basis, is not in excess of $5,000 per annum) in all cases which involve the production of lumber and lumber products in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and California. The Commission shall have power (1) to conduct hearings on labor disputes and to issue Directive Orders affecting the same and (2) to receive and make final rulings on applications for voluntary wage or salary adjustments in the lumber industry submitted for approval of the National War Labor Board in accordance with the national wage stabilization policy. All rulings and orders of the Commission shall be filed with the National War Labor Board.

3. That in view of the vital importance of the lumber industry to the production of those things essential to the successful prosecution of the war, the Commission shall have the power to promulgate such rules and regulations, issue such orders and take such actions relating to the issues before it as may be necessary to effectuate a stabilization of labor conditions in the lumber industry of the area designated in paragraph two above, secure industrial harmony in said area and assure maximum production of lumber and lumber products.

4. The Commission shall not take original jurisdiction over any dispute case, but it shall have the power to determine whether, within the terms of this order, it may property assume jurisdiction over any dispute after the dispute has been referred to the Commission by the Board. However, in case of a strike or threatened strike in the lumber industry, the Commission may issue an order requiring the workers to remain on their jobs or to return to their jobs and maintain the status quo as it existed prior to the dispute pending conciliation by the United States Conciliation Service or if necessary, determination on the merits by the Commission after reference of the case to the Commission by the National War Labor Board. Such order shall be issued only after consultation with the United States Conciliation Service. Immediately upon being apprised of dispute the Commission shall notify the liaison officer of the United States Conciliation Service or in his absence the conciliator nearest to the dispute. In the event that a strike should occur or be threatened subsequent to certification the Commission shall order the workers to return to work or to remain on their jobs and shall refuse to exercise its jurisdiction until they have complied with the order. The United States Conciliation Service shall be free to call upon the Commission to cooperate with it in the settlement of any dispute during the period of conciliation and prior to actual certification. The Commission shall inform the National Board promptly of strikes or threatened strikes and shall keep the Board informed as to the status of such matters.

5. The rulings of the Commission on voluntary wage or salary adjustments as well as its directive orders on wage issues in dispute cases shall conform to the policies of the National War Labor Board, based on Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, the Policy Directive of May 12, 1943, issued by the Director of Economic Stabilization, and the War Labor Disputes Act of June 25, 1943. Accordingly, any wage or salary adjustment approved or ordered by the Commission "which may furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in price ceilings, or if any price ceilings are involved which may increase the production costs above the level prevailing in comparable plants or establishments," shall become effective only if also approved by the Director of Economic Stabilization. Notice to this effect shall be contained in all rulings and orders issued by the Commission in wage cases. The Commission may give approval to all applications which request authority to adjust wages, including adjustment in piece rates, to conform with the wages determined by the Commission in cases involving wage disputes in the same community.

6. In cases of voluntary applications for approval of wage or salary adjustments, and in dispute cases involving wage or salary issues, the Commission shall follow the procedure outlined in the National War Labor Board's memorandum entitled "Jurisdiction and Procedure of Regional War Labor Board," as amended. The West Coast Lumber Commission shall exercise those powers, duties and functions which are listed in said memorandum as being applicable to Regional War Labor Boards and Regional Attorneys. For the purpose of this Order, and within the sphere of its jurisdiction, the Commission shall set in lieu of said Regional Boards and Regional Attorneys.

7. The Commission shall, so far as practicable, utilize the information, data and staff services of the National War Labor Board or the Regional Boards, and of other Federal Departments and agencies. The employment by the Commission of additional personnel, facilities or services shall be subject to the approval of the National War Labor Board.

8. The rulings of the Commission on voluntary wage or salary adjustments, and upon preliminary inquiries concerning proposed wage or salary adjustments, and the directive orders of the Commission in dispute cases, shall have the same effect, and shall be subject to the same provisions for stay and review by the National War Labor Board, as rulings and orders of the Regional War Labor Boards, as set forth in the National War Labor Board's memorandum entitled "Jurisdiction and Procedure of Regional War Labor Boards," as amended.

9. The decisions, general orders and other actions of the Commission rendered pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Commission by the National War Labor Board's Directive Order of September 17, 1942, as amended by Directive Orders of October 14, 1942 and January 5, 1943, shall remain in full force and effect unless modified herein or unless previously modified by National War Labor Board action. All provisions of the aforesaid Directive Order of September 17, 1942, as amended shall remain in full force and effect unless and until further amended by the National War Labor Board.

10. The Commission shall submit to the National War Labor Board monthly reports concerning pending dispute and voluntary wage and salary cases, and its actions during the preceding month relative to both pending and closed cases.

The National War Labor Board may, at any time, appoint alternates for the representatives of labor and industry.

3. 4. The determinations and orders of the Commission shall be final and binding upon the parties, subject only to review by the National War Labor Board on its own motion. Any ruling by the Commission shall be deemed to be the act of the National War Labor Board unless and until reversed or modified by the Board; and any such reversal or modification shall take effect only from the date of its issuance: Provided, however, That if a ruling denying an application for permission to make wage adjustments is overruled, the final ruling shall incorporate as the effective date of the increase that date which was specified in the application as the effective date.

5. In any case where the employer at the time of the filing of the application for approval of a wage increase or at the time of referral of the case to the Commission indicates that he intends to seek price relief if a wage increase is approved, he shall state fully upon a form approved by the National War Labor Board the relation between the proposed wage increase and the employer's price situation, and what the effect would be on the employer's business if wages were increased without price relief. A copy of said form shall be sent to the Office of Price Administration.

Copies of all rulings of the Commission in cases in which an application for price increase is involved shall be sent to the Office of Price Administration as well as to the parties.

If application for a wage increase in such a case is approved, the ruling shall state that it will become effective only on final approval by the National War Labor Board, and, when required by the provisions of Executive Order #9250, by the Economic Stabilization Director.

6. The Commission shall, so far as practicable, utilize the information, data and staff services of the National War Labor Board and of other Federal Departments and agencies. AUTHORIZATION FOR NON-FERROUS METALS PANEL (TRI-STATE AREA) TO APPROVE ADJUSTMENTS

By virtue of and pursuant to the powers vested in it by Executive Order No. 9017 of January 12, 1942, the Executive Orders and Regulations issued under the Act of Congress of October 2, 1942, and the War Labor Disputes Act of June 25, 1943, and supplementing its Directive Order in the above entitled case,[1] the National War Labor Board hereby authorizes the procedure set forth below.

Such a procedure is necessary to complete the industry-wide stabilization program in the non-ferrous metals mines in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma as set forth in the above entitled case which was approved by the Director of Economic Stabilization of August 13, 1943 as essential to productive efficiency to increase production of critical non-ferrous metals.

I. The non-ferrous metals panel for the Tri-State area authorized July 29, 1943 by the National War Labor Board for Region VII is hereby empowered to approve adjustments in the wage and salary rates of particular employees of the employer-parties to the above entitled case over whose wages and salaries the National War Labor Board and the panel has jurisdiction and who were not covered by the Directive Order: Provided, Such adjustments, in amount and character, conform to the adjustments required by said Directive Order, and that such adjustments are consistent with the relationship which has existed between the wage rates of the employees covered by the Directive Order and those on whose behalf the application is made; it is further provided that such adjustments will not be made the basis of an application to increase price ceilings nor to resist an otherwise justifiable decrease thereof.

II. The said panel is further empowered to approve adjustments in wages and salaries of employees for the companies engaged in the same industry and in the same area as the companies in the above entitled case, and over whose wages and salaries the National War Labor Board and the panel have jurisdiction, Provided:

(a) That such adjustments do not establish rates of pay in excess of those provided for in such order;

(b) That adjustments in rates according to the Board's Order be approved only when such adjustments would not unstabilize wage rates for comparable jobs in the same area or in the same industry.

(c) That the salary adjustments are subject to the same provisions mentioned in I. above.

(d) That any application for such adjustments shall state:

1. The nature and location of the applicant's business;

2. The number of employees in each occupation affected by the adjustments;

3. A table of the applicant's rates of pay for each occupation before and after the adjustments; and

4. A statement that if the increases are granted they will not be made the basis of an application to increase price ceilings nor to resist an otherwise justifiable decrease thereof though they may necessitate adjustment of quota premium payments.

5. Whether or not there is a duly recognized or certified collective bargaining agent for any or all of the employees affected which has not joined in the application; and

e. That where there is such an agent, the panel aforesaid, before acting on the application, shall send to the appropriate local officials of such organization a notice of the application, requesting the organization, if it has any objections to action on the application, so to inform the panel. If within 7 days of the sending of the notice no such objections shall have been filed with the panel or the organization shall have stated that it has no such objections, the panel shall forthwith act on the application. If, however, such objections shall have been made within the period aforesaid, the panel shall treat the matter as a dispute case and refer it to the Conciliation Service of the United States Department of Labor.

III. The said panel is still further empowered to approve to jointly submitted applications of the above described employers and unions or the applications of the above described employers alone where no union has been designated as bargaining representative, for the extension of the order of the Board with respect to night-shift differentials and piece rates system: Provided, however, That each of these provisions shall be applied according to the Board's Directive Order, and that the application of such provisions shall not unstabilize wage rates for comparable jobs in the same area or in the same industry.

All cases involving fundamental matters of policy shall be submitted by the chairman of the Commission to the Regional Board for final determination. Appeal to the Regional Board from any ruling or decision of the Commission or its chairman shall be accorded all interested parties as a matter of right.

Notice to this effect shall be contained in all rulings and orders requiring this approval which are issued by the Commission.

F. In the handling of dispute cases, the Commission shall comply with all appropriate provisions of the "Jurisdiction and Procedure of Regional War Labor Boards," of April 15, 1943, as amended, and with the "Rules of Organization and Procedure of the National War Labor Board" of November 27, 1943, as amended, and with all other pertinent rules of procedure and policies of the National War Labor Board.

The application shall state whether the adjustment, if approved (a) may furnish the basis to increase price ceilings or (b) may furnish the basis for an application by the employer for an increase to the government in the price of any product or service. If the statement is in the affirmative as to (a), the Commission shall send to the Office of Price Administration a copy of the application and a copy of its ruling at the time of issuance thereof. If the statement is in the affirmative as to (b) and an adjustment of the type that requires the approval of the Economic Stabilization Director is approved by the Commission, the Commission shall send to the appropriate procurement agency of the government a copy of its ruling at the time of issuance thereof.

(2) In any wage dispute case where it appears that the wage adjustment recommended or ordered may furnish the basis to increase price ceilings, the Commission shall send to the Office of Price Administration a copy of the recommendation of its panel or hearing officer at the time of its transmittal to the parties, and of its directive order when issued. In any wage dispute case where it appears that the wage adjustment ordered may furnish the basis for an application by the employer for an increase to the government in the price of any product of service, and the adjustment is of the type that requires the approval of the Economic Stabilization Director, the Commission shall send to the appropriate procurement agency of the government a copy of its directive order when issued.

(3) In all cases where the approval of the Director of Economic Stabilization is required, the Commission shall, after its ruling or order is issued, send the case to the National War Labor Board for transmittal to the Director of Economic Stabilization. The Commission shall, upon being notified, advise the parties of the action taken by the Office of Price Administration or by the Director of Economic Stabilization.

H. All rulings of the Commission on wage or salary adjustments, and all directive orders of the Commission in dispute cases, shall have the same effect, and be subject to the same provisions for stay and review by the National War Labor Board, as rulings and orders of the Regional War Labor Boards, as set forth in Section VII of the "Jurisdiction and Procedure of Regional War Labor Boards", as amended.

I. The Commission shall transmit regularly to the National War Labor Board copies of its decisions and rulings hereunder, which, when issued, shall be made available to the public, and such additional data and reports as the National War Labor Board may from time to time require.

Such Division, may, however, recommend to the National War Labor Board a method whereby the Division, pending completion of such over-all study, may correct obvious and glaring errors of job evaluation and make urgently needed revisions of present job descriptions: Provided, however, That such a method shall not interfere with the over-all appraisal of job evaluations and job descriptions provided for in the Board's resolution of December 23, 1943.

b. No grievances of the type now accepted by Division X under Order 14 of the Division shall be accepted by it after the expiration of 30 days from the date of this amended order. All such grievances which have not been accepted by Division X before the expiration of such 30 days period and all such grievances which are pending before it and have not been finally disposed of by it upon the expiration of 90 days from the date of this amended order shall be returned to the parties for settlement through the grievance procedures established by them. The provisions of order 14 of the Division shall be rescinded upon the expiration of the 90 day period mentioned above.

(2) Except as otherwise specified herein the Division shall continue to exercise the powers vested in it by the directive order of March 3, 1943.

By virtue of and pursuant to the powers vested in it the National War Labor Board orders as follows:

A. The National War Labor Board hereby creates an advisory panel for the shipping industry. The headquarters of this panel shall be the offices of the National War Labor Board located in Washington, D. C.

B. For the purpose of this order the shipping industry shall include all personnel, both relief and regular crews, employed on all ships, including dry cargo, tankers, barges and towboats engaged in offshore, coastwise harbor, and inland waterways activities.

C. The Panel shall consist of six members who shall be appointed by the Board and who shall serve as officials of the Board on a per diem basis. Of the six members, two shall represent the public; two, management, and two labor. The Board will designate one of the public members as a Chairman and the other as a Vice Chairman of the Panel. The panel may sit in any case as a three-man tri-partite panel, provided that one shall be the Chairman or Vice Chairman, one shall be a representative of management and one shall be a representative of labor. The Board may from time to time appoint alternates to serve on a per diem basis. The members and alternate members who represent management will be appointed by the Board from nominees submitted by industry members of the Board. The members and alternate members who represent labor will be appointed by the Board from nominees submitted by labor members of the Board. The labor members of the panel shall be chosen from crafts and industrial groups whose membership may be involved in matters within the jurisdiction of the panel. The labor member of the panel sitting in each case shall be a member chosen from the craft or industrial group involved in the case before the panel, or such labor member as he may designate.

D.[1] The Panel shall have authority to make final rulings on voluntary wage or salary adjustments involving the shipping industry, as herein defined, submitted for the approval of the National War Labor Board. All such applications shall be referred directly to the Panel by the Regional War Labor Boards. If, however, a ruling of the Panel is not unanimous, such ruling shall not be issued to the parties and shall not become effective, but shall be transmitted by the Panel to the National War Labor Board, and shall thereafter become effective and be issued to the parties only if approved by the National War Labor Board. The rulings of the Panel shall conform to the policy of the National War Labor Board based on Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, and the policy directive of May 12, 1943, issued by the Director of Economic Stabilization. Accordingly, any wage or salary adjustment approved by the Panel "which may furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in price ceilings, or if no price ceilings are involved which may increase the production costs above the level prevailing in comparable plants or establishments", shall become effective only if also approved by the Director of Economic Stabilization. Notice to this effect shall be contained in all rulings issued by the Panel.

E.[1] The Panel shall consider and make recommendations to the National War Labor Board on all labor disputes referred to it, and findings and recommendations of the Panel thereon shall be filed with the National War Labor Board. The Panel shall be governed by the policies and regulations of the National War Labor Board.

F.[1] In all cases submitted to it for ruling or decision by the Panel, the National War Labor Board will notify the Panel of its final action and will direct the Panel to notify the parties of such action.

[Resolution, June 4, 1943]

RESOLUTION ESTABLISHING THE AUTOMOTIVE SECTION OF THE DETROIT BOARD (REGION XI)

Be It Resolved:

(1) That the Board's Special Representative appointed in the above entitled cases[2] is hereby authorized to issue interpretative letters on all differences of opinion which arise out of application of provisions of existing Directive Orders of the National War Labor Board and that the Special Representative is also authorized to approve or disapprove negotiated settlements of questions of application for which the parties may seek approval by the Board. All such interpretative letters shall represent final disposition of the questions at issue unless either or both of the parties file exceptions in writing with the Special Representative and with the Detroit Regional War Labor Board on or before ten (10) days after the date of the interpretative letter in question. If exceptions are filed, the Detroit Regional War Labor Board will then consider the matter and approve, disapprove or modify the action of the Special Representative by appropriate Board procedure. All such rulings are subject to review by the National Board on its own motion irrespective of whether exceptions are filed but any reversals or modifications will not be made retroactive in such instances.

(2) That all new issues not covered by existing Directive Orders, which may arise in General Motors plants shall be referred to the Detroit Regional Board unless the National Board on its own motion shall decide to retain jurisdiction. In such cases, the Detroit Board shall set up a Panel or appoint a Hearing Officer to hear the case according to usual Board procedures. The parties shall be consulted as to their preference for the Panel or Hearing Officer procedure. No recommendation or report of a Panel or Hearing Officer shall become final until the Board takes appropriate action. The Board's Special Representative in the above entitled cases may be appointed as Panel Chairman or Hearing Officer.

(3) That the Special Representative is hereby appointed Arbitrator for the Board in all Maintenance of Membership cases at the General Motors Corporation properly coming before a Board Arbitrator as noted in the Arbitration Award of March 9, 1943 and as provided in the September 26, 1942 Directive Order. The decision of the Arbitrator in such cases is final and binding on all parties.

(4) That the Special Representative is hereby appointed Arbitrator for the Board in all matters relating to application of the "equal pay for equal work" clause of the Board's Directive Orders pertaining to women's rates. Since awards of the Arbitrator in these cases may involve changes in wage rates they must be reviewed by the Detroit Regional War Labor Board according to the procedure applying to all Arbitrator's wage awards. The National Board may, on its own motion, review any decisions of the Regional Board in such cases. Any comments on or exceptions to an Arbitrator's award which either or both of the parties may wish to make must be submitted to the Detroit Regional Board on or before ten (10) days after the date of the award. The Board's Arbitrator will not hear any such cases which should be referred to the Umpire under contract provisions.

(5) That the general procedure for approval of negotiated Local Wage Agreements outlined in the Special Representative's letter of January 15, 1943, to the National War Labor Board as heretofore approved and followed in cases already disposed of, shall be continued for all Local Wage Agreements not yet submitted to the Board for approval. Hereafter all such Local Wage Agreements shall be submitted to the Detroit Regional Board for approval, denial or modification.

(6) That the Special Representative presently assigned and appointed in these cases is William E. Simkin but nothing in this resolution shall prevent the appointment of other Special Representatives, Hearing Officers, or Arbitrators in the above matters whose jurisdiction and duties shall be identical with those stated herein.

[1] As amended February 3, 1944.

FUNCTIONS AND PROCEDURES OF THE NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD AUTOMOTIVE SECTION (REGION XI)

The procedures and mechanism set forth below are proposed as a means of carrying out the decision of the National War Labor Board to centralize in Regional Board XI the treatment of all wage and labor dispute matters arising in the plants of the participating automotive manufacturers. This procedure is being established in an effort to further the efficient and uniform application of Board policy and to secure the advantages inherent in setting up a specialized staff to handle this industry. The organization and procedures outlined below are based upon resolutions recently adopted by the National War Labor Board authorizing the creation of such staff under the jurisdiction of Regional Board XI, and delegating to it the powers enumerated here.

A. Interpretation of National War Labor Board and Region XI Directive Orders. (1) The staff members of the Automotive Unit will issue interpretative letters on all differences of opinion arising out of application of provisions of existing Directive Orders of the National Board and of existing orders and orders to be issued by the Regional Board. The staff will not have authority to modify Directive Orders. The staff will also approve or disapprove negotiated settlements of questions of interpretation which the parties may submit to the Board for approval.

(2) Such interpretative letters will constitute final disposition of the questions at issue unless either or both of the parties file exceptions in writing with Regional Board XI within 10 days after the date of the interpretative letter. The Regional Board will consider such exceptions and will approve, disapprove, or modify the action of the Staff, after recommendation by the Automotive Section.

(3) All rulings are subject to review by the War Labor Board for Region XI on its own motion and appeals to the Regional and National Board may be had under regular procedure, but any reversals or modifications will not be made retroactive in such instances.

(4) Such interpretative orders will not become effective until the time for filing appeals or exceptions has expired, or until such exceptions or appeals have been finally disposed of.

B. Arbitration under National War Labor Board Directive Orders—(1) Application of maintenance of membership. Staff members of the Automotive Unit will act as arbitrators for the Board on all questions relating to application of maintenance of membership provisions which require and properly come before an arbitrator appointed by the Board under the terms of certain Directive Orders. The decision of the arbitrator in such cases is final and binding on all parties.

(2) Equal pay for women. Where Directive Orders of the Board provide for arbitration of disagreements relating to application of the "equal pay for equal work" clause, staff members of the Automotive Unit will act as referees. They will not hear any cases which should be referred to stipulated arbiters or umpires under contract provisions. Exceptions to a referee's award by either party must be submitted to the Regional Board within 10 days of the date of the award. Such referee's awards will be acted upon by the Regional Board, after recommendation by the Automotive Section, and Regional Board decisions may be reviewed by the National Board.

C. Dispute cases. In accordance with the instructions of the National War Labor Board to its New Case Committee, all new issues not covered by existing Directive Orders which may arise in the plants of the participating automotive companies will be referred to Regional Board XI unless the National Board on its own motion decides to retain jurisdiction or makes other disposition. The following procedure will be observed:

(1) Investigation by staff of the Automotive Unit. a. Fact finding hearings which will be open to the public will be conducted by individual staff members for the purpose of considering written briefs submitted by the parties in advance, hearing oral argument, and obtaining additional necessary information from the parties.

b. Staff members will prepare reports of hearings summarizing the arguments and the facts. The fact finding reports will be submitted to the parties who will be allowed 10 days to forward their comments and exceptions. Thereafter, the reports together with the comments of the parties will be submitted to the Automotive Section.

c. Under these procedures either party shall have the right to make stenographic transcript of the hearings, at least one copy of which shall be furnished to the Board without charge. Additional copies shall be available to the other party at cost.

(2) Action by Automotive Section. a. A division of Regional Board XI consisting of one industry, one labor, and one public member will sit as an Automotive Section to review the briefs of the parties, the fact finding reports of staff members, and the comments of the parties on the factual reports.

b. The Automotive Section will hold a further hearing on all issues or any particular aspect of a dispute if, in its opinion, the circumstances of the case make it advisable. Where the Section holds such further hearing its findings and recommendations will be submitted to the parties before the case is presented to the Board, and the parties shall have 10 days in which to file exceptions.

c. After considering all the evidence, the Section will present the case to the Regional Board with its recommendations.

(3) Action by Regional Board XI. After considering the recommendations of its Automotive Section, the Board will render its decision.

(4) Either party may appeal a Regional Board decision in accordance with the established procedure.

D. Wage agreements and voluntary applications. (1) All Wage agreements and voluntary applications coming within the jurisdiction of the Board which are signed by the duly authorized representatives of the parties and which relate to plants of the participating automotive companies will be submitted to Regional Board XI for approval, modification, or denial.

(2) Wherever possible a member of the Automotive Unit Staff will meet with representatives of the applying parties to obtain the necessary background information, reasons, and justification for the wage request.

(3) A staff member and an analyst from the Wage Stabilization Division of the Regional Board XI will go over the wage request in detail making certain that wage stabilization principles and all comparative wage data in the possession of the Board are not overlooked. A memorandum and recommendation will be prepared which will represent the joint finding of the Wage Stabilization Division and the Automotive Unit.

(4) The wage request and the joint recommendation will be reviewed by the Automotive Section which will submit the request with its own recommendation to the Regional Board. It is anticipated that the Regional Board will delegate to the Automotive Section, and to the Automotive Unit and Wage Stabilization Director acting jointly, authority to render final decisions on certain types of wage requests. Such decisions may be appealed to the Regional Board.

(5) After considering the Automotive Section's recommendation the Board will render a final decision.

(6) A Regional Board decision may be appealed in accordance with regular procedure.

(7) All wage requests approved by the Regional Board which may furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in price ceilings or which increase existing levels of production costs shall become effective only if approved by the Economic Stabilization Director.

[Rules of Procedure, Jan. 4, 1944]

NATIONAL AIRFRAME PANEL

Rules of organization and procedure adopted by National War Labor Board January 4, 1944.

The "Procedure for Handling Airframe Cases" approved by the National War Labor Board on August 20, 1943, establishing an "Airframe Disputes Panel" to handle disputes over wage or salary questions in the airframe industry, and the National War Labor Board's action of June 8, 1943, are hereby rescinded (except for the limited purposes referred to in Paragraph VIII hereof) and the following provisions are adopted in their stead:

I. The National Airframe Panel (hereafter called "the Panel") is hereby established with headquarters at Washington, D. C., where, unless otherwise directed by the Board, it shall conduct any necessary hearings. The National War Labor Board (hereafter called "the Board") shall appoint the members of the Panel, two of whom shall be representatives of industry, two representatives of labor, and one a representative of the public who shall act as chairman. Each member shall be entitled to one vote on any matter put to a vote before the Panel. A majority vote shall constitute the decision of the Panel. Equality of voting shall be preserved as between representatives of labor and industry. Three members, including at least one representative each of industry, labor and the public, shall constitute a quorum.

II. Jurisdiction—(a) In general. Except as otherwise specified herein, the jurisdiction of the Panel shall be limited to wage or salary issues in major dispute and major voluntary cases which substantially affect (1) the general wage structure of those airframe companies whose names appear on a list to be approved by the Board from time to time (hereafter called the "listed companies"), or (2) the wage stabilization policy in the airframe industry. If such a wage or salary issue arises in a dispute case the Panel, unless the Board otherwise directs, shall have jurisdiction not only of such issue but also of all other issues in the case. The names of the listed companies shall be made available to the New Case Committee of the Board and to the Regional War Labor Boards and other agents of the Board.

(b) Liaison functions of the Panel. There shall be referred to the Panel for presentation to the Board all reports, recommendations and other matters which, under the Directive Order of March 8, 1943, as amended, are required to be submitted to the Board by the West Coast Aircraft Committee. All other reports, recommendations and studies by Regional War Labor Boards and of the Airframe Industry shall likewise be transmitted to the Panel for presentation to the Board.

III. Referral of cases to Panel—(a) By New Case Committee of the Board. Any dispute case involving a wage or salary issue arising within one of the "listed companies" shall be referred to the Panel by the New Case Committee of the Board.

(b) By Regional Boards. The Regional War Labor Boards or other agents of the Board (not including the Wage and Hour Division) shall refer to the Panel (1) Any applications for approval of a voluntary or agreed upon adjustment in the wages or salaries of employees in any of the "listed companies," or (2) any submission of an arbitrator's award granting such a wage or salary adjustment.

IV. Retention of cases by the Panel. Upon receipt of any case, dispute or voluntary, the Panel shall determine whether the case falls within its jurisdiction as defined in paragraph II (a) above. If the Panel determines that the case does not fall within its jurisdiction, the Panel shall return the case, according to its source to the New Case Committee of the Board or to the Regional Board or other agent of the Board for appropriate action. If in any case the decision of the Panel with respect to its jurisdiction is not unanimous, the case shall, upon the request of a dissenting member, be referred to the Board for determination of the jurisdictional question. Such question shall be presented to the Board by the Chairman of the Panel.

V. Functions and procedure—(a) In dispute cases. In acting on any dispute case the Panel shall conform to §§ 802.15 to 802.27 inclusive, of the Board's "Rules of Procedure," adopted November 27, 1943. The report and recommendations of the Panel shall be submitted by the Chairman thereof to the Board together with the comments of the parties and the report of the National Wage Stabilization Division. The Board shall render its decision based on the entire record in the case.

(b) In voluntary cases. In voluntary cases within its jurisdiction the Panel, after reviewing the application or arbitration award and all relevant data available to it, shall, through the Chairman of the Panel, submit to the Board for final decision a report of its findings of fact together with its recommendations.

VI. Services available to Panel. In any case within its jurisdiction the Panel shall utilize the services of the Board's staff and, with the consent of any Regional Board, may avail itself of the services of the staff of such Regional Board.

VII. Semi-monthly reports. The Chairman of the Panel shall present in writing to the Board semi-monthly reports which shall contain, with respect to each case retained by it during the period covered by the report, information as to the wage or salary issues involved therein, including the size and nature of the wage or salary adjustments requested, the number of workers affected by such proposed adjustments, price relief and production cost data, and any other information pertaining to specific cases which the Panel deems it necessary to supply.

VIII. Effective date. These Rules shall take effect on and after December 31, 1943. The Airframe Disputes Panel shall immediately after that date transmit to the Panel all cases now pending before it, except those which by agreement of both Panels are to be retained by the Airframe Disputes Panel for appropriate action. The Panel shall retain for action hereunder all cases so transmitted which fall within its jurisdiction and any other of such cases which it deems necessary for it to process, and shall return all other such cases to the New Case Committee of the Board or to the appropriate Regional Board or other agent.

Section 325.4 Registration period; statutory provision is rescinded by Board Order 44-78 dated February 10, 1944, effective March 1, 1944.

Section 325.5 is added, effective March 1, 1944, by Board Order 44-78 dated February 10, 1944, as follows:

§ 325.5 Claim and withdrawal of claim—(a) Claim. An employee shall claim a day as a day of unemployment by making registration with respect to such day.

(b) Withdrawal of claim. A claim to a day as a day of unemployment on the basis of a registration made with respect thereto may, in the absence of fraud, be withdrawn by the employee's (1) striking out his signature for such day on the registration and claim form, or (2) notifying the Board in writing that he no longer wishes to claim such a day as a day of unemployment on the basis of such registration.

Section 325.12 is amended, effective March 1, 1944, by Board Order 44-78 dated February 10, 1944, to read as follows:

§ 325.12 Registration. (a) Method of registration—Registration with respect to any day shall be made by the employee's appearing before an unemployment claims agent at a free employment office during such agent's working hours, subscribing to the statements on the registration and claim form provided by the Board, and signing on such form for each such day: Provided, however, That no registration shall be deemed to have been made with respect to any day which, if registration were made with respect to it, would be the first day of a registration period in a benefit year in which (1) the employee is not a qualified employee under section 3 of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, or (2) benefits have already been payable to him for 100 days of unemployment: And provided further, That if registration is made with respect to any day, and the claim to such day as a day of unemployment on the basis of such registration is not withdrawn, nothing done subsequent to such registration, except reregistration under § 325.50, shall be deemed registration with respect to such day.

(b) Information required by registration and claim form. Upon making registration, an employee shall furnish the information required by the registration and claim form provided by the Board. Until the information required by the registration and claim form with respect to any day shall have been received in the office of the Board in which the claims of the employee are being adjudicated, such day shall not be considered as a day of unemployment with respect to such employee.

(c) Day of registration. (1) Registration with respect to any day shall be made on such day or on the first business day thereafter, except that, if such day is not a business day, an employee who registered on the last business day preceding such day may register with respect thereto on the first or second business day thereafter. For the purpose of this subparagraph, the term "business day" means any day which is not a Sunday and is not a day which is generally observed as a holiday in the locality in which the employee registers.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of (1) hereof, the Board may require that registration by certain employees or classes of employees with respect to any day be made on that day.

(3) If an employee does not register with respect to any day within the time hereinabove specified, because of his being in transit to or from a job, or his being held over or lying over after completing a job in anticipation of a possible call for other work, or his being employed, or his being sick, or his complying with instructions from the Board to apply for work, or because of any other circumstance or condition directly affecting him and not attributable to any lack of diligence on his part, he may register with respect to such day at any other hour during the unemployment claims agent's working hours within the time specified in paragraph (c) hereof, and shall submit to an unemployment claims agent, to a duly authorized field representative of the Board, or to an office of the Board, a written statement explaining why he did not register with respect to such day within the time specified.

(4) If an employee does not register with respect to any day within the time hereinabove specified, because, after making reasonable efforts, he was unable to find an unemployment claims agent to take his registration, or because an unemployment claims agent at an employment office where such employee would otherwise have registered was not ready and willing to take his registration, or because such employee was given misinformation by an unemployment claims agent, a countersigning agent, the supervisor of such claims agent or countersigning agent, or an employee of the Board, such employee may register with respect to such day at any time within one year of such day, and shall submit to an unemployment claims agent, to a duly authorized field representative of the Board, or to an office of the Board, a written statement explaining why he did not register with respect to such day within the time specified.

(5) If an employee of an employer which does not comply with the provisions of the Act and denies that it is an employer or denies that it is the employer of such employee registers in accordance with the requirements of a state unemployment compensation law, or is not permitted by the state unemployment compensation agency to register in accordance with such law, for any period which includes a day occurring while such employer fails to comply with the provisions of the Act, he may register with respect to such day at any time within one year of such day.

(d) Hour of registration. Registration shall be made during the unemployment claims agent's working hours. The Board may require that registration by certain employees or classes of employees with respect to any day shall be made at a designated hour. If an employee does not register with respect to any day at the designated hour, because of his being in transit to or from a job, or his being held over or lying over after completing a job in anticipation of a possible call for other work, or his being employed, or his being sick, or his complying with instructions from the Board to apply for work, or because of any other circumstance or condition directly affecting him and not attributable to any lack of diligence on his part, he may register with respect to such day at any other hour during the unemployment claims agent's working hours within the time specified in paragraph (c) hereof, and shall submit to an unemployment claims agent, to a duly authorized field representative of the Board, or to an office of the Board, a written statement explaining why he did not register with respect to such day at the designated hour.

Section 325.13 is amended, effective March 1, 1944, by Board Order 44-78 dated February 10, 1944, to read as follows:

§ 325.13 Applications for certificate of benefit rights and employment service. Upon making his first registration in a benefit year, an employee shall, on the form provided by the Board for making application for a certificate of benefit rights, furnish the information required by such form, and shall deliver such form to an unemployment claims agent or mail it to an office of the Board. Within two business days after such first registration, the employee shall, on the form provided by the Board for making application for employment service, furnish the information required by such form, and shall deliver such form to an unemployment claims agent or mail it to an office of the Board. No benefits shall be paid the employee on the basis of registrations in such benefit year until the application for a certificate of benefit rights, and the information required thereby, shall have been received in the office of the Board in which the claims of such employee are being adjudicated, and until there shall have been received in such office either the application for employment service and the information required thereby, or notification that such application and information have been received in another office of the Board.

Section 325.16 Transfer of employee from one unemployment claims agent to another, is rescinded, effective March 1, 1944, by Board Order 44-78 dated February 10, 1944.

Section 325.25 Registration period, is added, effective March 1, 1944, by Board Order 44-78 dated February 10, 1944, as follows:

§ 325.25 Registration period—(a) First day. The first day of a registration period with respect to any employee is the first day for which he registers, and thereafter the first day for which he next registers after the last day of his last preceding registration period.

(b) Last day. The last day of a registration period with respect to any employee shall be initially determined to be the thirteenth day after the first day of such registration period, subject to redetermination as the day immediately preceding the first day, not later than such thirteenth day, for which he registers at an employment office other than the one at which he registered for the first day of such registration period.

Section 325.50 Reconstruction of lost claim, is amended, effective March 1, 1944, by Board Order 44-78 dated February 10, 1944, to read as follows:

§ 325.50 Lost or destroyed forms. If it appears that a registration and claim form on which an employee registered has been lost or destroyed, and if (1) the unemployment claims agent has, on a form provided by the Board, a record of the registration and claim showing the dates of the days for which the employee registered and such record is in proper chronological order in a bound book in his possession, or (2) there is any other form provided by the Board which shows such dates and indicates that such registration and claim was transmitted by mail or otherwise by the unemployment claims agent to a countersigning agent, or by a countersigning agent to an unemployment claims agent or to the Board, or (3) it is otherwise established, by clear and convincing evidence, after full and complete investigation, that the employee in fact registered for such days, the employee may reregister for such days at any time within one year of the last of such days.

The first sentence of § 345.9 Place and time for filing employers' contribution reports (6 F.R. 11694) is amended by Board Order 43-676, dated September 23, 1943, to read as follows: "Each employer's contribution report shall be filed with the Railroad Retirement Board at Chicago (11), Illinois.".

AUTHORITY: §§ 602.300 to 602.317, inclusive, issued under E. O. 9332, 8 F. R. 5355; E. O. 9125, 7 F R. 2719; WPB Directive No. 33, 9 F. R 64; sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176.

§ 602.300 What this regulation does. This regulation, which applies everywhere in the United States that dealers sell Pennsylvania anthracite, provides for orderly and limited deliveries to substantially all consumers of anthracite, eastern coke and other solid fuels, when used in conjunction with anthracite or eastern coke, so that (1) the dealer will arrange to spread his limited available supply of those solid fuels equitably among consumers and (2) the consumer of those solid fuels will, to the maximum extent that he can, buy and store during the spring and summer sufficient solid fuels to take care of a substantial part of his annual needs. The risk of serious hardship next heating season can be reduced and perhaps eliminated if the consumer advises his dealer now of his requirements for solid fuels and if the dealer makes limited deliveries strictly in accordance with applicable regulations.

Consumers must not inflate, duplicate or pyramid their orders. Each consumer is required before receiving any anthracite or eastern coke to fill out and send to his dealer a short statement containing a few necessary facts such as his annual needs for solid fuels, and the amount of solid fuels he had on hand April 1, 1944. The Consumer Declaration is required only because it is believed by retail dealers generally and by many consumers to be essential to the equitable distribution by dealers of the limited supply of anthracite and eastern coke. Consumers who do not use anthracite or eastern coke are not required to fill out or file the Consumer Declaration under this regulation.

Although the retail dealer is forbidden to discriminate among consumers in making deliveries of anthracite and eastern coke, he is permitted to refuse to deliver such solid fuels to a consumer whose burning equipment reasonably permits the use of another solid fuel: Provided, That the dealer is ready, willing and able to provide the consumer with the other solid fuel.

A procedure is established for assisting consumers in critical need of solid fuels. Conservation of the available supply of solid fuels, strict adherence to applicable regulations, and cooperation with the Solid Fuels Administration for War on the part of retail dealers and consumers will materially aid in preventing critical situations from developing.

This regulation is not applicable to deliveries to consumers who do not use any anthracite or eastern coke but do use any of the other solid fuels, including western coke and bituminous coal.

§ 602.301 Definitions. (a) "Anthracite" means that coal which is generally referred to as Pennsylvania anthracite produced or prepared in the following counties in Pennsylvania: Carbon, Columbia, Dauphin, Lebanon, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Susquehanna and Wayne; and for the purposes of this regulation is limited to the following sizes: broken, egg, stove, chestnut, pea and No. 1 buckwheat or any combination of those sizes.

(b) "Coke" means all coke which is produced from bituminous coal.

(c) "Eastern coke" means all coke delivered by retail dealers to consumers in the District of Columbia and the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, and that portion of Pennsylvania which is east of a straight line drawn from the southern to the northern boundary of Pennsylvania through the western boundary of Gettysburg, in Adams County, and Lock Haven, in Clinton County.

(d) "Western coke" means all coke, except eastern coke, delivered by retail dealers to consumers.

(e) "Solid fuels" include any form of anthracite, semianthracite, bituminous, sub-bituminous or lignitic coals or coke (including packaged and processed fuels such as briquettes).

(f) "Retail dealer" means any person (including the retail outlet, branch or department of one who is also a producer, wholesaler or lake dock operator) to the extent that he acts in the capacity of a supplier, shipper or seller of solid fuels in any transaction involving a shipment, sale, or sale and delivery, of broken bulk solid fuels physically handled in a truck, wagon, or other less than carload facility, without regard to quantity or frequency of delivery.

(g) "Consumer" means any person who acquires solid fuels for space heating, domestic hot water or domestic cooking except to the extent that he acquires such solid fuels for space heating incidental to an industrial process or the production of power.

(h) "Space heating incidental to an industrial process or the production of power" denotes a set of circumstances under which the annual tonnage of solid fuels consumed for space heating does not exceed 40 percent of the total annual tonnage of solid fuels consumed in the industrial process, the production of power and the space heating.

(i) "Industrial process or the production of power" includes without limitation any manufacturing or commercial processing, the generation of electrical energy for resale or otherwise, and the operation of a commercial bakery or laundry. Industrial process or the production of power does not include the ordinary operations of the following, among others: apartment houses, hotels, schools, and office buildings.

(j) "Consumer's annual requirements" or "consumer's annual needs" mean whichever of the following is less:

(1) The number of tons of solid fuels burned at the premises of a consumer (and if such premises has two or more units of heating equipment which customarily burn different sizes of solid fuels, the number of tons burned in each unit) during the period April 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943, inclusive. In the event solid fuels were not burned as the principal fuel in such premises (or in such heating units) during such period, the number of tons of solid fuels which were burned in other premises (or units) similar thereto in the same locality during the same period; or

(2) The consumer's annual needs, as stated in Item 1 of the Consumer's Declaration.

(k) "Consumer's inventory" means the number of tons of solid fuels in storage at the consumer's premises, or under the consumer's control on April 1, 1944.

(l) "Local sales in the producing region" mean sales or deliveries of anthracite at retail within the anthracite coal fields in the ten counties specified in paragraph (a) of this section.

(m) "Deliveries to mine employees" mean sales or deliveries of anthracite to such employees of producers of anthracite as are engaged in mining operations or functions directly connected therewith in the vicinity of the mining operations.

(n) "Regulation" means a regulation, order, direction or instruction of the Solid Fuels Administration for War unless otherwise specifically indicated.

§ 602.302 Consumer Declaration. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, no retail dealer may deliver and no consumer may receive any anthracite or eastern coke, unless at or prior to the time of the first delivery, the consumer shall have filed with the retail dealer from whom he expects to purchase anthracite or eastern coke a statement on a form (referred to herein as a Consumer Declaration) to be reproduced and furnished by the retail dealer, setting forth, among other things, the consumer's estimated annual needs for solid fuels, the consumer's inventory, the number of rooms to be heated and the type of burning equipment. A consumer shall, subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, be required to file only one such declaration during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive. Statements contained in any Consumer Declaration are representations to the Solid Fuels Administration for War and the retail dealers shall retain the Consumer Declarations for and on behalf of the Solid Fuels Administration for War for the period specified in § 602.310 of this regulation. A Consumer Declaration or statement filed by any consumer with any retail dealer before the issuance of this regulation shall not be deemed to be filed pursuant to the requirements of this regulation. The prescribed form of Consumer Declaration, marked Appendix A, is attached to this regulation and made a part hereof.

(b) A separate Consumer Declaration shall be filed for each building which the consumer expects to heat in whole or in part by the use of anthracite or eastern coke.

(c) A retail dealer may deliver and a consumer may receive anthracite or eastern coke without the filing of the Consumer Declaration if the consumer receives anthracite or eastern coke in less than a 1 ton lot and exclusively in bags containing one hundred pounds or less of such solid fuels.

(d) No consumer may receive and no retail dealer may deliver any anthracite or eastern coke during the period April 1, 1944, through March 31, 1945, inclusive, to a consumer if the consumer inflates, duplicates or pyramids his orders, or files a Consumer Declaration with more than one retail dealer unless it has been the consumer's customary practice to have outstanding orders or contracts for the acquisition of anthracite or eastern coke with more than one dealer for a given premises, in which event the consumer shall notify in writing all of the dealers concerned of the details including the total number of tons which he has ordered from each dealer.

§ 602.303 Responsibility of retail dealers distributing anthracite, eastern coke or other solid fuels must be faithfully discharged. Each retail dealer who receives any anthracite, eastern coke or other solid fuels has the responsibility for distributing such solid fuels equitably in strict accordance with the provisions of this regulation and all other regulations. Any dealer who does not discharge that responsibility faithfully may be precluded in whole or in part by the Solid Fuels Administration for War from receiving anthracite and other solid fuels.

It is anticipated that retail dealers generally will receive from their sources of supply less anthracite and eastern coke than consumers in the aggregate would like to purchase. No retail dealer should undertake to deliver to those consumers he serves, in the aggregate, more anthracite and eastern coke than such retail dealer reasonably expects to receive in view of applicable regulations and such advice as he receives from his sources of supply.

§ 602.304 Restrictions upon retail dealer deliveries and consumer receipts of anthracite, eastern coke and other solid fuels when used in conjunction with or in addition to anthracite or eastern coke. (a) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, during the period April 1, 1944, to October 1, 1944, inclusive, no retail dealer may deliver, and no consumer may receive from all sources combined, anthracite or eastern coke or both, in an amount which when added to (1) the consumer's inventory of anthracite and eastern coke as of April 1, 1944, and (2) the tonnage of anthracite and eastern coke received by the consumer after April 1, 1944, exceeds 50 percent of the consumer's annual requirements for solid fuels.

(b) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, during the period April 1, 1944, to March 31, 1945, inclusive, no retail dealer may deliver and no consumer may receive from all sources combined, anthracite or eastern coke or both in an amount which when added to (1) the consumer's inventory of anthracite and eastern coke as of April 1, 1944, and (2) the tonnage of anthracite and eastern coke received by the consumer after April 1, 1944, exceeds 87½ per cent of the consumer's annual requirements for solid fuels.

(c) If a consumer uses any other solid fuel in conjunction with or in addition to anthracite or eastern coke, a retail dealer may, subject to other applicable regulations, deliver to the consumer and the consumer may receive during the period April 1, 1944, to March 31, 1945, up to but not more than 100 per cent of the consumer's annual solid fuel requirements, after deducting the consumer's inventory as of April 1, 1944: Provided, however, That the deliveries and receipts of anthracite or eastern coke or both do not exceed the limitations upon deliveries and receipts of anthracite or eastern coke or both as set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) In applying the percentage of permissible or required shipments under provisions of this regulation, the retail dealer may, in respect to one-half ton or a larger fraction, deliver, and the consumer may receive, a full ton; and conversely, in applying the percentage of permissible or required shipments under provisions of this regulation, the retail dealer may disregard a fraction of less than one-half ton. For example, if application of the percentage of permissible shipments indicates that two and one-half tons may be delivered, the dealer may deliver three tons; if the application of percentage indicates that two and one-third tons may be delivered, the dealer may disregard the one-third ton and deliver two tons.

(e) In the practical application of the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, a retail dealer may deliver to a consumer and such consumer may receive one load or three tons, whichever is less, of anthracite or eastern coke, if it is necessary to do so in order to assure maximum effective utilization of transportation facilities available to the retail dealer: Provided, however, That the tonnage so delivered shall not, when added to (1) the consumer's inventory of solid fuels as of April 1, 1944, and (2) the tonnage of solid fuels received by the consumer after April 1, 1944, exceed the consumer's annual requirements for solid fuels.

§ 602.305 Procedure governing deliveries by retail dealers of anthracite, eastern coke, and other solid fuels when used in lieu of or in addition to anthracite or eastern coke. (a) No retail dealer shall discriminate in the delivery of anthracite or eastern coke as between consumers who are equally entitled to receive deliveries pursuant to this regulation: Provided, however, That a retail dealer shall accord first preference in the delivery of solid fuels to a consumer who has less than a five days' supply of usable solid fuel on hand.

(b) To the extent that his available supply of anthracite and eastern coke permits, and subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section and § 602.302 of this regulation, a retail dealer must supply or arrange for another retail dealer to supply, anthracite or eastern coke to (1) those consumers occupying premises that the retail dealer served with anthracite or eastern coke during the period April 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943; (2) those consumers who, although they had no regular source of supply for anthracite or eastern coke during the period April 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, occupy premises that the retail dealer served with anthracite or eastern coke during the period April 1, 1943, to March 31, 1944; and (3) those consumers (including consumers who converted from fuel oil equipment to solid fuel equipment) who, although they had no regular source of supply for anthracite or eastern coke during the period April 1, 1942, to March 31, 1944, now occupy premises with burning equipment which does not reasonably permit the use of any solid fuel other than anthracite or eastern coke.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to require any retail dealer to deliver anthracite or eastern coke to a consumer whose burning equipment reasonably permits the use of another solid fuel, Provided, That the retail dealer is ready, willing and able to supply such consumer with the other solid fuel.

§ 602.306 General restrictions upon retail dealer deliveries of anthracite for industrial use or production of power. No retail dealer may deliver and no person may acquire from all sources combined during the year April 1, 1944, to March 31, 1945, anthracite for use in an industrial process or for the production of power or for space heating which is incidental thereto in an amount which, when added to the anthracite in the possession or under the control of such person exceeds requirements up to March 31, 1945.

§ 602.307 Limitations upon applicability of this regulation. Except for the provisions of §§ 602.306, 602.309, 602.310, 602.311, 602.312, 602.314 and 602.315, this regulation does not apply to deliveries of anthracite, eastern coke or other solid fuels when used in conjunction with or in addition to anthracite or eastern coke or to the acquisition of such solid fuels by:

(e) Consumers on local sales in the producing region;

(f) Mine employees; or

(g) Any person to the extent that he acquires such solid fuels for use in an industrial process or for the production of power or for space heating which is incidental thereto.

§ 602.308 How consumers who need solid fuel may obtain assistance. (a) A consumer who has received less solid fuels than is permitted under § 602.304 of this regulation and who (i) has less than five days supply of solid fuels on hand, (ii) is unable to obtain a supply of solid fuels either from the retail dealer with whom he filed his Consumer Declaration or other retail dealers, and (iii) is willing to accept any solid fuel which may reasonably be used in his burning equipment may obtain assistance from one of the following:

§ 602.310 Records. Each retail dealer shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of the deliveries of anthracite, eastern coke or other solid fuels permitted or required by the provisions of §§ 602.304, 602.305, 602.306 and 602.307 of this regulation and shall also keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of the details of any transactions to which any other portion of this regulation applies.

§ 602.313 Damages for breach of contract. No retail dealer shall be held liable under any contract for damages or penalties for any default which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with this regulation.

The State Director of the State in which the registrant is located shall check such documents and, if not already accomplished, insert thereon the name and address of the local board in his State to which the registrant is transferred for induction and forward the documents to such local board. Unless the transfer of the registrant for induction is canceled under paragraph (f) of this section, the local board to which the registrant is transferred shall cause the registrant to be delivered for induction to the Army Reception Center, the Navy Recruiting Station, or the induction station, as the case may be, and shall take the other actions provided for in paragraphs (g), (h), and (i) of § 633.11.

(d) A registrant transferred for induction under this section may, within

5 days after the date on which the local board to which he has been so transferred has mailed to him an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150), file with such local board a written request to cancel his transfer for induction. Upon such a request being filed, such local board shall determine whether grave and unusual hardship will result to the registrant if he is not permitted to report to his own local board for induction and, if it so determines, shall cancel his transfer for induction. The local board shall record such determination on the Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154), and shall notify the registrant of its determination by letter. If the local board determines to cancel the transfer for induction, it shall (1) cancel the Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) which it mailed to the registrant, and, (2) return the Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) and all other documents concerning such registrant to his own local board. Upon receipt of such documents the registrant's own local board shall order the registrant to report to it for induction in the usual manner.

The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective within the Continental United States immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register and shall be effective outside the Continental limits of the United States on the 30th day after the date of filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

PART 663—BOARDS OF TRANSFER IN TERRITORY OF HAWAII AND IN TERRITORY OF ALASKA

TRANSFERS FOR CLASSIFICATION AND INDUCTION

Pursuant to authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend § 663.3 to read as follows:

§ 633.3 Transfer for classification. (a) After returning the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40) and before the local board of origin has at any time undertaken the classification of a registrant who is located in the Territory of Hawaii and whose own local board is located elsewhere or a registrant who is located in the Territory of Alaska whose own local board is located elsewhere, such registrant may be transferred for classification in accordance with the procedure of § 623.12 to a local board of transfer in the Territory of Hawaii or in the Territory of Alaska, as the case may be. The file and all documents of a registrant who is thus transferred for classification to a local board in the Territory of Hawaii or in the Territory of Alaska shall be forwarded to the State Director of the Territory of Hawaii or the State Director of the Territory of Alaska, as the case may be, for transmission by him to such local board of transfer as he may designate. The local board of transfer so designated shall classify the registrant.

(b) After the classification, after the hearing when requested, and after the determination of appeal when taken, the local board to which the registrant is transferred for classification shall return through its State Director of Selective Service to the registrant's own local board all papers pertaining to the registrant except the duplicate Cover Sheet (Form 53) and the Order of Transfer for Classification (Form 63).

2. Amend the regulations by adding a new section to be known as § 663.4 to read as follows:

§ 663.4 Transfer for preinduction physical examination mandatory. (a) Transfer for preinduction physical examination is mandatory for each registrant located in the Territory of Hawaii whose own local board is located elsewhere and for each registrant located in the Territory of Alaska whose own local board is located elsewhere. Such transfer for preinduction physical examination shall be made by the registrant's own local board in the manner provided by § 629.12. The file and all documents of a registrant who is transferred for preinduction physical examination to a local board in the Territory of Hawaii or in the Territory of Alaska shall be forwarded to the State Director of the Territory of Hawaii or the State Director of the Territory of Alaska, as the case may be, for transmission by him to such local board of transfer as he may designate. The local board so designated shall cause the registrant to be given a preinduction physical examination and shall take the other actions provided for in paragraph (f) of § 629.11.

(b) When the transferred registrant's examination has been completed or if he fails to report for such examination, the local board to which such registrant was transferred for preinduction physical examination shall forward through its State Director of Selective Service all papers with reference to such registrant to his own local board.

3. Amend the regulations by adding a new section to be known as § 663.5 to read as follows:

§ 663.5 Transfer for induction mandatory. (a) Transfer for induction is mandatory for each registrant located in the Territory of Hawaii whose own local board is located elsewhere and for each registrant located in the Territory of Alaska whose own local board is located elsewhere. Such transfer for induction shall be made by the registrant's own local board in the manner provided by § 633.12. The file and all documents of a registrant who is transferred for induction to a local board in the Territory of Hawaii or in the Territory of Alaska shall be forwarded to the State Director of the Territory of Hawaii or the State Director of the Territory of Alaska, as the case may be, for transmission by him to such local board of transfer as he may designate. Unless the transfer of the registrant for induction is cancelled under paragraph (d) of § 633.12, the local board so designated shall cause the registrant to be delivered for induction to the Army Reception Center, the Navy Recruiting Station, or the induction station, as the case may be, and shall take the other actions provided for in paragraphs (g) and (h) of § 633.11.

(b) When the transferred registrant has been inducted or rejected or if he fails to report for induction, the local board to which such registrant was transferred for induction shall forward through its State Director of Selective Service all papers with reference to such registrant with the exception of the Delivery List (Form 151) to his own local board.

The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective within the Continental United States immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register and shall be effective outside the Continental limits of the United States on the 30th day after the date of filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

DOBBS MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Joe W. Carter, doing business as Dobbs Manufacturing Company, at 131 North 28th Street, Birmingham, Alabama, is engaged in operating a lumber yard. Between January 29, 1943, and May 29, 1943, he violated Priorities Regulation No. 3, Conservation Order M-208, and Priorities Regulation No. 1 by ordering and accepting delivery of lumber for which he extended illegal preference ratings; he sold and delivered softwood lumber knowing that it was to be used in violation of Conservation Order M-208, and he failed to keep adequate and complete records of his operations. He knew of the restrictions contained in these orders and regulations, and his operations in violation thereof must be deemed wilful. These operations have diverted critical material to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.505 Suspension Order No. S-505. (a) Deliveries of material to Joe W. Carter, doing business as Dobbs Manufacturing Company, or otherwise, his or its successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation to Joe W. Carter, doing business as Dobbs Manufacturing Company, or otherwise, his or its successors or assigns, shall be made of any material, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Joe W. Carter from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on March 22, 1944, and shall expire on June 22, 1944.

Issued this 15th day of March 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

Recording Secretary.

PART 1029—FARM MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT AND ATTACHMENTS AND REPAIR PARTS THEREFOR

[Limitation Order L-257 as Amended Mar. 23, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of critical materials entering into the manufacture of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts therefor, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1029.15 Limitation Order L-257—(a) What this order does. This order describes the rules governing the manufacture of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts for sale in the continental United States and possessions. (Manufacture for export is covered by Order L-257-a.) To aid manufacturers in planning a continuous production cycle, it is the intention that this will be the basic order from year to year. However, it is expected that a new schedule of quota percentages will be issued as a part of the order each year for the "current quota period" starting July 1 of that year, and this will become the "applicable schedule" for that period. For example, the applicable schedule for the period July 1, 1943 to June 30, 1944, is Schedule A; for the following twelve-month period starting July 1, 1944, the new applicable schedule might be called Schedule B, etc. In order that producers may plan their production and order materials in advance, they may assume that the schedule in effect at any particular time will continue into the next "current quota period", until such time as a new schedule is issued. At present, there is no quota limitation on repair parts.

In addition to quota and other limitations on manufacture, this order also has rules on the filing and approval of production schedules, covering machinery and equipment (both farm and non-farm) and repair parts. Producers affected must stick to their schedules, with certain exceptions, so that the various programs, both farm and non-farm, can be met on time.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order (and any orders supplementary hereto, unless otherwise indicated):

(1) "Producer" means any person, other than a supplier, to the extent that he is actively engaged in the current manufacture (in the United States) of farm machinery and equipment or of repair parts for farm machinery and equipment, but does not include any person who did not manufacture any farm machinery and equipment or repair parts in 1940 or 1941.

(2) "Small producer" means any producer whose total net sales (including exports and sales by affiliates) of all products did not exceed $100,000 during the calendar year 1941; and includes any other producer who has been classified by the Smaller War Plants Corporation as a "smaller, distressed producer" and is specifically designated as such for the purpose of this order by the War Production Board, on such terms and conditions as may be proper.

(3) "Manufacture" means to put into process, machine, fabricate, or otherwise alter materials by physical or chemical means.

(4) "Supplier" means any person engaged in the manufacture (for sale to a producer in the United States) of materials, parts, assemblies or subassemblies to be physically incorporated into farm machinery and equipment or repair parts manufactured by such producer, or to be resold by such producer as repair parts.

(5) "Machinery and equipment" means agricultural machinery, mechanical equipment and implements (including all attachments used in conjunction therewith) of the types ordinarily manufactured for farm use, and listed on the applicable schedule attached hereto.

(6) "Farm use" means use for the production or care of crops, livestock, livestock products, or other produce on a farm (or elsewhere in the case of poultry). The term also includes use for the production or care of crops in "victory gardens" with respect to atomizing hand sprayers, hand dusters, wheel-type hand cultivators and wheel-type hand plows, and use for any civilian purpose with respect to horseshoes, muleshoes, oxenshoes and harness hardware.

(7) "Farm machinery and equipment" means machinery and equipment which is manufactured specifically for farm use, including irrigation and drainage equipment (excluding tile), horseshoes, muleshoes, oxenshoes, harness hardware, and water well casing (fabricated by other than pipe mills); but excluding repair parts, and also excluding all of the following: tracklaying type tractors, fencing, poultry netting and wire, wire fencing, bale ties or straps, oil well casing and water pipe, grain bins and corn cribs, water storage tanks, nails (all kinds), and sundry hardware (including hand tools, chains, barn door track, pulleys, scales, and similar items not specified on the applicable schedule).

(8) "Non-farm machinery and equipment" means machinery and equipment, as defined in paragraph (b) (5) above, which is manufactured pursuant to rated orders for any purpose other than farm use.

(9) "Attachment" for machinery and equipment means a supplementary appliance which may be added to an otherwise complete machine to extend the utility of such machine.

(10) "Repair parts" means all types of replacement parts considered separately or as assemblies which are manufactured for use and used in the repair and maintenance of "farm machinery and equipment" and shall include plow shares and shapes, and water pump cylinders. No item listed on the applicable schedule shall be deemed a repair part.

(11) "Base production" means the weight of a producer's total manufacture in the United States of any item of farm machinery and equipment for sale in the United States during either the calendar year 1940 or 1941, in whichever year such weight was the greater.

(12) "United States" means the forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and all other territories and possessions of the United States.

(13) "Current quota period" means the twelve-month period which starts July 1 of any year and ends June 30 of the following year, as identified on the applicable schedule.

(14) "Applicable schedule" means the particular schedule relating to a current quota period, and fixing manufacturing quotas (for sale in the United States) for each item listed for that period.

(c) Restrictions on production for domestic farm use—(1) Manufacturing quotas. During any current quota period, no producer shall manufacture, for sale in the United States, more of any item of farm machinery and equipment (by weight) than his quota for that item. This quota is figured by taking the percentage shown for the item on the applicable schedule, and multiplying it by his base production of the item. Exceptions to this general rule are stated in paragraph (d). Special restrictions are set forth in subparagraph (2) below and in paragraph (f).

(2) Special restrictions. (i) No person who is not a "producer" has any quota. However he may manufacture farm machinery and equipment and repair parts of an aggregate value up to $2,500 during any current quota period.

(ii) No item which is not provided for in the applicable schedule shall be manufactured as "farm machinery and equipment" for sale in the United States.

(iii) [Deleted.]

(iv) No producer who is not a "small producer" shall manufacture, for sale in the United States, any item of farm machinery and equipment except to the extent listed on an approved production schedule under paragraph (e).

(3) Adjustments in quotas. The War Production Board may, by specific written directions or authorizations issued to any producer or other person affected by this order, increase or decrease any quota or authorized use of materials; and may transfer any portions of quotas between producers, taking into account the amount and weight of materials to be used, the need for particular items at the time required in particular areas, the labor and transportation situation in the manufacturing areas involved, and such other factors as may be proper.

(d) Exceptions—(1) No quota for repair parts. Producers may manufacture repair parts for sale in the United States without any restrictions as to quota. However, they must comply with paragraph (e) with respect to production schedules.

(2) Bracketed items. Wherever, in an applicable Schedule, two or more items are bracketed together, the producer must apply the individual percentages to his base production of each item in the bracket and add up the various weights. This total permissible weight may then be distributed among all or any one or more of the items in that bracket as he chooses (regardless of the individual quota percentages).

(3) Attachments may be lumped together. Any producer may choose not to follow the individual quota percentages for items of attachments as indicated on the applicable schedule, and instead manufacture not more than an aggregate of 75% of his total base production of all attachments. This total may be distributed among all or any one or more of the attachments made by him. However, once this choice is made, the producer must stick to it for all attachments to be made during the current quota period.

(4) Small producers. Any "small producer" may use the quota percentage "100%" instead of the quota percentage listed on any applicable schedule for any item or items which he makes, but only to the extent that the weight of his total manufacture of all items of farm machinery and equipment during the current quota period does not exceed, in the aggregate, 100% of his base production of these items. In addition, small producers do not have to comply with certain provisions of this order with respect to production schedules or other reports, as stated in subparagraph (c) (2) (iv) and paragraphs (e) and (k). However, this does not relieve them from complying with all CMP Regulations and procedures.

(5) Production before or after current quota periods—(i) Advance planning of production. Before the beginning of any current quota period, producers may plan their production, order materials and start initial fabrication in accordance with the applicable schedule for the coming period. For this purpose, until such time as a new applicable schedule is issued, it may be assumed that the schedule currently in effect will apply for this next period. In other words, the schedule in effect is always the "applicable schedule" unless and until displaced by a new schedule.

(ii) Carry-over of uncompleted portions of quotas. Any portions of quotas for sale in the United States under an applicable schedule (including all amendments, appeals and specific authorizations) which are not completely manufactured by the end of the current quota period, may be carried over and added to the corresponding quotas of the next current quota period but only to the extent that they can be completed by July 31 of this next period. However, uncompleted quotas (domestic, and those under Schedule B–6) under Order L–170 may be carried over as explained above for completion any time before June 30, 1944. In addition, uncompleted quotas for the following items of harvesting machinery and equipment under Schedule A (including special authorizations, etc.) may be carried over for completion any time before September 30, 1944:

Combines (Items 126 and 126a only).
Corn binders (Items 132 and 132a only).
Corn pickers (Items 133–136).
Field ensilage harvesters (Item 137).
Peanut pickers (Item 161).
Corn shellers (Items 166 and 167 only).
Hay balers (Items 172, 172a and 172b only).
Feed grinders and crushers (Items 174, 175, and 175a only).
Portable elevators (Item 188).

(6) Substitute materials. Any person may manufacture for sale in the United States the following items, without regard to the restrictions of this order, if they are made from the substitute materials listed:

Bee hives.
Farm gates.
Feed trucks.
Grit boxes.
Hog troughs.
Laying nests.
Livestock feeders.
Milk stools.
Poultry feeders.
Poultry waterers.

These items are unrestricted only if they are made entirely (except for nails and essential strappings and fastenings, and except for doors in the case of livestock feeders) from any one or more of the following materials:

Glass or other ceramic products.
Plain concrete.
Fibre board.
Wood fibre products.
Plywood (produced with binder or adhesive not restricted by Conservation Order M–25 or any other applicable M or L order).
Gum and other hardwood lumber.
Softwood lumber (subject to the restrictions of Conservation Order M–208 and all other applicable M and L Orders).

Some of the items listed above are also given quotas on the applicable schedule. These quotas apply only to the extent that the items are to be made from iron or steel.

(7) Substitution for critical materials encouraged. If the weight of any item of farm machinery and equipment manufactured by a producer has been or will be increased by his substituting for more critical materials any of the materials listed above in subparagraph (d) (6), he may still manufacture in any current quota period the number of units which would have been within his domestic quota before making the substitution. Also a producer may apply for additional quota for any item in which he can substitute these materials entirely for more critical materials.

(8) Assignments of quota. All assignments of quota specifically authorized by appeal under Limitation Order L–170 for the period starting November 1, 1942, or under this Order L–257, are re-authorized for each current quota period. The assignee, in figuring his additional quota, must take the percentage on the applicable schedule for each item transferred and multiply it by the assignor's base production of that item. The assignor's quota is, to that extent, revoked.

(e) Production schedules—(1) AA–2 for purpose of scheduling production. Producers may schedule their production of items of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts as if the orders for these items bore a rating of AA–2.

(2) Production schedules must be filed; exemption for "small producers". With respect to each item of machinery and equipment (both farm and non-farm) and repair parts, each producer must file a production schedule on Form WPB–3053, listing the quantities he plans to have available for shipment (within his quota) to various classes of customers, in accordance with the instructions on the form. This production schedule is deemed approved as filed, unless the producer is notified in writing to the contrary by the War Production Board. "Small producers" do not have to file this form.

(3) Items on approved schedule to be available for shipment; changes in schedule. Each producer must have available for shipment each month to each class of customer the quantities of each item and of repair parts as indicated on his approved schedule. However, he may complete (within his approved total) more than his schedule in any month, except that, in the case of wheel-type tractors, a producer may not complete in any calendar quarter more tractors than the total shown on his approved schedule for that quarter, plus any approved amounts scheduled but not completed in previous quarters. He may also, if necessary, delay completion of any quantities scheduled for any class of customer for any month up to the last day of the next month. Any other change in an approved schedule must be reported on Form WPB–3181 and the change will be deemed approved as filed, unless the producer is notified in writing to the contrary by the War Production Board.

(4) Deliveries for farm use protected. A producer must deliver all quantities of items listed on an approved schedule (WPB–3053 or WPB–3181) for farm use and for export without regard to preference ratings, unless otherwise specifically directed in writing by the War Production Board. Small producers who have not filed Form WPB–3053 may deliver items for farm use and for export without regard to any orders bearing preference ratings of AA–2x or lower.

(f) Further restrictions—(1) [Deleted Mar. 23, 1944]

(2) Restrictions on sale for domestic use. Subject to such directions as may be issued from time to time as to rationing control by the War Food Administrator, no person shall sell any item of new farm machinery and equipment (except poultry equipment, horseshoes, mule-shoes, oxenshoes, and harness hardware) which was manufactured for sale in the United States, and which he knows or has reason to believe will not be used in the hands of the ultimate consumer for farm use, except to fill a contract or purchase order bearing a preference rating of AA–4 or higher. If the rated order is for an item which farmers can get only by furnishing purchase certificates under Food Production Order 14 or any other applicable regulation of the War Food Administration, the seller must not fill the order from stock. However, in the following special cases, the seller may sell any of these items from stock for non-farm use on an order rated AA–4 or higher:

(i) If the item is in his stock as a replacement for one previously sold on a rated order, or

(ii) After he has extended the rated order to his supplier and has actually received the particular item, or

(iii) If the rated order is placed with him directly by the Army or Navy (and not indirectly by a contractor or otherwise), or

(iv) If he is a producer (but producers must comply with all applicable orders and regulations, particularly paragraph (e) (4) of this order).

(g) Excess inventory. Any producer may sell to any other producer any material in his inventory which is in excess of his requirements for the items of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts authorized to be manufactured under the provisions of this order. Such sales shall be expressly permitted within the terms of paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 13.

(h) Conservation of materials. (1) If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of critical materials in the manufacture of farm machinery and equipment, non-farm machinery and equipment, or repair parts to a greater extent than this order does, the other order shall govern unless it states otherwise.

(2) The War Production Board may also from time to time issue special orders requiring standardization, simplification, substitution, or other measures to save critical materials in the manufacture of farm machinery and equipment, non-farm machinery and equipment, or repair parts.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(k) Reports. Each producer who is not a "small producer" must file by the 10th day of each month a report on Form WPB–1768 of his production during the previous month in accordance with the accompanying instructions. The first report must be filed on or before September 10, 1943. In addition, if any serious production trouble or delay develops between dates of filing the above Form WPB–1768, the producer should immediately advise the War Production Board, including the following information where applicable:

(1) The name of any material or component part, the non-delivery of which is, or will be, materially retarding his production.

(2) The name of the manufacturer or supplier with whom the order was placed.

(3) Producer's purchase order number.

(4) Date of the order.

(5) Supplier's order number.

(6) Promised date of delivery.

(l) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board, unless this order states otherwise.

(m) Order L–170. Except as otherwise stated in this order, it supersedes Limitation Order L–170 as of July 1, 1943.

(n) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Farm Machinery and Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: L–257.

NOTE: The reporting requirements in paragraphs (k), (c) (2) (iii), (e) (2) and (e) (3) have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 23d day of March 1944.

SCHEDULE A TO L–257

APPLICABLE SCHEDULE FOR CURRENT QUOTA PERIOD JULY 1, 1943 TO JUNE 30, 1944, INCLUSIVE

Manufacturing Quotas for Items of Farm Machinery and Equipment for Domestic Farm Use

Producers are not restricted by any quota percentage in the manufacture of repair parts.

Quotas for new machinery and equipment for farm use are expressed as a percentage of the net shipping weight of each item produced during 1940 or 1941, whichever was higher. In accordance with paragraph (d) (2), production of "bracketed items" may be distributed among all or any one or more items included in the particular bracket, so long as the total weight does not exceed that determined by applying the various quota percentages to the items in the particular bracket.

"Small producers" may use the quota percentage of 100% for any item or items they manufacture, so long as their aggregate production of all items does not exceed 100% of their total 1940 or 1941 production, whichever was higher, as provided in paragraph (d) (4).

Quotas for each item of attachments, unless election is made to lump together all attachments pursuant to paragraph (d) (3), are expressed as the same percentage as that listed for the machine with which the particular attachment is used (except engines).

Any item of farm machinery and equipment not provided for in this Schedule A is not to be manufactured for sale in the United States, unless specifically exempted under the order. Moreover, any manufacture of an item in excess of the percentages established in this Schedule A, even though it may be scheduled for production under paragraph (e), is permitted only if specifically authorized pursuant to paragraph (c) (3) or on appeal.

PART 1114—TIRE RETREADING, RECAPPING AND REPAIR EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L-61, as Amended Mar. 23, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the national defense has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the manufacture of retreading, recapping and repair equipment for the national defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1114.1 General Limitation Order L-61—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Retreading, recapping or repair equipment" means any mechanical device used in connection with applying uncured rubber (in the form of camelback, patching rubber or otherwise) to rubber casings or innertubes for the purpose of renewing or repairing a rubber casing or innertube. The term includes, but is not limited to; full circle molds, full circle matrices, holders, tables, steam chambers, kettle curing devices, curing rings, curing bands, pressure plates, spacer rings, curing rims, sectional molds, sectional matrices, tire and tube repair and spot equipment, tire spreaders, tire buffers, mechanical stitchers, mechanical rollers, regroovers. It does not include, however, small tools such as knives, hand rollers, hand stitchers, jacks, shears, and other miscellaneous shop tools and supplies.

(3) "Delivery" means any physical delivery of any item of retreading, recapping or repair equipment, or parts of such equipment to other persons.

(4) "Approved order" means an order for new retreading, recapping or repair equipment authorized on Form WPB-1319, which bears the certification in paragraph (d). It also means any order for new retreading, recapping or repair equipment which the War Production Board has authorized under Order L-61 before March 23, 1944, to be produced or delivered.

(b) Restrictions on production and delivery. (1) No person shall manufacture or deliver any item of new retreading, recapping or repair equipment having a retail value of more than $85, or curing rings, spacer rings, full circle and sectional matrices, regardless of retail value, except to fill approved orders.

No person shall manufacture or deliver new parts except for the maintenance and repair of existing equipment or to fill approved orders. Any order for curing rings, spacer rings, full circle and sectional matrices (new items only) must be an approved order even though the items are for the maintenance or repair of existing equipment.

Any person engaged in the business of retreading, recapping or repairing tires may purchase parts for the maintenance and repair of his equipment under CMP Regulation 5. That regulation assigns a rating of AA-2 for this purpose. Single items of retreading, recapping or repair equipment having a retail value of $85 or less other than curing rings, spacer rings, full circle and sectional matrices may also be purchased under the provisions of CMP Regulation 5. The regulation may not, however, be used for new items of equipment for which an approved order is required.

(2) Facilities which can be used in the production of items of retreading, recapping or repair equipment in more than one of the groups of the following production pattern are called interchangeable facilities in this paragraph. For the purpose of the production pattern, "molds and matrices" include curing rings, spacer rings, curing tables, steam chambers and kettle curing devices.

PRODUCTION PATTERN

Group	Type of Equipment
1	Airplane, full circle tire molds and matrices.
2	Tractor-implement rear wheel full circle tire molds and matrices.
3	Earth-mover and road grader full circle molds and matrices.
4	Repair parts for retreading, recapping or repair equipment produced after December 7, 1941
5	Tractor front wheel full circle tire molds and matrices.
6	Truck-bus full circle tire molds and matrices.
7	Sectional molds and matrices, all types.
8	Repair parts for retreading, recapping or repair equipment produced prior to December 7, 1941.
9	Inner tube repair equipment.
10	Buffers and tire spreaders.
11	Passenger tire full circle molds and matrices and miscellaneous equipment not specifically covered in groups 1 to 10 inclusive.
12	Any discontinued or obsolete types of retreading, recapping or repair equipment which the manufacturer is unable to produce without loss of production.

Interchangeable facilities must be used to produce orders for new retreading, recapping or repair equipment or for parts in the sequence established by the above production pattern. This means that a manufacturer must use interchangeable facilities to produce orders classified in each higher group before he may use the same facilities to fill orders in any lower group. If he is using interchangeable facilities for a lower group and is required by the production pattern to divert those facilities to unfilled orders in a higher group, he may postpone the diversion of facilities to the higher group for not more than 15 days after receipt of an order in the higher group.

Preference ratings for retreading, recapping or repair equipment or for parts of equipment shall have no effect upon the use of interchangeable facilities to fill orders in different groups. Orders classified in the same group, however, shall be produced and shipped in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 1.

(c) How approval is obtained. Any person who wishes to purchase any item of new retreading, recapping or repair equipment having a retail value of more than $85, or curing rings, spacer rings, full circle and sectional matrices regardless of retail value, must make his application on Form WPB–1319. The form together with instructions for its use and filing may be obtained from the nearest War Production Board Field Office.

If the application is granted by the War Production Board, the form will be returned to the applicant authorizing the production or delivery of all or part of the items requested and a preference rating or ratings may be assigned.

(d) Purchaser's certification to supplier. The person receiving authorization by the War Production Board on Form WPB–1319 may serve an approved order upon his supplier for the items of equipment authorized on the form by making certification to his supplier and to the War Production Board in substantially the following form:

> The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use any preference rating or allotment number or symbol which the undersigned has placed on this order.
> Form WPB–1319, Serial Number .....
> .....
> (Authorized Official)

The above standard form of certification is set forth in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The information added to this certification consists of the date and serial number of the authorization on Form WPB 1319.

(e) [Deleted Mar. 23, 1944]

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b), this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–61.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Records. Each manufacturer or distributor of new retreading, recapping and repair equipment affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales of such equipment.

Issued this 23d day of March 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 1226[1]—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[General Conservation Order L–89, as Amended Mar. 23, 1944]

ELEVATORS AND ESCALATORS

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the manufacture of elevators and escalators for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1226.32[1] General Conservation Order L–89—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Elevator" means any hoisting or lowering mechanism, equipped with a car or platform which moves in guides in a substantially vertical direction; including hydraulic and hydroelectric elevators, electric dumbwaiters, home lifts and elevettes; but excluding mine material hoists, man lifts, platform lifts and portable elevators. The term shall also mean inclinators, and electrically operated elevating devices appurtenant to stationary stairways.

(2) "Escalator" means a moving inclined continuous stairway or runway used for raising or lowering persons.

(3) "Order" means any commitment or other arrangement for the delivery of an elevator, escalator, or parts or accessories therefor.

(4) "Approved order" means (i) any order for a new elevator bearing a preference rating of AA–5 or higher authorized on Form WPB–617 (formerly PD–200), except an order for a new elevator to replace the existing one or to install in an existing shaft, (ii) any order for parts or equipment for an elevator or escalator bearing a rating of AA–5 or higher involving less than $500, exclusive of installation labor costs, except an order for spare or maintenance parts not required for immediate use if, by its fulfillment, the parts inventory of the purchaser is increased beyond $50 for each elevator operated by him or if his total purchase of such parts would thereby exceed $100 for each elevator in any calendar year, or (iii) an order for repair or maintenance parts in whatever amount may be the minimum necessary when there has been an actual breakdown, or suspension of operations of an elevator or escalator is imminent because of the necessity for repair and the repair parts are not otherwise available from the purchaser's inventory. No order shall be subdivided for the purpose of coming within subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph. The term "any order" includes a group of orders for equipment for one or more elevators or escalators where all of the equipment is customarily purchased as part of a single order.

(5) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continued operation of an elevator or escalator in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of an elevator or escalator to sound working condition when rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like.

(b) Restrictions on accepting orders. (1) No person shall manufacture an escalator or accept an order for delivery of an escalator.

(2) No person shall accept an order for a new elevator or for elevator or escalator parts or accessories, except an approved order, without authorization in writing from the War Production Board. Application for authorization shall be made by purchaser on Form WPB–1236 in accordance with instructions contained on the Form. The War Production Board may grant such application on such conditions, if any, as it may prescribe. An authorization by the War Production Board issued prior to March 23, 1944, meets the requirements of this paragraph.

(c) Restrictions on use of materials. No non-ferrous metals or stainless steel shall be used in the manufacture of car enclosures, facias, hanger covers, car doors or gates, car or landing thresholds or face plates of operating or signal fixtures; or in the manufacture of parts therefor.

[1] Formerly Part 1171, § 1171.1.

(d) Exemptions. (1) The restrictions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this order shall not apply to any elevator or elevator parts, equipment or accessories, to be installed and used aboard any ships owned or operated by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(2) The restrictions of paragraph (b) shall not apply to an order placed by a manufacturer or dealer for elevator or escalator parts, equipment or accessories to be delivered for further manufacture or for resale for maintenance and repair purposes.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board shall from time to time require. Specific reports and questionnaires will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(2) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time. Where the limitations imposed by other L, M or R orders are applicable to the subject matter of this order, the most restrictive limitation shall apply.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing Form WPB–1477 (formerly PD–500) or by letter, in triplicate, referring to the provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal. The appeal shall be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(5) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications, concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: L–89.

Issued this 23d day of March 1944.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT ELEVATORS AND ESCALATORS

[General Conservation Order L–89, Interpretation 1]

The following interpretation was issued with respect to General Conservation Order L–89:

Paragraph (b) (2) provides that no person shall accept an order (except an approved order) unless the order has been authorized on Form WPB–1236 (this restriction not applying to acceptance of orders exempted under paragraph (d)). An "approved order" (as defined in paragraph (a) (4) (iii) includes an order for repair or maintenance parts for an elevator or escalator where suspension of operations is imminent because of the necessity for repair and the repair parts are not otherwise available from the purchaser's inventory. A suspension of operations may be considered imminent if the condition of the cables of an elevator or the steps or hand rails of an escalator or of any other parts of an elevator or escalator would make definitely dangerous its continued operation without making the repairs; and such condition may be assumed where the cables, steps, hand rails, or other parts have been condemned pursuant to a state law or municipal ordinance requiring suspension of operations unless their repair or replacement is made within the period (normally 30 to 90 days) specified on the inspector's report. However, a possible future breakdown cannot be considered as meaning that suspension of operations is imminent.

Issued this 23d day of March, 1944.

PART 3114—SIMPLIFICATION AND STANDARDIZATION OF PORTABLE TOOLS, CHUCKING EQUIPMENT, MECHANICS' HAND SERVICE TOOLS, FILES, HACK AND BAND SAWS, VISES, MACHINE TOOL ACCESSORIES

[Limitation Order L–216, Schedule II, as Amended Mar. 23, 1944]

WRENCHES

§ 3114.3 Schedule II to Limitation Order L–216—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Wrench" means any wrench of any type specifically mentioned in Appendix A of this schedule, including any drive tools therefor. Wrenches of a type not specified in Appendix A of this schedule are not subject to its provisions.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of wrenches.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who purchases wrenches for purposes of resale, excluding persons who purchase wrenches for resale to their own employees and persons who purchase wrenches for resale as accessories for delivery with or use with items of their own manufacture.

(4) "Ultimate consumer" means any person who purchases wrenches other than a distributor.

(5) "Alloy steel" means only those alloy steels which are in the series listed in Exhibit B to General Preference Order E–6.

(6) "Nominal", when applied to any over-all length specification contained in this schedule, means that such over-all length specification is subject to a production tolerance or allowance of one-half inch over or one-half inch under the given specification; provided that a "nominal" specification does not permit the production of two different size wrenches under the one specification.

(b) Restrictions on production. (1) No producer shall commence processing any carbon or alloy steel for the production of any wrench unless such wrench when completed shall conform to all provisions of this schedule which are applicable thereto.

(2) Where any provision of this schedule prohibits the production of any wrench heretofore produced by a producer and such producer believes this imposes unreasonable hardship upon him, application for specific permission to continue the production of such wrench for the life of usable dies acquired by the producer prior to March 25, 1943 may be made to the War Production Board. Application for such permission may be made by filing a letter in triplicate setting forth a detailed description of the wrench for which permission to continue production is sought, the number of usable dies for such wrench on hand, the date of their acquisition, and the approximate number of wrenches or parts therefor which such dies are capable of producing.

(c) Limitation on the use of steel. Producers may make any of the permitted types of wrenches out of carbon or alloy steel but must not make the same type in both carbon and alloy steel unless specifically permitted to do so by Appendix A of this schedule.

(d) Limitation on styles, grades and dimensions. Except where specifically permitted by Appendix A of this schedule, no producer shall:

(1) Make more than one style or pattern of any type of wrench.

(2) Make more than one grade of any type of wrench.

(3) Make any size wrench permitted by Appendix A of this schedule to more than one set of dimensions.

(e) Limitation on finishes. (1) Wrenches may have finishes applied to them only to the following extent: They may be coated with oil or grease compound or chemical black, or lacquered, parkerized, or lead or zinc coated.

(2) Polishing is prohibited except to the extent necessary to make the wrench usable for the purposes intended; in no event shall any wrench be polished on more than one wheel, or one belt, or one similar polishing device.

(f) Limitation on production and delivery of sets. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (f), no producer shall make for his own inventory and no distributor shall acquire for his inventory or shelf stock any sets of wrenches. Any number of wrenches in excess of one which have been grouped for purposes of sale as a unit shall be deemed a "set" for the purposes of this paragraph.

(2) Nothing contained in this paragraph shall prohibit

(i) A producer from producing sets to fill a specific order placed directly or indirectly by an ultimate consumer, or

(ii) A distributor from making up a set or sets of wrenches to fill a specific order placed by an ultimate consumer, or

(iii) The production and placement of sets in either a producer's or a distributor's inventory or shelf stock of those ¼-inch drive detachable socket wrenches permitted to be produced and maintained in inventory by Appendix A and those open-end ignition (or electrical) wrenches permitted to be produced and maintained in inventory by Appendix A.

(g) Limitations on sizes and inventories. (1) No producer shall make any wrenches of any type specified in Appendix A of this schedule except in the sizes therein authorized and for the purposes therein set forth.

(2) If, with respect to any type of wrench, it is indicated that one or more sizes on Appendix A shall be selected, each producer shall select such sizes as he may desire to manufacture within the limitations prescribed, not to exceed the number so indicated and shall forthwith give notice of his selection in writing to the War Production Board, Tools Division, Reference: L–216, Schedule II. The producer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend his original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing, the original selection shall remain binding upon such producer.

(3) No producer or distributor shall maintain inventories of any wrenches of any type specified in Appendix A of this schedule except in the sizes in which inventories are specifically permitted by such Appendix A in the hands of either producers or distributors.

(h) Limitation on segregation by brand or trade name. Notwithstanding the provisions of any contract or purchase order, no producer shall hold or reserve wrenches for a particular customer if deliveries under orders from other customers entitled to preference will be delayed thereby, whether or not such wrenches are stamped or marked with a special brand or trade name.

(i) Exemptions. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this schedule, the following are exempt from the provisions herein contained:

(1) The production of any wrenches which has been commenced prior to May 31, 1943, provided such wrenches will be completed within ninety days after May 31, 1943.

(2) Wrenches for Whitworth and Metric bolts and nuts;

(3) Shanks, chucks, or sockets for power driven nut runners or impact power drivers.

(j) Applicability of other orders. All the provisions of General Preference Order E–6 which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this schedule shall apply to the production and delivery of wrenches.

Issued this 23d day of March 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

Recording Secretary.

(2) "Nippers" means any nippers or pincers of any type specifically mentioned in Appendix A of this schedule. Nippers of a type not specified in Appendix A of this schedule are not subject to its provisions.

(3) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of pliers or nippers.

(4) "Distributor" means any person who purchases pliers or nippers for purposes of resale, excluding persons who purchase pliers or nippers for resale to their own employees and persons who purchase pliers or nippers for resale as accessories for delivery with or use with items of their own manufacture.

(5) "Ultimate consumer" means any person who purchases pliers or nippers other than a distributor.

(6) "Alloy steel" means only those alloy steels which are in the series listed in Exhibit B to General Preference Order E-6.

(7) "Nominal", when applied to any over-all length specification contained in this schedule, means that such over-all length specification is subject to a production tolerance or allowance of one-half inch over or one-half inch under the given specification: Provided, That a "nominal" specification does not permit the production of two different size pliers or nippers under the one specification.

(b) Restrictions on production. (1) No producer shall commence processing any carbon or alloy steel for the production of any pliers or nippers unless such pliers or nippers when completed shall conform to all provisions of this schedule which are applicable thereto.

(2) Where any provision of this schedule prohibits the production of any pliers or nippers heretofore produced by a producer and such producer believes this imposes unreasonable hardship upon him, application for specific permission to continue the production of such pliers or nippers for the life of usable dies acquired by the producer prior to March 25, 1943, may be made to the War Production Board. Application for such permission may be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, setting forth a detailed description of the pliers or nippers for which permission to continue production is sought, the number of usable dies for such pliers or nippers on hand, the date of their acquisition, and the approximate number of pliers or nippers, or parts therefor, which such dies are capable of producing.

(c) Limitation on the use of steel. Producers may make any of the permitted types of pliers and nippers out of carbon or alloy steel but must not make the same type in both carbon and alloy steel unless specifically permitted to do so by Appendix A of this schedule.

(d) Limitation on styles, grades and dimensions. Except where specifically permitted by Appendix A of this schedule, no producer shall:

(1) Make more than one style or pattern of any type of pliers or nippers.

(2) Make more than one grade of any type of pliers or nippers.

(3) Make any size pliers or nippers permitted by Appendix A of this schedule to more than one set of dimensions.

(e) Limitation on finishes. (1) Pliers and nippers may have finishes applied to them only to the following extent: They may be coated with oil or grease compound or chemical black, or lacquered, parkerized, or lead or zinc coated.

(2) Polishing is prohibited except to the extent necessary to make the pliers or nippers usable for the purposes intended; in no event shall any pliers or nippers be polished on more than one wheel, or one belt, or one similar polishing device.

(3) Except where specifically permitted by Appendix A of this schedule, no producer shall knurl or impress the handles of any pliers or nippers.

(f) Limitations on sizes and inventories. No producer shall make any pliers or nippers of any type specified in Appendix A of this schedule except in the sizes therein authorized and for the purposes therein set forth.

(g) Selection of sizes for production. If, with respect to any pliers or nippers, it is indicated that one or more sizes on Appendix A shall be selected, each producer shall select such sizes as he may desire to manufacture within the limitations prescribed, not to exceed the number so indicated and shall forthwith give notification of his selection in writing to the War Production Board, Tools Division, Reference: L-216 Schedule III. The producer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend such selection but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing, the original selection shall remain binding upon such producer.

(h) Limitation on segregation by brand or trade name. Notwithstanding the provisions of any contract or purchase order, no producer shall hold or, reserve pliers or nippers for a particular customer if deliveries under orders from other customers entitled to preference will be delayed thereby, whether or not such pliers or nippers are stamped or marked with a special brand or trade name.

(i) Exemptions. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this schedule, pliers or nippers the production of which has been commenced prior to May 31, 1943 are exempt from the provisions of this schedule, provided such pliers or nippers will be completed within ninety days after May 31, 1943.

(j) Applicability of other orders. All the provisions of General Preference Order E-6 which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this schedule shall apply to the production and delivery of pliers and nippers.

Issued this 23d day of March 1944.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Supplementary Order L-103-b as Amended Mar. 23, 1944]

GLASS CONTAINER AND CLOSURE QUOTAS

§ 3270.36 Supplementay Order L-103-b. This order lists the only products which may be commercially packed in new machine-made, glass containers or with new metal closures. It specifies closure materials and sets forth the number of glass packages and metal closures which may be used for each listed product. In addition, some restrictions are placed upon the manufacture of closures.

The order limits "commercial packs" only. Although there are certain manufacturing restrictions, the use of glass containers or metal closures for home canning purposes is not affected.

Likewise, the provisions of this order cover only new glass containers and closures. Used containers or closures are not limited. However, closures which are fabricated from used closures—that is, where the used closures are a production material—are regarded as new closures made of "waste" and are governed by the pertinent provisions of this order.

Definitions of the various terms used in this order appear in paragraph (x) hereof.

Restrictions on Use of Glass Containers and Closures

(Note exceptions from these restrictions in paragraphs (p) through (v)).

(a) Prohibited acceptances and uses of glass containers and closures. No packer shall accept delivery of or use any new glass container, or any new metal closure for packing any product not listed in a schedule of this order.

(b) Limitations on acceptance and use of glass containers and closures. Likewise, during any calendar year beginning with 1944, no packer shall accept delivery of or use, for packing any product which is listed in a schedule of this order, more new glass containers or more new metal closures (other than closures made from waste) than his quota for that product. However, jobbers or retailers may obtain closures and glass containers and resell them in conformity with the provisions of this order.

(c) Closure materials. No packer shall accept delivery of or use, for packing any product, new metal closures made of any material except those permitted for that product in the schedules of this order. However, blackplate (including rejects) may be used wherever tinplate or terneplate is specified, and frosen plate may be used wherever tinplate, terneplate or blackplate is specified. Likewise, closures made of waste may be used in accordance with the following paragraph:

(d) Closures made of waste. Closures made of waste shall not be used for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order. Closures made of waste may be used in addition to specified quotas for listed products.

(e) Home canning jars. No packer shall pack any commodity in a home canning jar. (Note that the use of these jars for home canning is not restricted).

Quotas

(f) General. Closure and glass quotas are stated separately in the attached schedules, and are not necessarily the same for any given product.

Quotas are not interchangeable as between listed products. That is, a packer who packs two products, product A and product B, must compute his quota (in the manner described in the following paragraph (g)) for each product separately. He cannot allot any portion of his quota for product A to product B, even if he does not pack his full quota of product A.

Furthermore, quotas may not be transferred from one packer to another except as provided in Priorities Regulation 7A.

(g) Computation of quotas. In most cases where this order provides a quota for the packing of any product, it does so, in the attached schedules, by stating a percentage figure followed by a calendar year—for instance, 100% 1943. Where this appears in the "glass quota" column opposite a product, it means, unless otherwise specified, that a packer's glass container quota for that product during 1944 and subsequent calendar years is computed as follows:

(1) He takes the number of new glass containers which he used for packing that product during the named base year.

(2) He subtracts the number of new glass containers which he used for packing that product during the named base year and which were quota exempt under the provisions of any prior order of the War Production Board or under any previous amendment of this order.

(3) He multiplies the resulting figure by the applicable percentage.

Identical rules apply to the computation of closure quotas, except that unless otherwise specified they are based on the number of new metal closures used during the specified base period.

The schedules of this order provide that the quotas for some products are based on the number of new metal closures or new glass containers accepted rather than those used during the specified base period. Here again, the method of computation, described in this paragraph, applies, except that the word "accepted" should be substituted for the word "used" in steps 1 and 2 above. Only the new metal closures or the new glass containers which a packer actually accepted delivery of and those which were invoiced to him during the applicable base period may be included in his quota base in such cases. But, for the purpose of making charges against quota, a packer must include the new metal closures and the new glass containers which he actually accepts delivery of, and those which are set aside for him or held by another party for his account—whether or not they are actually invoiced to him.

In a few cases, the schedules of this order set forth special rules, not covered by the above, for the computation of quotas for particular products. Such rules must be followed, and supersede the general statements contained in this paragraph (g) to the extent that they conflict with them.

(h) Use of quotas. As indicated above, most quotas are based on past use. The word "use" refers only to the actual filling operation in the case of glass and the actual capping operation in the case of closures. Therefore, to the extent that a person did not do this directly during the base period, he has no quota, despite the fact that he may have supplied the actual packer with the product, closures, containers, etc. After December 31, 1943, any packing done for him must be within the quota of the person performing the actual filling and capping operation.

In the case of products whose quotas are based upon acceptances, a person is deemed to have "accepted" glass containers or closures (for the purpose of computing quotas) only to the extent that he himself actually took possession of them or had them invoiced to him. If he did not do this during the base period, he has no quota, and the rules stated in the preceding paragraph of this paragraph (h) apply.

Packers who use or accept new glass containers or metal closures for packing products for the account of others, as well as for their own account, must conduct both operations within their own quotas. Without a special appeals grant under this order, they cannot regard their use or acceptances of glass containers and metal closures for the account of others as an addition to their quotas. This is true even where the other person may represent to the packer that he has a quota which he is not using himself.

On the other hand, packers are entitled to include, in their own quota bases, their use or acceptances of new glass containers or new metal closures, for the account of others during the specified base periods.

Restrictions on Sale and Delivery of Glass Containers and Closures

(i) General restrictions. No person shall sell or deliver any glass containers or closures which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be accepted or used in violation of any provision of this order.

(j) Export deliveries. During any calendar year, no person shall deliver more empty new glass containers or more new metal closures to any person outside of the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia than he delivered to that person during 1943.

(k) Certificates. No person shall sell or deliver any new glass containers or new metal closures except under a purchase order or contract validated by the delivery to such person of a purchaser's certificate, signed manually, or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7.

This certificate shall be in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A in the case of sales or deliveries of all glass containers, and of all metal closures except malt and non-alcoholic beverage closures. Attention is called to the fact that this certificate, once filed by a purchaser with a supplier, covers all future deliveries from that supplier to that purchaser.

The certificate should be in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit B, where sales or deliveries of malt or non-alcoholic beverage closures are concerned. This certificate differs from Exhibit A in that it must be filed with each purchase order for beverage closures in order to validate the order.

Jobbers as well as packers must file certificates in accordance with this paragraph (k). However, in Exhibit B, jobbers need only supply the information called for in sections (b) and (d) of that certificate.

(l) Outstanding certificates. Certificates previously filed with a supplier under any previous amendment of this order, shall remain valid insofar as sales or deliveries of glass containers are concerned. Exhibit A certificates previously filed under order M-104, shall remain valid insofar as closure (other than malt or non-alcoholic beverage), deliveries are concerned. In either of the above cases, no new certificate need be filed by any purchaser to validate his orders placed with the supplier to whom the previous certification was made.

(m) Cases where certificates need not be filed. No certificates shall be required for the sale or delivery of the following:

(1) Home canning jars
(2) Home canning closures
(3) Returnable glass containers for packing products listed in item 66 of Schedule I
(4) Prescription bottles and ointment jars for prescription use
(5) Closures for prescription and ointment jars for prescription use
(6) Glass containers or closures of any kind to retailers for resale empty or unused or to persons purchasing them from retailers.

(n) Standard certifications. The standard certification provided for in paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation 7, cannot be used in place of the certifications provided by this order; nor may the certifications provided by this order be waived in accordance with paragraph (f) of Priorities Regulation 7.

Restrictions Relating Solely to Manufacture of Closures

(o) Closure material. (1) No person shall use any zinc, aluminum, tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, frozen plate, waste-waste or waste for the manufacture of the following types of closures:

(i) Cover caps which serve as a protective or decorative closure in addition to any original sealing medium (other than paraffin) such as another closure.

(ii) Double shell or semi-double shell caps.

(iii) Two-piece closures when both pieces are made of metal, except as permitted in paragraph (o) (2).

(2) No person shall use any zinc, aluminum, tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or wire for the manufacture of any closure of the home canning type, except as, and to the extent permitted in Schedule VII attached to this order. No closure manufactured pursuant to Schedule VII shall knowingly be sold to, or used by, any person for packing any product for sale.

(3) No person shall use any tinplate, terneplate or blackplate heavier than 90 pounds per base box for the manufacture of crown caps. This restriction does not apply to rejects, frozen plate waste-waste, or waste.

(4) No person shall use for the manufacture of closures, any tinplate with a tin coating in excess of 0.50 pound per base box except as follows: 1.50 tinplate may be used to make closures for packing items 1 to 46, inclusive, in Schedule I. However, even in the case of these items all persons are urged to use 0.50 tinplate whenever possible.

(5) No person shall use any wire for the manufacture of paperboard disc plug caps, having a diameter of two inches or less, for milk bottles.

Exceptions Pertaining to Both Glass Containers and Closures

(p) Deliveries to certain agencies and persons. Nothing in this order shall prohibit the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use (such use to be in addition to any quota specified in the schedules attached to this order) of glass containers or closures by any of the following persons or by any person for packing any product to be delivered to or for the account of any of the following persons:

(1) Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration of the United States (including persons operating vessels for such Administration or Commission for use thereon).

(2) Any person for packing products for retail sale or distribution through post-exchanges, sales commissaries, officers' messes, servicemen's clubs, ship service stores, or outlets; provided same are located at Army or Navy Camps, are not operated for private profit and are established primarily for the use of Army or Navy personnel within Army or Navy establishments or on Army or Navy vessels.

(3) American Red Cross, United Service Organizations, or such other nonprofit Defense Recreation Committees, engaged in the operation of recreation centers in the 48 States of the United States or the District of Columbia solely for military personnel, as are certified to be within the exemption provided by this paragraph (p) (3) by the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services, OEM.

(4) Any agency of the United States purchasing for a foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(q) Special provisions in schedules relative to exempt deliveries to certain agencies and persons. The schedules of this order contain certain limitations on the exception provided by the preceding paragraph (p) in the case of certain products—as, for instance, ice cream mix and malt and nonalcoholic beverages. In such cases, the provisions of the schedules are controlling and supersede paragraph (p) to the extent that they conflict therewith.

Exceptions Relative to Glass Containers Only

(r) Small users. The restrictions of this order which pertain to glass containers shall not apply to any person, who was a packer before January 1, 1944, during any calendar year in which he accepts no more than a total of five hundred ($500.00) dollars worth (cost price to him) of empty new glass containers for all products.

(s) Large size glass containers. The restrictions of this order which pertain to glass containers shall not apply to any glass container with a capacity larger than 140 fluid ounces.

(t) Glass containers of non-permitted sizes manufactured prior to January 4, 1944. A packer may accept and use, for packing any product listed in the schedules of this order, any glass container which was manufactured before January 4, 1944, even though the container is of a size which is not permitted for that product by the schedules. Such acceptance and use must be in accordance with the quota provisions of this order and with the provisions of Order L–103.

(u) Quota status of glass containers in inventory as of January 1, 1944. Glass containers in the possession of a packer as of January 1, 1944, may be used by him for packing any listed product as follows:

(1) Quota free, if accepted for packing a product which had a limited quota in 1943, (unless "borrowed" as described in point 3 of this paragraph).

(2) Within quota, if accepted for packing a product which had an unlimited quota in 1943.

(3) Within quota, if borrowed against anticipated 1944 use as permitted in paragraph (e) of this order as amended November 1, 1943.

Exceptions Pertaining to Closures Only

(v) Small users. The restrictions of this order which pertain to closures shall not apply to any person during any calendar year in which he accepts no more than five thousand new metal closures for all products.

Prior Appeals

(w) Appeals granted prior to December 31, 1943 under Order M–104 and Order L–103–b. All appeals granted prior to December 31, 1943 under orders L–103–b and M–104 are cancelled and shall be ineffective on and after January 1, 1944. Therefore, after that date, no person shall accept delivery of or use or shall manufacture, sell or deliver any new glass container or any new metal closure except in accordance with the provisions of this order—unless he receives a new grant on appeal after January 1, 1944.

Definitions

SCHEDULES—GENERAL EXPLANATION

Schedules I through VI list the only products which may be packed in new glass containers or with new metal closures. Schedule VII relates to the manufacture of home canning closures.

The data set forth in the two "quota" columns, opposite each product, indicate the number of new glass containers and new metal closures (determined in accordance with the general rules set forth in paragraph (g) of Order L–103–b), which may be used for packing that product. However, any special quota provisions which these schedules make applicable to any product, are controlling to the extent that they conflict with paragraph (g).

The "X" mark which appears opposite each product in one of the columns headed "closure material" indicates that, except as listed hereafter, only closures made of the specified material may be used to pack that product. The general exceptions from this rule are:

(i) Closures made of blackplate (including rejects) may be used, within quotas, wherever tinplate or terneplate is specified.

(ii) Closures made of frozen plate may be used, within quota, wherever either tinplate, terneplate or blackplate is specified.

(iii) Closures made of waste may be used in addition to specified quotas for listed products.

All special provisions of these schedules relating to closure materials for specific products must be followed, and control to the extent that they conflict with the above.

All size specifications for glass containers set forth in these schedules must be followed in addition to the provisions of Order L–103 and its schedules.

Attention is called to paragraphs (p) through (v) of Order L–103–b which establish limited exceptions to the provisions of this order. Here again, any special provisions which these schedules contain relative to quota exemptions—as in the case of ice cream mix and certain beverages—must be observed.

SCHEDULE I—FOODS

NOTE: Item 68 amended, 68a added Mar. 23, 1944.

No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a glass container by the same or a different person, in the same or a different form, except as follows (or as otherwise specifically permitted in this schedule):

(i) When required for the packing of other products, pineapple may be repacked from No. 10 cans. Grape juice, grape pulp, citrus peel and pulp may be repacked from reusable cans, 5-gallons or larger. Apricots and peaches, solid pie pack, may be repacked from No. 10 cans or larger. No. 10 cans cut under this provision must be properly cleaned and returned to the nearest detinning plant.

(ii) Tomato paste, tomato pulp or puree, and tomato sauce may be repacked from No. 10, or from 5-gallon or larger reusable cans when required for packing other products, or for repacking in different form (other than in the form of tomato paste or tomato pulp or puree), but none may be repacked in the same form. No. 10 cans cut under this provision must be properly cleaned and returned to the nearest detinning plant.

(iii) Closures made of aluminum may be used for any product listed in this schedule for which aluminum closures were used in 1939, 1940 or 1941. However, all aluminum closures must be used within, and charged to, the quotas established by this schedule.

Product	Calendar year packing quota glass	Calendar year packing quota closures	Closure material

(b) Exceptions from glass quota provisions. In addition to his quota of glass containers for malt beverages, any packer may accept delivery of the following portion of the number of new or used glass containers used, or actually to be used, during the then current calendar year for delivering malt beverages to or for any of the persons listed under paragraph (p) of this order:

(1) Export shipment. The full amount of glass containers for delivering malt beverages to or for any such person for shipment to points outside the continental United States.

2. Domestic consumption. 6% of the full amount of glass containers for delivering malt beverages to or for any such person for use or distribution within the continental United States.

(d) Closure material. (See Note 1) Blackplate (including rejects) as allocated; electrolytic waste-waste, and frosen plate. Hot dipped waste-waste may be used only to make malt beverage closures which are to be exported unused. The export of unused malt beverage closure is exempted from the limitations of paragraph (j) of this order.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Limitation Order L–317 as Amended Mar. 23, 1944]

FIBRE SHIPPING CONTAINERS; MANUFACTURE AND USE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supply of materials entering into the production of fibre shipping containers for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3270.6 Limitation Order L–317—(a) "Fibre shipping container". For purposes of this order, the term "fibre shipping container" means the following items:

(1) Any box, crate, case, basket, or hamper in set-up or knock-down form which is made in whole or in part from solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre and which is used for the delivery or shipment of materials. This does not include the following: trunks, luggage, or military locker boxes; fibre cans, tubes, or drums; inner cartons (except corrugated inner cartons and except inner cartons made from solid fibre .045 or heavier). It also does not include combination wood-and-fibre shipping containers consisting of 50% or more wood (by area).

(2) Any solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre sheet or roll to be used for wrapping, packaging, or otherwise protecting a product or material for shipment. This does not include corrugated or solid fibre sheets produced for delivery to plants, of the type commonly referred to in the container-manufacturing industry as "sheet-plants", for their use in manufacturing fibre shipping containers.

(3) Any solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre interior fitting which is cut to size for use in any type of container to provide content protection, structural strength, or both. This includes, but is not limited to, the following: partitions; pads; liners; sun bursts; corrugated wrappers (single-faced, double-faced, double-walled).

(b) "User". The term "user" means any person who uses fibre shipping containers for the shipment or delivery of materials in connection with his business.

(c) "Containerboard content". The term "containerboard content" means the amount of solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre containerboard in a fibre shipping container. This amount is computed both in terms of weight and in terms of square feet.

Manufacture and Delivery Prohibitions

(d) General. No person shall manufacture any new fibre shipping container which he has reason to believe will be used or accepted in violation of any provision of this order. No person shall sell or deliver any new fibre shipping container manufactured after October 11, 1943, if he has reason to believe it will be so used or accepted.

(e) Prohibited types (Schedule A). No person shall manufacture, from solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre, any container of the types listed in Schedule A of this order.

Use Prohibitions

(f) Prohibited uses—(1) Schedule B. Schedule B of this order lists certain products which may not be packed in new fibre shipping containers and certain other products which may not be packed in less than specified quantities, in new fibre shipping containers. No user shall accept or use any new fibre shipping container for any product in violation of Schedule B. This restriction does not apply to (i) containers used for wholesalers' or retailers' deliveries (as defined in Schedule C of this order), (ii) empty containers used by the Army or Navy, or (iii) containers which are quota exempt under paragraph (t) below.

(2) Carlining. No person shall use in the shipping of any product any new solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre sheet or roll as carlining except where needed for door-blocking. When such sheet or roll is used for door-blocking, only the necessary practicable minimum quantity shall be used.

(g) V-boxes. No user shall use any new V-box for packing any product except for delivery against military or Lend-Lease orders which specify that V-boxes be used. No user shall accept delivery of any V-boxes unless he has reason to believe that he will need them for the use permitted in this paragraph. The restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to empty V-boxes used by the Army and Navy. The term "V-boxes" means shipping containers of the types designated as V–1, 2 and 3, in Army Specification O. Q. M. G. No. 93, dated December 2, 1942, and of the similar types described in Navy Department Specification 53B11 (INT.) and in Food Distribution Administration Specification 1742–C.

Quota Restrictions

(h) Quota products (Schedule C). Schedule C of this order lists certain products, and certain types of container uses. Beginning as of October 1, 1943, users are permitted to use only a limited amount of new fibre shipping containers for packing any of the listed products (or for any of the listed uses), during each 3-month period (exclusive of amounts which are quota-exempt under paragraph (t) below). The limited amounts are called "quotas". The 3-month periods are called "quota periods". As explained below, there are two types of quotas—"footage quotas" and "tonnage quotas". (The percentages stated after the items in the amendment of March 23, 1944, do not apply until April 1, 1944. For all products which appeared on Schedule C before March 23, 1944, the percentages specified for those products by the schedule before that date apply until April 1, 1944.)

(i) Quota restriction. During any 3-month quota period, the total containerboard content of the new fibre shipping containers used by any user for packing any Schedule C product (or for any Schedule C use) shall exceed neither his footage quota nor his tonnage quota for that product (or use). Quotas are to be computed in accordance with the next four paragraphs below. (The restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to empty containers used by the Army or Navy or to containers which are quota-exempt under paragraph (t) below).

(j) Computing footage quota. A user's "footage quota" for any Schedule C product (or use) shall be the following amount: the containerboard content (in terms of square feet) of the new fibre shipping containers used by him during the corresponding 3-month period in 1942 for packing that product (or for that use) multiplied by the quota percentage listed in Schedule C for that product (or use).

(k) Computing tonnage quota. A user's "tonnage quota" for any Schedule C product (or use) shall be the following amount: the containerboard content (in terms of weight) of the new fibre shipping containers used by him during the corresponding 3-month period in 1942 for packing that product (or for that use) multiplied by the quota percentage listed in Schedule C for that product (or use). In the case of a Schedule C product, the resulting amount may be increased to the extent permitted in the next paragraph.

(l) Minimum-pack allowance. If a user's tonnage quota for any Schedule C product is not enough for a "minimum pack" of that product, his tonnage quota for that product is increased to the extent needed for a minimum pack. However, the footage quota for that product is not increased. "Minimum pack" means the amount of a Schedule C product packed by the user during the corresponding 3-month period in 1942 multiplied by the quota percentage listed in Schedule C for that product.

(m) Adjustments for "reshippers". For quota purposes, "reshippers" shall be treated as though they were new fibre shipping containers. Accordingly, the containerboard content of all reshippers used by a user during the corresponding quarter of 1942 for packing a Schedule C product may be included in figuring his footage and tonnage quotas (paragraphs (j) and (k) above). Likewise, the containerboard content of all reshippers used by a user during any quota period for packing any Schedule C product shall be charged to his footage and tonnage quotas for that product. The term "reshippers" means new fibre shipping containers in which empty inner containers (such as glass jars, cans, etc.) are shipped to a packer and which are then used by the packer for shipping or delivering inner containers packed by him with some product.

Inventory Restrictions

(n) Inventory restrictions. No person shall accept any delivery which will increase his inventory of unfilled new fibre shipping containers to more than his maximum permitted inventory. He may figure his maximum permitted inventory in either (but not both) of two ways—"over-all" basis or "individual-item" basis.

(o) Over-all basis. On the over-all basis, his maximum permitted inventory of all sizes and types shall be no more than a combined total of 1½ carloads.

(p) Individual-item basis. On the individual-item basis he figures a separate inventory for each "container item class." In each class he figures how many he will need to meet his reasonably anticipated requirements in the next 30 days (as restricted by a quota on Schedule C, if any). If that is more than 1200 complete sets of that class his inventory for that class is his 30-day requirement; if not, it is 1200. The total of all his classes figured in this way will be his maximum permitted inventory, which he may divide among his several sizes and types as he sees fit. A "container item class" includes all new fibre shipping containers of the same or similar sizes and types currently being used by him. (A variation in size or type which does not make a container unsuitable for shipping the same amount of a product in substantially the same shape and form shall not be considered as representing a different size or type.)

(q) Seasonal-foods and military exceptions. The 30-day supply maximum in paragraph (p) above shall not apply to requirements for packing seasonal foods or to the Army's or Navy's requirements for empty new fibre shipping containers. Instead, the "practicable minimum working inventory" provision in § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1 (and Interpretation 1a of that regulation) shall apply in those cases.

Multiple-Unit Organizations

(r) Multiple-unit organizations. Any user who uses new fibre shipping containers at more than one place may choose to apply the quota and inventory restrictions of this order either to the operations of each place separately or to the collective operations of all his places. The same choice as to the inventory restrictions is available to any container-distributor who deals in new fibre shipping containers at more than one place. After making his choice, no person shall thereafter change it unless authorized by the War Production Board. Any user or container-distributor organization which consists of a parent corporation and one or more wholly-owned subsidiary corporations may consider itself as a single user or distributor for the purposes of this paragraph.

Exceptions and Exemptions

(s) Small-user exception. The quota restrictions of paragraph (i) above do not apply to any user during any calendar year in which he accepts no more than a total of $500 worth (cost price to him) of new fibre shipping containers for all products (whether or not on Schedule C).

(t) Use and quota exemptions for certain government orders. The use prohibitions of paragraph (f) above and the quota restrictions of paragraph (i) above do not apply to new fibre shipping containers which are used by any user (whether a manufacturer or a distributor) for delivering any product to any of the following persons or which are used by any user for delivering any product to be redelivered by another party (without further processing, fabrication, or incorporation into any other product, exclusive of wholesalers' and retailers' minor finishing or decorative operations as mentioned in Schedule C) to any of the following persons:

(1) The U. S. Army or Navy (exclusive of post exchanges or ship's service departments located within the 48 states and the District of Columbia).

(2) The Maritime Commission; the War Shipping Administration.

(3) Any U. S. agency making Lend-Lease purchases.

New fibre shipping containers used for those purposes may be regarded as being in addition to the user's quota for the product involved.

(u) Exceptions for stocks in transit or on hand. Any user may use for the purpose for which he acquired them any new fibre shipping containers which were in his possession or which were in transit to him on or before October 11, 1943. In the case of any product added to Schedule B after that date he may use for that product the containers which he had acquired or which were in transit to him for that product on or before the date on which the item was added to the schedule. These exceptions are subject to the quota restrictions of paragraph (i).

Miscellaneous Provisions

(v) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(w) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–317.

(x) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(y) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 23d day of March 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

Retailers' deliveries—mail, express, and common carrier	70
Retailers' deliveries—other than mail, express, and common carrier	60

These "restricted uses" items relate only to deliveries made by persons who have not produced the products delivered nor done any fabrication or processing work on them other than minor finishing or decorative operations usually performed by wholesalers and retailers (such as assembly of knocked-down furniture, monogramming of linen and jewelry, alteration of clothing). "Retailers' deliveries" means deliveries made by any such person who sells exclusively or predominantly at retail. "Wholesalers' deliveries" means deliveries made by any such person who sells exclusively or predominantly at wholesale. The quota for each type of use represents the maximum total amount of containers which can be so used for all products (whether or not listed in Schedule C). The quota takes the place of a separate quota for each Schedule C product.

INTERPRETATION 1

The restrictions of L-317 (§ 3270.6) are applicable only to new fibre shipping containers. A question has arisen as to the status of such containers which have been rejected during the course of manufacture or upon delivery because of errors in size, printing, etc. Such containers are new containers and subject to the restrictions contained in the order until they have been used for the packing of a product. (Issued Nov. 6, 1943)

RATINGS FOR TWINE AND WRAPPING MATERIALS

The following interpretation was issued with respect to Conservation Order M–328:

Ratings for twine and other materials on Schedule A of M–328 used for wrapping must conform to the conditions specified in paragraph (a) of the order to be valid.

Such materials used to wrap products are not incorporated into the product which is wrapped. PART 3293—CHEMICALS

VITAMIN A

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of Vitamin A for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.601 Allocation Order M–373—(a) Definitions. (1) "Vitamin A" means vitamin A derived from or contained in fish liver oils or fish viscera oils, in crude or refined form. The term includes, but is not limited to Vitamin A concentrates and esters and Vitamin A in blended oils. The term does not include pro-vitamins A such as caretones, cryptoxanthin, etc.; nor Vitamin A contained in oils which have less than 1000 USP–XII units of Vitamin A per gram, or in oils in which the number of USP–XII units of Vitamin A per gram is less than five times the number of USP–XII units of Vitamin D per gram; nor Vitamin A in cod liver oil; nor Vitamin A in standard dosage form (tablets, capsules, ampuls, solutions, etc.) or in retail pharmaceutical packages; nor Vitamin A compounded or mixed in food, feeds or feeding oils.

(2) "Concentrate" means any concentrate of Vitamin A derived from fish liver oils, fish viscera oils, other fish oils, or from fish livers or viscera if the concentration of Vitamin A in the product is increased beyond four times that in the original oil, or in the case of livers or viscera, beyond four times that of the oil which would have been obtained by ordinary extraction methods.

NOTE: Subparagraphs (4), (5), and (6), formerly (3), (4) and (5), redesignated Mar. 23, 1944.

(3) "Feeding oils" means oils or blends or admixtures of oils containing not more than 6000 U. S. P. units of Vitamin A per gram, irrespective of the Vitamin D content, used in animal or poultry feeds or feeding. The term shall include only those oils, blends or admixtures of this description which were manufactured before February 28, 1944, or were manufactured from Vitamin A within the quota for the February 28, to March 31, 1944 period or were subsequently manufactured from Vitamin A specifically allocated for this purpose or available for this purpose under the small order exemption. Any person buying feeding oils for animal or poultry feeds or feeding, or for resale for this purpose, may assume that such oils are not Vitamin A subject to this order.

(4) "Supplier" means any producer, importer, concentrator, or blender, or any person who purchases Vitamin A for resale as such without further processing or admixture, but does not include an exporter.

A supplier who also exports Vitamin A shall treat his export operations as a separate entity from his other operations for the purpose of this order.

(5) "Use" means the incorporation of Vitamin A into pharmaceutical preparations, feeds foods, feed oils, and the like, and includes blending and concentrating Vitamin A and the packaging of Vitamin A into retail pharmaceutical units. Authorization to use Vitamin A for any purpose carries with it authorization to perform all intermediate operations.

(6) "Unit of measure" is expressed in terms of USP–XII units of Vitamin A determined either on the basis of animal assay or spectrophotometric analysis.

Requirements for February and March 1944

(b) Restrictions on acceptance of delivery. During the period from February 28 to March 31, 1944, inclusive, no person shall accept delivery of more than 600,000,000 USP–XII units of Vitamin A in the aggregate from all suppliers, except Vitamin A in transit consigned to him on February 28, 1944, or except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to Appendix B.

(c) Restrictions on delivery. No supplier shall deliver Vitamin A which he knows or has reason to believe would be accepted in violation of paragraph (b) above.

(d) Restrictions on use. During the period from February 28 to March 31, 1944, inclusive, no person shall use more Vitamin A than 12% of the quantity which he used during all of 1943, except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to Appendix B. In computing quantities used currently and during the base period, exclude quantities used in fulfillment of U. S. Government contracts or subcontracts.

Requirements Beginning April 1, 1944

(e) Restrictions on delivery, acceptance of delivery and use. Beginning April 1, 1944, no supplier shall deliver Vitamin A to any person, no person shall accept delivery of Vitamin A from a supplier, and no person shall use Vitamin A, except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board upon application pursuant to Appendices B and C.

(f) User's one-time base period report. Each person (including a supplier), at or before the time when he files his initial application in accordance with Appendix B for authorization to use or accept delivery of Vitamin A, shall file a one-time report on his past use and inventory in accordance with Appendix A.

(g) Small order exemption. Specific authorization is not required for:

(1) Acceptance of delivery and use by any person of 500,000,000 USP–XII units or less of Vitamin A in the aggregate during any calendar month from all suppliers.

(2) Delivery by any supplier to any customer in any calendar month of 500,000,000 USP–XII units or less if the total amount delivered on all such small orders does not exceed the sum of the following:

(i) The amount which he has been specifically authorized, upon application pursuant to Appendix C, to deliver on small orders;

(ii) The amount which he has been specifically authorized, upon application pursuant to Appendix B, to receive or use for the purpose of filling small orders;

(iii) The amount which he himself acquired on small orders and has not used for other purposes;

(iv) The amount which he had on hand on April 1, 1944, if he sells exclusively on small orders.

(h) Allocated inventory. Vitamin A allocated for inventory shall not be used or disposed of for any purpose, except as specifically directed by the War Production Board. Material which has not been used for the purpose for which it was allocated shall revert to inventory as if originally allocated to it. Applications for authorization to use Vitamin A allocated for inventory shall be filed pursuant to Appendix B. Pending receipt of Vitamin A allocated for a particular purpose stocks on hand may be used for that purpose, provided that the quantity withdrawn is replaced upon receipt of the allocated Vitamin A.

(i) Toll arrangements. In the case of any toll arrangement where vitamin A is produced, concentrated, blended or otherwise processed or used by another person for the owner of the vitamin A, the owner shall apply for any necessary authorizations and shall be subject to the limitations of this order as if he were performing the operation himself, but deliveries between the owner and the processor under the toll arrangement may be made without restriction.

(j) Duration of authorization for delivery. If it is not practicable for a supplier to make all deliveries in the month for which authorized, he may complete them as early as practicable in the next month, but the authorization shall terminate if the purchaser fails to place his order before the end of the authorized delivery month or if the purchaser requires postponement of delivery beyond ten days after the authorized month.

(k) Duration of authorization for acceptance of delivery. A purchaser may accept delivery after the authorized month, but shall notify the War Production Board and hold the vitamin A intact subject to direction from the War Production Board, if he knows or has reason to believe that the shipment was made after the authorization for delivery had expired.

(l) Duration of authorization for use. Authorization for use shall be valid during the authorized month and the following month. Any unused portion at the end of the period shall not be used for any purpose until further authorized or directed by the War Production Board, upon application for use from inventory pursuant to Appendix B.

(m) Special directions. The War Production Board at any time may at its discretion, issue special directions to any person with respect to:

(1) Delivery or acceptance of delivery of vitamin A;

(2) Preparation of applications and reports under Appendices A, B or C, subject to approval of the Bureau of the Budget when required by Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(n) Notification of customers. Each supplier is requested to notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(o) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Limitation Order L–40. In addition to the restrictions of this order, the use of vitamin A is subject to the provisions of Limitation Order L–40 (§ 3293.6) as amended.

(3) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. M–373.

Issued this 23d day of March 1944.

(3) Any quantity of thermoplastics required to fill purchase orders or contracts of the Army or Navy of the United States, or of any agency of the United States Government for Lend-Lease purposes, shall not be charged against the quota permitted by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (d). Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation 17, the foregoing provisions of this subparagraph (3) shall not apply to any contract or purchase order for delivery to or for the account of any United States Army or Marine Corps Post Exchange or any United States Navy Ship's Service Department, with the exception that 25 per cent of the quantity of thermoplastics required to fill contracts or purchase orders for delivery to or for the account of any such Post Exchange or Ship's Service Department shall not be charged against the quota permitted by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (d).

(e) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided herein, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Each manufacturer and each distributor of scales must file form WPB–3495 monthly in accordance with the instructions thereon. This reporting requirement has the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(j) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, may appeal to the War Production Board setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

PART 3302—SERVICE EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–190, Schedules, as Amended Mar. 23, 1944]

SCALES, BALANCES AND WEIGHTS

§ 3302.22 Schedules of Limitation Order L–190. The following schedules are issued pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (e) (4) of Limitation Order L–190, as amended.

SCHEDULE I—BABY-WEIGHING SCALES

No baby-weighing or nursery scales shall be fabricated or assembled, except scales which conform to the following specifications:

1. No manufacturer shall manufacture any model of baby-weighing or nursery scales other than the one which, of all models manufactured by him during 1942, contains the least amount of steel by weight per scale, exclusive of the tray.

2. No manufacturer shall manufacture any baby-weighing or nursery scales containing any copper or copper-base alloys.

3. No manufacturer shall equip any baby-weighing or nursery scales with copper or copper-base alloy trays fabricated after April 20, 1943.

SCHEDULE II—RAILWAY TRACK SCALES

"Railway track scales" means scales for weighing railway cars in interchange service, excluding hot ladle scales, bar mill scales, plate scales, charging scales, mine car scales, wheel load scales, tipple scales, and any other scales normally produced for other purposes, even though equipped with rails. After October 24, 1943, no railway track scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales which conform to the following specifications:

(1) No person shall manufacture any railway track scales, except scales designed for weighrails which are either 42 feet, 50 feet, 60 feet, or 72 feet in length.

(2) No person shall manufacture any railway track scales with rated sectional capacities other than 30, 50, 60, 75, 100, 150 or 200 tons per section.

(3) No person shall manufacture any weighbridges for railway track scales requiring the use of more metal by weight than the American Railway Engineering Association specifications for weighbridges for weighrails of the lengths permitted in Specification No. 1.

(4) No person shall manufacture a railway track scale having a lever system other than the one which, of all those previously manufactured by him in accordance with American Railway Engineering Association specifications for scales of the same capacity, contains the least weight of material.

(5) No person shall manufacture any railway track scales other than four section scales.

SCHEDULE III—MOTOR TRUCK SCALES

The reason for issuing this schedule is to reduce the quantity of scarce materials consumed in the manufacture of motor truck scales to the lowest practicable amount. The War Production Board does not mean to suggest that scales made under this schedule will be as durable as scales containing larger quantities of materials. After October 24, 1943, no pit type motor truck scales, other than grain dump scales, shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales which conform to the following specifications:

(1) No person shall manufacture any sizes of scales other than the seven listed in the following table. The lever system and weighbridge adopted for each specified platform size must be the one which contains the least amount of materials by weight for the corresponding lever capacity which the manufacturer has been accustomed to manufacture and rate as specified:

Size number	Platform size	Lever capacity
		Tons
1	22 feet by 9 feet	15
2	24 feet by 10 feet	20
3	24 feet by 10 feet	30
4	34 feet by 10 feet	30
5	40 feet by 10 feet	30
6	45 feet by 10 feet	50
7	60 feet by 10 feet	50

(2) [Deleted Mar. 23, 1944]

SCHEDULE IV—PORTABLE BEAM SCALES

"Portable beam scales" means only scales which are normally equipped with wheels and which use a weighbeam as the indicating element. After October 24, 1943, no portable beam scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales which conform to the following specifications:

(1) No person shall manufacture more than five models of portable beam scales. The principal specifications of the models permitted are listed in the following table. The capacity specified refers to maximum indicating capacity in pounds avoirdupois, including tare capacity, if provided, and the total value of counterpoise weights, if provided. Maximum and minimum platform dimensions are stated for each model. No manufacturer shall make more than one platform size within the size limits specified. For use with each listed model a manufacturer may make not more than three models of weighbeams—a full capacity weighbeam, a single weighbeam for use with counterpoise weights, and a weighbeam with tare bar for use with counterpoise weights. Each of these three models of weighbeams may be graduated in the avoirdupois system, in the metric system, in a foreign system, or any two systems. If graduated in other than the avoirdupois system, the capacity shall be the nearest practicable equivalent of the avoirdupois capacity specified. Model No. 2 and model No. 3 may be made with or without wheels.

Model No.	Capacity	Platform dimension adjacent to pillar	Other platform dimension
1	1,000 lbs.	16" to 18"	24" to 27"
2	2,000 lbs.	22" to 28"	31" to 32"
3	2,000 lbs.	42" to 44"	33" to 35"
4	3,000 lbs.	23" to 27"	32" to 35"
5	4,000 lbs.	30" to 32"	36" to 41"

SCHEDULE V—ROLLING MILL SCALES

"Rolling mill scales" means only beam type rolling mill scales normally equipped with wheels. After October 24, 1943, unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board in writing, no person shall manufacture more than one model of rolling mill scales. This model shall have a capacity of 10,000 pounds avoirdupois, shall be made only with one lever system, and shall be made with one size of main platform. The latter restriction does not apply to super-platforms or racks.

SCHEDULE VI—PORTABLE DIAL SCALES

After October 24, 1943, no portable dial scales normally equipped with wheels shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales with platforms measuring 21 inches adjacent to the column by not less than 20 inches or more than 30 inches.

SCHEDULE VII—DIALS

"Dial scales" means only scales having pendulum actuated head mechanisms, but does not include crane scales. After October 24, 1943, no dials for new dial scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing except dials which have a reading line with a diameter of either 20 inches, or not more than 15 inches nor less than 14 inches.

SCHEDULE VIII—SELF-CONTAINED FLOOR SCALES

"Self-contained floor scale" means a scale enclosed and supported by its own frame, manufactured as a complete weighing unit, and designed primarily for installation with the platform surface at floor level. Self-contained floor scales include so-called "dormant" scales, and for purposes of this schedule include "fulcrum stand" scales, in which the fulcrum stands are held in fixed position by means of tie-rods. After October 24, 1943, no self-contained floor scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales with skeleton frame, wood box or fulcrum stand construction.

SCHEDULE IX—BUILT-IN FLOOR SCALES

PART 1429—POULTRY AND EGGS

POULTRY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1429.14 (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) Regional establishment of local maximum base prices for special forms of processed poultry. (1) Each Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration is authorized to establish a maximum base price for any special form of processed poultry prepared in a manner separate and distinct from any of the following forms—dressed, Kosher-killed, Kosher-dressed and plucked, drawn, and frozen-eviscerated—where it appears that:

(i) Such special form of processed poultry has customarily been marketed in any locality in his region in substantial quantities for a period of twelve months prior to December 18, 1942; and

(ii) Such special form of processed poultry is prepared to meet the racial, religious, or traditional eating habits of the populace in that locality where it is marketed; and

(iii) By reason of marked preference of a substantial segment of the local consuming public, no other form of processed poultry can adequately be substituted for such special form; and

(iv) Those persons who have customarily prepared and marketed such special form of processed poultry will sustain undue hardship unless a maximum base price is established for such special form of processed poultry.

(2) The powers delegated to each Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration in subparagraph (1) immediately above, are subject to the following limitations:

(i) Any action taken by the Regional Administrator shall restrict the applicability of the maximum base price adopted for any special form of processed poultry to those persons who engaged, as a usual practice during the December 1, 1941, to December 1, 1942, period, in processing and selling poultry in the special form designated by the Regional Administrator.

(ii) No Regional Administrator may take any action which will create or tend to create a poultry shortage or need for increase in poultry prices in another locality, and which will nullify or defeat the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(iii) No Regional Administrator may establish a maximum base price for any special form of processed poultry which will exceed the actual cost involved in the processing and marketing of such form of poultry plus a generally fair and equitable margin of profit.

(iv) No Regional Administrator may establish a maximum base price for any special form of processed poultry which is so far out of relationship with the maximum base prices already established in this regulation for dressed, Kosher-killed, Kosher-dressed and plucked, drawn, and frozen-eviscerated poultry, as to disrupt or tend to disrupt the normal movement of such processed poultry in his region or in any other region in the United States of America.

(v) No maximum base price for any special form of processed poultry may be established by any Regional Administrator unless such proposed maximum base price has first been submitted in writing to the Price Executive of the Poultry, Eggs and Dairy Products Branch of the Food Price Division of the Office of Price Administration, and to the Division Counsel for Food of the Office of

The application must be made by the consumer himself or by someone acting for him, and may be made in person or by mail. Separate applications must be made for each type of stove for which a certificate is sought.

(b) Where application is made. Application for a certificate shall be made to the "board" serving the area where the stove is to be used. However, if the stove is to be used in a vehicle or boat, the application shall be made to the board serving the area where the vehicle or boat is customarily garaged, stationed or kept, or if the applicant shows good cause for not applying to that board, to the board serving the area where the vehicle or boat is located at the time of application.

2. Section 3.1 (c) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) An agency of the United States.

3. Section 6.3 (a) (1) is amended by adding after the period at the end of the subparagraph the sentence: "However, if the offer is made by a consumer to another consumer, the certificate need be given up only at the time the stove is transferred".

4. Section 6.3 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Beginning September 1, 1943, a dealer, distributor or manufacturer must give up a certificate to the transferor of a stove at the time the offer is made or the order is placed for that stove, and the transferor may not accept the offer or order unless it is accompanied by a certificate. However, in the following cases the certificate need be given up only at the time the stove is transferred:

(i) A purchase or acquisition of a stove from an agency of the United States (section 6.7).

(ii) A purchase or acquisition of a stove from a person who acquired it under a WPB priority (section 6.8).

(iii) A purchase or acquisition of a stove from a dealer, distributor or manufacturer in connection with the closing of his establishment (section 9.4).

5. Section 6.7 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6.7 Agencies of the United States may transfer stoves to persons other than an agency in exchange for certificates. (a) Any agency of the United States may sell or otherwise transfer stoves only if the transferee gives up to the agency certificates for the type of stoves transferred at the time the stove is transferred. The agency shall, within 30 days after the sale or transfer, submit to the OPA District Office for the area in which the agency's local office making the sale or transfer is located, the certificates obtained for the stoves so sold or transferred, and if the transferee is a dealer or distributor, a report on its official letterhead showing the number, by ration type, of the stoves transferred, the date of the transfer, and the name and address of the transferee. (Transfers to another agency of the United States are included in section 7.11).

(b) A dealer or distributor may borrow certificates from his Board. A dealer or distributor who has a contract with an agency of the United States to acquire stoves from it may apply to the Board with which his establishment is registered for certificates for the purpose of acquiring those stoves. If the Board is satisfied that the applicant has such a contract and that he does not owe certificates to a supplier for stoves of any type shipped on certificate credit (under section 6.3 (b)), or for excess inventory of stoves of the type contracted for, it will issue him the certificates for the number of stoves of the type requested, not to exceed, however, the number he has contracted to buy from the agency.

(c) Payment of loan. A dealer or distributor who receives certificates from the Board under paragraph (b) must use them for the purpose for which they were obtained or return them to the Board within 20 days of their issuance. If he gives up the certificates to the agency, he must surrender to the Board the certificates he receives from the transfer of the stoves so acquired as the certificates are received. If he has not sold or otherwise transferred all those stoves within 6 months from the date he acquired them, he must thereafter surrender to the Board certificates for the number and types of the remaining stoves as certificates are received by him from the sale out of stock of any stoves of those types; until he has done so, he may not use any certificate for the purpose of acquiring that type of stove for inventory.

6. Section 6.8 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 6.8 Transfers of stoves acquired under WPB priority orders. A person specified in section 1.3 (c) (other than an exempt agency or other agency of the United States), who acquired a stove under a priority order of the War Production Board for a purpose specified in that section may, upon receiving the approval of the OPA District Director for the area in which he is located, transfer that stove to a consumer, dealer, distributor or manufacturer. The transfer may be made only if the transferee gives up to the transferor a certificate for the type of stove transferred at the time the stove is tranferred. The transferor must surrender the certificate to the District Director by the date specified by the District Director.

7. Section 7.11 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 7.11 Acquisition of stoves for transfer by agencies of the United States—(a) No certificates required. No certificates need be surrendered in exchange for stoves acquired, for transfer, by an agency of the United States. However, if the transferor is a dealer or distributor the agency must, within 7 days after such acquisition, submit to the OPA District Office for the area in which the agency's local office is located a report on its official letterhead showing the number, by ration type, of the stoves acquired, the date of acquisition and the name and address of the transferor. (The submission of a report is not required if the transfer is made under a priority order).

(b) Accounting for stoves transferred. The report will be forwarded through the appropriate District Office to the Board for the area in which the transferor's establishment is located. If the transferor is not closing his establishment pursuant to Section 9.4, the Board will issue certificates to the transferor for the number and type of stoves transferred to the agency, after deducting the certificates, if any, owed it by the transferor because of excess inventory of stoves of that type, or owed it for any other reason. If the transferor is closing his establishment, the report shall be used to account for the stoves transferred by him to the agency.

This amendment shall become effective on March 28, 1944.

Section 944.10 of Priorities Regulation No. 1 provides that where limitations imposed by two or more rules, regulations or orders are applicable, the most restrictive provision shall apply, unless otherwise expressly provided. This means that if another order of the War Production Board has limitations on the use of aluminum which are more restrictive than the regulations of this Order M–1–l, the restriction of the other order must be obeyed.

[3] Aluminum in controlled material forms may be ordered for research, developmental and experimental activities by placing an order bearing the controlled material symbol V–9 and the standard CMP certification, all as provided in Order P–43.

(c) Repair. The restrictions of this order shall not apply to making repair parts for a specific repair of a used article, or to a person repairing a used article, when aluminum parts or aluminum material is used to replace aluminum or a scarcer material. Order M–1–d requires that any part or material replaced be turned over to a scrap dealer if it contains aluminum and is good only for scrap.

(d) Requests for authorization to use aluminum. Any person who seeks to obtain specific authorization of the War Production Board to use aluminum for a purpose not permitted by paragraphs (b) or (c) of this order should do so by applying by letter to the Aluminum and Magnesium Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M–1–l, which letter should be filed in duplicate and contain substantially the information, numbered as shown below.

(1) Weight, form and alloy of aluminum, for which authorization to use is requested.

(2) The number of months the quantity of aluminum requested will cover estimated requirements.

(3) The part to be fabricated, or other use to be made of the aluminum requested.

(4) The product into which such part will be incorporated, and end-use of the product.

(5) The reasons, in detail, why the use of material other than aluminum is impracticable.

(6) If previous requests for this use have been authorized or denied, give reference number of most recent authorization or denial.

Special consideration will be given to requests for the use of aluminum in connection with approved programs of the War Production Board, where the use of aluminum would mean a substantial saving in man-hours or of material scarcer than aluminum, increase in production or increased efficiency of the product.

(e) Contamination. No person shall contaminate aluminum with any other metal or material, except that a producer or approved smelter may mix aluminum with other metals in the production of aluminum alloys, or except that any person may mix aluminum with other metals in the production of other alloys subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) hereof. (See also the provisions of Supplementary Order M–1–d with respect to aluminum scrap.)

(f) Restrictions on deliveries. No person shall deliver any aluminum if he knows or has reason to believe that such aluminum is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(h) Tolling. Except as the War Production Board may specifically authorize on Form WPB–165 (formerly Form PD–114) or otherwise, no aluminum shall be delivered or received for melting under any toll, repurchase or similar arrangement.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priorities control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Conservation Order L–41, Interpretation 4]

PORTABLE STRUCTURES ON SKIDS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Conservation Order L–41.

The erection of a portable or pre-fabricated building is construction and, consequently, is limited by Order L–41 whenever the building is either placed on a foundation constructed on the site or is placed on skids in a spot where it is intended to remain for an undetermined time. The only case in which the erection of a portable or pre-fabricated building is not "construction", is when it is placed on what is intended to be a temporary site with the purpose of moving it from time to time and without affixing it to the land by plumbing, public utilities connection, or in any other way. For example, the erection of a portable structure for use as a garage on a house lot is generally construction, but the erection of a shelter to be moved around for use on different parts of a farm from time to time is not construction.

Issued this 24th day of March 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 1159—ELECTRIC HEATING PADS

[General Limitation Order L–84, Revocation]

Section 1159.1 General Limitation Order L–84 is revoked. This revocation does not affect any liability incurred under this order. The restrictions set forth in General Limitation Order L–65 continue to be applicable to electric heating pads.

Issued this 24th day of March 1944.

[General Limitation Order L–314, as Amended Mar. 24, 1944]

LUBRICATION EQUIPMENT

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials used in the production of lubrication equipment, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1226.127 General Limitation Order L–314—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Lubrication equipment" means any new machinery, equipment, device, or appliance for dispensing grease, oil, or other lubricant, or for applying a lubricant to any machinery or equipment at any point requiring lubrication; including general and special purpose lubrication equipment, lubrication fittings, oil and grease cups and receptacles and hand oilers as well as furnishings, accessories, appliances, of the types defined in paragraph (c) (1) of this order. It includes repair parts for any of such equipment. The term "lubrication equipment" shall not, however, include any of the following types of equipment designed to be used exclusively for railway locomotives or railway track rails (i) hydrostatic lubricators for steam locomotive valve and cylinder lubrication or for steam locomotive auxiliaries; (ii) mechanical lubricators and lubricating system for steam locomotive valves, cylinders, chassis and running gear members and auxiliaries; (iii) mechanical lubricators for diesel electric and electric locomotive chassis and running gear members; (iv) journal lubricators for driving, engine truck, trailer truck or tender journals using either oil or grease as a lubricating medium; (v) rail and flange lubricators as used on railway track rails.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person who constructs, manufactures, or assembles lubrication equipment for resale.

(3) "Distribution outlet" means any person to the extent that he engages in selling lubrication equipment to jobbers or other wholesalers. The term includes (but is not limited to) a manufacturer's sales agency, branch warehouse or other sales or distribution outlet, if so engaged.

(4) "Jobber or other wholesaler" means any person (other than a manufacturer) to the extent that he engages in selling lubrication equipment to retail dealers. The term does not include retail dealers selling to other retail dealers or repair shops in quantities of $35.00 or less per month per customer.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance and deliveries of orders—(1) Retail sales. After October 31, 1943, no person shall accept any order for lubrication equipment having a retail value of more than $35, from any person acquiring the equipment for his own use in dispensing or applying lubricants, or deliver more than that amount of such equipment to any such person under any order tendered after that date, unless the order is rated AA-5 or higher. No purchaser acquiring equipment for his own use shall divide his purchases into more than one order for the purpose of bringing them within the $35 exemption thus allowed, or purchase more than that amount of equipment during any thirty-day period without a rating of AA-5 or higher on the excess.

(2) General distribution. After October 31, 1943, no manufacturer or distribution outlet shall accept any order for lubrication equipment from a jobber or other wholesaler unless the order bears a preference rating of AA-5 or higher.

After November 20, 1943, no manufacturer or distribution outlet shall deliver any lubrication equipment to a jobber or other wholesaler except to fill an order bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher.

These restrictions do not apply to orders for replacement fittings of the types in general use on automobiles, trucks, or buses.

(3) Preference ratings required. (i) A jobber or other wholesaler may extend ratings received from his customers. He may apply for additional ratings on Form WPB-547, formerly PD-1X, even though he buys from a distribution outlet, despite any inconsistent instruction accompanying such form.

(ii) A retail dealer is not required by this order to have any ratings for orders placed by him with any supplier, although he may extend any ratings received from his customers.

(iii) A distribution outlet engaged in the business of buying and stocking or warehousing lubrication equipment and reselling it as such, may apply for a rating on Form WPB-547, formerly PD-1X, and may extend ratings received from jobbers or other wholesalers.

(This paragraph (b) (3) does not prevent the use of other forms, such as WPB-646 for marine suppliers, by any person entitled to use them in applying for ratings.)

(4) [Deleted Mar. 24, 1944]

(c) Production restrictions. (1) No manufacturer shall fabricate or assemble any of the following kinds of lubrication equipment:

(i) Metal shielded grease and oil barrel pumps.

(ii) Metal shielded portable grease pumps and transfers, except that metal shielding may be used in the manufacture of air powered portable grease pumps designed to hold 25 to 50 pounds original grease containers, but only where such shielding acts as the support for the pumping mechanism.

(iii) Metallic wall batteries, compartments, liners and cabinets, whether for individual or multiple installation.

(iv) Metallic backgrounds, panels, shelving and display boards.

(v) Metallic gun carriers, gun boards, gun racks, service boards and gun carriages and carts which are not to be delivered to and for use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, or the military forces of any Lend-Lease country.

(vi) Metallic centerstands, centerwells, lubewells, service or job write-up desks, metal shielded waste oil drains, oil bars, motor oil dispensing cabinets and combination service outlet-waste oil drains.

(2) [Deleted Mar. 24, 1944]

(3) The limitations and restrictions of subparagraph (c) (1) above shall not apply to or prohibit the following:

(i) The completion of any piece of lubrication equipment, from component parts that were fabricated prior to March 24, 1944, and which constitute not less than 80% of the finished piece of equipment (according to the aggregate weight of such parts), if the manufacturer cannot reasonably anticipate that he can utilize such parts as maintenance or repair parts within six months after that date; or

(ii) The fabrication or assembly of parts to be sold for maintenance or repair of lubrication equipment, where such parts would not be interchangeable with the replaced parts, if manufactured in accordance with this order.

(4) Beginning January 1, 1944, no manufacturer shall fabricate or assemble maintenance or repair parts in any calendar quarter in an amount exceeding, in dollar resale value, 150 per cent of the dollar resale value of maintenance and repair parts sold by him during the corresponding calendar quarter in the period from July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941. This limit shall not apply to parts for direct use by the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, or the military forces of any Lend-Lease country. As used in this paragraph (c), "maintenance" shall mean the upkeep of lubrication equipment in sound working condition, and "repair" shall mean the restoration without change of design of any portion of lubrication equipment to sound working condition when such portion has been rendered inoperative or unsafe or unfit for service by wear, or tear, damage, destruction, failure of parts, or other similar causes.

(d) Conservation. No manufacturer shall fabricate or assemble any lubrication equipment other than in accordance with the following restrictions:

(1) No chromium, bismuth, tin, zinc or nickel, or alloys thereof, shall be used in the fabrication of parts, finishes, or plating, except in solder or bearings, and except that:

(i) Repair parts for lubrication equipment which was fabricated prior to November 20, 1943, may be made of the same material as the part to be repaired or replaced if and to the extent that parts fabricated in accordance with the restrictions of this paragraph (d) would not be interchangeable with such existing parts because of the change in materials used.

(ii) [Deleted Dec. 20, 1943]

(iii) Zinc may be used for galvanizing, plating, and for die cast parts. (See, however, Conservation Order M-11-b for limitations on quantity.)

(iv) Chromium-stainless or chromium-nickel-stainless steel may be used for pump cylinder sleeves, pistons, valve seats or moving valve parts, and indicator rods which require free movement, for central pumping units in centralized lubricating systems.

(v) N. E. alloy steel may be used for cylinder sleeves, pistons, worm and drive shafts for central pumping units in centralized lubricating systems.

(vi) Nickel-copper alloy may be used in the manufacture of monel hydraulic fittings only for use aboard ships or amphibious equipment by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration where required by applicable specifications (other than performance specifications) of the agency for whose use the fittings are to be delivered.

(2) Rubber and synthetic rubber shall not be used except as permitted in Rubber Order R-1, as amended, or any relief granted pursuant to an appeal taken in accordance with the provisions of such order.

(3) Cadmium shall not be used except as permitted in General Preference Order M-65, as amended, or any relief granted pursuant to an appeal taken in accordance with the provisions of such order.

(4) Aluminum shall not be used except for industrial spray guns and grease guns, and then only where aluminum, copper or copper base alloy was used in commercial production in the United States during 1939, 1940 and 1941.

(2) "Steel furnace" means any furnace the heating surface of which is wholly or partially made of steel.

(4) No person shall manufacture any furnaces except in the fuel types manufactured by him during the base period.

(c) Restrictions on delivery and installation. (1) No person shall deliver a new furnace having extra panels for turning radiators, except when specified in the purchase order for an individual installation.

(g) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other order issued by the War Production Board, or to be issued by it hereafter, limits the use of any material to a greater extent than the limitations imposed by this order, the restrictions of such order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form WPB–1477 (formerly PD–500) with the Field Office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

A manufacturer may not produce any item to fill preferred orders under this paragraph until the preferred order is actually received by him.

(2) Such additional metal visible reference panels as can be produced out of 40% of the aggregate weight of iron and steel used by a manufacturer in the production of metal visible reference panels in the year ending June 30, 1941: Provided, That no new steel other than flat rolled sheets or strip less than twelve inches in width be used in such production.

(c) Restrictions on transfer. No manufacturer shall sell or deliver any new item of metal office and industrial furniture and fixtures, except

(d) Reports. On or before the tenth day following the close of each calendar month, every manufacturer of safes, insulated files, or visible reference panels, shall file with the War Production Board, Form WPB–1600, according to the instructions accompanying that form. This reporting provision has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Limitation Order L–13–a, Interpretation 1 as Amended Mar. 24, 1944]

METAL OFFICE AND INDUSTRIAL FURNITURE AND FIXTURES

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Limitation Order L–13–a.

Paragraph (a) (2) defines "metal bank vault equipment" as "metal office and industrial furniture and fixtures." Doors made of metal used for metal bank vault equipment (such as, doors for boxes within the bank vault, but not doors giving access to the vault) are subject to L–13–a. All other metal doors, metal door frames and metal shutters, as defined in Limitation Order L–142, are subject to the restrictions of that order, even though they may be the door, door frame or shutter of a bank vault.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 389 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 12 (c) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Local delivery. Where the seller makes local delivery to the buyer's store door, otherwise than by peddler delivery, and treats the point at which local delivery begins as the point of delivery for determining the zone differential to be added to the base price, he may add $0.25 per hundredweight if such delivery is completed within 25 miles of the point from which such local delivery starts, or $0.50 per hundredweight if such delivery is completed over 25 miles from such starting point. A store means a restaurant, hotel, retail store, a wholesaler's or hotel supply house's warehouse, or the place where actual physical possession of the product is taken by a government agency.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter II—Office of Defense Transportation

[General Order ODT 43]

PART 501—CONSERVATION OF MOTOR EQUIPMENT

COMMON CARRIERS OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS

General outline. This order requires that every common carrier of household goods by motor truck, herein referred to as household goods carrier, shall eliminate wasteful operations and shall conserve and maintain motor trucks, tires and other facilities necessary in conducting the business of such carriers.

The order also provides that no household goods carrier shall operate any motor truck in over-the-road service which is not loaded to 80 percent of capacity, without first registering with the nearest district office of the Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, and obtaining clearance authority from the Office of Defense Transportation. The order establishes the conditions under which clearance authority will be issued. These conditions require the registration of each empty truck, or truck laden to less than 80 percent of capacity, prior to its departure from any point, and the transportation of any household goods found, upon such registration, to be available for transportation to, toward or beyond the registered destination of the truck. Provision is also made for the optional registration by a household goods carrier of a motor truck for the transportation of other suitable freight. Other loading and operating requirements are established.

The order further provides that each household goods carrier shall register with the nearest district office of the Division of Motor Transport any shipment of household goods which the carrier is unable to load or to transport within the periods of time established by the order.

Each district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation is authorized and required, subject to certain limitations, to direct household goods carriers to accept and transport shipments of household goods to, toward or beyond the destination point of a registered truck. A district manager is authorized and required to issue clearance authority under the conditions set forth in the order. Other provisions govern interchange and diversion of traffic, determination of applicable rates and charges, division of revenues between carriers, settlements between carriers, compliance by carriers with directions of a district manager in the event of disagreement over division of revenue, adjustments of such disagreements, filing of tariffs, records and reports, and carrier liability.

Provision is made in the order for the issuance of special or general permits to meet specific needs or exceptional circumstances or to prevent undue hardship. Provision is also made for the submission of plans for joint action to the Office of Defense Transportation for approval.

Household goods carriers are not permitted to extend or inaugurate new service without prior approval of the Office of Defense Transportation.

This general outline shall not be construed to alter the meaning of any provision contained in the order.

The text of General Order ODT 43 follows:

Pursuant to the Act of May 31, 1941, as amended by the Second War Powers Act, 1942, Executive Order 8989, as amended, Executive Order 9156, and War Production Board Directive 21, and in order to assure the maximum utilization of the facilities, services and equipment of common carriers of household goods by motor vehicle, to prevent shortages of motor vehicles utilized in the transportation of household goods, to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, materials and supplies, including rubber and rubber substitutes, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 501.390 Elimination of waste; conservation. Every household goods carrier shall:

(a) Eliminate wasteful operations; and

(b) Conserve and properly maintain tires, motor trucks and other facilities necessary in conducting the business of such carrier.

§ 501.391 Loading and operating requirements. (a) No household goods carrier shall operate any motor truck which is not loaded to 80 percent of its capacity, for the transportation of household goods in over-the-road service except as follows:

(1) Prior to the departure from any point of an empty truck or a truck loaded to less than 80 percent of its capacity, the carrier, or the representative in the immediate control and possession of the truck, shall register the truck with the nearest district office for the transportation of household goods registered with such district office and available for transportation to, toward or beyond the destination point of the truck; and

(2) Consistent with prior commitments involving the use of the truck en route, the carrier, or the representative in the immediate control and possession of the truck, shall accept and transport, to the load capacity of the truck, all household goods registered and available for transportation to the point of destination or to any point intermediate to or beyond such destination point; or

(3) There is in force with respect thereto, clearance authority issued by the Office of Defense Transportation in accordance with the provisions of this order.

(b) A motor truck which has been so disabled en route that a load equal to 80 percent of its capacity cannot be transported or carried thereon may be operated in over-the-road service empty or partially laden to the nearest point at which the carrier operating such truck maintains, provides or can obtain repair service.

(c) There shall be carried in each truck operated in over-the-road service by a household goods carrier a statement in writing, verified by the oath of the carrier, or by the oath of a duly authorized representative of such carrier, providing the following information:

(1) The name and address of the carrier;

(2) The interstate or intrastate operating authority held by the carrier for the transportation of household goods; and

(3) The amount of cargo insurance, public liability and property damage insurance, if any, then in force in respect of the truck, the name and address of any such insurer, together with the number, and the effective period or periods, of any such policy or policies of insurance.

(d) No household goods carrier shall operate in over-the-road service any motor truck, the gross weight of which exceeds by more than 20 percent its rated load carrying ability.

(e) No provision of this order shall be construed to require the loading of a motor truck so that the gross weight of the truck will exceed the actual safe capacity of any bridge or other structure en route, as determined by State or local authorities, or will exceed the maximum gross weight limitations prescribed by the applicable State law, proclamation or regulation, Federal statute, Federal regulation, or Executive Order, whichever is currently controlling, in which event such truck shall be loaded as nearly to its capacity as may be consistent with such applicable limitations and the provisions of this order.

(f) The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require or permit any carrier to perform any transportation service, the performance of which is not authorized or sanctioned by law.

§ 501.392 Registration of truck; information required. (a) Every household goods carrier, when registering any empty or partially loaded truck as required or permitted by this order, shall submit, at its expense, to the district office, by telephone, telegraph, mail, or in person, the following information:

(1) The place at which the person providing the information may be reached;

(2) The name and address of the owner or lessee, and the name of the operator of the truck;

(4) The space, in cubic feet, available for loading;

(5) The point and time at which the truck will be available for loading;

(6) The destination of the truck;

(7) The home license plate number and the State of issue; and

(8) If the carrier elects to transport suitable freight, to so state.

§ 501.393 Registration of shipments; information required. (a) Every household goods carrier, when registering shipments as required by this order, shall submit, at its expense, to the district office, by telephone, telegraph, mail, or in person, the following information:

(b) No household goods carrier shall register any shipment for transportation between points which such carrier is not authorized to serve.

§ 501.394 Cancellation of registration. Whenever, after registration, any truck or shipment of household goods becomes unavailable for the purpose for which it was registered, the registering carrier forthwith shall notify the district office thereof and of the reasons therefor, and thereupon the registration shall be cancelled.

§ 501.395 Use of information registered. Information registered pursuant to this order shall be used by the district manager, as provided by §§ 501.396 and 501.397 of this order, without discrimination, preference, or partiality.

§ 501.396 Authority of district manager. (a) Upon registration of a truck or of a shipment of household goods by a carrier pursuant to this order, the district manager, to the extent necessary to avoid operations in over-the-road service of empty trucks, or trucks loaded to less than capacity, may:

(1) In respect of any empty truck, or a truck loaded to less than 80 percent of capacity, registered by a household goods carrier, direct that the truck be used in a specific movement for the transportation of designated household goods;

(3) Issue clearance authority as provided in § 501.397 of this order.

(b) The district manager shall not direct a household goods carrier to transport in any truck a load in excess of a capacity load or direct the transportation of household goods in any truck unsuitable or inadequate for such transportation.

(c) The district manager shall not direct a household goods carrier to transport in any truck any shipment which will cause damage to, or contaminate, the truck or other equipment or other lading being transported thereon.

(d) The district manager shall not direct a household goods carrier to perform any transportation service which it is not authorized to perform.

(e) The district manager shall not direct that a registered shipment of household goods be transported by a specified household goods carrier which has registered a truck when it appears from the verified statement carried in the truck pursuant to § 501.391 (c) of this order that the carrier does not maintain cargo insurance adequate to cover the declared or released value of the registered shipment.

(f) The district manager shall not direct that the departure of any empty or partially loaded truck be delayed beyond a reasonable time during any calendar day, or be delayed overnight, for the purpose of transporting household goods which may be available for transportation during such day, unless the volume of such household goods is in excess of 500 cubic feet and the distance to its destination is in excess of 200 miles, in which event the district manager may direct that the departure of such truck be delayed for a period of not to exceed 24 hours.

(g) The district manager shall not direct a household goods carrier to transport household goods beyond the registered destination of the truck, or to any point off the route that the truck otherwise would have traveled, unless:

(1) The distance traveled by reason of complying with such direction will not exceed by more than 25 percent the distance the truck otherwise would have traveled to reach its registered destination, and

(2) The truck will be laden with 50 percent or more of a capacity load for 75 percent or more of the distance traveled.

§ 501.397 Issuance of clearance authority. (a) Subject to the provisions of § 501.396 of this order, clearance authority shall be issued by the district manager in respect of a registered truck to a household goods carrier:

(1) When the carrier has accepted for transportation all shipments of household goods that the district manager has directed the carrier to transport, or

(2) When there are no registered shipments of household goods which the district manager is authorized to direct the carrier to transport.

(b) The issuance of clearance authority shall be evidenced by a clearance number, which shall be assigned by the district manager in respect of the registered truck at the time of issuance thereof, and shall authorize the movement of the truck to a specified point without further inquiry or registration. The clearance number may be given to the carrier, or to the carrier's representative, in person, by mail, or by telephone or telegraph.

§ 501.398 Time limitations upon loading and holding shipments. (a) Whenever a shipment which exceeds 3,000 pounds or 500 cubic feet is tendered to a household goods carrier for transportation in over-the-road service, the carrier shall load the shipment within 24 hours (exclusive of Sunday or legal holiday) after expiration of the final loading date specified by the shipper; and, in respect of any such shipment which is less than 3,000 pounds or 500 cubic feet, the carrier shall load the shipment within 5 days (exclusive of Sunday or legal holiday) after expiration of the final loading date specified by the shipper; or, if the carrier is unable to load a shipment of household goods within the time specified herein, the carrier shall promptly register the shipment with the district office nearest the point at which the shipment is available.

(b) No household goods carrier shall hold, carry over, store, or warehouse any shipment of household goods at the originating point for more than 5 days following expiration of the final loading date specified by the shipper, or at any other point en route for more than 5 days, except when there is no other household goods carrier capable of transporting the shipment consistent with the provisions of this order. If such carrier is unable to transport, divert, or otherwise arrange for the movement of any such shipment within the time specified herein, the carrier shall promptly register the shipment with the district office nearest the point at which the shipment is available, in accordance with the provisions of this order.

§ 501.399 Optional loading or leasing. (a) Whenever, after registration of a truck at any district office, no household goods are available for transportation to, toward or beyond the destination point of the truck, the carrier may elect to register the truck with the district office for the transportation of any suitable freight which may be available and which the carrier who registers the truck has the right to transport.

(b) When no household goods are available for the transportation in a truck registered under the provisions of this order and the person registering such truck elects to lease the truck for the transportation of suitable freight, such lease shall be in the form prescribed by Appendix 1 to Administrative Order ODT 10 (9 F.R. 2795) and shall be governed by the provisions of §§ 503.278, 503.279 and 503.280 of Administrative Order ODT 10.

§ 501.400 Billing and rates; division of revenue; settlement between carriers. (a) Whenever a shipment is interchanged or diverted pursuant to the provisions of this order the shipment shall be accepted and received by the carrier with which interchange is made, or to which diverted, at the connecting or diverting carrier's warehouse or at the consignor's premises, as the case may be, and the transporting carrier shall load, transport, forward, or deliver, as the case may be, such shipment as the agent of the carrier which first accepted the shipment for transportation and under and pursuant to its rates, rules, regulations and practices, and shall honor and conform to its bill of lading or other billing, except as to any routing instructions therein inconsistent with the requirements of this order.

(b) Except as may be prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission or other authorized regulatory body:

(1) The carrier transporting any shipment of household goods diverted pursuant to directions issued in accordance with the provisions of this order shall receive not less than 75 percent of the revenue derived from the transportation of the shipment and the diverting carrier shall receive not more than 25 percent of such revenue;

(2) The carrier performing any accessorial service or service other than transportation, except packing or unpacking, in respect of a shipment of household goods so diverted shall receive the revenue derived from the performance of that service; and

(3) The carrier who packs any shipment of household goods so diverted shall receive 80 percent of the revenue derived from the performance of that service and the carrier who unpacks the shipment shall receive the remainder: Provided, That, if the division of revenue for the performance of such services is separately shown in the originating carrier's tariff, the division so shown shall govern.

(c) Except as may be agreed upon by the interested carriers or directed by the Interstate Commerce Commission or other authorized regulatory body, the portion of any revenue due any carrier in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section shall be paid as follows:

(1) The portion of the revenue due a diverting carrier in respect of a collect shipment of household goods shall be paid forthwith by the transporting carrier after delivery of the shipment: Provided, That, in respect of any such shipment, the transporting carrier, at the election of the diverting carrier and at or prior to the diversion of the shipment, shall pay the diverting carrier's portion of such revenue; and

(2) The portion of any revenue due a transporting carrier in respect of a prepaid shipment of household goods, at its election, shall be paid prior to the transportation of the shipment.

(d) Except as may be agreed upon by the interested carriers or prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission or other authorized regulatory body, the division of revenues from any interchange or diversion of suitable freight shipments made pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 501.399 of this order shall be as determined by the Office of Defense Transportation upon appropriate application of the carriers.

§ 501.401 Compliance by carriers. (a) Whenever the carriers are unable to agree upon a division of revenue within the maximum and minimum limitations set forth in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of § 501.400 of this order, both carriers nevertheless shall comply promptly with any direction issued by the district manager pursuant to this order and the revenue derived from the transportation of the shipment (not including the revenue derived from the performance of accessorial service) shall be divided as follows, to wit, 75 percent of such revenue to the transporting carrier and 25 percent of such revenue to the diverting carrier, and payment shall be made in accordance with paragraph (c) of § 501.400 of this order. Such payment may be made and received without prejudice to a determination of the equitable division of such revenue by any duly authorized tribunal, or by the Office of Defense Transportation upon appropriate application of the carriers.

(b) Whenever either carrier believes that the division of revenue derived from the performance of accessorial service as set forth in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of paragraph (b) of § 501.400 of this order is inequitable, both carriers nevertheless shall comply promptly with any direction issued by the district manager pursuant to this order and the revenue derived from the performance of such accessorial service shall be divided in conformity with the terms set forth in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of paragraph (b) of § 501.400 of this order, and payment shall be made in accordance with paragraph (c) of § 501.400 of this order. Such payment may be made and received (except when the division or method of determining the division of such revenue is contained in the diverting carrier's tariff) without prejudice to a determination of the equitable division of such revenue by any duly authorized tribunal, or by the Office of Defense Transportation upon appropriate application of the carriers.

§ 501.402 Filing of tariffs. Every household goods carrier required by law to file tariffs or schedules of rates, charges, rules, regulations and practices, shall file and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or schedules or appropriate supplements to filed tariffs or schedules, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, rules, regulations and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs, schedules, or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

§ 501.403 Carrier liability. Common carrier responsibility to the owner of any property being transported and among the carriers participating in such transportation shall be as provided by law for initial, terminating, intermediate, or delivering carriers.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD.

GOLDSTEIN POLAND CO., INC.

CONSENT ORDER

Goldstein Poland Co., Inc., of Pine Street, Providence, Rhode Island, engaged in the manufacture of jewelry, and Charles Rothman, its Treasurer, and James J. Poland, its President, both of Providence, are severally charged by the War Production Board with having purchased and put into process domestic silver in excess of the amount of their quota as established by Conservation Order M-199, between February 5, 1943, and October 30, 1943. Such over purchases aggregated 51,190.77 ounces. During January, 1944, voluntary sale of 27,577.30 ounces from inventory reduced the net amount of silver purchased and put into production in excess of quota to approximately 23,613.47 ounces. Goldstein Poland Co., Inc., Charles Rothman and James J. Poland admit the violations as charged and do not desire to contest their wilfulness and have consented to the issuance of this Order.

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of Goldstein Poland Co., Inc., Charles Rothman and James J. Poland and the Regional Compliance Chief and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) Goldstein Poland Co., Inc., shall not purchase or put into process prior to December 31, 1944, any domestic silver except that which shall be processed on toll agreement for others.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Goldstein Poland Co., Inc., from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on March 23, 1944, and shall expire on December 31, 1944.

Issued this 16th day of March 1944.

Chapter III—Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine

[B. E. P. Q. 503, Rev. 5]

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

WHITE-FRINGED BEETLE; TREATMENTS AUTHORIZED

Introductory note. Further investigational work has shown that methyl bromide fumigation in partial vacuum can be applied at lower soil temperatures than heretofore authorized, for the destruction of larvae of the white-fringed beetles; also, that larvae of all species of white-fringed beetles can be included under the same treatment schedules. Dosage schedules for fumigation of nursery plants with soil balls not greater than 5 inches in diameter under normal atmospheric pressure have also been developed. Likewise fumigation schedules for produce have been developed. The administrative instructions in this circular, specifying the various authorized treatments, are therefore hereby revised.

All treatments apply to the various species of white-fringed beetles.

This circular supersedes all instructions in Circular B. E. P. Q. 503 and Supplement No. 1 revised.

§ 301.72-5c[1] Administrative instructions; treatments authorized. Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine by paragraph (a) of § 301.72-5, Chapter III, Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations [Regulation 5 of Notice of Quarantine No. 72 on account of the white-fringed beetle], the following methods of treatment are hereby authorized effective March 27, 1944, when carried out under the supervision of an authorized inspector of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(a) Plants in pots or in soil balls—(1) Methyl bromide fumigation at atmospheric pressures. (i) Fumigation may be done with the dosage schedules prescribed below. The period of fumigation shall be 2 hours in all instances.

Soil temperature at least ° F.:	Dosage per 1,000 cubic feet (pounds)

(ii) Such fumigation shall be applied only to plants in 6-inch pots or smaller, or with soil balls 5 inches or less in least diameter. The plants shall be placed on racks so that the gas mixture can have access to all sides of the pots or the soil balls.

(iii) The fumigation shall be done in a tight chamber with gastight doors. The chamber shall be of such construction so as to pass certain tests prescribed by the inspector in charge to his satisfaction.

(iv) The fumigant-air mixture shall be circulated in the fumigation chamber by means of a fan during the entire period of the treatment.

(v) The soil shall not be puddled or saturated and must be in a condition which in the judgment of the inspector is suitable for fumigation.

(2) Methyl bromide fumigation under partial vacuum. (i) Fumigation under partial vacuum equivalent to at least 24.5 inches of mercury may be done with dosage schedules as prescribed below. The vacuum shall be maintained during the entire period. The period of fumigation shall be 1½ hours in all instances.

Soil temperature at least ° F.:	Dosage per 1,000 cubic feet (pounds)

(ii) The soil masses shall not be more than 16 inches in least diameter.

(iii) The soil shall not be puddled or saturated and must be in a condition which in the judgment of the inspector is suitable for fumigation.

(iv) The fumigant-air mixture shall be circulated in the fumigation chamber by means of a fan the first 15 minutes of the exposure period to mix the vaporized fumigant thoroughly with the air in the chamber and to bring it in contact with the surface of the soil balls. The soil balls shall be washed with one or more changes of air at the end of the exposure period.

(v) A standard vacuum fumigation chamber that can be closed tight and will withstand an external pressure of at least one atmosphere is required. A vacuum pump of sufficient capacity to reduce the pressure within the vacuum chamber to the equivalent of 3 inches of mercury (a 27-inch vacuum at sea level) is not more than 20 minutes is necessary.

(3) Methyl bromide solution—(i) Treatment method. (Applicable to all regulated areas.) (a) The soil balls around the roots of plants must be buried in sand and plunged in boxes or trays which are watertight and approximately 1 foot deep.

(b) A 2-inch space filled with sand shall be provided between the soil balls, also above and beneath them.

(c) Such soil balls shall be treated with a solution of methyl bromide and alcohol at a concentration of 0.3 percent methyl bromide and 0.6 percent denatured ethyl alcohol by volume in water. The solution is to be prepared by first mixing the methyl bromide and alcohol together and then adding this mixture to the water and mixing thoroughly.

(d) The aqueous solution of methyl bromide and alcohol shall then be applied evenly over the surface of the sand around the plants at the rate of 40 gallons per 100 square feet of surface area by means of a sprinkling can or sprayer.

(ii) Type of material, exposure, and temperature. (a) In Orleans Parish, including the city of New Orleans, Saint Bernard Parish, and regulated parts of Jefferson and Plaquemines Parishes, La., the treatment shall be applied only to plants in soil balls not greater than 7 inches in diameter, nor greater than 7 inches in thickness when not spherical. After the required dosage has been applied, the soil balls shall remain embedded in the sand for a period of 8 hours. The temperature of the soil balls during the treatment shall not be lower than 65° F.

(b) In all regulated areas other than Orleans Parish, including the city of New Orleans, Saint Bernard Parish, and regulated parts of Jefferson and Plaquemines Parishes, La., the treatment shall be applied to soil balls not greater than 8 inches in diameter nor greater than 8 inches in thickness when not spherical. After the required dosage has been applied, the soil balls shall remain embedded in the sand for a period of 6 hours. The temperature of the soil balls during the treatment shall not be lower than 62° F.

(b) Potting soil—(1) Carbon disulphide fumigation. (i) Potting soil shall be treated in a container with carbon disulphide at a dosage of 2 pounds per cubic yard of soil for a period of 48 hours.

(ii) The grade of carbon disulphide shall be comparable to U. S. P. grade having a specific gravity of 1.25 at 68° F.

(iii) The container shall be tight, preferably lined with sheet metal, and shall have a tight cover or be covered with a tarpaulin immediately after the fumigant is applied. The container shall not be more than 36 inches deep.

(iv) The soil shall be friable, and wet soil shall not be treated by this method. The fumigant shall be applied to the soil in holes 3 inches deep, the dosage to be evenly divided among holes 1 foot apart over the surface of the soil, and the fumigant shall be covered with soil as soon as it is applied.

(v) The temperature of the soil shall not be lower than 40° F. during the entire time of treatment.

(vi) The condition of the soil and the apparatus used and the method of application of the fumigant must meet with the approval of an authorized inspector of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(2) Methyl bromide fumigation. (i) Potting soil must be treated in a container with methyl bromide at a dosage of 40 cubic centimeters of methyl bromide per cubic yard of soil for a period of 48 hours.

(ii) The sides, bottom, and seams of the container shall be tight, preferably lined with sheet metal, and shall have a tight cover or be covered with a tarpaulin immediately after the fumigant is applied.

(iii) The temperature of the soil shall not be lower than 40° F. during the entire time of treatment.

(iv) The condition of the soil and the apparatus used and the method of application of the fumigant must meet the approval of an authorized inspector of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(3) Heat treatment. (i) Live steam, under pressure of 80 pounds or more per square inch, shall be applied through a grid of perforated pipes at the bottom of the sterilizing box or truck body containing the soil, for a period of 45 minutes or until all parts of the load reach a temperature of 200° F.

(ii) The grids shall be constructed of 1-inch pipes, perforated with holes 1/32 inch in diameter on the upper side and connecting at one end to a manifold into which the steam is introduced.

(iii) The layer of soil in the sterilizing box shall not be more than 2 feet 6 inches deep.

(4) Methyl bromide and carbon disulphide applied as liquid. (See instructions in paragraph (c).)

(c) Soil plots, plunging beds, and potting soil—(1) Methyl bromide. (i) Inject the liquid methyl bromide into the soil at a depth of 6 inches by means of a hollow needle or other suitable injector at the rate of 4.7 milliliters per square foot or 7 milliliters per 1½ square feet of soil surface.

(ii) After treatment has been applied to the plot the soil should be covered with 10- or 15-pound building paper, lapped 4 inches and weighted down so that it will not be blown off.

(iii) The soil must be at a temperature not lower than 45° F. at a depth of 6 inches when the treatment is applied. At temperatures from 45° to 62° inclusive the soil must be kept covered for a period of 6 days to insure complete mortality of all eggs, larvae, pupae, and adults of the insect which may be present in the soil under treatment. At temperatures above 62° the soil must be kept so covered for a period of not less than 4 days.

(2) Carbon disulphide. (i) The insecticide shall be applied at the rate of 33 milliliters per square foot of soil surface, the liquid to be poured into holes at least 6 inches deep and 1 inch in diameter at the top, and covered immediately with earth.

(ii) After application the plot should be covered with 10- to 15-pound building paper which shall remain in position for at least 4 days in order to insure complete mortality of any eggs, larvae, pupae, or adults of white-fringed beetles that may be present.

(iii) The treatment shall not be applied to soil which is below 80° F. in temperature at a depth of 6 inches.

(d) Vegetable produce (for larvae only)—(1) Methyl bromide fumigation at atmospheric pressure. (i) Fumigation at atmospheric pressures may be done with dosage schedules as prescribed below. The period of fumigation shall be 2 hours in all instances.

Temperature of produce at least	Dosage per 1,000 cubic ft.	Dosage per refrigerator car	cc. (ml.) per cubic foot of volume

(ii) The fumigation shall be performed in a refrigerator car, fumigation chamber, or other tight enclosure approved by the inspector in charge.

(iii) The dosage shall be volatilized into the enclosure and the fumigant-air mixt ture shall be circulated by a blower or large fan for not less than 5 minutes.

(iv) These fumigation schedules should be applied only to produce affected by the presence of larval forms of the white-fringed beetles since they are known to be incompletely effective against eggs of this insect.

(e) Disclaimer. There has not been opportunity to test these treatments on all varieties of plants or produce and in authorizing the movement of potted plants, nursery stock, soil, or produce treated according to the requirements stated above, it is understood that no liability shall attach either to the United States Department of Agriculture or to any of its employees in the event of injury to plants, produce, or operators.

(f) Caution—(1) Methyl bromide. (i) Methyl bromide is a gas at ordinary temperatures. It is colorless and practically odorless in concentrations used for fumigation of plants or potting soil. It is a poison and the operators should use gas masks approved by the United States Bureau of Mines for use with methyl bromide, when exposed to the gas in concentrations used in fumigation, or while preparing the solution. The plants in the fumigation chamber should be well aerated by blowing air through them, and the room adequately ventilated before it is entered. After fumigating the potting soil by methyl bromide the cover should be removed and the soil allowed to become aerated.

(ii) The method for application of methyl bromide described in paragraph (c) provides a closed system in which the operator is not exposed to a dangerous concentration of the gas provided there is no leakage in any exposed portion of the equipment. Extreme care should be exercised to keep all joints of such apparatus tight and replace any defective parts to prevent accident. The operator should avoid geting any liquid methyl bromide on his clothing or his body at any time.

(2) Carbon disulphide. (i) The vapor of carbon disulphide is inflammable and explosive. At a temperature of 297° F. it may take fire spontaneously and in the presence of certain metals, particularly copper, it may ignite at considerably lower temperatures. It must be kept away from fire, and from hot objects, such as electric light bulbs, unprotected brush-type motors, steam pipes, etc. Lighted cigars, cigarettes, or pipes must never be brought near carbon disulphide..

(ii) Carbon disulphide is a blood poison, but poisoning by this chemical is rare. Exposure to the vapor may cause giddiness and headache. When these symtoms develop, the individual should get into the open air.

(1) The order regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, as amended and as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended and as hereby amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the said order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said tentatively approved marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk which is marketed within the said marketing area refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act to advance the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of the approval of the order, as amended, and who during the determined representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that from and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Quad Cities marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order, as amended.

§ 944.3 Classification of milk—(a) Basis of classification. All milk or cream purchased or received by a handler or caused to be delivered by a cooperative association to a plant from which no milk is disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area shall be reported by the handler and shall be classified by the market administrator in the classes set forth in (b) of this section: Provided, That (1) any milk of producers moving as milk to a plant of a nonhandler who disposes of fluid milk for consumption as milk shall be classified as Class I milk except for such milk in excess of the amount of fluid milk so disposed of by such nonhandler; (2) any milk of producers, other than milk classified as Class I milk pursuant to (1) of this paragraph, moving as milk or cream to a plant of a handler who disposes of fluid cream for consumption as cream shall be classified as Class II milk except for such milk or cream in excess of the amount of milk and cream disposed of by such handler as fluid cream; (3) any milk of producers, other than milk classified as Class I milk or as Class II milk pursuant to (1) and (2) of this paragraph, moving as milk or cream to a plant of a nonhandler, shall be classified in accordance with its utilization by such nonhandler, subject to verification by the market administrator; and (4) any milk moving as fluid milk from any handler's plant to a plant of another handler shall be classified as Class I milk, and any cream moving as fluid cream to a plant of another handler shall be classified as Class II milk: Provided, That if such milk or cream was utilized in a lower classification, such milk or cream shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in (a) of this section, the classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk disposed of in the form of milk and all milk not specifically accounted for as Class II milk, Class III milk, or Class IV milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk disposed of as cream, for consumption as cream (including any cream product in fluid form containing 6 percent or more butterfat), buttermilk, cottage cheese, and all milk disposed of as chocolate milk or as any flavored milk drink.

(3) Class III milk shall be all milk specifically accounted for as used to produce evaporated milk, condensed milk, ice cream mix, unsalted butter, or any milk product other than those specified in Class II milk and Class IV milk.

(4) Class IV milk shall be all milk used to produce butter and American type Cheddar cheese and all milk accounted for as actual plant shrinkage: Provided, That such shrinkage shall not exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers in establishing the classification of milk. In establishing the classification of milk as required in (b) of this section, the burden rests upon the handler who receives milk from producers to account for the milk and to prove to the market administrator that such milk should not be classified as Class I milk.

(d) Computation of the milk in each class. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute, in the case of each handler, the amount of milk in each class as defined in (b) of this section as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk received from (i) producers; (ii) the handler's own farm production; (iii) other handlers; (iv) other sources; and (v) add together the resulting amounts.

(2) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: (i) multiply the weight of the milk received from producers by its average butterfat test; (ii) multiply the weight of milk received from handler's own farm production by its average butterfat test; (iii) multiply the weight of the milk received from other handlers by its average butterfat test; (iv) multiply the weight of the milk received from other sources by its average butterfat test; and (v) add together the resulting amounts.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I as follows: (i) convert to pounds the total quantity of milk disposed of in the form of milk on the basis of 2.15 pounds per quart; (ii) multiply the results by the average butterfat test of such milk; and (iii) if the quantity of butterfat so computed when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II milk, Class III milk, and Class IV milk computed pursuant to subparagraphs (4) (ii), (5) (ii), and (6) (iv) of this paragraph is less than the total pounds of butterfat received, computed in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, an amount equal to the difference shall be divided by 3.5 percent and added to the quantity of milk determined pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph.

(4) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class II by its average butterfat test; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; and (iii) divide the result obtained in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph by 3.5 percent.

(5) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class III as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products in Class III by its average butterfat test; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; and (iii) divide the result obtained in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph by 3.5 percent.

(6) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class IV as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class IV milk by its average butterfat test; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; (iii) subtract the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk, computed pursuant to subparagraph (3) (ii), (4) (ii), and (5) (ii) of this paragraph, and the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to subdivision (ii) of this paragraph from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, which resulting quantity shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purpose of this paragraph (but in no event shall such plant shrinkage allowance exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers by the handler); (iv) add the result obtained in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph (but not to exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers by the handler), and the result obtained in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph; and (v) divide the result obtained in subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph by 3.5 percent.

(7) Determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows: (i) subtract from the total pounds of milk in each class the total pounds of milk which were received from other handlers and used in such class; (ii) subtract from the remaining pounds of milk in each class the total pounds of milk which were received from sources other than producers and handlers and used in such class; (iii) subtract pro rata from the remaining pounds of milk in each class the total pounds of milk which were received from the handler's own farm production and emergency milk; and (iv) except as set forth in (e) of this section the result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in each class.

(e) Reconciliation of utilization of milk by classes with receipts of milk from producers. In the event of a difference between the total quantity of milk utilized in the various classes as computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section and the quantity of milk received from producers, except for excess milk or milk equivalent of butterfat pursuant to § 944.6 (d), such difference shall be reconciled as follows:

(1) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler as computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, is less than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall increase the total pounds of milk in Class IV for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts of milk from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler, which result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in Class IV.

(2) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, is greater than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall decrease the total pounds of milk in Class IV for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler and the receipts of milk from producers, which result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in Class IV.

(f) Sales of a cooperative association to any other handler. Milk caused to be delivered from a producer to any other handler by a cooperative association which is a handler shall be ratably apportioned among the receiving handler's total Class I milk, Class II milk, Class III milk, and Class IV milk.

§ 944.4 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Each handler shall pay, at the time and in the manner set forth in § 944.8, not less than the prices set forth in this section per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period at such handler's plant or caused by such handler to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area on the basis of milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content:

(1) For Class I milk, the price shall be the price for Class III milk for such delivery period plus 70 cents per hundredweight.

(2) For Class II milk, the price shall be the price for Class III milk for such delivery period plus 25 cents per hundredweight.

(3) For Class III milk, the price shall be the result of the following computation by the market administrator: determine the average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight ascertained to have been paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received during the period beginning with the 16th day of the previous month and ending with the 15th day of the then current month at the plants listed in this subparagraph: Provided, That if the price so determined is less than the price computed by the market administrator in accordance with the following formula, such formula price shall be the price of Class III milk for such delivery period: multiply by 0.4 the average weekly prevailing price per pound of the cheese known as "Twins" during said delivery period on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin [in the absence of such prices the prevailing price of "Twins" at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal Agency as may hereafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) shall be used], add the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago for said delivery period as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal Agency as may hereafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) and multiply such result by 3.9.

(4) For Class IV milk, the price shall be the result of the following computation by the market administrator: multiply by 3.5 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal Agency as may hereafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) during the delivery period in which such milk was received, add 20 percent thereof and add any plus amount resulting from the following calculation:

Subtract 4 cents from the average price per pound of casein and multiply such result by 2.3. The price per pound of casein to be used shall be the average of the carlot prices for unground casein, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in Wisconsin, as published by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal Agency as may hereafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) at Chicago, during the delivery period in which such milk was received, including in such average the quotations for any part of the previous delivery period which were not published and available for the price determination of such casein for the preceding delivery period.

(b) Emergency price provisions. (1) Whenever the War Food Administrator finds and announces that the Class I price computed for any delivery period pursuant to (a) of this section is not in the public interest, the Class I price for such delivery period shall be the same as the Class I price for the preceding delivery period: Provided, That if the War Food Administrator for two consecutive delivery periods finds and announces that the Class I price computed pursuant to (a) of this section is not in the public interest, he shall, upon request of interested parties, and pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act, issue notice of and opportunity for a hearing upon a proposed amendment to this section of the order.

(2) Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy, or other similar payment being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk or product, associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price, or if the specified price is not reported or published and the War Food Administrator determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the War Food Administrator to be equivalent to or comparable with the prices specified.

(c) Grade A premium. In making payment for Class I milk and Class II milk which complies with the Grade A quality requirements of the Milk Ordinance of the City of Davenport, Iowa, and the minimum requirements adopted by the Davenport Board of Health for the interpretation and enforcement of such ordinance, or of the Grade A Milk and Grade A Milk Products Law of the State of Illinois, and the minimum requirements adopted by the Director of the Illinois Department of Public Health for the interpretation and enforcement of said act, there shall be added a premium of 20 cents per hundredweight to the prices set forth in (a) (1) and (2) of this section.

§ 944.5 Reports of handlers—(a) Periodic reports. (1) On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period each handler, with respect to all milk or milk products which were, during such delivery period, (i) received from producers, (ii) received from handlers, (iii) received from such handler's own production, (iv) received from any other source, or (v) caused to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area, shall report to the market administrator, in the detail and on forms prescribed by him, as follows:

(a) The receipts at each plant from producers who are not handlers;

(b) The receipts at each plant from any other handler, including any handler who is also a producer;

(c) The receipts at each plant from such handler's own production;

(d) The receipts at each plant from any other source;

(e) The respective quantities of milk and milk products disposed of or on hand; and

(f) The respective butterfat content of each of the above.

(2) On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, the receipts at each plant of emergency milk as follows: (i) the amount of such milk and the average butterfat content thereof, (ii) the date or dates upon which such milk was received during the delivery period, (iii) the plant from which such milk was shipped, (iv) the price paid or to be paid for such milk, (v) the utilization of such milk, and (vi) such other information with respect thereto as the market administrator may request.

(b) Reports as to producers. Each handler shall report to the market administrator within 10 days after the market administrator's request with respect to any producer and with respect to a period of time designated by the market administrator, (i) the name and address, (ii) the total pounds of milk received, (iii) the average butterfat test of milk received, and (iv) the number of days upon which milk was received.

(c) Reports of payments to producers. On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall submit to the market administrator his producer pay roll for such delivery period, which shall show for each producer (i) the net amount of such producer's payment with the prices, deductions, and charges involved, and (ii) the total delivery of base milk and the total delivery of milk in excess of base milk with the average butterfat test thereof.

(d) Reports of producer-handlers and handlers whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers. Producer-handlers and handlers whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers shall report to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(e) Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records and the records of any other handler or person upon whose disposition of milk such handler claims classification. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipt and utilization of milk and shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

(1) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk required to be reported pursuant to this section and, in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(2) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(3) Verify the payments to producers prescribed in § 944.8.

§ 944.6 Application of provisions—(a) Producer-handlers. (1) Sections 944.4, 944.7, 944.8, 944.9, 944.10, and 944.11 shall not apply to the handling of milk by handlers (i) whose sole source of supply are receipts from other handlers or (ii) who are producer-handlers pursuant to § 944.1 (a) (5), as verified by the market administrator in the manner provided in (2) of this paragraph.

(2) Handlers shall furnish to the market administrator for his verification, subject to review by the War Food Administrator, evidence of their qualifications as producer-handlers pursuant to § 944.1 (a) (5), as of the effective date of the provisions hereof, and they shall furnish evidence of subsequent changes made in the manner of producing or distributing their milk that affects their qualifications as producer-handlers; such verification by the market administrator shall be made within 15 days of the date of receipt of the evidence and shall be effective retroactively to the effective date of the provisions hereof in cases verified within 45 days of such effective date and shall be effective retroactively to the first day of the delivery period during which verification is made in subsequent cases.

(b) Milk received by a handler from another handler who is also a producer or a producer-handler. If any handler has purchased or received milk or cream from another handler who is also a producer or a producer-handler, such milk or cream shall be considered as Class IV milk. If such receiving handler disposes of such milk or cream for other than Class IV purposes, the market administrator in computing the net pool obligation of such handler pursuant to § 944.7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk or cream in accordance with its actual utilization by such handler and (2) the value at the Class IV price.

(c) Milk received by a handler from sources determined as other than producers or other handlers. If any handler has purchased or received milk or cream from sources determined as other than producers or other handlers, except as provided in § 944.8 (b), such milk and the milk equivalent of such cream shall be considered as utilized in Class IV if the quantity of milk disposed of by him in this class equals or exceeds the quantity of milk from this source plus a quantity equal to actual plant shrinkage, not in excess of 3 percent. If the handler's Class IV disposition does not equal these quantities, any portion or all of such milk not thus utilized in Class IV shall be considered as utilized in Class III if the handler has a utilization in this class equal to or in excess of such quantity. Any quantity not thus considered as utilized in Class IV and Class III shall be considered as utilized as Class II.

(d) Payment for excess milk or butterfat. If a handler, after subtracting receipts from his own farm production, receipts from other handlers, and receipts from sources determined as other than producers or other handlers, has disposed of milk or butterfat in excess of the milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator in computing the net pool obligation of such handler pursuant to § 944.7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the value of such milk or milk equivalent of such butterfat in accordance with its actual utilization by the handler.

§ 944.7 Determination of uniform prices to producers—(a) Net pool obligation of handlers. Subject to the provisions of § 944.6, the net pool obligation of each handler for milk received from producers during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed for such delivery period by the market administrator as follows: multiply the "net pooled milk" in each class, computed pursuant to § 944.3 by the class price computed pursuant to § 944.4 (a), add together the resulting amounts, and add the value of any premium required to be paid pursuant to § 944.4 (c).

(b) Computation of the uniform prices. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight of milk as follows:

(1) Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers, computed pursuant to (a) of this section, who made the reports pursuant to § 944.5 (a) and who made the payments pursuant to § 944.8.

(2) Subtract from the value computed pursuant to (1) of this paragraph the amount of the payments made pursuant to § 944.4 (c).

(3) Compute the total quantity of milk which represents the delivered bases of producers and which is included in the computation made pursuant to (a) of this section.

(4) Compute the total value of the milk which is in excess of the delivered bases of producers determined pursuant to (2) of this paragraph and which is included in the computation pursuant to (a) of this section as follows: (i) determine the classification of milk in excess of base by allocating such milk first to Class IV milk and then to each succeeding higher classification until all such milk has been classified, (ii) multiply the total pounds of excess milk allocated to each class by the appropriate class price provided in § 944.4 (a), and (iii) add together the resulting amounts.

(5) Compute the total value of the milk represented by the delivered bases of producers by subtracting the value obtained in (4) of this paragraph from the result obtained in (2) of this paragraph.

(6) Add to the value computed pursuant to (5) of this paragraph the amount of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less any amount due handlers pursuant to § 944.8 (g).

(7) Divide the result obtained in (6) of this paragraph by the quantity of milk represented by the delivered bases of producers as determined in (3) of this paragraph.

(8) Subtract from the figure obtained in (7) of this paragraph not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and payments, or delinquencies, in payments by handlers. This result shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight for such delivery period for base milk of producers containing 3.5 percent butterfat.

(9) Divide the sum obtained in (4) of this paragraph by the quantity of milk of producers in excess of their delivered base. This result shall be known as the excess price for such delivery period for milk in excess of delivered base of producers containing 3.5 percent butterfat.

(10) Divide the amount subtracted pursuant to (2) of this paragraph by the total hundredweight of base milk which complies with the Grade A milk quality requirements of the Milk Ordinance of the City of Davenport, Iowa, and the minimum requirements adopted by the Davenport Board of Health for the interpretation and enforcement of such ordinance, or of the Grade A milk and Grade A Milk Products Law of the State of Illinois, and the minimum requirements adopted by the Director of the Illinois Department of Public Health for the interpretation and enforcement of said act. The result shall be known as the Grade A premium for such delivery period per hundredweight of base milk of producers which conforms to the above requirements.

(c) Announcement of prices. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period the market administrator shall notify all handlers and make public announcement of the computations pursuant to (b) of this section, of the uniform price per hundredweight of base milk, of the excess price, and of the Grade A premium computed pursuant to (b) of this section, of the Class I, Class II, Class III, and Class IV prices computed pursuant to § 944.4, and of the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 944.8 (c).

§ 944.8 Payment for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payment subject to the butterfat differential set forth in (c) of this section, for milk purchased or received from producers by such handler during each delivery period as follows:

(1) To each producer for milk which was not caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association for the account of such cooperative association, on or before the 15th day after the end of the delivery period during which such milk was received, at not less than the uniform price per hundredweight for base milk computed pursuant to § 944.7 (b) (8): Provided, That for that quantity of base milk which complies with the Grade A milk quality requirements of the Milk Ordinance of the City of Davenport, Iowa, and the minimum requirements adopted by the Davenport Board of Health for the interpretation and enforcement of such ordinance, or of the Grade A milk and Grade A Milk Products Law of the State of Illinois, and the minimum requirements adopted by the Director of the Illinois Department of Public Health for the interpretation and enforcement of said act, there shall be added to the announced uniform price for base milk an amount equal to the Grade A premium computed prusuant to § 944.7 (b) (10).

(2) To each producer for milk which was not caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association for the account of such cooperative association, on or before the 18th day after the end of the delivery period during which such milk was purchased or received at not less than the excess price computed pursuant to § 944.7 (b) (9) for that quantity of milk received from such producer in excess of such producer's base.

(3) On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler, with respect to milk which is caused to be delivered to him from producers by a cooperative association for the account of such cooperative association, shall make payment to such cooperative association for the utilization value of such milk at not less than the class prices, including the Grade A premium set forth in § 944.4, subject to the provisions of § 944.3 (f) and subject to the butterfat differential set forth in (c) of this section.

(b) Emergency milk. During any delivery period when the market administrator determines that the supply of milk available to any handler from producers and handlers is not sufficient to fulfill the Class I and Class II milk requirements, including the Grade A requirements of such handler, such handler, after giving notice to the market administrator of his intention to purchase milk from other than such sources, may secure milk from emergency sources on terms and conditions other than those provided in this section. Emergency milk shall be reported to the market administrator by the receiving handler separately from milk received from producers and handlers in accordance with § 944.3 (a). Such milk shall be deducted from each class in the proportion that the quantity of milk disposed of by the receiving handler in each class during the delivery period bears to the total quantity of milk received by him during such delivery period. The person from whom the handler received such milk shall not be considered a handler with respect to milk disposed of in the marketing area under the circumstances described in this paragraph, and the persons who produced such milk shall not be considered "producers" within the meaning of this order.

(c) Butterfat differential. If, during the delivery period, any handler has received from any producer milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.5 percent, such handler, in making the payments prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, shall add for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk above 3.5 percent not less than, or shall deduct for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk below 3.5 percent not more than:

(1) Three cents per hundredweight when the average price of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal Agency as may hereafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk is received, is less than 30 cents;

(2) Four cents per hundredweight when such average price of 92-score butter is 30 cents or over but less than 35 cents; and

(3) Five cents per hundredweight when such average price of 92-score butter is 35 cents or over.

(d) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a "producer-settlement fund," into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to paragraphs (e) and (g) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to paragraphs (f) and (g) of this section.

(e) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, shall pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer-settlement fund, the amount by which the net pool obligation of such handler, including the payments required to be made pursuant to § 944.6, is greater than the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

(f) Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. (1) On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers the amount by which the sum reported to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section is greater than the net pool obligation of such handler, including the payments required to be made pursuant to § 944.6.

(2) If the balance in the "producer-settlement fund" is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator, shall be deemed to be in violation of paragraph (a) of this section if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

(g) Adjustment of errors in payment. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors in payments to the producer-settlement fund made pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days of such billing, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to paragraph (f) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make such payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer discloses payment to such producer of an amount which is less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following such disclosure.

§ 944.9 Base ratings—(a) Determination of base. For each delivery period the base of each producer shall be a quantity of milk calculated in the following manner: multiply the applicable figure computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section by the number of days on which milk was received from such producer during such delivery period.

(b) Determination of daily base. Effective January 1, 1940, and each subsequent year thereafter, the daily base of each producer for the ensuing year shall be determined by the market administrator from reports filed by handlers pursuant to § 944.5 in the following manner:

(1) Determine for each producer that month during the preceding calendar year when his daily average deliveries of milk were the lowest. Determine the 3 months of the preceding calendar year when the daily average deliveries of milk of all producers were the lowest.

(2) Determine for each producer his total deliveries of milk during each of the 4 months of the year described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and add together the resulting amounts.

(3) Divide the sum obtained for each producer in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by the number of days of such 4 calendar months.

(4) Add together in one sum all the daily average amounts, computed in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(5) Determine the daily average utilization of Class I milk and Class II milk during the month of the preceding year when such utilization was greatest and add to such daily average an amount not to exceed 10 percent thereof.

(6) Divide the amount determined pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph by the sum determined pursuant to subparagraph (4) of this paragraph.

(7) Multiply the daily average amount for each producer determined in subparagraph (5) of this paragraph by the percentage figure computed pursuant to subparagraph (6) of this paragraph. This result shall be known as the producer's allotted daily base.

(c) Base rules. The following rules shall be observed by the market administrator with respect to the administration of the base plan:

(1) Base allotted to producers pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall not be transferable: Provided, That bases allotted under a tenant and landlord relationship shall be combined and may be divided only if such relationship is terminated: And provided further, That any member of the producer's family may be named as the person to whom such base is to be allotted, but in no case shall a base be allotted to more than one member of such producer's family on the same farm.

(2) As soon as bases are allotted to producers pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, the market administrator shall notify each handler of the bases of producers from whom such handler receives milk.

(3) Any producer who ceases to market milk to a handler for a period of more than 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base.

(4) In the event a producer delivers an average quantity of milk less than 85 percent of his allotted daily base for each of 3 consecutive months, such producer shall be reallotted a base equal to his daily average deliveries of milk of his own production for the 3 consecutive months involved.

(5) A producer, whether landlord or tenant of a farm, may retain his own base when moving his entire herd of cows from one farm to another: Provided, That at the beginning of a tenant and landlord relationship the allotted base of such tenant and landlord shall be a combined base.

(6) A landlord who rents on shares shall be entitled to the entire base to the exclusion of the tenant if the landlord owns the entire herd. Likewise, the tenant who rents on shares shall be entitled to the entire base to the exclusion of the landlord if the tenant owns the entire herd. If the cattle are jointly owned by tenant and landlord, the base shall be divided between the joint owners according to the ownership of the cattle, if and when such joint owners terminate the tenant and landlord relationship.

(7) The base of any producer shall be automatically canceled at the beginning of any delivery period during which such producer reports milk not produced by him as being milk of his own production for the purpose of maintaining or increasing his allotted base. Such producer shall be allotted a new base computed in the manner provided in subparagraph (8) of this paragraph, and shall be treated for the purposes of this section as if he had relinquished his base.

(8) Any producer wishing to earn a new base may do so by notifying the market administrator that he is relinquishing his base at the beginning of the delivery period following that during which notice is given, except that with respect to notice given during the month of January, such producer shall be considered to have relinquished his base effective January 1 or February 1, whichever is indicated in the notice given. All milk delivered by such producer shall be considered as milk delivered in excess of base for a period of 2 full calendar months following such producer's relinquishment of his base. At the conclusion of 2 calendar months such producer shall be allotted a new base in the following manner: the market administrator shall determine the daily average deliveries of milk by such producer during the 2 full calendar months following his relinquishment of base. Such daily average deliveries of milk shall be multiplied by the percentage that base deliveries were to total deliveries of milk to the market during such 2 calendar months by all base-holding producers on the market during that period.

(9) If a producer, who has notified the market administrator within 5 days prior to his participation, enters into a program of disease eradication supervised by either county, State, or Federal authorities, the market administrator, in making his determination of that month of the preceding year when such producer's daily average deliveries were lowest pursuant to subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of this section, shall disregard any month in which such disease eradication program was being performed.

(10) All milk delivered to a handler by any producer who has not previously marketed milk to a handler or who resumes delivery after not having marketed milk to a handler for a period of more than 45 consecutive days shall, during the period from the date of such producer's first delivery until the conclusion of 2 full calendar months, be considered as milk delivered in excess of base. After the conclusion of 2 full calendar months, the market administrator shall determine a base for such producer by multiplying such producer's daily average deliveries of milk during those 2 calendar months by the percentage that base deliveries were to total deliveries of milk to the market by all base-holding producers on the market during such months.

§ 944.10 Marketing services—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall deduct an amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight (the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the War Food Administrator) from the payments made to producers pursuant to § 944.8 with respect to all milk received by such handler during each delivery period from producers, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk received by handlers from producers during the delivery period and to provide such producers with market information, such services to be performed in whole or in part by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) Producers' cooperative association. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the War Food Administrator determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing, as determined by the War Food Administrator, the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by such producers and, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the cooperative association rendering such services of which such producers are members.

§ 944.11 Expenses of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his prorata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator a sum not exceeding 3 cents per hundredweight with respect to all milk received during such delivery period from producers or from a producers' cooperative association or produced by such handler, the exact sum to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the War Food Administrator: Provided, That such handler which is a cooperative association shall pay such prorata share of expense of administration on only that milk of producers received by such association or caused to be delivered by such association to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area.

(b) Suits by market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of expense set forth in this section.

§ 944.12 Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the War Food Administrator may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. The War Food Administrator may suspend or terminate this order, as amended, or any provision hereof, whenever he finds that this order, as amended, or any provision hereof, obstructs, or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order, as amended, shall terminate, in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the War Food Administrator so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the War Food Administrator may designate.

(1) The market administrator, or such other person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shall (i) continue in such capacity until discharged by the War Food Administrator, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements, and, when so directed by the War Food Administrator, deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the War Food Administrator may direct, and (iii) if so directed by the War Food Administrator, execute such assignments or other instruments necesary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant hereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the War Food Administrator may designate shall, if so directed by the War Food Administrator, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 944.13 Agents. The War Food Administrator may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 16th day of March 1944, to be effective on and after the 1st day of April 1944.

THOMAS J. FLAVIN,
Assistant to the War Food Administrator.

Chapter XI—War Food Administration (Distribution Orders)

[Suspension Order Docket No. FDA-GL-101]

H. GRAVER COMPANY

This proceeding involves alleged violations of Meat Restriction Order 1 (7 F.R. 7839), as amended, which was issued on October 1, 1942, by the Office of Price Administration. The functions of administering and enforcing the provisions of this order, as amended, were transferred from the Office of Price Administration to the United States Department of Agriculture pursuant to Executive Order No. 9280 (7 F.R. 10179), by an order issued jointly by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration on March 31, 1943 and effective April 1, 1943 (8 F.R. 4151). The administration and enforcement of this order was vested in the War Food Administrator by Executive Order No. 9322 (8 F.R. 3807), as amended by Executive Order No. 9334 (8 F.R. 5423). Meat Restriction Order 1 was amended and redesignated as Food Distribution Order 61 on July 1, 1943 (8 F.R. 9108) and was superseded by Food Distribution Order 75 on August 9, 1943 (8 F.R. 11119), except insofar as violations thereof or liabilities incurred thereunder. As to these, it was provided in paragraph (x) of Food Distribution Order 75, that Food Distribution Order 61 "shall be deemed in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with respect to any such violation or liability."

This proceeding was instituted by the issuance and service of a statement of charges and procedure by the Regional Director for the Great Lakes Region, Food Distribution Administration (now Office of Distribution), War Food Administration, in which it was alleged that H. Graver Company, a corporation, 3813 South Morgan Street, Chicago, Illinois (the "respondent") had violated Meat Restriction Order 1, as amended, (1) by delivering beef, pork and veal in excess of its assigned quotas during the quota periods beginning September 27, 1942, December 27, 1942 and March 28, 1943, respectively; (2) by failing to keep certain records during these quota periods; and (3) by failing to file reports of its deliveries of controlled meat during the quota period beginning December 27, 1942.

The respondent filed an answer and requested a hearing. Pursuant to the respondent's request, this matter was heard before a presiding officer on October 21, 1943. The respondent appeared at this hearing, adduced evidence, both oral and documentary, cross-examined the witnesses who appeared on behalf of the War Food Administration and otherwise availed itself of its opportunity to be heard. A representative of the War Food Administration also appeared at the hearing, adduced evidence, both oral and documentary, and cross-examined the witnesses who testified on behalf of the respondent.

Upon the basis of the evidence adduced at the hearing, which included a stipulation by the respondent in which it admitted that it had delivered 16,121,389 pounds of controlled meat in excess of its quotas for the first, second and third quota periods, as alleged in the statement of charges, it is hereby found and determined:

(1) That H. Graver Company, the respondent, was at all times hereinafter mentioned a slaughterer as that term was defined in Meat Restriction Order 1, as amended, and subject to all the provisions of said order, as amended, relating to a slaughterer; and that respondent is now a Class I slaughterer, as that term is defined in § 1410.15 (a) (7) of said Food Distribution Order 75, and is subject to all the provisions of said order, as amended and supplemented, relating to a Class 1 slaughterer, including, but without limitation to, the set aside provisions of said Food Distribution Order 75, as amended and supplemented by Food Distribution Order 75-2, as amended and supplemented;

(2) That respondent's quota periods under Meat Restriction Order 1 were based on its normal accounting periods and, therefore, the first quota period began September 27, 1942 and ended December 26, 1942; the second quota period began December 27, 1942 and ended March 27, 1943; and the third quota period began March 28, 1943 and ended June 26, 1943; and that respondent was subject to the provisions of Meat Restriction Order 1, as amended, during these quota periods;

(3) That, if the respondent had complied with the provisions of § 1407.914a of Meat Restriction Order 1, as amended, its quota base would have been increased by an amount sufficient to decrease the excess deliveries of controlled meats to 15,139,054 pounds;

(4) That respondent wilfully violated Meat Restriction Order 1, as amended, by delivering during the quota periods beginning September 27, 1942, December 27, 1942 and March 28, 1943, respectively, 15,139,054 pounds of controlled meat in excess of its quotas for these quota periods as follows:

QUOTA PERIODS

	First	Second	Third	Total
Beef	2,995,516	5,170,637	4,984,939	13,151,092
Veal	206,533	518,994	485,243	1,210,770
Pork	291,360	202,033	283,799	777,192
Total	3,493,409	5,891,664	5,753,981	15,139,054

(5) That respondent failed to keep adequate records from which the conversion weight of beef of cutter and canner grades slaughtered during said first, second and third quota periods could be determined.

Because of the importance of having meat distributed in a manner to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of meat for war and civilian needs, the aforesaid violations by the respondent have impeded the war effort by diverting meat which had been allocated to the armed forces to civilian channels and uses.

It is therefore ordered, that:

§ 1590.10 Suspension order against H. Graver Company. (a) H. Graver Company, the respondent, shall set aside, reserve, and hold for delivery to governmental agencies or persons entitled to purchase set aside meat under a Food Distribution Regulation, in accordance with the provisions of Food Distribution Order 75-2, as amended, or as it may be amended and supplemented.

(1) An amount of the conversion weight of each week's production of beef graded "U. S. Choice," "U. S. Good," and "U. S. Commercial," obtained from steers and heifers whose carcasses meet Army specifications for carcass beef or frozen boneless beef, which amount together with the amount of such beef required to be set aside by the respondent under Food Distribution Order 75-2, as amended, or as it may be amended and supplemented, will equal 80 percent of the conversion weight of each week's production of such beef;

(ii) An amount of each week's production of beef graded "U. S. Utility," produced from steers and heifers whose carcasses meet Army weight specifications, in the form of carcass or frozen boneless beef meeting Army specifications, which together with the amount of such beef required to be set aside under Food Distribution Order 75-2, as amended, or as it may be amended and supplemented, will equal 80 percent of respondent's weekly production of such beef, for and until such time as the amount of beef set aside pursuant to this order shall equal 13,151,092 pounds, the amount of beef which it has found and determined was delivered by respondent in excess of its quotas during the quota periods beginning September 27, 1942, December 27, 1942 and March 28, 1943.

(b) The beef set aside pursuant to this order shall be in addition to that which is required to be set aside under Food Distribution Order 75-2, as amended, or as it may be amended and supplemented.

(c) Any terms used in this order which are defined in Food Distribution Order 75, as amended, or as it may be amended and supplemented, and Food Distribution Order 75-2, as amended, or as it may be amended and supplemented, shall have the meaning therein given to them unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve respondent, its agents, successors, or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision, contained in any order or regulation issued by the War Food Administrator, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., e. w. t., April 3, 1944.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter A—General Provisions

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Directive 31, as Amended Mar. 25, 1944]

PREFERENCE RATING AUTHORITY OF THE ARMY AND NAVY MUNITIONS BOARD

§ 903.44 Directive 31.—(a) Purpose. The purpose of this directive is to delegate to and define the authority of the Army and Navy Munitions Board with respect to the assignment of preference ratings.

(b) Priorities Directives of the Army and Navy Munitions Board. The Army and Navy Munitions Board, with the concurrence of the War Production Board, may establish schedules of preference ratings within limits prescribed by WPB Program Determinations in the form of ANMB Priorities Directives covering contracts, purchase orders and other similar procurement documents for the delivery of materials to or for the account of:

(1) The Army (including the Panama Canal) and the Navy (including the Marine Corps and the Coast Guard). This does not include material procured by any of the above under the Act of March 11, 1941 (Lend-Lease Act) which is not for the direct use of the armed services of a foreign country.

(2) U. S. Army and Marine Corps Post Exchanges; U. S. Navy and Coast Guard Ship's Service Departments; War Shipping Administration Training Organization Ship's Service activities.

(3) The following agencies of the Federal Government: Coast and Geodetic Survey; National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics; Civil Aeronautics Administration; Selective Service System; Office of Scientific Research and Development; Office of Strategic Services; Maritime Commission; War Shipping Administration; Weather Bureau; U. S. Soldiers Home (Washington, D. C.).

(4) American Red Cross and United Service Organizations, Inc., activities directly connected with military personnel.

(5) Foreign governments, for the procurement of material on a cash basis for the use of their armed services.

(6) Appropriate State officials, for the purchase of State Guard uniforms.

(7) Institutions and schools training military personnel under supervision of the military.

(c) Deliveries which may be rated. The Army and Navy Munitions Board may assign preference ratings to:

(1) Deliveries in fulfillment of contracts and purchase orders of the kinds described in paragraph (b), including deliveries of material to be incorporated in command construction, Engineer Corps construction or Panama Canal construction (see subparagraphs (3), (4) and (5) below).

(2) Deliveries of machine tools or other capital equipment to prime contractors or subcontractors to produce items being procured under a prime Army or Navy contract. Directive 23 (§ 903.35) requires War Production Board approval of ratings assigned for machine tools and other capital equipment.

(3) Command construction; that is, the following types of projects ordered built by either the Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, or the Chief of Naval Operations, U. S. Navy: air fields; military housing; alien housing; facilities for the repair of finished items of munitions; overseas or theatre of operations construction; seacoast fortifications; ports and depots; camouflage and other passive defense projects (whether or not owned and operated by the Army or Navy); emergency flood control projects having a value of less than $100,000; military hospitals; maneuver, training and staging areas and proving grounds.

(4) Engineers Corps construction; that is, projects which (i) have been determined by the War Production Board to be essential, (ii) are built by or under the supervision of the Corps of Engineers (and where appropriate, completed by the Army Air Forces) in accordance with a design directive approved by an authorized representative of the War Production Board and (iii) will be owned, leased or operated by the War Department.

(5) Panama Canal construction; that is, projects (other than command construction) which are owned by the Panama Canal.

(d) Redelegation of authority to assign ratings. The authority delegated to the Army and Navy Munitions Board in paragraph (c) may be redelegated by that Board, either directly or through channels, to procurement, contracting and inspecting officials or other authorized officials of the Army and Navy and to the agencies enumerated in paragraph (b) and officials thereof. Any general instructions regarding the assignment of ratings which are issued by the Army and Navy Munitions Board shall be approved before issuance by the War Production Board. Approval of specific adjustments made by ANMB within the limits prescribed by WPB Program Determinations is not required.

(e) Method of assigning ratings. (1) A preference rating assigned to a production schedule at the time that allotments are made and the schedule is authorized under the Controlled Materials Plan shall be assigned on an allotment form, on Form WPB-542 (formerly PD-3A), or as prescribed in subparagraph (3) below.

(2) All other preference ratings assigned under this directive shall be assigned on Form WPB-542 (formerly PD-3A) or as prescribed in subparagraph (3) below.

(3) When any government agency mentioned in paragraph (b) assigns a preference rating to deliveries to be made to it or for its account, it may do so by placing the rating on the purchase order or contract and endorsing the order or contract with a certification substantially as follows: "By authority of the War Production Board the preference ratings indicated are assigned to the deliveries on this purchase order or contract." This certification may be placed on a purchase order or contract by means of a rubber stamp or printed on the order or contract form. The certification need not be signed separately if the purchase order or contract is signed by an official who is authorized to assign ratings on behalf of the agency which is placing the order or contract. This method of assigning a rating may not be used when machine tools or capital equipment are ordered by prime or subcontractors, even if the delivery is for the account of the government agency assigning the rating.

(4) Every rating assigned under this directive on a form or certificate shall be assigned in the manner prescribed therein without attaching any further conditions or qualifications.

(f) Application and extension of ratings. Ratings assigned under this directive may be applied and extended only in accordance with applicable regulations of the War Production Board.

(g) Directives and administrative orders superseded. This directive supersedes Division Administrative Order No. 1 of the Division of Industry Operations, War Production Board, issued February 23, 1942, all amendments thereof and memoranda supplemental thereto, and all delegations of authority to assign preference ratings which have been heretofore issued to the Army and Navy Munitions Board or to any Service of the Army, to the Army Air Forces, or to any Bureau of the Navy.

facilitate the protection of War Housing projects.

1. A copy of every authorization on Form WPB–1319 shall be transmitted immediately after issuance to the Safety and Technical Equipment Division of the War Production Board.

2. The issuance of such authorizations shall be subject to any instructions in writing from the Program Vice Chairman of the War Production Board.

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Directive 35]

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY TO THE OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION TO REQUIRE REPORTS OF USED EQUIPMENT AND MACHINERY ON FORM WPB–2574

The following directive is issued pursuant to authority vested in me by Executive Order 9024 of January 16, 1942, Executive Order 9125 of April 7, 1943 and WPB Regulation No. 1 as amended December 31, 1943, in order to facilitate the redistribution of used equipment and machinery and to avoid duplicating functions of the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration in connection therewith.

§ 903.48 Directive No. 35—(a) Purpose. Various orders and regulations of the War Production Board govern the redistribution of used equipment and machinery. Maximum price schedules issued by the Office of Price Administration control the prices of such used equipment and machinery and will require reports from the holders of selling prices. The reporting of dealers' inventories is essential for programs of redistribution which may be conducted by the War Production Board. The purpose of this delegation is to consolidate essential information about prices and inventories of used equipment and machinery into one reporting form, and to authorize the Office of Price Administration to require reporting on that form.

(b) Delegation of authority. The Office of Price Administration may require in its own name the filing of Form WPB–2574 (otherwise known as Used Equipment and Machinery Inventory and Sales Report Form) in such manner and at such places as it shall require (subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942) by any person engaged in the business of selling second-hand machines, equipment and parts, either as principal or agent. The Office of Price Administration may exercise the power and authority of the War Production Board in requiring reports on this form.

(c) Redelegation. The Office of Price Administration may exercise the power, authority and discretion conferred upon it by this directive through such officials or employees as it may from time to time determine.

Issued this 24th day of March 1944.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

SINGER STEEL COMPANY

Albert Singer owns and operates a steel warehouse under the trade name of Singer Steel Company, at 6316 Kinsman Road, Cleveland, Ohio. He over-stated his deliveries of steel from warehouse stocks during the base period, January, February, and March 1941, in the amount of 2723.6 net tons, receiving a quota and warehouse certificate upon that statement. Of the amount over-stated, 611.9 net tons were included as the result of gross negligence. Subsequently, during the third and fourth calendar quarters of 1942 and the first calendar quarter of 1943, he accepted deliveries of 1581 net tons of prime steel into stock in excess of his quota for prime steel as the result of gross negligence. During the fourth calendar quarter of 1942 and the first calendar quarter of 1943, he accepted deliveries into warehouse stock of 1505 net tons of skelp and 151 net tons of scrap, for which no quota had been assigned nor authority granted by the War Production Board, in wilful violation of Supplementary Order M–21–b.

From July 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, on Form PD–83–g, he violated Supplementary Order M–21–b and Priorities Regulation No. 3 by improperly extending customers' ratings for the following purposes: with gross negligence to purchase product groups and types of steel other than those entered on the customers' orders; wilfully to order and accept delivery of 1,867,300 pounds of steel into warehouse stock on customers' orders, which had been filled by direct shipment from the mill to the warehouse customer; with gross negligence to order and accept delivery of steel into warehouse stock, using ratings higher than the lowest rating received as well as ratings received more than 90 days prior to placing of his order with the mill.

During the period July 1, 1942, through March 31, 1943, as the result of gross negligence, he submitted false, and misleading information to the War Production Board on Forms PD–83 concerning his operations as a steel warehouse, in violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1.

These violations of Priorities Regulation No. 1 and No. 3, and Supplementary Order M–21–b have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and have hampered and impeded the War Effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.506 Suspension Order No. S–506. (a) Albert Singer, doing business as Singer Steel Company, or under any other name, his and its successors and assigns, shall not directly or indirectly receive into his warehouse stock from producers, other distributors, holders of excess and idle stocks or any other source of supply, general steel products as defined in General Preference Order M–21–b–1 in a total quantity greater than 1600 net tons; nor shall he receive any general steel products whatever, as defined in General Preference Order M–21–b–1, if they come from producers' scheduled rollings; nor shall he order for delivery to warehouse stock from producers, other distributors, holders of excess and idle stocks or any other source of supply, general steel products as defined in General Preference Order M–21–b–1 in a total quantity greater than 1600 net tons; nor shall he order any general steel products whatever, as they are defined in General Preference Order M–21–b–1, if they come from producers' scheduled rollings; unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board. These restrictions shall apply to the successors and assigns of Albert Singer.

(b) Nothing in this order shall be deemed to relieve Albert Singer, doing business as Singer Steel Company, or under any other name, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on March 24, 1944, and shall expire on July 24, 1944.

Issued this 17th day of March 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

IRVINE & JACHENS

Irvine & Jachens is a co-partnership now composed of William F. Irvine and Mrs. Esther Irvine, doing business with its principal office located at 1068 Mission Street, San Francisco, California. This firm is engaged in the manufacture of signs, plates, badges and other similar copper products. Between July 1, 1942, and July 15, 1943, the firm filled orders for such copper products under circumstances which constituted grossly negligent violations of Conservation Order M–9–c. These violations of Conservation Order M–9–c have diverted critical copper to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.508 Suspension Order No. S–508. (a) William F. Irvine and Mrs. Esther Irvine, doing business as Irvine & Jachens, or under any other name, their and its successors and assigns, are prohibited from processing, fabricating or assembling copper products or copper base alloy products in the manufacture of any items or article unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) The terms of this suspension order shall not apply to any proper order for manufacture already accepted by William F. Irvine and Mrs. Esther Irvine, doing business as Irvine & Jachens, prior to the effective date of this suspension order.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve William F. Irvine and Mrs. Esther Irvine, doing business as Irvine & Jachens, or otherwise, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on March 24, 1944, and shall expire on May 24, 1944.

1. By changing paragraph (b) to read as follows:

(b) Restrictions. (1) No manufacturer, distributor, or dealer may deliver or accept delivery of a new Class A stoker except:

(i) To fill orders of or for ultimate delivery to the Army or Navy;

(iii) To fill orders authorized on Form WPB–1319. Applications for such authorization must be filed with the appropriate War Production Board Field Office. (This application form may be used by dealers and distributors for inventory. The use of the form, for applications where the total cost (stoker plus installation) is no more than $5,000, is required of any ultimate consumer not covered by (i) or (ii) and is permissible in lieu of application under (ii). If the total cost exceeds $5,000, application must be made under (i) or (ii).) Any order so authorized by the War Production Board shall be deemed a "rated order" for the purposes of § 944.2 of Priorities Regulation No. 1. Use of Form WPB–1319 has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

4. By changing paragraph (f), formerly (i), to read as follows:

(f) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form WPB–1477 (formerly PD–500) with the Field Office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the Appellant to which the appeal relates.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

COLLAPSIBLE TUBES

§ 3270.39 Conservation Order M–115—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Tube" means any collapsible container in the shape of a tube, including but not limited to any such container made in whole or in part of tin, aluminum, lead, or any combination thereof and includes closures, crowns and caps for such tubes. It shall not, however, include a tube made exclusively of plastic with or without the addition of a steel fastener at the bottom of the tube.

(2) "Retailer" means a person who sells or distributes tubes to the ultimate user.

(3) "Ultimate user" means a person who acquires filled tubes for the satisfaction of personal needs (with or without paying any consideration therefor), as distinguished from one acquiring tubes for industrial or other business purposes or for further distribution.

(c) Restrictions upon the manufacture, sale and delivery of blanks and tubes and upon the use of tubes for packing. (1) No person shall manufacture or sell tube blanks or tubes, and no person shall purchase, accept delivery of or use any tubes, for packing products except as specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order.

(2) Packers of commodities listed in the schedules attached to this order are restricted in the quantity of the commodity (by weight) which they may pack in tubes in any calendar year. The packing quotas and the base period for each commodity are shown in the schedules. Commodities packed in tubes sold to the Army or Navy of the United States (including military exchanges or service departments as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 17) or to the American Red Cross, shall not be included either in computing the base period quantity or the packing quota for the current year.

(d) Exchange of tubes, no longer required. Retailers are no longer required to receive a used tube in exchange upon the sale of a filled tube. They are, however, required to deliver all used tubes which have been turned in to them to the Tin Salvage Institute, 411 Wilson Avenue, Newark, New Jersey, agent for the Metals Reserve Company, or to any other person who is a duly authorized representative of the Tin Salvage Institute.

NOTE: Paragraphs (e) and (f), formerly (f) and (g), redesignated Mar. 25, 1944.

(e) Certificates and reports relating to all kinds of tubes covered by this order—(1) Certificate of tube packers. Each tube packer who purchases any tubes shall furnish to the tube manufacturer from whom he buys, a certificate, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Only one such certificate covering all present and future purchases from a given tube manufacturer need be furnished by a tube packer to that tube manufacturer (who shall retain such certificate), but no tube manufacturer shall be entitled to rely on any such certificate if he knows, or has reason to believe it to be false. No tube manufacturer shall sell any tubes except under contracts or orders validated by the certification required by this paragraph.

(2) Reports. Each tube manufacturer and each tube packer shall file such reports as the War Production Board may prescribe for the purpose of effective administration of the order, Provided, That such reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Sales of tin. No person shall hereafter sell or deliver tin to any tube manufacturer or tube packer if he knows or has reason to believe that such tin is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(4) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M-115.

(5) Effect of other orders. Insofar as any other order of the War Production Board heretofore or hereafter issued limits or curtails to a greater extent than herein provided the use of any material used in the production of tubes, the limitations of such order shall control.

Issued this 25th day of March 1944.

SPECIAL RESTRICTIONS ON ORDERING CERTAIN ITEMS

Direction 1 to Order P-142 (§ 3216.1) is amended to read as follows:

In making such distribution due regard should be given to essential civilian needs, and there should be no discrimination in the acceptance or filling of orders as between persons who meet the seller's regularly established prices and terms of sale or payment. Under this policy every seller of such products, so far as practicable, should make available an equitable proportion of his merchandise to his customers periodically, without prejudice because of their size, location or relationship as affiliated outlets. It is not the intention to interfere with established channels and methods of distribution unless necessary to meet war or essential civilian needs. If voluntary observance of the policy outlined is inadequate to achieve equitable distribution, the War Production Board may issue specific directions to named concerns. PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Allocation Order M–340 as Amended Mar. 27, 1944]

MISCELLANEOUS CHEMICALS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of the chemicals subject to this order for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.491 Allocation Order M–340.

(a) Definitions. (1) "Subject chemical" means any chemical listed in Appendix A, as therein defined.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of any subject chemical and includes a person who imports any subject chemical or has it produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who buys any subject chemical for the purpose of resale without further processing and without changing the form thereof.

(4) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall deliver a subject chemical to any person except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board. No person shall accept delivery of a subject chemical which he knows or has reason to believe is delivered in violation of this order.

(2) Authorizations or directions as to deliveries to be made by suppliers in each calendar month will generally be issued by War Production Board prior to the beginning of such month, but may be issued at any time. They will normally be issued on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) which is to be filed by the supplier with War Production Board as explained in paragraph (g) below.

(3) If a supplier is authorized or directed by War Production Board to deliver a subject chemical to any specific customer or group of customers, but is unable to make the delivery either because of receipt of notice of cancellation or otherwise, the subject chemical shall revert to inventory, and shall not be delivered, or used, without further instructions.

(c) Exceptions for small deliveries. (1) Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery by any supplier to any person in any calendar month of a subject chemical in a quantity not exceeding the quantity stated in Column 3 of Appendix B.

(2) The aggregate quantity of a subject chemical which any supplier may deliver in any calendar month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1), shall not exceed:

(i) The quantity which he has been specifically authorized, upon application pursuant to Appendix D, to deliver on small orders; or

(ii) If he is a distributor, the quantity which he acquired upon certification that it was required to fill small orders or the quantity which he acquired himself on such a small order; or

(iii) If he is a distributor who customarily delivers exclusively on small orders, any quantity.

(d) Exceptions for deliveries for other reasons. Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery of a subject chemical by any supplier to any other person for a purpose stated in Column 4 of Appendix B.

(e) Restrictions on use. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall use a subject chemical except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(2) Each person who with an order for a subject chemical furnishes a certificate required by paragraph (f) shall use the subject chemical delivered on such order only as specified on such certificate except as otherwise specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(3) War Production Board may from time to time issue directions with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of a subject chemical to be delivered to, or then in inventory of, the prospective user.

(f) Supplier to obtain from customer a certificate of use. No supplier shall in any calendar month (beginning in the case of each subject chemical with the calendar month in which the order becomes effective as to that chemical as stated in Appendix A) deliver to any person a greater quantity of such subject chemical than is stated in Column 3 of Appendix B, unless he shall have received from such person a certificate as to the use for which such person is ordering such subject chemical. Such certificate must be received by the supplier not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is to be made. It need not be filed with War Production Board. A supplier must not deliver a subject chemical where he knows or has reason to believe the purchaser's certificate is false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe, he may rely on the certificate.

(g) Applications by suppliers for leave to deliver or use. (1) Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of, or to use, a subject chemical during any calendar month shall file application on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. The application should be made on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions contained in Appendix D. If there is an inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed.

(2) War Production Board may issue to any supplier other and further directions with respect to preparing and filing Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602).

(h) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M–340.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF REGULATION AND PROHIBITION

SECTION 1. To what transactions, persons, commodities, and geographical area this regulation applies—(a) Transactions. This regulation covers all sales by manufacturers of new and rebuilt automotive parts.

(b) Persons. This regulation applies to all persons who are manufacturers of and also sell the automotive parts subject to this regulation, and to all persons who purchase such parts from manufacturers in the course of trade or business.

(1) Manufacturer. "Manufacturer" as used in this regulation means a producer of new automotive parts (as defined in section 21), or a rebuilder of used automotive parts or any person who sells automotive parts under his own trade name or who issues to the automotive trade catalogs or price lists containing his parts or catalog numbers and his suggested resale prices for automotive parts.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11–15–43 and Am. 4, effective 3–30–44]

(c) Commodities. This regulation covers all new and rebuilt automotive parts.

(1) Automotive parts. "Automotive parts" (called parts in this regulation) for the purpose of this regulation mean all engine parts, body parts, chassis parts, motors, electrical equipment and wheels, and all other component parts and subassemblies, of automobiles, trucks, busses, trailers, semi-trailers, and motorcycles (except rebuilt bodies of trucks, busses, trailers, and semi-trailers) and also include all accessories and optional, extra and special equipment designed for use on, or with, motor vehicles, and unfinished parts and accessories and components thereof, when in such form as to permit their use only as automotive parts, but do not mean any service or maintenance accessories such as anti-freeze, body polish, tools, etc., or tires, tubes, storage batteries, sheet or other non-processed glass, or any parts, subassemblies or accessories specially designed for use in vehicles built primarily for military purposes, although parts, subassemblies or accessories originally designed for use in private or commercial motor vehicles but which are used both in military and private or commercial motor vehicles are considered as automotive parts. Illustrative lists of parts covered by this regulation and parts not covered by this regulation are attached as Appendices A and B.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 2, effective 11–15–43 and Am. 4, effective 3–30–44]

(d) Geographical area. This regulation applies to the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia, but not to the territories and possessions of the United States.

SEC. 2. Relation of this regulation to other regulations—(a) In general. The transactions, persons, and commodities subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 452, on and after its effective date, shall not be subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation or Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, or any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration insofar as this Maximum Price Regulation No. 452 affects such transactions, persons, or commodities except as provided in paragraphs (b), (c), and (d).

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11–15–43]

(b) Sales for export. The maximum price for sales for export of parts shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Export Price Regulation.[5]

(c) Imports. The provisions of this regulation do not apply to the sale, purchase or delivery of a part which is not manufactured in, but is imported into, the continental United States or the District of Columbia. Such a sale, purchase, or delivery is governed by the Maximum Import Price Regulation.[6]

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 4, effective 3–30–44]

SEC. 3. Prohibition against dealing in parts at prices above the maximum. On and after September 2, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation,

(a) No manufacturer shall sell or deliver a part at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation;

(b) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive a part from a manufacturer at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation, but if he, the purchaser, has received from the manufacturer a written statement that the price charged is not in excess of the maximum price and he has no knowledge to the contrary, he shall be deemed to have complied with this paragraph (b);

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 4, effective 3–30–44]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5170) provides that war procurement agencies and governments whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States shall be relieved of liability, civil or criminal, imposed by price regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration with respect to the buying or receiving of commodities or services covered by such price regulations.]

(c) No person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) Nothing in this regulation shall prevent the fulfillment of contracts entered into before September 2, 1943, for the sale of parts by manufacturers at prices not exceeding the maximum prices established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 136, as amended, prior to September 2, 1943.

SEC. 4. Less than maximum prices. Nothing in this regulation prevents the charging or paying of prices lower than the maximum prices established by this regulation.

ARTICLE II—MAXIMUM PRICES

SEC. 5. Division of sales into those at list prices and those at non-list prices for the purpose of establishing maximum prices. This regulation divides sales into two kinds:

(a) Sales of parts at list prices. "List price" as used in this regulation means the price for a manufacturer's sale of a part which may be derived from a price list or price sheet published and generally distributed to the trade by him. When a list price is named in this regulation as the maximum price to a purchaser, it means the price adjusted for all applicable extra charges, discounts or allowances for sales to a purchaser of the same class.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11–15–43]

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for sales of new parts and rebuilt motors at list prices—(a) Determination of maximum price in accordance with previous price list. This section sets maximum prices for sales by a manufacturer who

(1) Had a list price for the part being priced in effect on March 31, 1942;

(2) Placed a list price authorized by the Office of Price Administration in effect subsequent to March 31, 1942; or

(3) Has established a list price in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

The maximum price which such a manufacturer may charge for a part is the most recent of the list prices described in (1), (2), and (3).

(b) Conditions requiring and permitting establishment of new list prices—(1) When new list prices must be established. (i) A new list price must be established in accordance with section 9 for a part for which the list price is the maximum price when a specification change or material substitution made in the part reduces by 10% or more the factory cost or purchase cost (where the manufacturer is only a reseller of the part), except where the reduction in cost for the part or set (where the part is sold in sets) amounts to less than five cents. The new list price must be established within three months from the date the specification change or material substitution is made.

(ii) A new list price must be established when there is offered for sale a part for which a list price was not in effect between March 31, 1942, and the time of offering it for sale, but for which a list price was in effect and withdrawn during the period January 1, 1932, to March 31, 1942. The new list price shall be established within thirty days from the date the part is offered for sale either in accordance with section 9 or by adopting a price no higher than the highest list price in effect during the period January 1, 1932, to March 31, 1942, as the new list price.

If the manufacturer elects to reestablish a list price he had in effect during the period January 1, 1932, to March 31, 1942, as a new list price, he is not required to report or secure approval of such price as required by section 9. As soon as it is reestablished, he may charge and accept payment at or below such price and notify his customers of applicable resale prices in accordance with section 10 (a) notwithstanding section 10 (c). However, he should notify the Office of Price Administration (the National Office, Washington, D. C., for new parts and the regional office for the region in which his principal place of business is located for rebuilt parts) in writing of such a reestablished price within thirty days after he reestablishes it and should furnish that agency, as required by section 6 (c), with catalogs, price lists and discount sheets containing these reestablished prices only when he has such data available.

(iii) A manufacturer may be exempted from the necessity of establishing a new list price as required by this subparagraph (1) when the part is produced by a special run to fill a small non-recurrent order or there is some other reason why the special run is not likely to be repeated. In lieu of establishing a new list price he may be authorized to use a list price previously in effect and withdrawn or a new non-list price determined in accordance with section 12. The procedure to be followed in requesting this exemption is stated in section 11.

[Subparagraph (1) amended, (ii) revoked and former (iii) and (iv) redesignated as (ii) and (iii) by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11–15–43. Paragraph added to (ii) by Am. 4, effective 3–30–44]

(2) When new list prices may be established. (i) A new list price may be established in accordance with section 9 when the factory or purchase cost of a part for which a list price is the maximum price, has been increased by 10% or more as a result of a specification change or material substitution; or

(ii) A new list price may be established when the manufacturer wishes to establish a list price for a part for which there has been no list price in effect since January 1, 1932. The new list price in such a case shall be a price no higher than the previous maximum price for the part established pursuant to section 7, 14 or 16 of this regulation, or a price established in accordance with section 9 when the part is a new part.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 12237, effective 9-2-43, Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11-15-43, and Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(c) List prices to be furnished to Office of Price Administration. The manufacturer shall furnish to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., to the extent it has not already done so, catalogs, price lists, and discount sheets, containing list prices which are established as maximum prices by this section. A rebuilder of used parts shall furnish these data to the Office of Price Administration regional office for the region in which his principal place of business is located.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for sales of new parts and rebuilt motors at non-list prices—(a) In general. The maximum price a manufacturer may charge for the sale of a new part or a rebuilt motor for which he cannot establish a maximum price in accordance with section 6 or for which he has not established a new list price in accordance with that section and section 9, although permitted, but not required, to do so, shall be the first applicable non-list price determined as follows:

(1) If the manufacturer quoted or charged the same price to the same class of purchaser more than twice during the period from October, 1941, to March, 1942, inclusive, and did not increase that price on or before March 31, 1942, that price will be the maximum price for sales to that class of purchaser.

(2) If the manufacturer had a series of prices in effect for different classes of purchasers during the period October, 1941, to March, 1942, inclusive, and any of those prices is now his maximum price pursuant to subparagraph (1), the other prices in the series are his maximum prices for the classes to which they relate.

(3) If the manufacturer had a method of setting prices for different classes of purchasers (as by the application of discounts, differentials, etc.) during the period October, 1941, to March, 1942, inclusive, and a price for any class of purchaser determined by the use of that method is now his maximum price pursuant to subparagraph (1), the prices for other classes under that pricing method are his maximum prices for the classes to which they relate.

(4) If the manufacturer cannot establish a maximum price for a part in accordance with either subparagraph (1), (2) or (3), he shall determine this maximum non-list price for the part in accordance with section 12.

The price established under subparagraph (1), (2), (3) or (4) as the maximum price for the sale of a part to a certain class of purchaser shall be the maximum price for all future sales to the same class of purchaser until changed in accordance with paragraph (b) or (c) of this section. For the purpose of subparagraph (1), all deliveries under a single contract shall be considered as parts of one sale.

(b) When a new maximum price must be established for a non-list part. A new maximum price must be established in accordance with section 12 for a non-list part when a specification change or a material substitution reduces by 10% or more the factory or purchase cost. The new maximum price must be established within three months from the date the specification change or material substitution is made.

(c) When a new maximum price may be established for a non-list part. A new maximum price may be established in accordance with section 12 for a non-list part when the factory or purchase cost for the part has been increased by 10% or more as a result of a specification change or a material substitution.

[Sec. 7 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 12237, effective 9-2-43, Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11-15-43, and Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

SEC. 8. Maximum prices for sales of new parts and rebuilt motors which cannot be priced under section 6 or 7. Where a manufacturer cannot establish a maximum price for a part in accordance with section 6 or 7 because he is producing it in a new or converted plant or because he was not engaged as a manufacturer as defined in this regulation during a period which permits him to establish a price under section 6 or 7, or for any other reason, he shall determine the maximum price for such part in accordance with section 14.

[Sec. heading amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

SEC. 8a. Prices for rebuilt parts other than rebuilt motors. A manufacturer must have prices in accordance with this section for any rebuilt parts, other than rebuilt motors, which he sells.

(a) Rebuilt parts, other than rebuilt motors, having list prices under section 6 prior to March 30, 1944. If a manufacturer had a list price under section 6 for a rebuilt part, other than a rebuilt motor, prior to March 30, 1944, he may continue to price this part under that section, or, if he so elects, he may establish a price for such a part under paragraph (c) below.

(b) All other rebuilt parts, except rebuilt motors. All rebuilt parts, other than rebuilt motors, which are not covered by paragraph (a) shall be priced in accordance with paragraph (c) below. Parts covered by this paragraph are those having non-list prices under section 7 or 14 prior to March 30, 1944, and those for which list or non-list prices are established for the first time on or after March 30, 1944.

(c) Method for determining prices for rebuilt parts, other than rebuilt motors. The price for a rebuilt part other than a rebuilt motor, except as provided in paragraph (a), shall not exceed a percentage of the net retail list price suggested by a manufacturer for the same part (or lacking the same part, the nearest equivalent part) when new which is a maximum retail list price under Maximum Price Regulation 453[*], These percentages are:

(1) For a sale to a user: 75%.

(2) For a sale to a wholesaler or retailer: 65%.

(d) Prices under paragraph (c) as list prices—(1) Manufacturer's list price. A price established under paragraph (c) will be a list price if the previous price for the part was a list price under section 6. Other prices under paragraph (c) may be established as list prices if the rebuilder elects to establish these prices as list prices.

(2) Resale list prices. If the rebuilder had suggested resale list prices in connection with a previous list price for the part for which he is establishing a list price under subparagraph (1) above, he shall continue to suggest resale list prices for this part. These resale list prices shall be determined in accordance with section 9 (b) (1). If he wishes to establish suggested resale list prices for the first time, he may do so for the type of sale for which rebuilders customarily had in effect suggested resale prices on March 31, 1942. The resale list prices, however, shall be established only in connection with list prices established under subparagraph (1) above, and shall be determined in accordance with subparagraph (1), (2) or (3) of section 9 (b). Any suggested resale list price determined in accordance with this subparagraph must in no event exceed 85% of the retail net price suggested by a manufacturer for the same part (or lacking the same part, the nearest equivalent part) when new which is a maximum retail price under Maximum Price Regulation 453.

(3) Filing, approval, charging and notification of list prices determined under paragraphs (c) and (d). Any list price and applicable resale list prices determined under paragraphs (c) and (d) are subject to the filing provisions of section 6 (c); the reporting, approval and charging provisions of paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of section 9; and to the notice requirements of section 10.

(e) Prices under paragraph (c) as non-list prices. When a rebuilder's price under paragraph (c) is a non-list price, this price may be charged and payment received at such price subject to the reporting requirements of section 12 (b).

(f) Exchange allowances. Any part or other commodity exchanged, transferred or traded-in in connection with the sale of a rebuilt part under paragraph (c) is a part payment of the price for the rebuilt part. A reasonable allowance for the part or other commodity exchanged, transferred or traded-in must be given to the purchaser of the rebuilt part.

[See 8a added by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

ARTICLE III—METHODS FOR ESTABLISHING AND REPORTING MAXIMUM PRICES

SEC. 9. Procedure for establishing new list prices—(a) Determining a new list price. A new list price for a part shall be a price not in excess of the sum of the manufacturer's costs for the part determined in accordance with section 13, plus the following:

(1) A percentage markup not in excess of the percentage markup he included in the price for the same part on March 31, 1942; or

(2) Where he did not sell or offer for sale the same part on March 31, 1942, a percentage markup not in excess of the percentage markup he included in the price on March 31, 1942, for the similar part (as defined in Section 21) most nearly like it; or

(3) Where he did not sell or offer for sale the same or a similar part on March 31, 1942, a percentage markup not in excess of the percentage markup he included on March 31, 1942, in the price for the part of the same type having the closest total costs to the part being priced. Examples of types for the purpose of this paragraph are engine parts, carburetor parts, electrical parts, etc.

(4) Where he cannot establish a markup in accordance with subparagraph (1), (2) or (3) because he did not sell or offer to sell to the class of purchaser for which a price is being established, a percentage markup in line with the first applicable markup which may be established in accordance with subparagraph (1), (2) or (3) for another class of purchaser and adjusted to reflect the difference between the classes of purchasers. This in-line and adjusted markup shall be determined by considering all factors which normally determined markup on March 31, 1942, including factors which caused markups to vary for different classes of purchasers, such as sales volume and competitors' prices.

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

To this price the manufacturer must apply the same differentials, discounts, allowances, rebates, and deductions which he had in effect on March 31, 1942, as to the particular part named in paragraph (1), (2), or (3), the percentage markup of which is added to costs. Where the manufacturer establishes a markup in accordance with subparagraph (4) he shall establish differentials, discounts, allowances, rebates and deductions to apply to the price which includes this mark-up. He shall, however, establish them by modifying his March 31, 1942 differentials, discounts, allowances, rebates and deductions in accordance with his March 31, 1942 pricing policy.

(b) Determining of applicable suggested resale list prices. If the manufacturer had suggested resale list prices for a part on or after March 31, 1942, or customarily names suggested resale prices in connection with his price list, he shall name suggested resale prices for any parts for which new list prices are established in accordance with sections 6 and 9. If a manufacturer now wishes to suggest resale prices for the first time, he may do so for a part for which new list prices are established in accordance with section 6 (b). The suggested resale prices shall be determined as follows:

(1) If the manufacturer has had suggested resale prices for the part at any time since January 1, 1932, the relationship of the new suggested resale prices to the new list price for the manufacturer's sale of the part shall be the same as the relationship that existed under the most recent price list.

(2) If the manufacturer has not had suggested resale prices for the same part at any time since January 1, 1932, but has had suggested resale prices for other parts of the same type, the relationship of the new suggested resale prices to the new list price for the manufacturer's sale of the part shall be the same as the relationship that existed for the part of the same type having the closest list price under the most recent price list. Examples of types for the purpose of this paragraph are engine parts, carburetor parts, electrical parts, etc.

(3) If the suggested resale list prices cannot be determined under (1) or (2), they will be prices in line with the prices previously charged by resellers for the same part of the same manufacturer, or, in the absence of such prices, in line with suggested resale prices for the same or similar part named by other manufacturers.

(c) Notice to Office of Price Administration of new list prices. After a manufacturer has determined a new list price and suggested resale prices in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) above or section 8a he shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration as follows:

(1) For new list prices for new parts. The report shall be filed with the National Office of the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C., and shall be signed by the manufacturer or a responsible official of the manufacturer and shall contain the following information:

(i) Description of the part and its number or other designation.

(ii) The new list price and suggested resale prices and the previous list price and suggested resale prices, if any, for each class of purchaser.

(iii) The newly determined unit costs and the unit costs included in the previous list prices, if available.

(iv) If not previously filed, all the other factors used in determining the new list price and suggested resale prices such as markup, discounts, differentials, freight, and other allowances and other price determining factors.

(v) A statement that the new list price was determined in accordance with section 9 (a) and that the new suggested resale prices were determined in accordance with section 9 (b) and that the unit costs included in such prices were determined in accordance with section 13.

(2) For new list prices for rebuilt parts. The report shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration regional office for the region in which the manufacturer's principal place of business is located and shall be signed by the manufacturer (rebuilder) or a responsible official of the manufacturer, and shall contain the following information:

(i) Description of the part and its number or other designation.

(ii) The new list price and suggested resale prices and the previous list price and suggested resale prices, if any, for each class of purchaser.

(iii) Whether the new list price and suggested resale prices are established under section 6 or 8a (c) and (d). If the prices are under section 6, the justification should be given for pricing under such section.

(iv) Where the new list price and the suggested resale prices are established under section 6 and 9 (a), the newly determined unit costs and the unit costs included in the previous list prices, if available.

(v) Where the new list price and suggested resale prices are established under paragraphs (c) and (d) of section 8a, the retail list price which is established under Maximum Price Regulation 453 as the maximum retail list price of the same part (or lacking the same part, the nearest equivalent part) when new.

(vi) All the other factors used in determining the new list price and suggested resale prices.

(vii) A statement that the new list price was determined in accordance with section 8a (c) or 9 (a) (whichever is applicable) and the new suggested resale prices were determined in accordance with section 8a (d) or 9 (b) (whichever is applicable).

(d) Action by the Office of Price Administration. The new list prices set forth in reports filed in accordance with paragraph (c) shall become maximum prices, and the suggested resale prices shall be considered approved, if approved by the Office of Price Administration, or if not disapproved by that agency within thirty days after the receipt of the reports. If the Office of Price Administration shall later determine that such prices were not computed in accordance with the requirements of sections 6, 9 and 13, or sections 8a and 9, they may at that time be disapproved, but such disapproval shall not be retroactive as to any deliveries completed prior to the date of the disapproval. If any price is disapproved because in some respect it is not determined in accordance with these sections, the manufacturer shall recompute the new list price in accordance with these sections and the suggestions contained in the notice of disapproval, and report the revised list price in accordance with paragraph (c) above.

[Paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11-15-43, and Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(e) When the new list prices may be charged. Upon the mailing of the reports in accordance with paragraph (c) above, the new list prices contained in such reports may be charged and any one of the following actions regarding payment may be followed:

(1) Accept payment in the amount of the existing maximum price and collect or refund the difference between the existing maximum price and the proposed maximum price upon the latter being approved or not disapproved within the thirty-day period.

(2) Accept payment in the amount of the proposed maximum price and if such a price is disapproved, collect or refund the difference between the existing maximum price and the disapproved proposed price.

(3) Do not accept payment for any deliveries until the proposed maximum price is approved or the thirty-day period elapses without disapproval. If such a price is approved or not disapproved, accept payment at the new price for the deliveries made on and subsequent to the filing of the reports and for all deliveries thereafter. If the proposed price is disapproved, accept payment for the deliveries made on and subsequent to the filing of the reports at the existing maximum price.

[Paragraph (e) amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11-15-43]

SEC. 10. Notice to purchasers of maximum resale list prices—(a) Furnishing of suggested resale price lists. A manufacturer whose maximum prices are the list prices which he had in effect on March 31, 1942, and who had suggested resale list prices in effect on that date shall furnish to his customers, to the extent they do not already have the same, copies of catalogs, price lists, and discount sheets in which are contained his resale list prices. A manufacturer whose prices are list prices placed in effect after March 31, 1942, with the authorization of the Office of Price Administration, or list prices established in accordance with sections 6 (b) and 9, or sections 8a and 9, and who also established suggested list prices, shall furnish to his customers, to the extent they do not already have the same, copies of catalogs, price lists, and discount sheets in which are contained his resale list prices. A manufacturer who reestablishes as a new list price for a part a list price in effect during the period January 1, 1932, to March 31, 1942, (in accordance with section 6) may, in lieu of furnishing catalogs, price lists, and discount sheets containing resale prices, notify his customers of such resale prices by stating these prices on the invoices which he furnishes to such customers in connection with the sale of the part. A manufacturer, in lieu of furnishing catalogs, price lists, and discount sheets to classes of customers to whom he would not ordinarily furnish such material, may notify such customers of the resale prices for a part by stating such resale prices on the invoice he furnishes to these customers in connection with the sale of a part. A manufacturer may also notify customers by invoices of new list prices approved, or not disapproved within thirty days from filing in accordance with section 9, or new list prices authorized under section 16, pending the issuance of new price lists or catalogs or supplements to existing catalogs or price lists. When the suggested resale prices are stated upon invoices in accordance with this paragraph, they shall be indicated by the appropriate description as "Retail Maximum", Wholesale Maximum", etc. A manufacturer need not furnish catalogs, price lists and discount sheets to a customer for parts which the latter, as a manufacturer, resells under his own trade name or for which he includes his parts or catalog numbers and his suggested resale prices in catalogs or price lists that he issues to the automotive trade. Resale price lists of the type described in this paragraph are called "Approved resale price lists" in paragraph (b).

(b) Statements to be furnished to a customer by a manufacturer having a suggested resale price list in effect. A manufacturer having in effect an approved resale price list (of a type described in paragraph (a)) shall furnish to all customers a statement substantially the same as the following statement, to which is affixed the signature, or a facsimile thereof, of the manufacturer, or a responsible official of the manufacturer.

The suggested resale prices, discounts and allowances in our catalog(s), price list(s), and discount sheet(s) dated ---------- (or "numbered ---------") are the maximum resale prices for the parts listed therein, in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation 453 (Wholesalers' and Retailers' Maximum Prices for Automotive Parts) of the Office of Price Administration.

A sample copy of the statement issued by the manufacturer should be forwarded to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. A rebuilder of used parts, however, should furnish the sample copy to the Office of Price Administration regional office for the region in which his principal place of business is located.

[Paragraphs (a) and (b) amended by Am. 2, effective 11-15-43 and Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(c) When notice shall be given to customers. Manufacturers shall act as required in paragraphs (a) and (b) as soon as practicable, but not later than October 1, 1943 with regard to price lists in effect before the effective date of this regulation. Such action shall not be taken regarding a list price established after the effective date of the regulation until the new list price has been approved in writing or thirty days have elapsed from the date the report regarding it is received by the Office of Price Administration when the report is neither approved nor disapproved in writing.

[Paragraph (c), formerly (d), amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 12237, effective 9-2-43, and Am. 4, effective 3-30-44; former (c) revoked and former (d) redesignated as (c) by Am. 2]

SEC. 11. Procedure for obtaining exemption from requirement of establishing new maximum list prices. The manufacturer who seeks an exemption from the requirements of establishing a new list price as required by section 6 (b) should request this exemption from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., with the exception that a rebuilder of used parts should make this request to the Office of Price Administration regional office for the region in which his principal place of business is located. In his request he should include a showing that the order for the part is small and nonrecurrent or other reasons why neither the order nor the special run is likely to be repeated. He shall also include in his request his list price or a non-list price computed in accordance with section 12. Upon the mailing of his request, he may charge his previously established list price or non-list price, but he must not accept payment until he is either notified in writing that his request has been approved or thirty days have elapsed from the date the request is received by the Office of Price Administration without any notification of disapproval. If the request is approved, or is not disapproved, within the thirty day period, the manufacturer may then accept payment at the proposed price for deliveries made prior to approval or the end of the thirty day period and for all deliveries made thereafter. If the request is disapproved the manufacturer shall establish a new list price in accordance with section 9.

[Sec. 11 amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

SEC. 12. Procedure for establishing new maximum non-list prices—(a) Determining new non-list prices. A new non-list price shall be a price not in excess of the manufacturer's cost for the part determined in accordance with section 13, plus the following:

(1) A percentage markup not in excess of the percentage markup he included in the price for the part on March 31, 1942; or

(2) Where he did not sell or offer for sale the same part on March 31, 1942, a percentage markup not in excess of the percentage markup he included in the price for the similar part (as defined in section 21) most nearly like it; or

(3) Where he did not sell or offer for sale the same or a similar part on March 31, 1942, a percentage markup not in excess of the percentage markup he included in the price for the part of the same type having the closest total costs to the part being priced. Examples of types for the purpose of this paragraph are engine parts, carburetor parts, electrical parts, etc.

(4) Where he cannot establish a markup in accordance with subparagraph (1), (2) or (3) because he did not sell or offer to sell to the class of purchaser for which a price is being established, a percentage markup in line with the first applicable markup which may be established in accordance with subparagraph (1), (2) or (3) for another class of purchaser and adjusted to reflect the differences in the classes of purchasers. This in-line and adjusted markup shall be determined by taking into consideration all factors which normally determined markup on March 31, 1942, including factors which caused markups to vary for different classes of purchasers, such as sales volume and competitors' prices.

[Subparagraph (4) amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

To this price the manufacturer must apply the same differentials, discounts, allowances, rebates, and deductions which he had in effect on March 31, 1942, as to the particular part named in subparagraph (1), (2) or (3), the percentage markup of which is added to costs. Where the manufacturer establishes a markup in accordance with subparagraph (4), he shall establish differentials, discounts, allowances, rebates, and deductions to apply to the price which includes this markup. He shall, however, establish them by modifying his March 31, 1942, differentials, discounts, allowances, rebates and deductions in accordance with his March 31, 1942, pricing policy.

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 12237, effective 9-2-43 and Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(b) Notice to Office of Price Administration when a non-list price computed under paragraph (a) above or section 8a is higher than the price previously charged subsequent to March 31, 1942. If the non-list price determined under paragraph (a) above or under section 8a is higher than the price previously charged subsequent to March 31, 1942, the manufacturer shall file with the Office of Price Administration within ten days after making the first sale or delivery at such an increased price a report in accordance with the following procedure:

(1) For new non-list prices for new parts. The report shall be filed with the National Office of the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C., and shall be signed by the manufacturer or a responsible official of the manufacturer and shall contain the following information:

(i) A description of the part, its number or other identification.

(ii) The price on its sale prior to its sale at the increased price.

(iii) The new non-list price.

(iv) The retail list price which is established under Maximum Price Regulation 453 as the maximum retail list price of the same part (or lacking the same part, the nearest equivalent part) when new.

(v) A statement that the new non-list price was determined in accordance with section 8a.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

SEC. 13. Procedure for determining costs to be used by manufacturer in determining new maximum list or new maximum non-list prices. When costs must be determined by a manufacturer in connection with a price determining method which must be followed in determining list or non-list prices in accordance with the provisions of this regulation, except where the determining of costs for the manufacturing of a part in a new or converted plant requires the procedure stated in section 14, the following cost determining method shall be followed:

(a) Determination of costs when manufacturer is a producer. When the manufacturer is a producer he shall use the same cost determining method he used on March 31, 1942.

(1) To the extent that the cost determining method includes or is based on direct labor costs, the manufacturer shall use labor rates in effect on March 31, 1942.

(i) "Labor rates in effect on March 31, 1942" are the labor rates prevailing on that date in the manufacturer's plant for each classification of labor. If the manufacturer employs labor of a particular classification not employed in such plant on March 31, 1942, he shall apply the rate prevailing on that date for such classification in the locality in which the manufacturing is to be performed. If labor of such classification was not employed on March 31, 1942, in such locality, the manufacturer shall apply the rate prevailing on that date for the nearest skill in the nearest comparable locality, as accurately as he is able to determine the same by reasonably diligent inquiry.

(ii) The permitted labor cost to be used in the pricing formula provided in this paragraph (a) is to be determined by applying to the clock hours of each classification of labor estimated to be required on the basis of previous production experience, or, where an estimate is not used, to the clock hours actually required, the hourly rate for such classification in effect on March 31, 1942. If on March 31, 1942, an average rate was used, an average rate may be applied if the labor rates and the method of computing the average in effect on March 31, 1942, are used. If individuals have been or are promoted from one classification to another because of increased efficiency, the higher rates may be used.

(iii) The amount of overtime (estimated, if necessary) required to be used in excess of that provided for in the overhead or machine hour rate may be added to the cost of labor. In no event shall any markup, overhead, or profit be applied to that part of the labor cost which is in excess of the straight-time cost, except that no adjustment of the overhead or the machine hour rates in effect on March 31, 1942, shall be required.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(2) To the extent that the cost determining method includes or is based on prices paid for materials, the manufacturer shall use the prices which the manufacturer's supplier had in effect to him or his class of purchaser on March 31, 1942, or if the supplier did not have a price in effect on that date for a certain commodity, the price he first had in effect after that date. However, if the Office of Price Administration has established a lower maximum price for the sale of that material to the manufacturer, such lower price shall govern. The manufacturer's supplier shall be

(i) His March 31, 1942, supplier of the material; or

(ii) Lacking a March 31, 1942 supplier of the material, his most recent supplier of the material subsequent to March 31, 1942. If neither of these exists, it shall be his proposed supplier.

For the purposes of this subparagraph (2), if the manufacturer shall receive a written statement from the seller that the material is being sold at a price which is not in excess of the maximum price established by the Office of Price Administration, and if the manufacturer shall have no cause to doubt the accuracy of the statement, the price as stated by the seller shall be deemed not to be in excess of the maximum price established by the Office of Price Administration for that material. The price the manufacturer shall use for material composed in whole or in part of silver shall be the current price not to exceed the applicable maximum price. The term "material prices" includes the prices for raw materials or products which have been processed or fabricated to any degree. However, costs for automotive parts defined in section 1 (c) (1) which are purchased from a supplier shall be the prices paid for such parts, not to exceed the applicable maximum prices established by this regulation.

[Subparagraph (2) as amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11-15-43]

(3) To the extent that the cost determining method includes factory overhead, the manufacturer shall use factory overhead rates in effect on March 31, 1942.

[Subparagraph (3) added by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44. Former (3) and (4) redesignated (4) and (5), respectively]

(4) To the extent that the cost determining method includes or is based on prices paid for subcontracted services, whether machinery services or otherwise, or perishable tools, dies, molds, patterns, or work-holding devices, the manufacturer shall use the actual prices paid or the prices to be paid, which are estimated by his supplier if he has no reason to believe that these prices exceed the applicable maximum prices. If a price estimated by a supplier is not available, the manufacturer shall use his own estimate of the price to be paid which he has no reason to believe exceeds the applicable maximum price.

(5) To the extent that the cost determining method includes freight rates paid, the manufacturer shall use freight rates in effect on March 31, 1942, or current actual freight rates, whichever are lower, for the mode of transportation actually used.

[Subparagraph (5), formerly (4), amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(b) Determination of costs when manufacturer is not a producer. When the manufacturer is not a producer of the part he sells, he shall determine his costs by dividing the amount of the invoiced charges, including freight-in, for the units of the part he purchased during the three months preceding the date he determines his costs by the number of units of the part he purchased during the same three months' period and which are included on the same invoices. The result obtained from this division shall be the costs to be included in the pricing method of either section 9 or section 12 by the manufacturer who does not produce the part he sells. If the manufacturer did not make any purchase or a representative number of purchases during the three months immediately preceding the date these costs are determined, he shall use the invoiced charges to him, including freight-in, for the three months' period closest to the date he determines these costs in which he made a representative number of purchases. If the manufacturer did not make any purchases during either of these periods, he shall determine his costs by dividing the invoiced costs including freight in, of the units of the part for which invoices have been received by him, by the number of the units of the part included on such invoices, or where there are no invoices, by using the unit price at which the supplier agrees, either under contract or by quotation, to sell such a part to the manufacturer.

[Above sentence added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11-15-43]

(c) Determination of costs when manufacturer produces some of the units and purchases the remainder of the units of the part he sells. When the manufacturer produces some of the units and purchases the remainder of the units of a part he sells, he shall determine his costs by:

(1) Determining his costs for the units he produces in accordance with paragraph (a) and by determining his costs for the units he purchases in accordance with paragraph (b).

(2) Multiplying each of these costs by the respective percentage which the units produced and the units purchased each constituted of the total units produced and purchased during the three months' period preceding the date he determines his costs or during the three months' period closest to the date he determines these costs in which he purchased and produced a representative number of units. Where a manufacturer determines his costs in accordance with paragraph (b) by using the method permitted when he has not purchased any units of the part during either of the three months' periods described in that paragraph, for the purpose of this subparagraph, he shall multiply the costs determined in accordance with paragraph (a) and those determined in accordance with paragraph (b) by the respective percentage he estimates that the units produced and the units purchased will each constitute of the total units he estimates he will produce and purchase during a representative three months' period closest to the date he determines these costs.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(3) Adding together the result of each of the multiplications required by subparagraph (2) to obtain a total which shall be the costs to be included in the pricing method of either section 9 or 12 by the manufacturer who produces some and purchases the remainder of the units of a part he sells.

SEC. 14. Procedure for establishing maximum non-list prices for parts which cannot be priced under section 6 or 7. If the manufacturer is not able to establish a maximum price in accordance with section 6 or 7 because he produces the part in a new or converted plant or because he was not engaged as a manufacturer as defined in section 1 (b) (1) of this regulation during a period on or after March 31, 1942, which would enable him to establish a maximum price in accordance with section 6 or 7, or for any other reason, he shall establish a maximum non-list price in accordance with the following:

(a) Price determining method—(1) Where the manufacturer is a producer. Where the manufacturer is a producer he shall establish a price determining method and rates for use therein (labor rates, machine hour rates, overhead rates, and profit rates, etc.) for the determination of a non-list price for such part conforming so far as possible to the provisions of section 12 and section 13. The overhead rate so established shall be a reasonable rate with respect to the operations to be performed, and shall, so far as possible, be based on costs for items of overhead in effect on March 31, 1942. In the case of a newly constructed plant, however, the manufacturer may use as a base date for all purposes the date upon which price quotations were first made or upon which production was started in the plant, whichever is earlier, and shall use labor rates for each classification of labor prevailing on that date in the locality of the plant determined in accordance with section 13 (a) (1), with the above base date substituted for the March 31, 1942, date used therein.

(2) Where the manufacturer is not a producer. Where the manufacturer is not a producer he shall establish a price by determining costs for the part in accordance with section 13 (b), and adding to such costs a markup as comparable as possible to the markup he would have added if he were able to establish a price in accordance with section 9 or 12, taking into consideration discounts and allowances to be applied for different classes of purchasers.

(b) Notifying the Office of Price Administration—(1) Where the manufacturer is a producer. Where the manufacturer is a producer he shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., except that a rebuilder of used parts shall file it with the Office of Price Administration regional office for the region in which his principal place of business is located, containing:

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(i) The price determining method and rates used in establishing prices as provided in paragraph (a);

(ii) A description of the parts for which the prices are determined;

(iii) A representative sample of prices determined in accordance with the pricing method;

(iv) An explanation of the circumstances necessitating pricing under this section;

(v) Relevant data bearing on the price determining method and rates to be used, including evidence that such method and rates were calculated as provided in paragraph (a);

(vi) A statement of whether or not quantity production has been achieved or is anticipated;

(vii) A brief description of the newly constructed or converted plant, if any; and (viii) Any other data which the Office of Price Administration may in writing require.

(2) Where the manufacturer is not a producer. Where the manufacturer is not a producer he shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing:

(i) A description of the part for which a price is being established;

(ii) An explanation of the circumstances necessitating pricing under this section;

(iii) The costs for the part determined in accordance with section 13 (b);

(iv) The amount of the markup to be added to the costs, together with a percentage breakdown of the expenses and profit provided for;

(v) The discounts and allowances to be applied to the price for each class of purchaser; and

(vi) Any other data which the Office of Price Administration may in writing require.

(c) Action by the Office of Price Administration. If the Office of Price Administration approves the prices, or the pricing method and the prices which result from its use, or fails to disapprove them within thirty days after receiving the report, the maximum non-list prices for the parts involved shall be the prices reported, or the prices calculated in accordance with the price determining method reported, until new prices or a new pricing method is proposed and reported either upon the initiative of the manufacturer or as required by the Office of Price Administration. The prices previously filed shall not be regarded as fixed prices, but may be modified pursuant to the new prices or the new price determining method submitted. Prices determined in accordance with this section may be quoted or charged for thirty days prior to filing the report required by paragraph (b) and may be quoted or charged thereafter until the Office of Price Administration disapproves such prices, or the price determining methods from which these prices may be determined, or requires a new filing under paragraph (b). Either one of the following actions may be followed with respect to accepting payment at these prices:

(1) Accept payment at such prices and refund or collect the difference between such prices and the prices which become the established maximum prices or which are determined in accordance with the established price determining methods.

(2) Do not accept payment for any deliveries until maximum prices are established or price determining methods are established for the determination of maximum prices. Then accept payment for all deliveries at the established prices.

[Paragraph (c) as amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 15456, effective 11-15-43]

(d) Refiling of prices or price determining method. No later than six months after the last filing, in accordance with this section, of prices or a price determining method which was not disapproved by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., except that a rebuilder of used parts shall file this report with the Office of Price Administration regional office for the region in which his principal place of business is located, containing:

[Paragraph (d) amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(1) A comparison of his total actual direct and indirect costs for the period under review, with the estimates on which the prices or price determining method being used was based; and

(2) So far as available for each of the representative items for which prices were previously charged, the current price being charged and a comparison of the actual direct and indirect unit costs with the estimates on which the price previously charged was based.

(e) Revision of prices or price determining method. The manufacturer may at any time file, and the Office of Price Administration may at any time require the filing of, revised prices or a revised pricing method, together with a representative sample of prices determined in accordance with such method. The provisions of paragraph (c) are applicable to such filing.

SEC. 14a. Regional office authorization. Regional offices are authorized to take any and all action that may be necessary in connection with the processing and approving or disapproving of notices of proposed new list prices and of new non-list prices and requests for exemption from the requirement of establishing new list prices, filed in connection with rebuilt parts under the provisions of Article III of this regulation.

[Sec. 14a added by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 12237, effective 9-2-43]

SEC. 14b. Emergency service charges. Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation, any manufacturer may add to the maximum price for a part when sold under a war contract or any subcontract thereunder, the extra material cost resulting from his purchasing materials, in an emergency and at the request of the customer, from a source more expensive than the current usual source. Also, any manufacturer may add to the maximum price for a part his extra transportation cost resulting from his shipping the part or materials used in the production of the part, in an emergency and at the request of the customer, by means more expensive than the current usual method of shipping. No markup, overhead or profit shall be applied to the extra material or transportation cost. The extra charges allowed by this section shall be billed separately on the invoice, and a copy of the invoice must be immediately forwarded to the Machinery Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

[Sec. 14b added by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

[NOTE: Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (8 F.R. 12404) permits, under certain conditions, the addition of extra packing expenses to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS

Sec. 15. Federal and State taxes. (a) Any tax levied by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof which the manufacturer on March 31, 1942, added to the price paid by the purchaser shall not be included in the maximum price but may be collected by the manufacturer in addition to the maximum price if such tax is stated separately from the purchase price, except that such tax need not be stated separately if it is measured by the manufacturer's cost of the part.

(b) Any tax upon the sale or delivery of a part and any compensating use tax upon a part levied by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof and becoming effective on or after March 31, 1942, may also be collected by the manufacturer making such taxable sale or delivery in addition to the maximum price if such tax is stated separately from the purchase price, unless the manufacturer had increased his price on or before March 31, 1942, to reflect such new or increased tax, except that such tax need not be stated separately if it is measured by the manufacturer's cost of the part.

(c) (1) Any separately stated tax paid by a manufacturer on a part purchased for resale may be collected by such manufacturer in addition to the maximum price upon the resale of such part unless the price in effect on March 31, 1942, reflected the amount of such tax.

(2) Any tax paid by a manufacturer upon the purchase of a component of a part which can be delivered separately from the principal assembly of the complete part may also be collected by the manufacturer upon the sale of the part as well as upon the sale of the component separately, if such tax is stated separately from the purchase price, unless the manufacturer's price for the component or the part in effect on March 31, 1942, reflected the amount of such tax.

(d) A tax on transportation of parts imposed by section 620 of the Internal Revenue Act of 1942, for the purpose of determining the applicable maximum price, shall be treated as a cost of transportation. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

SEC. 16. Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Application for adjustment—(1) Application by a manufacturer of a part—(i) Who may receive adjustment. The manufacturer's maximum price for a part established by this regulation may be adjusted only in the case of an essential manufacturer of an essential part. An essential part is one which contributes to the successful prosecution of the war. An essential manufacturer is one whose output or supply of a part cannot be reasonably expected to be replaced at prices lower than the proposed adjusted maximum price. In addition, any person who has entered into, or proposes to enter into, a war contract (as defined in section 21), or a subcontract thereunder, is an essential manufacturer of an essential part.

(ii) When adjustment may be granted—(a) Individual adjustments. An adjustment may be made in the maximum price of an essential manufacturer of an essential part upon the basis of information submitted by such manufacturer or of other information, and whenever it is found that the maximum price of the part is at such a level that (taking into account the cost thereof, the profits position of the manufacturer, and the nature of the business) production or supply of the part is impeded or threatened. The National Office, a regional office for the region in which the applicant's principal place of business is located, or a district office in that region authorized by order issued by such regional office, may make individual adjustments in maximum prices for rebuilt parts. The National Office only may make adjustments in maximum prices for new parts.

(b) Group adjustments by regional offices. The regional office for the region in which the principal places of business of a group of motor rebuilders are located may by a single order adjust the maximum prices for this group whenever it determines that in general the maximum prices of the group for rebuilt motors are such that their production is impeded or threatened and that it is not practicable to remove that impediment or threat by individual adjustment.

(iii) Factors which may be considered. The following factors are relevant to the consideration whether production or supply of the commodity is impeded or threatened:

(a) Whether, and by what amount, the maximum price is below or above the total unit costs (as defined in section 21) of the part less selling and administrative expenses properly allocable to the internal management of the business, and above or below the total unit costs of the part.

(b) Whether, and by what amount, the manufacturer's over-all profits (as defined in section 21), before income and excess profits taxes, are greater or less than his average over-all profits during the normal base period (as defined in section 21), increased by 7% of the additional capital investment contributed entirely by the manufacturer, or its stockholders, since the normal base period. Capital investment will be construed as including accumulated profits.

(c) Whether the proposed price is higher than the price prevailing in the industry.

(d) Whether the manufacturer's sales for the part represent only a very small part of his total sales.

(e) Whether the manufacturer previously sold the part below the total unit costs of the part.

[Subparagraphs (ii) and (iii) amended by Am. 4, effective 3-30-44]

(iv) Application based on proposed wage or salary increase to be authorized by the National War Labor Board. A manufacturer who believes that the conditions for an adjustment set forth in subparagraph (1) would exist if the National War Labor Board should grant a pending application for wage or salary increase may file an application for adjustment under the paragraph. Application for adjustment of maximum prices based on wage or salary increases requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board must also comply with Supplementary Order No. 28,[8] which requires, among other things, that an application for adjustment in such case be filed within fifteen days after an application for a wage or salary adjustment has been filed with the National War Labor Board, or, in a disputed wage proceeding, within fifteen days after the employer receives notification that the National War Labor Board has taken jurisdiction of the dispute.

(v) Prices for deliveries made pending disposition of the application. A manufacturer who has filed an application under this subparagraph (1) may contract or agree that deliveries made during the pendency of the application shall be at a specific price which is higher than the existing maximum price which the manufacturer wants to have adjusted. But no payment in excess of that existing maximum price may be received until the application is finally disposed of, and at that time the price received may not exceed the maximum price as determined by the Office of Price Administration.

A manufacturer who wishes to enter into such an arrangement must specifically state to the buyer the following:

(a) The maximum price for the part;

(b) The fact that an appropriate application for an adjustment of that maximum price has been filed with the Office of Price Administration;

(c) The fact that the specific price quoted by the manufacturer is subject to the approval of the Office of Price Administration.

(2) Application by a manufacturer based upon an appropriate decrease of other prices—(i) Who may receive an adjustment under this paragraph. Adjustments under this paragraph will be granted only in the case of an essential producer or supplier of an essential part. The meaning of these terms is explained in subparagraph (1) (i) of this section.

(ii) When adjustment may be granted. The Office of Price Administration may make an adjustment of the maximum price in any case in which the manufacturer agrees to make and (simultaneously with any increase in the maximum price that may be authorized under this subparagraph (2)) makes a reduction in the selling price of other commodities which will equal or exceed the total dollar amount of the adjustment granted under this subparagraph. Adjustments for rebuilders may be made by the National Office, the regional office for the region in which the applicant's principal place of business is located, or by a district office in that region authorized by order issued by such regional office. The National Office only shall make adjustments in maximum prices for new parts.

(iii) What an application under this subparagraph must show. An application for price adjustment under this subparagraph shall contain information indicating that the applicant is an essential manufacturer of an essential part and that if the proposed adjustment is granted, the gross dollar amount of sales of the parts affected by the adjustment will not be greater than it would have been in the absence of the adjustment. In any case where such an adjustment is granted, the Office of Price Administration will require appropriate reports relating to the commodities affected.

(3) Application by a manufacturer under a combination of both paragraphs (a) and (b). A manufacturer who desires to apply for an adjustment under subparagraph (2) may, at the time he applies under that subparagraph, also apply under subparagraph (1), if the facts of his case entitle him to do so. In such case, the office considering his application will give the adjustment available under subparagraph (1) before applying subparagraph (2).
